LOCAL BRIEFS.

Bob Kelly, after a brief vacation, is once more registered at police headquarters on the same old charge—drunkenness.

Mrs. Fred Burton of this city sailed for Honolulu from San Francisco yesterday, in company with her two children. Mrs. Burton intends to spend two or three months in the islands, where she will visit her brother, who is laboring there in the capacity of a missionary.

Mr. Samuel C. Lieberstein, who is well known in Salt Lake business circles, was married in the Jewish synagogue, Omaha, on Wednesday evening, to Miss Fay Woolf of that city. The newly married pair will reside in Salt Lake, after spending their honeymoon in the East.

The gross earnings of the Rio Grande Western for the third week in February were $15,000, an increase of $5,000. When it is considered that most of the time the Western's connections have been blockaded, the showing is exceptionally good. The earnings were nearly all on local traffic.

Miss Graves, a woman who is an inmate of Pay Valentine's home, at 272 Plain street, attempted suicide last night by taking carbolic acid. She chased three ounces of the drug and drank about an ounce of it. A physician was called in and pronounced the would-be suicide.

L. H. Murdoch, section director of the weather bureau in this city, has been appointed an instrument in the service, by which the schools and other leading institutions in the city will be served with weather bulletins an hour earlier hour in the day than formerly. The change is welcome.

In answer to inquiry made by Gov. Wells, at the request of the friends and relatives of Corporal Andrew Peterson and Lieutenant Geo. A. Nesom, of the Utah battery, Senator Rawlins telegraphed the cheering intelligence last evening that the two men were very slightly wounded, and were all right.

The fifth debate for the championship of the Junior A. Garfield Lyceum will be held in the First Congregational church this evening. The question for debate will be: "Resolved that an income tax is a desirable part of the scheme of taxation." Robert J. Young will open on the affirmative and Clive Pierce J. McFadden will take the negative. Besides the debate the program includes several other interesting numbers.

Mr. J. F. Joplin, who went with the first expedition to Manila, and who came over in the Yakonas with Lieut. Grow, left for the East last night. Mr. Joplin, who stopped in the city, was the guest of his brother, H. A. Joplin of the Oregon Short Line. He spoke in the highest terms of the Utah battalion, of which he says the State had good reason to be proud. While at Manila Mr. Joplin became acquainted with quite a number of the Utah officers.

GOOD CATTLE.

Live Stock Agent Hubbard of the Colorado Midland has just returned from a trip south, doing some of the stock farms. He said today:

I had the pleasure the week of visiting one of the finds of pure bred Shorthorns, near Mr. Prescott, Ariz., near the property of Hi. J. V. Jones, and called the place Shady View farm. The foundation of this herd consists of fourteen cows and one bull, and he intends to increase to 100 the year. In making this selection, the owner stated neither time nor money seemed to be considered, and the foundation cattle for a great herd were shipped from Illinois. Which fashionable indigenous ever been produced in Illinois, and when an animal commanding all the requisites was found in Illinois, the price cut no figure.

"In looking over this herd one can see some great cows, such as Beauty Hose, Waterloo Duke, Waterloo Minna, by Waterloo Duke, Waterloo Clarine, by Duke Clarence, Waterloo Lady, by Young Mary's, Rose of Sharon, and Duchess Josephine. Among the most fashionable up-to-date families I have Amelia Gem, by Valley Chief, Imlay Gem, Stokes of Valley Chief, by Imlay Chief, Lady Fairfax, by Sunbeam, Gem Sun, Rose of Sharon, Pride of the Isles. This young lot is of the highest breeding and quality, and is much sought after by all undesirable breeders. Mr. Jones owns Sunlight, 37,101, by Imlay Chief, grandson of Young Abbotsford.

Mr. Jones's importations to Utah have been well, notwithstanding the winter has been hard and corn rather far away. Utah has had to buy all that was required, these show big well.

BANKRUPT CASES.

William L. McCabe, a voluntary bankrupt, has filed a petition in the Federal court asking for a discharge from his obligations. The time for hearing has been fixed for March 20.

Yesterday the oath of office was administered to Pearl E. Keener as referee in bankruptcy for Cache county, Utah.

JONES MUST STAND TRIAL.

Motion to Quash Information in Stout Shooting Case Overruled.

DEFENDANT'S PLEA TAKEN

Says He Is Not Guilty of the Crime—Files a Plea in Bar—Case to be Set Tomorrow.

A. H. Jones, charged with the crime of assault with intent to murder Butler Joseph M. Scott in this city December 9th, 1898, will be required to stand trial. Judge Norrell so decided today by overruling the motion, made by his attorney, Arthur Brown, on Saturday last, to quash the information accusing him of the offense. The case will, in all probability, be set tomorrow and the trial will occur somewhere in the neighborhood of March 20th.

The motion to quash and set aside the information was based on the following grounds:

1. That no preliminary examination of the defendant was had, as required by the statutes.

2. That the testimony was not reduced to writing and filed as a part of the record in the case.

3. That the information failed to properly recite that the defendant had heretofore been duly committed by a magistrate.

4. That the prosecution had not called all the witnesses, showing all the facts within their knowledge, but suppressed a part of the testimony which should have been presented on the preliminary examination.

MOTION IS OVERRULED.

Judge Norrell held that Jones had been given a preliminary examination as required by the statutes, and that it was not incumbent upon the prosecution at the preliminary hearing to reduce the testimony to writing, and hence further held that Jones had been duly committed in accordance with law; that while the prosecution does not allege that the defendant was given an examination, it did say he had been duly committed, which is prima facie proof, which substantiates an examination or waiver.

As to the fourth reason advanced Judge Norrell said that it was not absolutely necessary for the State to produce all the persons who had been eye-witnesses to the commission of a crime. The substitute of the prosecuting attorney for a grand jury possibly intended that a preliminary examination should be more complete, but that there was no information in the revised statutes that there should be any difference. The new law was an exact transcript of the old law. Grand juries had not been entirely dispensed with, but had in the present case. He did not think the prosecution was trying to hide any witnesses. The State had a right to choose its case, when it believed one had been made out and the statute did not require the production of all the witnesses for the accused that would be utterly impossible. He hoped that the case of Al Shavers, who had been shot down in cold blood, which hundreds of persons were present and who witnessed the act. The prosecution would have called in all those people to testify would have required days and weeks to get through with their testimony, would have put the State to an unnecessary expense and trouble, inconvenience would have only committed. He hoped that overruled the motion to which an exception was taken by Judge Henderson who appeared today for Jones.

Judge Henderson then presented a plea in bar, as follows:

"Now comes the defendant and pleads to the said information, that he has had a fair and legal preliminary examination, that he has not been bound over, but discharged, if any such there be, and that he has not been required to stand trial, or to be required to stand further."

The motion was also overruled and an exception taken. The court then asked if the defendant was present and Jones arose and said he is the man.

The following dialogue then took place:

Judge Norrell—Mr. Jones, what is your plea to the charge as read to you a week or so ago.

Judge Henderson—The defendant pleads not guilty, your honor.

Judge Norrell—The statute requires a defendant to speak for his own plea. Mr. Jones, what is your plea.

Jones—I plead not guilty.

The case was then set for a continuing one it was allowed to stand.

CARELESS SHOOTING.

Several complaints have been registered from the east bench on account of the habit some youngsters, some of them not so young either—have of shooting off 32-caliber rifles on the public highways near the Sugar House settlement. On Washington's birthday a youth armed with a rifle came very close to making a target of a passer-by on the road walking down Fourth street. The would-be sharpshooter aimed at a company of a female and male, and shaved the unfortunate's hat. The human mark, having to make a complaint, gave with a resolute plaint.

HARD TO GET A LAWYER.

The case of the State against H. Weber, charged with embezzlement, was to have been tried in the criminal branch of the Third district court, yesterday, but on account of the difficulty experienced in getting an attorney to stand the ordeal of a trial, the case was postponed until today. Judge Norrell was appointed to defend the defendant, but he was unable to accept. The first attorney asked with an objection that he was not a member of the bar, and if Prosecutor Ray had been called upon to prosecute he would have stated that the attorney was a member of Prosecutor Ray's law office, and he would be prejudiced against the defendant. The court then requested an attorney of standing and ability to defend, and asked Attorney H. C. Richards to attend to the case. The attorney declined on the ground of the press of business in hand, perhaps not, he said, he would be able to attend to the case. The court then requested Attorney Richards to see if he could find a member of the bar who would work a good deal for nothing, and if he could not find one to do so himself. Attorney Richards said he would do so, and if he could not find a member of the bar who would work a good deal for nothing, he would do so himself. Judge Norrell said he was very sorry, but he was unable to find a member of the bar who would work a good deal for nothing, and he would do so himself. Mr. Jones said he was not willing to pay Mr. Richards a fee for his services, and the case was continued until a later date.

FORTUNE TELLERS MUST GO

Municipal Law Committee Favors a Prohibitory Measure.

License of $100 Per Year to be Charged "Foretellers of Future Events."

The Council committee on municipal laws met last night and took up the ordinance introduced about six weeks ago, by Councilman Morris, providing for the regulating and licensing of fortune tellers. Its aim is to prohibit the business entirely, and should it pass the Council there can be but little doubt but what it will have the desired effect. The only change made by the committee was to raise the license fee from $25 to $100 per year.

The ordinance makes it unlawful for anyone to engage in the business of fortune telling, for hire, by what is known as palm reading, mind reading, card reading, head reading, clairvoyance, astology or any other mode of "Foretelling future events," without first paying the sum of $100 to the city treasurer for a license therefor, and the penalty for violation is also provided for.

All the members of the committee were present last night and unanimously decided to recommend to the Council the passage of the ordinance.

UNFORTUNATE FEMALES.

The ordinance giving the chief of police discretion as to the disposition of unfortunate women convicted in the police court, was also considered and favorably recommended for adoption. In cases where young women are arrested and convicted of the offense of being in violation, the head of the police department may send her to the reform school, provided it be her desire to make such an action necessary.

A number of the other committees met by itself together, but failed to get a quorum.
