BATTLE WITH BANDITS.

Two of the Assailants Killed and Others Reported Wounded.

CHIPLEY, Fla., Oct. 22.—Besieged by outlawed negroes, J. M. Cripler, manager of Hagerman's lumber mill, at Hayes station, four miles west of here, defended himself with such effect that he killed two of his assailants and wounded four others.

Cripler became engaged in a quarrel with one of the employes and the colored negroes then gathered and began firing at the manager.

Cripler ran to his office and locked himself in and opened fire with a Winchester on the mobbed negroes who surrounded the building. For an hour the battle continued and when the Louisville and Nashville train arrived at the station the negroes were preparing to set fire to the building and remove Cripler. The train crew and others, however, turned to Cripler's aid and disposed the negroes. The negroes had fired over 200 bullets but Cripler had escaped by lying on the floor. As soon as the negroes fired a volley, however, he would rise and shoot at them through the windows. The negroes killed were James Jones and Alexander. The wounded are Henry Simson, Jack Nonce, Andrew Miller and Albert Lester. Simson and Lester are thought to be fatally wounded.

EXECUTIVE CLEMENCY.

Governor Upham Pardons a Murderer.

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 22.—Gov. Upham has pardoned Dr. W. P. Dowell who two years ago was sentenced to states prison for life from Walworth county for the murder of his wife Elizabeth Dowell.

The pardon was urgently urged by the judge who sentenced him and the jurors on the last that the doctor had grown old and feeble and has but a short time to live, and the further reason that a relative in another state desires to care for him during his remaining days, made it appear to the governor as a case for executive clemency.

FILIBUSTERS CAPTURED.

The Dauntless Intercepted by the U. S. Cruiser Raleigh.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—A special to the Record from Jacksonville, Florida, says:

The United States cruiser Raleigh at Fernandina yesterday afternoon overhauled the steamer Dauntless taking on a cargo of coal from the steamer H. L. Maxey at Mosquito inlet. As the war ship bore down on them the Dauntless started in the opposite direction and the Raleigh opened fire, dropping a solid shot across their bows as a signal to stop.

The Dauntless heeved to, but the Maxey ran into the Mosquito inlet and anchored opposite New Smyrna. The Raleigh took the Dauntless to her ship and an officer after the Maxey. The two prizes were towed up the coast to the St. John's bar and were anchored inside the river with the outer Dunwoodi at Mayport.

The Dauntless has just arrived from the south and is supposed to have been preparing to carry another expedition to Cuba. The Maxey has been acting as a tender for the Bloomsburg steamship.

AN ARMENIAN SENTENCED.

For Alleged Connection With the Revolutionary Committee.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—A special to the Herald from Constantinople says: Ten most sensational trial ever known in Turkey has just been concluded. Ayia Effendi, the millionaire Armenian, has been condemned to three years seclusion in a fortress. He was accused of being chief of the revolutionary committee. The latter was nonexistent so proven but his connection with the movement was established. He was given the minimum penalty.

As regards the treasure at Lemnos, the truth is, that while the British fleet was anchored in the port of Modros, some sailors on ninety kites hotes from some sleep houses and went into the mountains, where they exacted the Mussulman's wrath by the violation of two Turkish women. On returning they met the demands of the reporters for payment by threatening them. Three hundred sailors landed at Modros, are not drunk in the taverns and turn refused payment. They also entered Mussulman's houses for low purposes and beat the police and people.

Corbett and Fitzsimmons.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22.—Dan Stuart, the pugilistic impresario, has arrived in this city from the South and says he will spend a few days in this city principally on pleasure. Wind ails business in the Texas manager will not say. Though reluctant to speak on present pugilistic topics he admitted San Francisco may by saying that he thought Corbett and Fitzsimmons would really fight a square fight some time before the 1st of March. He did not leave New York until he was well assured that not only had Corbett and Fitzsimmons put up their money, but that they had signed articles, agreed upon a referee and stakeholder and had done other things necessary to secure the fight being brought off.

GOLD MINES AND MONEY.

An Alleged Swindler With a Marvelous Record.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 22.—Allen G. Vines, the golden mines schemer, will be taken to Fargo, N. D., today, where he is wanted for getting $1,500 from a Swede under alleged false pretenses. He has a matrimonial record, according to the statements of H. J. Hyzen, the deputy sheriff who came to take him back. Vines had to have a wife in Fargo and another in Wilkesbarre, Pa., besides the woman he married in Cairo, Ill., last summer.

In Fargo Vines was known as Joseph Miller, and it was under this name that he is alleged to have married Rita Hansen, a Fargo girl and the daughter of a druggist of that place.

Mary Jayne was the name of his Wilkesbarre wife, and Miss Elizabeth Patten of Cairo, Ill., was wife number three.

Bullets and Flesh.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Oct. 22.—Colonel William F. Cody, better known as "Buffalo Bill," was fined $250 by Judge Carelton, on the charge of giving an exhibition of his show on this city without a proper license. The case will be appealed.

Memorials Admitted.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—The 128 members-elect who have been kept at Ellis Island for several days are after all to be allowed to find homes in this country.

The New Jersey men who protested against the resolution of the Attorneys of the Patriotic Army in Germany, N. J., have received from Immigration Commissioner Kinner a notice of the release of the Armenians.

The New Jersey companies will make a report the Salvationists in another case to let the refugees, to say should not become public charges.

LITERARY NOTES.

Yale University is the subject of an interesting article in the November number of Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly. It is written by one of the undergraduates, George Henry Nettleton, and is illustrated with many photographs. It is the first of a series of papers on American Universities and Colleges to appear in the course of the magazine. Another attractive and well illustrated article in this number is The Hague Disclosure, by Julian Hawthorne, giving portraits of many of the foreign ministers.

Godey's Magazine for November has a strong contribution from Byron, which will commend the number to those who have not yet begun subscribing in the campaign as to regular magazine reading this fall. Elbert R. Wilson, contributed an article on Constitution a National Campaign Issues in a snappy interesting way (with text it is the duty of all citizens to be familiar with, and answers the important questions on cities which: "What are some of the large cities achieved every Fourth by the national committee?" is Queen Oil Zof Sweetness the outstanding title Oils settlement to which Major McKinley has undertaken himself or not during the campaign and Mr. Lee's Life of Franklin, which has met with a very cordial reception, is continued in an illustrated contribution entitled Franklin the Publisher and the Statesman.
