FRAGMENTS.

F. D. Clift has filed suit in the Third District court against Carlton W. Venen and twenty-five others to recover the sum of $2,000, given for three promissory notes dated July 30, 1891.

The American National Gas company has struck a significant flow of gas in its new well at Lake Point at a depth of a little more than 600 feet. This will probably lead to eclipse the first one.

The J. H. Bowman land case is being tried in Judge Hiles' office before the county court. It was set for trial this morning, but owing to the absence of some of the witnesses, it was continued till 2 p.m.

The February term of the Third District court opened this morning. A report of the proceedings will be found in another column. It was expected that the selection of grand jurors would be completed this afternoon.

N. S. Mecham, who has recently made a tour of "the real Wests," will begin a series of free lectures on what he saw in Europe, Egypt and the Holy Land, at Tabernacle hall, No. 20 east Third South street, beginning tomorrow evening, at half past 7 o'clock.

Articles of incorporation of the Willow Creek Reservoir Company have been filed with Territorial Secretary Nelts. The capital stock is placed at $15,000, divided into 300 shares. John Adamson and twenty-seven others are the incorporators.

One of S. F. Walker's teams ran away with a carriage last night. The cause of the runaway was on East South Temple street. It was brought to a termination by collision with an electric light pole. No one was injured, though the vehicle was badly damaged.

Yesterday's election seems to have had its effect upon the minors. The mines were running as usual in the Wasatch building today, but nearly everybody engaged in and connected with the Liberal and the Liberal mine did not remain the full time that they were "just about tired out." And they looked it.

There are several small civil cases hanging fire in Commissioner Cannon's court. He disposed of one of them on the 1st, the day morning in which the Hanson Prison Contract case was tried, plaintiffs and a person named Hearn were the defendants. The plaintiffs got judgment in their favor.

Those who desire to see the magnificent spectacle afforded by the natural gas wells can be gratified if they will take the Union Pacific excursion train, which leaves this city at 7 o'clock on Thursday evening. There will be no discussion and there will be no quibbling. Fifty cents is charged for the round trip. Herein.

A writ of divorce has been filed in the Third District court by Angela Carrigan against her husband, James W. Carrigan. The petitioner in her complaint alleges that she was married to the defendant in this city on October 12, 1885. For some time past her husband has treated her cruelly. Two instances are mentioned, the first on December 12, last, when he struck her in the face, and the second on January 2, when he kicked her and then drove and threatened to kill her. She asks for a decree of divorce, for alimony and for the custody of her three children. A restraining order has been issued by Judge Zane, so that the defendant cannot dispose of his property, which is considerable, until the case comes on for hearing.

SUPPLYING LIQUOR TO INDIANS.

Four Men Committed on This Charge to Await the Grand Jury's Action.

Deputy Marshal W. H. Measham of Provo and Deputy Marshal Eager of Salt Lake arrived in the city this morning from Fort Duchesne, having in their custody W. B. Tadcaster, J. C. Burr and two other men who were named by the deputies decline to disclose for the present, for certain reasons. The charge against them is that of selling liquor to Indians on the Indian reservation, Fort Duchesne country, and they are held to await the grand jury's action. The Indian agents were eager to Marshal Parsons' department until the latter part of the morning, when they were wheeled away to the penitentiary, pending the further investigation of their case. They form a rough and unwashed sort of party.

OPENING OF THE TERM.

The February Session of the Third District Court Began Today.

Chief Justice Zane presided in the Third District Court this morning, upon the opening of the February term. There was not a small attendance of attorneys, and the proceedings were to an almost formal character.

THE GRAND JURY.

The impanneling of a grand jury resulted in the selection of the following gentlemen:

C. M. Hammond, Henry Wallace, Henry Buhling, H. Ransohoff, J. S. Rentt, W. S. Henderson, Green Miller, S. J. Lyon and Charles H. Brink, all of Salt Lake City; Thos. P. Pate, Woodland, Summit County; O. P. Miller, Riverton; Byron A. Lockwood, South Jordan; Mike Kopsanlis, Bingham; Thos. Watson, Park City; E. C. Sears, Salt Lake City.

Excused—Jos. Scott, J. Elizbach, Oscar Harry, and W. H. Noyes, Salt Lake City; and Marion Davis, Sugar House.

PETIT JURY.

The petit jury panel was called, and a number of jurors having been chosen another venire was issued, and disposition made of 2 jurors.

A COURT REPORTER'S ACCOUNT.

The accounts of Commissioner Cannon were presented and allowed.

SB A CONTEST CLAIM.

Judgment for the defendant on the motion claim was given in the case of Value Mon vs. Louis Ro. Gonz.

CASE PROCEEDING.

Frank Mayne vs. George H. Dexter et al; $781 in gingers which the court adjudged at $200 for the main issue.

BATTLE OF THE BALLOTS.

Result of Yesterday's Election in This City.

DEMOCRATS LOSE THE FOURTH PRECINCT,

But Hold On to the Third by a Goodly Majority.—The "Liberals" Get the Rest.—Ballot Official.—Other Incidents.

The result of yesterday's municipal election was a victory for the misnamed "Liberal" party. It is not our present purpose to animadvert upon the ways and means by which this result was reached, or even to comment upon them, but merely to record facts, facts and figures. The Democrats have lost the Fourth precinct, and with it a number of officers, and have lost the Third by a greatly reduced majority. The rest to all "Liberal."

One of the surprises of the contest is the increase of 113 per cent. in the Republican vote of the city.

The return by precincts appears below. They tell their own tale as far as a merely superficial exposition of a subject can. In the First precinct, where there were two "Liberal" election judges, and chairmen, where the Democratic and Republican judges either did not act as harmoniously or as deterministically as at the Fourth, there is no present telling how many unscrupulous hands for how much misleading knavery the mode and misapplied figures are made to cover up. Even in the Fourth, where the utmost regularity was the rule, where the challengers would not be "baffled" and the judges seemed scrutinizing to see in nearly every case, there were some, perhaps many, who slipped through the meshes and got in their votes.

High tension prevailed extensively for a while and at times in all the precincts, and the account given of some of them in the "Liberal" organs are simply grotesque, so utterly devoid of truth are they. Notably is this so in the case of the striking of Lorenzo Snow Wells and the subsequent trouble.

One incident that has not been mentioned so far concerns to be placed on record. John Sharp, a deputy marshal, made himself very officious around the polls at the Fourth for a while, taking advantage of every opportunity to let those present know what he was there for. A rowdy came in very shortly before noon, and having no ballot, one of the challengers passed one to him across the judge's table. "Don't put you anything across that table again," said Bush. "All right," said the unfortunate offender, "if you do that again," continued Bush, "I'll fire you out of here." In view of the fact that the challenger had as much right there as Bush upon being sworn, and that there was nothing whatever in the Democratic action calling for even reproof, the affair should have resulted altogether from some excuse, but it did not.

J. M. Hamilton, who had the appointment as judge for the First precinct on the part of the Democrats, neither appeared nor sent word in time, and the result was the election of a "Liberal" in his place.

Yesterday's election probably leads the Utah record in the matter of scratching, as the tables show in the following returns by precincts:
