MAKING STATE LAWS

Legislators in Session on the Twenty-second Day of their Labors.

A RATHER BUSY AFTERNOON.

List of Special Constitutional Committees Appointed by President Cannon and Speaker Denny.

Promptly at two p. m. today Chairman Cannon called his fellow senators to order and all but Barnes and Evans, who are both ill at their homes responded to their names. Mr. Kaiser, the Jewish rabbi, offered prayer after which yesterday's journal was read by Minute Clerk Clive.

A communication was received from the House announcing the passage by that body of H. B. 24, providing for the custody of records and papers pertaining to the officers of United States commissioners. Filed.

COMMITTEE REPORTS.

The committee on judiciary, Sutherland chairman, reported recommending that H. B. No. 3, by Wilson, providing for the appointment of notaries public, be rejected for the reason that the subject matter is more fully covered in S. B. No. 31, on the same subject. Filed.

The same committee recommended the immediate passage of S. B. No. 31, on account of the urgent need of such legislation. Same action.

The Senate conference committee reporting on the substitute for S. B. 14, recommended that the Senate concur in the House amendments which eliminate the clause providing that 75 per cent of the fees collected by the clerk of the Supreme Court be turned into the general fund and 25 per cent into the library fund. Under the amendments all fees will go into the general fund. Adopted.

The committee on claims recommended the rejection of S. B. No. 20 on account of the committee's action having "been anticipated" by the House. The measure referred to was Smith's bill providing for a $6,000 appropriation for the deaf and dumb school. Filed.

The committee on live stock recommended the passage with suggested amendments of S. B. No. 12, the bill to prevent the spread of disease among sheep, introduced by Candland.

The changes suggested by the committee are only slight and the bill is practically the same as it was when introduced. It has the endorsement of the State convention of sheepmen who met in this city in December.

TO PROTECT RAILWAY EMPLOYES.

Warner introduced S. B. No. 41, "by request," to protect railway employes while in the discharge of their duties. Committee on railroads.

The bill has but one section and provides that any person in the employment of any railroad company in the State, who may be killed by any locomotive, car, or other rolling stock, whether in the performance of his duty or otherwise, his widow or legal representatives may have the same right of action for damages against such company as if said person so killed were not in the employ of said company. Any agreement that he may have made, whether verbal or written, to hold such company harmless or free from an action for damages in the event of such killing, shall be null and void, and shall not be admitted as testimony in behalf of said company in any action for damages which may be brought against them; and any person in the employ of such company who may have been injured as aforesaid or by any property of said company, shall have his action for damages the same as if he were not in the employ of said company; and no agreement to the contrary shall be admitted as testimony of said company. Referred.

GEORGE M. CANNON,
President of Senate.
PRESLEY DENNY,
Speaker of House.

The bill providing for a State board of health, after animated discussion, was amended so that all of its expenses should annually be kept within $1,500, after which it was passed to its third reading.

Candland's sheep bill was referred to the committee on judiciary to amend its title, which was considered defective.

The notaries public bill was under fire at press time.

THE HOUSE.

After the reading and approval of yesterday's journal in the House today, Curtis asked that Representative Harris be excused on account of sickness, and it was so ordered.

The Governor submitted the report of the Territorial auditor for the years 1894-5, which, on motion of Nye, was referred to the committee on ways and means.

A communication from the Senate notified the House of the passage by that body of S. B. No. 4, an act incorporating the Utah School for the Deaf; likewise the passage, under a suspension of the rules, of H. B. No. 30, an act providing for contingent expenses of the Legislature. H. B. No. 49, relating to blacklisting was returned as another bill covering the same ground was now under consideration.

Monson, by request, submitted House claim No. 10, from John G. Robinson, James Meikle and Charles R. Lyman, who were elected to the office of commissioners to locate university lands, in the autumn of 1894. They assumed the duties of the office in January, 1895, and found that the full amount of two townships granted to the University of Utah by the general government had been located and appraised and the whole matter turned over into the hands of the board of regents of the University, thus completing the work of the commission. They therefore enclosed a statement of the accounts which were necessarily contracted by the commission, amounting to $306.80, together with the deficiency of the former board amounting to $581.10, making an aggregate of $887.90 which they asked be paid. Referred to board of examiners.

Egan presented H. C. No. 15, from William N. Naldo, a resident of Layton, Davis county, asking to be allowed to purchase 40 acres of land in section 10, adjoining his homestead, to recompense him for loss sustained through survey lines. Referred to examining board.

Howard presented a petition from Frank Jacobs and 23 others, residents of Green river precinct, Emery county asking the price of school lands be fixed at $1.25.

PETITION FOR AN EIGHT-HOUR DAY.

The following was presented by Wilson:

Whereas, A measure is now in the State Legislature aiming at a reduction in the hours of labor in the smelters and mines, and

Whereas, The employment in smelters, mills and mines is dangerous and prejudiced to health, therefore be it

Resolved by the laboring men of Sandy engaged in smelting, milling and mining, now in mass meeting assembled that we unanimously indorse the measure and respectfully petition the Honorable State Legislature to enact the same into law.

The petition was signed by William Halstead, I. Harrison, Chris Robertson, John J. Rideout and Jack Lloyd, and was referred to the committee on labor.

The committee, consisting of the Speaker of the House and President of the Senate, appointed to refer certain passages in the Constitution to proper committees, submitted a report of their labors.

Cunningham, president; L. S. Hills, vice-president; Frank Knox, treasurer; and O. S. Holmes, secretary.

Indicted for Embezzlement.

M. E. Cummings, learning that the grand jury had indicted him on seven counts of embezzlement, came into Judge Hiles's court this afternoon and voluntarily surrendered himself. His bonds, for all the counts in question were fixed at $2,000. Mr. Cummings was permitted to go from the court room to get sureties. Attorney W. H. Hutchinson has been engaged by the defendant to look after his interests. Saturday at 10 o'clock was the time set for Mr. Cummings to plead.

The Pair Arraigned.

Israel T. Dennis and Mrs. Susannah Robinson, the couple indicted by the grand jury this forenoon, went, before Judge Hiles late this after noon and were arraigned. They will plead on Thursday next at 10 a.m. Dennis said he was a preacher and had no money with which to employ counsel whereupon the court appointed Attorney Hutchinson to defend them.

Lecture Tonight.

Owing to his being afflicted with a severe cold, Elder David McKenzie will not be able to lecture in the Sixth ward this evening, but Elder George Reynolds will perform that duty, and a specially interesting time is anticipated by the Mutual Improvement associations of the ward. All are invited.

NEWS OF THE STATE.

Lehi Banner: Thos. Webb came in from his sheepherd on Sunday night from Kay mountain on the desert. He says there is but very little snow out there, some herds having to move to get snow for their sheep.

American Fork Item: What nearly became being a fatal accident occurred Thursday with E. H. Henriod as the victim. Mr. Henriod had been digging a well on his premises this week, and at the time had it almost finished. His brother, Fred, was at the windlass drawing up the dirt in a nail keg. The former had filled the keg and it was being drawn up, when the rope broke and the load of dirt dropped a distance of thirty feet. Fred cried to his brother look out, and just in time. He had no more than stepped to one side when the keg reached him, missing his head by about two inches and striking his hand, cutting it badly. If it had struck his head, instant death would have been the result.

The home missionaries of the Salt Lake Stake of Zion will meet in President Angus M. Cannon's office tomorrow (Wednesday) night, at half-past seven o'clock.

All officers are urgently requested to be present.

JOSEPH H. FELT,
JAS. W. EARDLEY,
CHAS. B. STEWART,
Stake Superintendency.

Supreme Court.

The Supreme court met at 10 o'clock this morning. Chief Justice Zane and Hons. G. W. Bartch and Le Grand Young were present, the former presiding, Judge Miner being disqualified from sitting in the case, which was that of Thomas Maloney et al vs Catherine R. Toland, appellant. The case came on for hearing, was argued by Attorney John E. Bagley for the appellant, and Attorney Davis Evans in reply. It was submitted and taken under advisement.

Railway Mail Service.

Captain James E. White, superintendent of the Railway Mail Service, has made his report for 1895. It shows that there were 497 accidents, in which seven clerks were killed and 178 injured while on duty, an increase of 137 accidents over last year. The superintendent renews his recommendation that a law be passed for the relief of clerks hurt on duty.

Of 10,077,858,040 pieces of mail handled during the year there were 1,100,282 errors, a better record than that of last year. This is attributed to the fact that the civil service has brought to the department better men.

Secret Political Societies.

[Boise Statesman.]

There is a general rage in the United States now to go into secret political societies. Nothing like it has been witnessed since before the war. It is not a good omen, it is indicative of general discontent.

We can now call to mind the Industrial Legions, founded by Paul Vandervoort; the Silver Knights, with Senator Stewart the originator; the Patriots of America, a recent evolution of W. H. Harvey, author of Coin's Financial School; to this must be added the Freemen's Protective Silver Federation, an association that had its origin in the northern counties of this state. This latter society acquired considerable strength in western Washington and northern Idaho, but an attempt to extend it into Idaho generally proved a failure. An effort, and an earnest one, was made to establish the Industrial Legion in the state; that also proved a failure. We anticipate that it will be so with the other political secret societies. Although there is much in them that is meritorious the people do not like secret political societies, and thousands of our best citizens will not go into them.

After due deliberation we are convinced that a secret political organization will never be a success in the political field. They may gain a temporary advantage, but they do not last. Our advice to all is to remain out of all secret political and semi-political societies.
