THE SILVER PARTY.

Leaders of the Bimetallic Union Say It Is Gaining Strength.

PEOPLE SHOULD STAND TOGETHER

An Enthusiastic Audience Addressed by General Warner and Ex-Congressmen Bartine and Johnson.

Despite the fact that last night's silver meeting at the Theater was rushed at in a hurry and very little opportunity given to advertise it, quite a good audience had assembled when General A. J. Warner, Hon. Thomas G. Merrill, ex-Congressmen Bartine of Nevada and Johnson of West Virginia, Hon. Joseph L. Rawlins, Col. Moses and Mackintosh, Col. M. M. Knight, Speaker Dunn of the State House of Representatives and Hon. A. J. Evans and others filed into the building and took seats upon the stage.

In a few well-chosen remarks Col. Mackintosh presented Hon. J. L. Rawlins for chairman, which sentiment is meet with much favor, as was evinced by the applause which followed.

Mr. Rawlins then stated the object of the meeting. It was called merely for the purpose of showing to the people of Salt Lake the degree of progress which had been made in the East with regard to the silver question. The gentlemen at the head of the movement had fought the silver battle for many years and of late had succeeded in stirring up new fields in favor of the white metal—fields which were initiated by a class of people who were scared and derided the idea of free coinage. He asked for the pleasure of the meeting.

J. J. Daly moved the appointment of a committee to draft ideas and himself, Henry W. Lawrence, M. M. Knight, Allen G. Campbell and Richards Mackintosh were selected after which General A. J. Warner was introduced and commenced the first speech of the evening.

GENERAL WARNER'S REMARKS.

He stated that the country was on the eve of the most important election it had ever seen. A political revolution had been going on for twenty-three years and the end was just about in sight. For thirty-three years nothing had been on a falling credit during which time a debt of $5,000,000,000 or $6,000,000,000, and less than $2,000,000,000 had been created; of this $1,000,000,000 had been piled up since 1873. Our securities were not now as secure as they were in days gone by. It used to be that we could sell industrial stocks abroad but of late the foreigner has demanded government bonds, and whenever we might in other days pay our debt by issuing new paper, today the money lender wanted cash and that gold.

At the close of the war a debt was created on a cash basis, and after destroying one-half the money which was intended to pay it with, we were wont to "pick together and save the party."

Now, shall we change our industrial situation and force a new policy, abandon and destroy our industrial system, and accept that of the Britist?

We are now competing with nations whose labor, tea and Mexican dollar buys as much of home product as it ever did, while their products are sold abroad for gold in competition with our own.

No wonder the British press in New York was in favor of a gold standard, that can we do this country and our industrial system? If we attempt it we have seen the high water mark of our civilization, and from this time we go back to reach the Asiatic level. The gold standard men say we must maintain it. Mr. Cleveland is greatly concerned lest the dollar become depreciated. He doesn't consider how property may depreciate. A depreciation of money means a rise in prices.

The speaker thought Hon. Tillman because he had declared he was going to Chicago with his Democracy and would vote it if he had to walk out of the convention. He is not present, he say party free men are fighting for. Is there anything in the gold standard question worthy of a Democrat, or can Democrats find way to the teachings of Jefferson and Jackson in its teachings? Is our cause worth fighting for? Or shall we permit the gold standard party to rule over us? We will have a chance to fight. There may be a stalemate, and we will stand still. It will be silver on one side and gold and silver on the other. They may try to wind in the tariff, but it will not go down. McKinley says he is a bimetallist. He is Wolcott. Both believe in silver as fractional currency redeemable in gold. The greenbacks something in the japan about them of the Republican from the West in connection with his silver question. If silver is the permanent money, let's make it such. Don't make the tariff paramount and silver secondary.

In conclusion the speaker said:

"Stick together. If we can get the silver men to one party we are all right. They have two engines, and we will whip them one at a time. Don't attempt to carry everything, but unite on the one point. Let us unite on the point we agree on, let the others go and unite on a point and start in. You cannot win in either of the other parties. If you give the people a chance there will be candidates. If the people reject this opportunity, let them wear the chains."

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED.

The committee on resolutions then submitted the following report, which was adopted with cheers:

The citizens of Salt Lake City, including members of all political parties, assembled in mass meeting, assembled, adopt the following preamble and resolutions:

Whereas, We now with alarm the continued failing in power of all property measured by the gold standard.

The increasing willing and able working men so observed idleness seeking work and not finding it.

The government borrowing money and issuing bonds in time of profound peace.

The failure of the act of 1873 to restore silver to its place as a coinage or power and to afford relief.

The enforced removal of the landed left the Democratic and Republican parties as well as of the metropolitan press to the good recommendations of England and their West Indian colonies.

The persistent attempt to unload the people by adoptions platform declarations that profess nothing but federal expression of their political sentiments.

The indifference of the mossed East to the cause of the Rocky Mountain States.

The steady enthronement of the interest of currency while business and popularity are increasingly making the load of the struggling debtor heavier and harder with each succeeding year.

The monopolistic action of the mints threatened with contraction by compelling us to a silver basis and enjoining us to coinage in exchange of about one hundred per cent by means of the absent appreciation of gold.

Resolved, That the sole hope of relief and the all-consuming issue overshadowing all other is now before the American people in the form of a demand for the free coinage of 16 to 1 on exact equality with gold without reference to the action of any other government and the increase of the volume of money in circulation.

Resolved, That neither high tariff nor free tariff, protection nor free trade will bring any substantial relief while we attempt to maintain the gold standard.

Resolved, That we are utterly opposed to the issue of bonds in time of peace to the gold standard either by borrowing money with existing bonds or by issuing bonds (prime to the Assistant Secretary, not in the hands of those we will give our support to no party that does not stand positively pledged to the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, nor will we support any candidate whose past record does not give assurance that he will be true to that principle.

Resolved, That we earnestly request the United States Senators and the Representatives in Congress from Utah to make the free coinage of silver the paramount issue and to labor at all times and in all cases to bring about the complete restoration of silver to the position it occupied prior to 1873.

EX-CONGRESSMAN BARTINE.

Hon. H. F. Bartine was the next speaker. He had often sat to make a speech, but a report. The convention held in this city last May, resulted in the formation of the National Bimetallic Union. A combination of all the silver issues followed and the work began. The National Bimetallist, which now sends out 50,000 copies into every state and furnishes free enlarge supplements to 125 country papers, reaches 1,000,000 people in this Mississippi valley.

In two years we have borrowed $262,000,000, which we paid with cost as $500,000,000, and all this to keep $100,000,000 in the treasury, where it does less good than any place on earth. We are paying now $4 for one, for our national debt was contracted on a greenback basis. I believe two-thirds of the people believe in the free coinage of silver. But if they engrossed themselves into Democrats, Republicans and Populists they cannot win.

Michigan will go for bimetallism this fall sure. The members of all parties there are organizing. Other states are forming and we are looking to the west for light and guidance. If your societies make silver the issue you will find them backing you up in the fight. If we are put true to the cause we can march to victory in November.

THE WEST VIRGINIAN SPEAKS.

Ex-Congressman Johnson of West Virginia next addressed the assemblage. It was the first time he had visited Utah, also he might compliment the people on the many resources of the state. He did not want to discuss the money question with men who understood it, but if the people wanted to know if the silver battle could be won he would answer yes, and he who said otherwise was a gold monometallist. The eastern press had said silver was dead. It was an eastern argument. But the man down in the gold and silver belt knew silver was dead. It was an eastern argument. But the man down in the gold and silver belt knew silver was alive. Although the west and south are far apart they are both on the silver side. It is not a question of silver and gold and silver on the other. They may try to wind in the tariff, but it will not go down. McKinley says he is a bimetallist. He is Wolcott. Both believe in silver as fractional currency redeemable in gold. The greenback something in the japan about them of the Republican from the West in connection with his silver question. Catarrh starts in the nasal passages, affecting eyes, ears and throat, and is in fact the great source of the mucous membrane. Neglected colds in the head almost invariably precede catarrh, causing an excessive flow of mucus, and if the mucous discharge becomes interrupted the disagreeable results of catarrh will follow, such as bad breath, severe pain across forehead and about the eyes, a roaring and buzzing sound in the ears and deafness, a very offensive discharge. Ely's Cream Balm is the acknowledged cure for these troubles.

Judge McNally had made the order pursuant to certain objections made to the accounts of the executors with a charge that the books of the estate had been wrecked.

The amount as filed by the executors showed receipts of $10,702.99 and disbursements of $17,826.29, leaving a balance of $7,123.30. McNally put the disbursements down at $6,636.80, leaving the assets liable for $17,851.99.

Horn Silver Fatality.

Henry Hatt was accidentally killed in the Horn Silver mine at Frisco last Saturday. He was putting in timbers at a 200-foot level and for a few minutes in search of some blocking, his partner, the thing he had stopped longer than usual, began a search, and when he found him he was partly hidden under a pile of loose dirt and a boulder weighing about 250 pounds rested on the back of his neck. Hatt was a single man about 25 years of age, and has a sister living at Milwaukee and a brother at Two Rivers, Wisconsin, where he recently resided.

TAKING TEA
is a pleasant duty which none care to miss if the tea be good. There's no earthly reason why your tea should not be the best grown on this terrestrial ball. We have the tea, and we desire that you should have it, too, upon your table. To make the matter easy to bring about we are selling our prime teas, and coffees too, at prices which other grocers cannot equal in reasonableness. It's our goods that make these prices peculiar; as E. B. Smith expressed it, pan-fired green at cents.

Men OF THE PERIOD
On reflection generally prefer our clothing. Such a preference is quite natural in view of the facts. Our Spring suits give the best practical definition of the word "first class" to be found in any clothing house in this part of the State. Business men find themselves best suited when suited by us. Our stock demonstrates that ready made is the tailor of tailor made in every particular. Your fancy tailor with four times the trouble and a much higher price can't beat us.
We understand a single fact and weight a thousand claims. We claim a great deal for our clothes, but the single fact that all we claim is carried out to the letter, is what makes our customers so happy.
SHIRTS MADE TO ORDER.
