Testing an Important Water Rights Question in Idaho.

A WOMAN WIELDS A SHOTGUN.

Killed by a Flow of Iron—Closed the Saloon—Refused to Bond—A Prof. Ex-Law.

Idaho Falls, Idaho, has just held an election to determine whether the town should be bonded for $35,000 for water works and electric lights. The people refused to incur such a heavy debt.

Benjamin Stone, foreman of the San Francisco Tinnier Preserving company, was struck by a flying iron rod and almost instantly killed Saturday afternoon in the yard of the company, San Francisco.

George Hertidge, who lives in Boise, Idaho, has the champion cow; she has given birth to four calves in ten months. The first pair were bulls and the second are heifers, and all proved to be true specimens. One of the bulls is dead, but it got into the alfalfa field and founded itself—it was not the fault of the cow.

Lars Peter Nelsen, longshoreman, employed on the steamer North Fork, loading lumber at Arcata wharf, fell between the vessel and the wharf at Arcata, Cal., Saturday morning and was drowned before assistance could reach him. The deceased was a native of Denmark, aged 32 years, unmarried, and had no relatives in this country.

After a fight of nearly one week, the Fresno, Cal., authorities have successful in closing "Doc" Howard's saloon. He had persisted boys to frequent his place and openly defied the officers to close it, claiming that he had paid his license and there was no law to revoke the license. The chief of police finally ordered him the money he had paid for a license and ordered him to close his saloon immediately. He closed.

Mrs. Anna Hammond, an aged widow, was shot Saturday afternoon by a neighbor named Mrs. Wilson at Prescott, Ariz. The two women had been quarreling and Mrs. Wilson, who is weak, provoked a scuffle and chased Mrs. Hammond home, whereupon two loads of buckshot into the house, then shooting twice more at her victim that to escape the same neighbors. The wounds are in the legs and are not regarded as serious. Mrs. Wilson is under arrest.

A suit filed in the Idaho District court Saturday which will prove a test one as the question of water rights in the state, and which grows out of the differences between farmers under the Boisburgh canal and the management of the system. The court is asked to decide whether a water company has the right to charge for water rights to persons to water that the consumers may secure the privilege of buying water at a fixed price per acre. The company demand $10 per acre in addition for perpetual water right, with a rental of $1 per acre per year for keeping the canal in repair.

To Make Good Roads In Winter.

A large number of valuable horses were sprained or otherwise more or less seriously injured during the winter of 1894-5 by running out into the deep and rifled snow for meeting teams. Country persons, who must go in all weather and all conditions of the roads, were special sufferers, and it is more especially for their benefit and comfort that we have all attention to the system of winter maintaining which has been successfully tried in portions of Vermont and New Hampshire. As soon as a deep snow has fallen, or the roads are rifled, the district pathmaster starts out with two teams hitched to a heavy harrow having a spread of 8 or 9 feet.

He proceeds along one side of the road to the end of the district and returns, thus narrowing down a strip 16 to 18 feet wide. Following the harrow comes a heavy roller of the same length (8 or 9 feet) drawn by two teams, or more if necessary, and the harrowed snow is rolled down to a solid mass. This is repeated as often as is needed.

The result is a fine, solid winter track, up 16 feet wide, without pitchholes, admitting at all times of the easy and safe passage of loaded teams. This method is worthy of being remembered and put in practice anywhere that a good winter road is a necessity.—Rural's Dairyman.

California Creamery Prices.

A creamery association in southern California pays for milk on the following rules:

Milk testing 4 per cent butter fat will be paid for at the rate of 80 cents per 100 pounds when butter sells for 16 cents per pound wholesale. This will be the standard of price and quality by which all milk will be measured. If one has good cows that, by feed and care, give rich milk, it will feed high and he will receive more for the same quantity than one who has poor, ill fed cows giving milk that contains but little butter. For example, if milk tests 5 per cent butter fat, this being 25 per cent above the base, 4 per cent, the milk will be worth 25 per cent more, or $1 per 100 pounds. Again, if the price of butter advances to 20 cents per pound, this being 20 per cent above the base, all will receive 20 per cent more, or 90 cents per 100 pounds for milk testing 4 per cent butter fat. In other words, the price varies directly as the price in the market and as the butter fat in the milk varies from the base.

A Hard Question.

"Sat, pay?"
"Pay?"
"Oh, pay?"
"What—what do you want?"
"If a number go from, would he be an heiress?"—Indianapolis Journal.
