OGDEN.

Another Railroad to the Coast—Miss Sarah Fowers, of Hooper, Adjudged Insane.

Special Correspondence.

Ogden, April 12.—Hon. Joseph A. West, chief engineer of the Utah and Pacific railroad, was in the city yesterday. He said that the rails were laid in Modena, Iron county, a distance of sixty miles, and that the road would reach McCoy, or Stanford, by May 15th. Just now as far as the present company intends building, but another fortnight, or possibly a month sooner, will be organized to continue the line to Vanderbilt on the Atlantic and Pacific, thus forming a through line to the coast. The distance from McCoy to Vanderbilt is about 120 miles, and the work of building the will be done during the present year.

PROVO CANYON RAILROAD.

Work on the Rio Grande Western branch through Provo canyon is being pushed. Six miles between Provo and the mouth of the canyon have been graded and there is considerable grading done in the canyon, where the crews are now at work. The work is being done by sub-contractors for Dean Iron & Bridge company, who have the contract for the sixteen miles which have been let, the contract will be finished in a few days, and from remarks made by the officials, it is believed other contracts will be let between Provo and Salt Lake the road through the canyon, and will give some idea of the route proposed when finished. The road bed which has not been made public up to this time. Tracklaying from Provo on the grade has begun and will be completed at once, as it is the intention to finish this work before high water sets in; the end rails are now in the streets and when the tracklaying commences it will be completed before long. This will enable the city of Provo to hold materials for bridges and other construction work in the canyon.

While the gang line of Logan's water system burst on Agricultural College hill this afternoon, and the torrent washed a large hole in the hill, otherwise no damage was done.

LEHI.

Death of Mrs. George E. Davis—Activity in Beet Planting.

Special Correspondence.

Lehi, Utah Co., April 11.—Last night at 10:30 the angel of death visited our city and stationed as its victim Mrs. Geo. E. Davis, age 37 years. She has been sick for over two years with consumption. Mrs. Davis was a respected and estimable lady, and a very zealous worker in the cause of truth, having been a teacher in the second intermediate department of the Sunday school for a number of years. She leaves a husband, three small children and a host of relatives and friends to mourn her loss. The funeral services will be held in the ward meeting house at 1:30 tomorrow.

BEET PLANTING.

The Utah Sugar company are now right in the midst of planting their seed beets and will have them all in ground before the first of next week. Farmers are all quite jubilant over the beautiful spring weather we are now having, and judging from the present outlook there will be an enormous beet crop this coming season.

BEAVER.

Breaking Ground and Dedicating Some for the Beaver Branch of B. Y. Academy.

Special Correspondence.

Beaver, Beaver Co., April 10.—Last Monday was the day set for beginning the breaking of ground for the 240 acres of land belonging to the Beaver Branch of the B. Y. A. at Old Fort Cameron. At 9:45 the students were called to assemble on the ground to be plowed; and here they met a number of men who had come up from Beaver with plows and proper outfits to break ground for the farm.

The workmen were under the special direction of President M. L. Shepherd, who, with assistance from President Huff, had given the privilege of plowing the first furrow. When all preliminaries were made, President Shepherd, under direction of Principal E. D. Partridge sang, "God is Love." There followed a collect, which President Huff offered up prayer, dedicating the ground to the special purpose for which it was designed, and to be used as other fruit farm. At the close of the prayer the ladies were invited to prepare a luncheon for the workmen. They entered upon this with experience a A correctness, and at 1 p. m. had prepared a collation worthy the acceptance of the most pronounced epicure of the age. The spread was served on one of the four large tables formerly used as company quarters. In the meantime plowing, rock-hauling and brush grubbing was both vigorously pushed. The first furrow, just east of the Mormon building, formerly the hospital, was turned by President Huff, and this became the rest of the plowmen. The sight was inspirational; everybody moved with a spirit of work and day with a cheerfulness of spirit that made things more. Teachers and students, both male and female, were all busy as a hive of bees.

The work continued, with the exception of lunch time, until about 4:30 p. m., when Prof. Brimhall delivered one of his characteristically instructive lectures to all present.

The day was an enjoyable and profitable one to the school, and marks another page of history in this young but rapidly growing institution of learning. May God aid the undertaking.

SPRING CITY.

School Bonds of $5,000 Voted—New Meeting House Nearing Completion.

Special Correspondence.

Spring City, Sanpete Co., April 11.—At the school election held here yesterday, the taxpayers decided to bond the school district for $5,000, the money to be used for building a school house. The vote was 42 against and 86 in favor of the proposition. The question of a voluntary school tax of one per cent will be decided on the first of May. It is the intention to build an extensive school house in the neighborhood of $5,000, which will make a tax necessary, in addition to the money derived from the school bonds.

Work on the new meeting house is progressing favorably, the committee having charge of the house is determined to push the building to an early completion.

The health of the people is good.

Orson Hyde came down from Salt Lake last week.

County Recorder Erickson was visiting relatives here yesterday.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

OAKLEY, IDAHO.

Much Sickness—Stake Academy Well Patronized—Telephone Connection.

Special Correspondence.

Oakley, Idaho, April 5.—We have had considerable sickness here this winter, and a number of deaths.

We are having lots of falling weather, which means the farmers and producers feel upon the hills.

Eight of the officers of this place have left for Idaho, on a mission.

Pres. Jos. R. Pike, jr., assigned to go to Europe, Jos. T. Hofgitt to the Tahiti Islands, and the other six are to go to the Southern States.

Our Stake academy has been running this year with a good membership as high as one hundred and fifteen, though the number is now decreasing, owing to spring labors on the farms.

Telephone connection with neighboring towns has been completed which greatly benefits the business portion of the community.

The farmers are busy ploughing and sowing, and the sheep men are wool-gathering. Our town is improving by the erection of several new buildings.

PRESIDENCY IS NOT A SINECURE

Health of Executive and Associates Greatly Impaired.

M'KINLEY HARD WORKED.

Richest Man of the New Senate Will be Clerk of Mormon—Washington Gossip.

Special Correspondence.

Washington, April 8.—Now that the tremendous pressure and strain on officers of the administration has relaxed there is a corresponding relaxation in their physical stamina. The President's health, suffered not from the severe strain incident to the war, the effects of which did not show on him physically until within the past few weeks. Private Secretary Porter is greatly run down and has been granted leave of absence. Vice President Hobart's health is also seriously impaired.

On Easter day the President and Mrs. McKinley stood on the rear portico of the White House to watch the children roll eggs down the slope of the lawn on the grounds. He looked pale and careworn, and much thinner than usual.

Mr. McKinley's friends, and the people outside of Washington that the President's office is all easy one, it but a sinecure. The truth is he is the hardest worked of all the public officials. When Congress is in session South of the Potomac, the President must sign all of bills passed by Congress and sent to him for his signature. Hundreds of bills of trifling importance must be signed; he is called upon by the department of justice to examine various applications for pardons, and, as a conscientious President, importuned, worried and bedeviled by solicitous mothers, fathers and relatives of convicted felons, who plead for mercy and security, this is in itself a tremendous tax upon his time and strength. Furthermore, more only with the heads of departments; now, about the number of the new 16 Cabinet officers, Senators, Representatives, governors, and other men who have come up from Beaver with plows and proper outfits to break ground for the farm.

The workmen were under the special direction of President M. L. Shepherd, who, with assistance from President Huff, had given the privilege of plowing the first furrow. When all preliminaries were made, President Shepherd sang, under direction of Principal E. D. Partridge sang, "God is Love." Winding an Old Clock.

"The human body," said Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes, "is a seventy year clock. The Creator winds it up once, when we are born, and then delivers the key into the hands of the man of the timepiece."

Yes, but they do not all run seventy years. It depends largely on how they are treated. Take the pendulum weight off the end of the wire, and your clock will rattle away at the rate of half a dozen hours in one. Neglect a clock and you irregularity now that, now more. Break the mainspring or a wheel, and it stops instantly. Take intelligent care of it, and a good clock will wave your grandchildren as faithfully as it now served you.

There is an important difference, however, between your clock and your body. Once after the clock is completely ran down, and, as a standard, you can wind it up and set it going again. Not so with the body; time stopped it gone to stay.

Is Publisher of Mr. Corie W. Fiske had been completely run down? At the time he entire to I should not have be writing of him as a living man. On a certain occasion a few years since he sat for five weeks continuously in a rocking chair, unable to lie down. At that time he was nearly crushed with a condition of a of complicated kidney disease and urinary kidney disease. For a few years thus the many human clocks have run down altogether and stopped dead. An analysis showed Mr. Fiske's every effection to be free from albumen, and sugar, and he was in fact, in every respect as of professional specialty, without expecting to recover. It is commonly the final stopping of the clock of life, but Mr. Fiske's kidneys were in partial strength of the liver and rule to health.

Mr. Fiske's case was a very bad one, and there is a lesson in it. Neglect of the kidneys, the clock of life, the liver, the clock of life, the liver, the clock of life, the liver
