AROUND THE COURTS.

Judge Young Files an Answer to E. D. R. Thompson—Miscellaneous Notes.

In the quo warranto case of E. D. R. Thompson vs. Lafayette Young the defendant filed an answer late yesterday afternoon in the Supreme court to the title of information and particulars of the plaintiff.

The answer denies that at any of the voting places mentioned in the complaint any votes offered or cast by duly qualified electors for the relator, were by mistake or otherwise deposited in the wrong ballot boxes or that the judges of elections or otherwise threw out or did not count the said ballots; on the contrary it is alleged that all votes were correctly canvassed and it was ascertained that the defendant was elected to the office of district judge.

By way of cross information it is also alleged that at several precincts within the Third judicial district, there were cast about thirty-five votes for the defendant which were by inadvertence or mistake not counted for the defendant.

SHORT ORDERS.

The case of J. H. E. Webster vs. George E. Bise, came up for hearing in Judge Street's department of the Third district court yesterday afternoon, in which the plaintiff sued to recover $[illegible]. The jury found a verdict for the plaintiff for the sum of $[illegible].

The damage suit of J. M. Thomas vs. J. H. Bailey to recover $[illegible] was also heard by Judge Street without a jury yesterday afternoon. The plaintiff alleges that on Dec. 7, 1895, he owned certain machinery which the defendant had for his own use. Attorneys J. G. Thomas and A. W. Ryan appeared for the plaintiff and Attorney W. C. Bailey for the defendant.

Hannah McKeown is seeking a divorce in the Third district court from Henry Patrick McKeown. It is alleged that their marriage took place on Sept. 8, 1892, at Rock City, Ill., and that for the last three years the defendant has failed to contribute anything to his wife's support. It is also alleged that the defendant became an habitual drunkard and that when under the influence of liquor he was very abusive and on one occasion counted the leads in his revolver and threatened to shoot her. In conclusion Mrs. McKeown alleges desertion and also asks for a decree on that ground.

Flag for General Penrose.

General Penrose who is soon to retire from the army was agreeably surprised last night at the complimentary concert at the sixteenth Infantry band at Fort Douglas. At the close of the program Prof. Klein, the band leader, in behalf of the musicians presented the general with a handsome American flag. The emblem was of fine silk and in accepting it General Penrose said he would ever regard it as a gift most precious. He paid the band the high compliment of saying that in all the years of his army service he had never heard a military band that equalled the Sixteenth Infantry band in the delicacy of music.

A WESTERN RECORD.

One Million and a Quarter Pounds of Freight Hauled in Over the U. P. for a Salt Lake Firm.

The traffic man in Ogden yesterday was Mr. O. T. Odell, manager of the Salt Lake Group Wagon & Machine Co. When seen by a News representative he was actively engaged in superintending the placing of streamers upon the forty cars preparatory to photographing the largest train of freight ever consigned to a single firm in the west. The train, as it stands upon the Ogden Y since its arrival, has been the center of attraction for tourists and all comers alike.

The same firm in 1891 shipped over the R. G. W. a train of thirty-three cars, which was the talk of railroad men as being the Utah record for an individual business house, not excepting shipments of coal and iron. This million and a quarter consignment is a double record for the Co-operative Wagon and Machine company.

The train in question after being photographed, left Dekalb, Ill., on the 16th inst. making a daylight run with its shipment of implements, machinery, barbed wire, vehicles, stoves, ranges, twine, etc., drawn from the foremost factories of the United States, including such well known names as L. L. Silvernail Manufacturing Co., Dekalb, Ill.; John Deere & Co., Moline Ill.; Bain Wagon Co., Kenosha, Wis.; Oliver Chilled Plow Co., South Bend, Ind.; Walter A. Wood Co., St. Paul, Minn.; Weidner, Burkhardt & Hessner Co., Springfield, Ohio; Milburn Steel Harper Co., Sidney, Ohio; Studebaker Manufacturing Co., Dayton, Ohio; Cleveland Stone Co., Cleveland; Racine Wagon and Carriage Co., Wis. They severally contributed two cars of Plymouth twine and rope, seventeen cars of barbed wire, nails and staples, four cars of farm wagons, three cars of Oliver plows, four cars of John Deere plows, two cars of Racine buggies, two cars of Tiger rakes and Hexagon drills, two cars of Walter Wood's machines, two cars of Fuller & Warren's stoves and ranges, one car of Champion binders, and one car of Cleveland grind stones.

On the arrival of the consignment at Ogden, it was apparent that the Silver Dome Wire company had taken advantage of so good an advertising opportunity and attached huge advertising streamers on each car. Mr. Odell, assisted by Manager Kimball, of Logan, and manager Woolley, of Ogden, together with half a dozen employes, however, soon had each car adorned with streamers advertising its contents together with a couple of mammoth signs which bore the legend, "For the Co-operative Wagon and Machine company, Utah and Idaho," the last ensemble being photographed later very creditably by a local artist, H. H. Thomas, in four 15-inch sections.

Today the cars will be shipped to their respective destinations as follows: Eleven for Salt Lake, seven for Logan, eight for Idaho Falls, five for Montpelier, one for Milford and one for Spanish Fork, the remaining seven go to the Ogden branch.

Although this will be the largest consignment for this firm up to date, they expect to handle five times the amount before the season closes in smaller shipments. A few more consignments like the above and the unsolicited mentions of adjacent states will materially realize what a vast agricultural region there is in Utah and Idaho, the majority of it only waiting to be tickled by the commonwealth's plow to break forth into teeming verdure and fruitfulness.

YOUNG APACHE PATRIOTS.

Interesting Exercises February 22nd in Tucson, Arizona.

Correspondence of the News.

TUCSON, ARIZONA, Feb. 22d, 1896.—Today, Washington's birthday, was celebrated in fine style under the auspices of the trustees and teachers of the public schools. At 9 a.m. about 4,000 men, women and children assembled at the front of the public school building, where a jolly liberty pole had just been erected and donated to the school trustees by public spirited citizens, topped with a fine United States flag to adorn it. Hundreds of American and Mexican school children were seated around the platform with their teachers and parents, when the scene was enlivened by the arrival of the Philharmonic band, two companies of the Arizona National Guard, the Society of Arizona Pioneers and several hundred Apache boys and girls, students attending the Indian school, each of whom bore a United States flag.

At 10 a.m. the flag was unfurled, saluted by applause of the multitude and the "Star Spangled Banner" by the band. The exercises were under the direction of Mayor Hostman, assisted by General Wilson, Mr. Governor Hughes and the principals of the public schools, and were very pleasing. Excepting a prayer by Rev. Stillman and an address by Mr. J. A. Zeckwitz, editor of the Star, all the exercises were executed by the school children, and were very appropriate and well done, and lively enough to keep the best Fourth of July time goes added pleasure to all.

General Wilson made a short address on behalf of the donors of the pole and flag, who desired that "Old Glory" should wave during every hour of school, and that the young might be accustomed to venerate, and if needful—die for it. The trustees thankfully accepted the gift upon the conditions named. Gov. Hughes was heavily taxed from town, but his estimable wife, who is a tower of strength in Arizona in the cause of female suffrage and temperance, was a host in herself.

In the afternoon many repaired to the race grounds and witnessed foot, horse and bicycle races, where many contestants strive for the numerous and valuable prizes offered. But to me the most interesting and suggestive feature was the presence of so many of the Apache youth of both sexes, clean and well dressed, whose sisters and elder brothers in Boston were actors in the tragic scenes that have made Arizona, like Kentucky, a "dark and bloody ground," and the name Apache synonymous with terror, torture and death in years not long since, but now, we hope, forever past, and although we cannot hope to change the nature of an Indian in a day or a year, we trust the time is not so very distant when they will again become a "white and a delightsome people."

The entering wedge of a total complaint is often a slight cold, which a dose or two of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral might have cured at the commencement. Therefore, it is advisable to have this prompt and sure remedy always at hand to meet an emergency.

That the blood should perform its vital functions, it is absolutely necessary it should not only be free but rich in life-giving elements. These results are best effected by the use of that well-known standard blood-purifier, Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Results Tell the Story.

A vast mass of direct, unimpeachable testimony proves beyond any possibility of doubt that Hood's Sarsaparilla actually does perfectly and permanently cure diseases caused by impure blood. Its record of cures is unequaled and these cures have often been accomplished after all other preparations have failed.

Hood's Pills cure all liver ills, biliousness, jaundice, indigestion, sick headache.

In a recent editorial the Salem, Oregon Independent says: "Time and again have we seen Chamberlain's Cough Remedy tried and never without the most satisfactory results. Whenever we see a person all stuck with hoarseness, with a cough or cold, we invariably advise them to get Chamberlain's Cough Remedy; and when they do, they never regret it. It always does the work, and does it well." For sale by druggists.

The exposure to all sorts and conditions of weather that a lumberman is called upon to endure in the camps often produces severe colds which, if not promptly checked, result in congestion or pneumonia. Mr. J. G. Davenport, ex-manager of the Fort Bragg Redwood Co., an immense establishment at Fort Bragg, Cal., says they sell large quantities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy at the company's store and that he has himself used this remedy for a severe cold and cough with excellent relief. This medicine prevents any tendency of a cold toward pneumonia and insures a prompt recovery. For sale by druggists.
