EVENING NEWS.

Friday, October 27, 1876.

By Telegraph.

PER WESTERN UNION TELEGRAPH LINE.

Last Night's Dispatches.

FOREIGN.

The Armistice—An Understanding Will Soon be Reached.

LONDON, 26.

It is believed an understanding will be reached on the question of an armistice. Gen. Ignatieff, the Russian ambassador, will have another private audience with the Sultan on Saturday.

Bank Reserve—Bullion.

The proportion of Bank of England reserve to liability is 55¼ per cent.

Bullion in the Bank of England decreased £163,000 the past week.

Great Depression Among the Servian Population.

The Belgrade correspondent of the Times telegraphs as follows: There has not been, since the beginning of the war, such a depression as is now existing, not only in Belgrade, but throughout Servia. All ranks of people would now gladly welcome peace. It now appears that the Servians, with a view of intimidating the Turks, have exaggerated the number of Russian volunteers, not more than 10,000 having really arrived in the country. The apathy shown by Servia concerning the progress of the war is something that, under similar circumstances, could scarcely be found in any country of the world. Although the report of the capture of Djunis has been current for twenty-four hours, not a single Servian manifests the least curiosity about it. Yet a feeling of coming disaster is so general that if Djunis really is taken, Russia might well avail herself of her present influence to bring about immediate peace; and, from what I hear, I shall not be surprised if she makes the attempt without her assistance. Servia must, to all appearances, very soon succumb.

All the correspondents agree as to the collapse of the spirit of the Servian population. They also confirm the news that a battle was progressing yesterday before Deligrad. From the fact that fighting is still going on in that direction, it is inferred that perhaps the Turks have not yet gained possession of Djunis.

In a Starving Condition.

The Belgrade correspondent of the Times states that in the country between Parathen and Deligrad, and in the mountains near Saitschar, there are thousands of men, women, and children almost naked, and literally starving.

The Conspiracy at Barcelona.

A special to the Times from Barcelona says the republican conspiracy appears to have been more important than was at first supposed. Forty persons have been arrested, including two ex-ministers.

GERMANY.

Specie Increase.

BERLIN, 26.—Specie in the imperial bank of Germany increased 2,783,000 marks the last week.

GERMANY.

Newspaper Controversy.

BERLIN, 26.—A controversy has arisen between the German and Austrian newspapers, in consequence of the latter's criticisms of Germany's attitude.

The National Zeitung, to-day, in replying to an article in the Pesther Lloyd, says the attitude of the Hungarian press only tends to confirm Germany's cautious reserve and to justify its expediency.

TURKEY.

CONSTANTINOPLE, 26. — The Phara du Bosphore publishes the text of a speech delivered by Gen. Ignatieff, Russian ambassador, on presenting his credentials to the Sultan. Gen. Ignatieff said, "The Czar understood the difficulties of the situation, and although he did not dissimulate his sympathy for Turkey's Sclavonic subjects, he trusted the existing difficulties would be removed so that the Sultan might improve the condition of his subjects." The Sultan replied in a similar conciliatory strain, and hoped the Czar would contribute towards facilitating reforms.

Fire and Loss of Life.

ST. JOHNS, N. B., 26.—An explosion, to-night, occurred in the building occupied by Adam Young, tinsmith, which fired the building. Several men working in the fifth story were burned to death, and three others badly injured.

THE TELEGRAPH IN AFRICA.—It is proposed to carry a wire to the Cape across the African Continent. There is at present telegraphic communication from Alexandria to Khartoum, a distance of 1,100 miles, and surveys have already been made for its continuance to Gondokoro. From Khartoum to Delgaoa Bay, where the South African lines terminate northward, is only about 2,600 miles—shorter than existing lines on the other three continents. The route would lead under the Victoria Nyassa and Tanganyika lakes, and thence down the Shire and Zambesi rivers to the sea, where a short ocean line would connect it with Delagoa Bay or Port Natal. A branch would go from Ujiji to Zanzibar. Of the 1,500 miles or so of aerial line it is suggested that much might be erected without the expense of poles by taking advantage of trees over thickly wooded tracks, which are frequent in tropical Africa. The difficulty would be to keep the natives from utilizing the wire in regions, where iron is scarce and valuable; but this might be got over. The undertaking, if it could be established and kept in working order, would be exceedingly lucrative, and would, in many ways, aid in opening up Africa to commerce and civilization.—London Times.
