It is proposed to establish an association in Denver among Scotchmen for the promotion of indoor and field sports.

Louis Thorn is accused of attempting to blow up the coke retorts of the Citizens' Coal and Coke company at San Francisco.

Forest fires have been raging in the Sierra mountains, southeast of Raliton, N.M., and thousands of acres of timber have been destroyed and many made homeless. Several cowherders are reported to have perished.

Fishermen in the upper waters of San Francisco Bay have been experiencing a good deal of annoyance from sea lions recently. One that became tangled in the nets near Contra Costa a few days ago was beached and killed. It weighed nearly 500 pounds.

The Phoenix Gazette thinks Arizona has much to be proud of in her legislature, which so far has been a very peaceable body, and says: "Let us be thankful that our legislators are not as were those of Oklahoma, Kansas, Wyoming, Idaho, Washington, New Mexico or even California."

There is no disputing the fact that the situation on the Atlantic and Pacific road is very alarming, says a special telegram from Albuquerque, New Mexico, and hence the matter is finally ended it is apprehended that a strike and perhaps bloodshed will have resulted.

Never in the history of the cattle business in this state, says the Lusk, Wyo., Herald, has stock come out of the winter in better condition than they have this winter. Reports from all over the range are encouraging and next season will undoubtedly witness a boom in the cattle industry.

Frank Leonel, receiver at the Roswell United States land office, New Mexico, disappeared six weeks ago and has been reported as dead, his wife having offered $5000 reward for the recovery of his body. Wednesday's advices from his old home at Lincoln say that he is short to the government somewhere between $9000 and $20,000, and his bondsmen filed an attachment on his Lincoln county property to protect them from contingent loss. It is believed that this alleged shortage accounts for Leonel's disappearance.

Michael Butler, a well known miner of Montezuma and Rainbow, Colo., has been killed by a rock slide in the Pennsylvania mine. The mine works about eighty men, but none of the others were injured. Deceased was about 28 years of age, single brother of Lawrence Butler of Menominee, and came from Clinton county, New York, where his remains will be taken for burial. The Pennsylvania mine has been worked for years but this is the first serious accident that ever happened therein.

It is suggested that the citizens of the county of San Diego, Cal., take action in recognition of the fact that Miss M. E. McCormick of San Francisco, a native of El Dorado county, has sel cted a scene from this county for one of the two paintings the World's Fair committee has accepted from her for the National Art building, and which among those to appear from the state is the only one depicting a California scene. She chose San Luis Rey Mission.

The action of the California legislature is having its effect in Arizona, and Cassimiro Hawkins of Fresno has given notice that he will introduce a bill to move the capital from Phoenix. It is understood that the misappropriation of funds appropriated for the improvement of the capital grounds led up to the action. No place of location is designated, but it is said that Tucson will offer $75,000. Maricopa is by far the largest taxpaying county in the territory and nobody apprehends any danger from the measure, thinking it will be killed in the committee.

The evidence taken by the committee of the legislature which inquired into the condition of the defunct Capital National bank at Lincoln, Neb., has been filed. It shows that the bank was utterly insolvent. Bank Examiner Griffith testified that at no time within a year could the Capital National bank have paid the state the money on deposit. There was $255,000 of the state's money in the bank. Receiving Teller Funke testified that the night the bank was closed there was due the depositors $700,000, and the bank's cash on hand was $15,000, with no other funds available, its accounts with correspondents being overdrawn and all available paper rediscounted.

As Commissioner Donaldson was watering his horses at the North Fork a day or two ago, says the Blackfoot (Idaho) Press, the ice gave way, precipitating him into the river up to his neck. Help being near he was assisted out or he would have been drowned, and started for Market Lake, a distance of fifteen miles, in one of the worst blizzards of the winter. Being attired in a heavy coat and overcoat, which were completely saturated and which froze solid upon him, the long ride on a heavy loaded sleigh which took many hours to make the trip made the ride a desperately cold one. He weathered through the terrible experience in remarkably good shape.

The San Francisco Chronicle is authority for the statement that no additional report has been received from Arizona concerning the disappearance of Harry L. Thornton, Jr. The young man's mother is prostrated with grief and anxiety over his unaccountable absence. If some definite news of him could be received the strain on the minds of his relatives would be relieved. They are almost given up hope of ever hearing from him again. Nothing, however, will cause them to relax the search for him until all doubt as to his fate has been dissipated. His father and brother are in constant telegraphic communication with friends in Arizona, and they hope within a few days to learn something definite from one of the several search expeditions that have been sent out after the young man.

J. H. Lindsey, who is now under arrest at Aspen, is wanted by the police in Denver, on a charge of passing fraudulent checks, one for $100 on the First National bank and one for $75 on the Oxford hotel, and there are without doubt other victims. Lindsey arrived in Colorado about six years ago and boughtt a large ranch near Trinidad. He then had plenty of money and his connections in Pittsburg are said to be very wealthy. He reached Denver last winter and stayed for several weeks at the Oxford. Several well known men endorsed small notes for him, and each one left out the amount on the other side of the paper. About a week ago Lindsey left his hotel very suddenly and nothing was heard of him until he was arrested at Aspen under the name of William Dooks.

Exclamations of joy come from Millard county on account of the good supply of water the people will have this season. Over two feet of snow has fallen in the valleys in the last two weeks and the mountains are completely filled. The snow is four feet deep in the hills above the Beaver valley lake which will fill that natural reservoir to its utmost capacity, and in consequence the people of Delta are feeling jubilant. While a couple of young people were going to Kanosh to attend the Academy party the other evening, they had the misfortune to have their buggy capsized and themselves unceremoniously piled up by the side of the road. The conversation of Miss Nettie Ross was so interesting to the driver, Mr. Chris. Christensen, that he forgot to attend to his horses and they deliberately left the road, ran upon the side of a bank and emptied the occupants of the buggy in a promiscuous pile in the mud.—Salt Lake Herald.
