A MIGHTY CLIMAX.

American people to the interpretive item European combination. We would with deep and abiding interest the heroic battle of the Union patriots against wealth and opprobrium, and far-sed hope grown for the full enjoyment of their determined conflict for liberty.

The government of Spain having the entirety of Cuba and being unable to protect the property or lives of resident American citizens or to comply with its treaty obligations, we believe the government of the United States should actively see to its duties and proper office to restore peace and give independence to the island.

THE NAVY.

The pride and security of the Republic and the maintenance of its rightful influence among the nations of the earth demand a naval power commensurate with its position and responsibility. We, therefore, favor the continuous enlargement of the navy and a complete system of harbor and seacoast defense.

FOREIGN IMMIGRATION.

For the protection of the quality of our American citizenship and of the wages of our workingmen against the low competition of low priced labor, we demand that the immigration laws be thoroughly enforced and extended wherever practicable.

SECRET BALLOT.

We demand that every citizen of the United States shall be allowed to cast his free and unintimidated ballot, and that such ballot shall be counted and returned as cast.

LYNCHINGS.

We proclaim our unqualified condemnation of the murderous and barbarous practice, well known as lynching, of killing of human beings suspected or charged with crime, without process of law.

NATIONAL ARBITRATION.

We favor the creation of a national board of arbitration to settle and adjust differences which may arise between employers and employed engaged in interstate commerce.

HOMESTEADS.

We believe in an immediate return to the free homestead policy of the Republican party, and urge the passage by Congress of the safeguarding free homestead measure which has already passed the House and is now pending in the Senate.

TERRITORIES.

We favor the admission of the remaining territories at the earliest practicable date, having due regard to the interest of the territories and the United States. All the Federal officials appointed for the territories should be elected from bona fide residents thereof, and the right of self-government should be accorded as far as practicable.

We believe the citizens of Alaska should have representation in the Congress of the United States to the end that needful legislation may be intelligently enacted.

SYMPATHAND.

We sympathize with all wise and legitimate efforts to lessen and prevent the evils of intemperance and promote morality.

RIGHTS OF WOMEN.

The Republican party is mindful of the rights of women. Protection of American industries includes equal opportunities, equal pay for equal work, and protection to the home.

We favor the admission of women to wider spheres of usefulness and welcome their co-operation in rescuing the country from Democratic and Populist administration and misrule.

CONCLUSION.

Such are the principles and policies of the Republican party. By these principles we will abide and these policies we will pursue, with confidence. We ask for them the considerate judgment of the American people. Confident alike in the justice of our great party and in the justice of our cause, we present our platform and our candidates to the full assurance that the success of the Republican party and principle is the prize of the United States.

APPLAUDING THE PLATFORM.

The audience and delegates followed the reading with intense interest, believing it the administration of Harrison's enemies who wrote the document, but larger and some the cheer when the word of the platform defining the party again to be the friend of protection to the interests of American labor and American industry were read. The reference to the recreation of the policy of reciprocity, as the only method to protection, was seen to be a point of weakness. Preferred to the sugar industry Senator Lindsay is cheered. The mention of Hawaii, Maryland and Massachusetts delegations in their last with three cheers. The first mention of the plank pledging the party to coined money, varied a good upon among the delegates, but the audience did not participate in applause to the mention of silver for coin. Then the delegates, led by Senator Lodge and Col. W. A. Stone of Pennsylvania, rose to their feet, and the cheers were wildly cried the pit to and the whole business was and the galleries joined approval. For two minutes the tumult continued. The mention of a gold standard received a cold reception, and the Democratic and Populistically of the Dela., Massachusetts, Connecticut and the New York delegations, did not share with great enthusiasm. The Hawaii and Maryland and the Lodge delegations, led by Senator Lodge, and the Pennsylvania delegation led by Senator Quay, rose to a cheer of the Lodge delegation. As the plank was read, Col. Fred Grant, who sat on the platform, arose and waved his hat in one hand, the Union jack in the other, and the Union jack waved and the audience joined in the cheering. The Hawaii and Maryland delegations led the cheering, and when the reference to the Monroe doctrine was reached the Pennsylvania delegation led the cheering, and the Lodge delegation led the cheering, and
