University Orators Victorious Over Nevada Debaters.

WAS A MERITORIOUS EVENT

Victors and Vanquished All Happy-Latier Accept Defeat in a Most Graceful Manners

The first inter-collegiate debate ever participated in by the University of Utah occurred last night at the theater, and it will be cited as one of the most signal victories that institution ever achieved. The defeated orators represented the University of Nevada, and they accepted their defeat very gracefully. The discussion was, without doubt, one of the best exhibitions of polemies ever furnished by students in Salt Lake City. The question over which the orators contended, was one that was fruitful for such a contest, being:

"Resolved. That territorial expansion would be a benefit to the United

The affirmative side of the question was sustained by N. T. Porter, Ernest Bramwell and Arthur Weiling, of the University of Utah. The champions of the negative were Miss Titlle Kruger, of Greenville, California, E. D. Lyman and P. A. McCurron, both of Reno, Nevada, Thirteen minutes were allotted to each speaker, but they all had more matter to present than they could dis-pose of within that time. Miss Kruger was perhaps the most interesting character on the debate, her sharp, incisive sentences provoking applause, and her direct and decisive statements, and conclusions which she took for granted that her auditors had reached, were

The victory for the home institution was not of a dubious nature, however, and the decision of the judges was unanimous. The adjudicators were: State Senator D. O. Rideout, of Drape,r Prof. E. J. MacEwan, of the Agriclu-tural college of Logan, and Ledyard alley.

The theater was tastefully decorated, the college colors hanging in festoons over the stage. The orchestra under Mr. Willard Welhe, furnished excellent music, and everyone present seemed to be in a cheerful mood. Both institutions had their context and their institutions had their rooters and their usty yells afforded much amusement. The visitors had no cause to complain of anything that tinetured of a frost, as the audience was very magnanimous, and broke the rule against applauding the speakers during the progress of the speech, when Miss Kruger scored a point in her unique and earnest style. It would be barely possible to say which side received the greatest ap-plause, and the fairness of the treat-ment of the sneakers by the audience

While the college spirit ran high it was wholesome, and not mingled with till-feeling or banter, and when the bat-tie had been fought and won, and the decision announced, the Nevada orators were congratulated by their Utah friends, but the Utah orators were fair-ly hugged. The former yielded to the spirit of enthusiasm, and helped to swell the tumult of applause.

MARCHED THROUGH STREETS.

There was an impromptu jollification rally on the streets last night, and for once in its existence the University of Utah evinced that overwhelming en-thusiasm partly through the means of which the colleges of the east win rank and station.

JUDGE HOWAT CHAIRMAN. Judge Andrew Howat acted as the chairman of the evening, and requested that no applicate be indulged in during the progress of a speech, but as has already been stated, the caution was gnored, the retractory precedent being established when the lady orator made one of her bits. The only feature of the affair that surprised the Nevada people was the advantages of age and experience the university debaters had over them, the oldest of their number being only 21, but they are bright, cap-able students, and reflect credit on the institution which they represent. PORTER OPENS DEBATE.

The debate was opened by Mr. Por-ter for the affirmative, who said that the burden of proof did not fall upon the affirmative so far as the merits or demerits of any particular method of expansion was concerned, by their con-tention was as to the results, the sup-position in each case being that the method of acquiring the territory in question was just and equitable. It would be to the best interests of the United States to embrace within its government, Canada, Mexico, Central America as far south as the proposed content of the Nicoranya content. conte of the Nicaragua canal. Cuba, Porto Rico, the Danish West Indies, the Sandwich islands, the Ladrone islands, and such part of the Philippine groupe as would be advantageous as a com-mercial and naval base in the Asiatic sphere of commerce.

He pointed out what he thought would be inestimable benefits to the United States, which would accrue from the pursuance of the expansion policy, it would protect and stimulate its commerce everywhere, and have a salutary effect upon our national, our political, and our social life. The annexation of Canada would wipe out the last vestige of European sovereignty, and would end the veked disputes over boundaries and fisheries. The retention of the Philippines would result in the enlargement of our merchant marine, which is rapidly decaying and the American would be able to get into the East and establish a commercial prestige much higher than it is now. Mr. Porter was clear and pointed in his speech, at the conclusion of which a thunderous applause arose from the

THE NEGATIVE SIDE.

Mr. Lyman opened the argument for he regulive, and stated that he proposed to show that expansion would be non-beneficial, financially, constitutionally and morally; that in holding the Philippines the American laborer was being exposed to the greatest pos-sible menace. He contended that the retention of the Philippines could never be of sufficient commercial value to the United States as to compensate for the loss of life that has already resulted over there.

The purchase of the northwest territory and the annexation of Louisiana was not a good point, as that was contiguous territory and people of the same nationality occupied it. But the Philippines, 7,000 miles away, peopled by a mixed people, could be of no possible advantage. ndvantage.

WELLING'S EFFORT.

Mr. Welling, the second speaker on the affirmative, contended that the United States should own the West india islands because of their commercial and strategical advantages. He pointed out the value of the Nicaragua Purest and best. Ask all grocers for it.

SALT LAKE STAKE CONFERENCE. 100 VOLUMES

OF THE

STANDARD DICTIONARY

This rare work of nearly 2,400 pages, each volume weighing 171/2 pounds, beautifully bound in embossed leather, issued by Funk and Wagnalls of London and New York, is now on sale at the Deseret News office. One hundred volumes have just been received. This is the work in the compilation of which Dr. James E, Talmage was engaged as one of the 200 editors. Its thoroughness is well illustrated by its treatment of the single word "Quorum," as follows: "Quorum:" 1. Such a number of persons of any deliberative or corporate body as is necessary for the legal transaction of business: unless otherwise ordered, a majority. 2. (Eng.) Certain designated justices of the peace commissioned as JUSTICES OF THE QUORUM, without the presence of some one of whom the others could not act. 3. Mor. Ch. A council or organized body of the priesthood; as, an Elders' quorum; the quorum of the first Presidency. 4. Necessary constituents. (L., of whom. gen. pl. of "qui" (who.) from the Latin words "quorum unum—A. B. esse volumus" (of whom we desire A. B. to be one) forming part of ancient commissions as of fustices. sions, as of justices.

This rare dictionary is offered at $12 per copy. A limited number can be had for Church pay, and our schools and colleges are asked to correspond with us at once should they desire a copy. THE DESERET NEWS.

canal, and stated that it would be to the Western hemisphere what the Suez canal is to the Eastern. The United States could not afford to leave a matter of such vital financial interest in the hands of anyone but herself. He out-lined the benefits that would result to the western farmer if expansion ob-tained. It would open up a market for them, and make of San Francisco the New York of the West, the Landon of the Pacific. The westerners above all men, chould be expansionists.

THE LADY ORATOR.

Miss Kruger was sharp and aggres sive, but took many things for granted She trented the subplect from the standing army view point. She styled the policy of expansion as the very autithesis of Democracy. Germany boasts that she has her traders in every country under the sun, but she doesn't have to expand to get them there. The Monroe doctrine was cited in answer to the argument of another country possessing the Nicaragua canal. That document had been shown to Europe on several occasions and can be shown again when necessary. Miss Kruger stated that in a conversation she had with Congressman New-lands, of Nevada, that gentleman said that when the news of Dewey's victory reached Washington he called on the President, and at that time he was as much opposed to the retention of the Philippines as was Miss Kruger. In onclusion she said, that if she were Filipino as she is an American she would never lay down her arms as long as an American soldier was on Filipino soil, never, never, never,

A STRONG SPEECH.

The affirmative side was concluded by Mr. Bramwell, whose effort was a most skilful one, he was a perfectreasure house of argument. that expansion was not imperialism. England is a monarchy in name only nevertheless she has expanded for hundreds of years. She is the mother of parliaments and the greatest civilizing force in the earth.

It would never be possible for poli-ticians to lead this nation estray, the people would not permit, and the gracious freedom enjoyed by the citi-zens of the United States would follow the flag wherever it goes.

A DRAMATIC EFFORT.

Mr. McCarron concluded for the negative in a spirited speech, and appealed to the American people to desist from a policy that would turn down all our traditions, and menace the perpetulty of this garnd country, whose mission is to shed enlightenment and peace, not to enter into wars of conquest. He said that the tropics were inimical to the white man, and their possession by the United States would mean an influx of natives into this country which would reduce the wages of the laborer to 25 cents per day.

RECAPITULATION. Miss Kruger and Mr. Porter each had ten minutes in which to summarize the arguments advanced by their respective sides. The points on which the de-bate was decided were oratory, familiarity with the subject, and presenta-After conferring for a few minutes the judges returned a unanimous decision for the affirmative, which was greeted with tremendous cheers applause.
