The defendant's hearing has been postponed, and he will be required to locate in the interim at the penitentiary.

TYLER H. WALSON has brought suit in the Third District court for a legal separation from his wife Sophia S. Walson on the ground of desertion. In his complaint he states that they were married at Lundcrop, in Schleswig-Holstein, Germany, in 1866, and that in April, 1890, his wife, without cause, abandoned him and has since refused to return.

THE Salt Lake Equitable Co-op. has brought suit in Justice Gee's court against Wm. H. Roy, Thos. Whitman and Jeff Campbell to recover $200 for damages. Roy and his bondsmen are now sued.

THERE was a fire in the basement of a clothing store in the Wasatch building on Main street last night, caused by the explosion of a gasoline stove. An alarm was promptly sent into headquarters by a citizen forcing the key to box 14. The department responded promptly and with the aid of the chemical engine soon extinguished the blaze, which had increased to considerable proportions. If the department had been a little tardy, the damage might have been considerable. As it is, the loser will not exceed $100, and is covered by insurance.

HAVING given a bond in the sum of $1000, Commissioner Greenman has temporarily released Angus Stewart, alias John Smith, who has been indicted by the grand jury of the Third District court on a charge of assault with intent to murder. This prompt action of the railroad official so exasperated the defendant that he pulled out his revolver and a gun at his three times. Fortunately, however, the weapon failed to go off, and Stewart was arrested. The attempted shooting is the offense now alleged against him.

An Apology.

The lateness of the first edition of the NEWS today and the imperfect presswork apparent in this issue are due to a serious accident to the press. If legibility has been attained, as we think it has, it was more than was expected at 4:30 p. m.

Legal Items.

Ed ward W. Thompson, Sr., this afternoon brought suit in the Third District Court against Charles E. Merriam and Emma B., his wife, for foreclosure of mortgage, secured by a promissory note for $2500 at 9 per cent interest.

William F. Seibert is the plaintiff and Joseph Rolfs and Hubert Cornish the defendants in a suit placed this afternoon in the same court to quiet title.

THE IRVINE CASE.

A Jury Secured at Last and the Trial Will Proceed.

(Special to the NEWS.)

The fourth day of the Irvine trial opened slowly, considerable delay was experienced in getting the jurymen summoned on the special panel to answer.

The prosecution were reinforced by George Adams, of Lincoln, an attorney of considerable note.

The attendance was slim and the proceedings very tedious until the one hundredth juryman was examined; he is named Julius Pohl and a sensation ensued. Pohl offered at once that with Abbott and Lane, who are among Irvine's counsel and at one time acted as agent for Irvine in real estate matters. The examination showed he has visited Irvine several times in the penitentiary and testified he had unsettled business with the defendant. The prosecution asked he had not talked with Doctor Greene, of the University place, shortly after the shooting and freely expressed an opinion favorable to Irvine. Witness did not remember. The prosecution urged this and other questions bearing on his qualifications as a juryman with manifest spirit and vigor, at times overbearing the witness, but Binaris, counsel for the defense, kept cool and made such technical objections to the questions that the court had to sustain them. The prosecution showed temper. The sympathy was with the witness. Doan's answers, manner and known connections with the defendant were too strong for the prosecution. Pohl was accepted juryman and the prosecution challenged him; the defense rested, but on technicality raised, the court ruled Pohl in the box and he became the second juryman of the third. The state has not one peremptory challenge left. The court adjourned at 12 o'clock, when Pohl was sworn in the box. Considerable confusion ensued. From knots gathering and discussing after dinner, the state endeavored to bring witnesses in from Pocatello (ineligible), but the time expiring the state exercised their last peremptory, getting him out at 3:45 p. m. A jury was then finally secured and sworn, the defence waiving its last challenge.

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 13.

BOUND FOR CHICAGO.

Governor Markham, of California, Stops at Salt Lake on His Way.

California's governor, the Hon. H. H. Markham, accompanied by his military staff, arrived in the city this morning from the east. His Excellency and party are en route for Chicago, where they will take part in the opening ceremonies of the World's Fair. Shortly after noon the governor and his staff made a call at the Executive Mansion and there paid their respects to Governor Thomas and the members of the Utah Commission, by whom they were very cordially received. Trying to Save Him.

Attorney J. M. Hamilton is making an earnest fight for the liberty of Ralph Jenkins, the young man from Sandy, who was committed by Justice Zane's court last week for a criminal assault upon Emily C. Jorgensen. Monday next is fixed for the passing of sentence upon the defendant's counsel has filed a motion for a new trial upon the ground that the verdict was contrary to and not supported by the evidence.

A Sad Bereavement.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Hodges, of the Twelfth ward, this city, was made inconsolate today by the death from cholera infantum, after an illness of one week, of their sixteen months old daughter Louise. The little one was a remarkably bright, obedient and lovable child, whose innocent prattle and merry laughter made her the idol of her parents' hearts and the delight of their home. Fond hopes were entertained by them regarding her future but unfortunately their expectations were suddenly shattered by the inviolable power. Death has once more shown its love for a shining mark.

The NEWS with many friends will tender sincerely and express sorrow with the bereaved parents in their sad affliction.

The deceased was a granddaughter of the late General Wells. Funeral services will be held at the cemetery on Sunday next at 12 o'clock.

REPORTED VETO.

Mayor Baskin Said to be Inclined to Exercise His Executive Disapproval Again.

There was a rumor in municipal circles today that Mayor Baskin would again veto the Great Salt Lake and Hot Springs railway franchise as amended by the City Council a few nights ago. This report seems to be of a more or less intangible nature, as the franchise was amended in accordance with his honor's recommendations.

It is true that a few other changes were made, but they were all of minor importance.

Councilman Hebe was asked by a reporter if there was any truth to the rumor, and that official said not that he was aware of, but added that it would not surprise him, as the prayer had "every peculiar and set ideas" at times. A couple of reporters called at the mayor's office this afternoon but his honor was not in.

YOUTHFUL ROBBERS.

"Chinaman Jack" Loses Broken Jets and $10 Stolen.

"Chinaman Jack," an aged and decrepit Mongolian peddler of Scarfish stature and shrunken form, hobbled into the police station this afternoon and asked to see the chief of police. He explained that he had been robbed by three boys this morning. He was out in town disposing of his stock wares and trinkets, and on his return about ten a.m. he saw three boys about seventeen of eighteen years of age each leaving his premises on Florida South street. The door to the house had been opened evidently by a skeleton key. On examination he discovered that $10 in cash and two shawls had been stolen.

The old man deplored the loss of his money very much. He says he can easily identify the boys, but does not know where they live.
