A SILVER MEETING.

Cooper Union Hall, New York, Holds a Vast Audience

LISTENING TO SILVER ORATORS.

Resolutions Adopted and Delegates Chosen to Go to the Democratic and Populist Conventions.

NEW YORK, June 25.—The first organized movement in behalf of free silver in this city was inaugurated tonight at Cooper Union, and the hall held a vast assemblage. The meeting was under the auspices of the American Silver organization, which has for its sponsors the "Young Democracy," better known as ex-Sheriff O'Brien's followers.

Senator Ben Tillman of South Carolina, the chief speaker, received an ovation as he walked upon the platform and took a seat under an ancient painting of Horace Greeley.

The meeting was called to order by George F. Keeney, the official general secretary, who called attention to the presence of Senator Tillman. The mention of the South Carolinian's name set the audience to applauding again, and it cheered vigorously. Senator Hearst of the state Democracy and Alexander Dolmat made brief speeches, after whom Senator Tillman was introduced. He was again loudly cheered and he began his speech with a bitter attack on the press of New York.

In continuing, he said, in part:

"Some of you have paid for forced your opinions about me. I have spoken more about you. You are the most ignorant and benighted community in the United States. Your newspapers, on which you alone depend for your news and knowledge of public men and public affairs, have undertaken to keep you hide bound and narrow by giving you only one side of the question. Right here let me say that you are the biggest of newspaper gluttons I ever saw in my life. I happened the time I would vote for a man at the polls, whether idiot or thief, but I have got above that. Though I appear here as a Democrat, I appear here also to the higher law of an American."

He excellently reviewed political history and legislation since Mr. Cleveland was first elected President, making bitter attacks on him. He then declared that the currency fight was a sectional one, adding that sectionalism is national, while "gold-baggery" is sectional.

"You are driving us to the alternative of secession or confederation," he declared. "This is why I am glad to come here and carry the word into Africa, for this is the head center of the devilment. That is why I came to New York, within a mile of Wall street, where you are surrounded by millions of men, where you belong in mind as slaves, and you to rise in your majesty and throw off this yoke. But I tell you right now we are not calculating upon your doing it. But we do not expect your help, and our planning is to beat you at the polls in spite of your money."

He compared the wealth of the East with that in the West and South and added: "The South and West will vote and think alike. The Eastern man chiefly cultivates brain."

He said the millions in New York suffers had been stolen from the rain and file, that the money of the country was congealed in the coffers of Wall street, and that was why the men of the West and South combinated.

At the conclusion of the speech free silver resolutions were adopted, and William P. St. John was delegated to go to the Democratic and Populist conventions to press them upon the delegates. A call for a silver convention in St. Louis July 22nd, to nominate or indorse a Presidential candidate was read, closing the meeting.

Closing a Fillibuster.

TAMPA, Fla., June 25.—The steamer Commodore cleared yesterday for Charleston. She was instructed not to sail without reporting to Captain Thomas Hanks of the revenue cutter McLane. This afternoon the Commodore weighed anchor and went down the bay. The McLane signaled twice for her to stop. She did not do so, and the McLane fired a blank shot, but got no answer. A second blank was then fired with a ball. A solid shot was then fired and aimed the Commodore for about seven feet. She stopped and was then boarded by the revenue men and found all right. She then went down the bay about five miles and was boarded by a tug. When shot twice miles away the McLane gave chase and the pursued and pursuer have not been heard from since.

The expedition was under Augusto Armas one of the leaders, and of the defeated Bermuda expedition. The ships loaded in this city with munitions and supplies last night, but the men were prevented from boarding last night by the violence of the Spanish consul.

Silver Bills.

NEW YORK, June 25.—Silver bullion became 10 cents on the stock exchange today, an advance of 1 cent over yesterday's last quotation of 1 since the opening of June, and of 2 over the January price. The influence of the stock exchange bullion confidence declined later, dropping 1 cent, owing to lower prices in London. It is said New York bankers filled London contracts by buying the gold there. The advance made in silver speculation are sold to be coming heavily to the bulls from against stock exchange deposit warrants.

Venezuela Will Again Lose.

LONDON, June 25.—The latest advices from Bolivar, British Guiana, are of a more reassuring character. Although no serious trouble is anticipated, it is safe to say the British government will not allow the arrest of Mr. Harrison to pass without notice, and it is possible a remonstrance of a most emphatic nature will be made to the government of Venezuela. A high authority upon the Venezuelan question, in an interview on the situation, expressed the opinion that in spite of the serious aspect the dispute had assumed, it was not certain that it would effect the measures partaking of the nature of war would be necessary. It was the opinion of those with whom he had talked that the arrest of the seven subjects was not the direct act of the government of Venezuela, but was due to the lively and zealous propaganda of some undersecretaries, acting under misapprehension, and that when proper representations are made to the government at Caracas, the latter will apologize.

COLORADO SILVER CONVENTION.

Platform Adopted—Three Cheers for Teller.

DENVER, June 25.—The state silver convention at the afternoon session adopted Hon. Pres Wilson of Pueblo permanent chairman. The temper of the afternoon was an echo of the Congressional Irish Press, who just a quotation to Senator Teller and his written followers who bolted the national Republican convention.

Delegates to the national silver convention to be held at St. Louis July 22nd, were chosen as follows:

THE PLATFORM.

The convention wind blew from three divers points today, after keeping the compass of points for days.

1. That the paramount issue at this time in the United States is undoubtedly the money question. It is to such an extent that it overshadows all other issues, and that the question of the restoration of the money of the Constitution, the money of our fathers, the money that made the Republic great, the money which our Republican party was founded to restore to its rightful place, at least in an international sense, must be settled before other issues can be settled.

2. We are for bimetallism, and believe that it can be brought about by the action of the United States independently of any other nation, and we believe that the time has arrived when our government should take steps to coin silver into current money, at the ratio of 16 to 1, and upon terms of equal equality, as they existed prior to 1873, the silver coin to be a full legal tender equally with gold for all debts and dues, private and public.

3. That in our senior senator and fellow citizen, the Hon. Henry M. Teller, we behold all honor and admiration for his personal worth and ability, and we hail the hundreds of thousands of us who have known him to be from his early vigorous manhood to his present stalwart years, as the most fearless and able champion of the rights of the people, who has always been found at the post of duty, daily battle for the masses of the people. Especially do we honor him and his associate delegates for their heroic action in following their conviction in abandoning the late St. Louis convention, which represented the interests and views of many of the democratic delegates.

4. That recognizing in Senator Teller the most conspicuous and fitting figure for any public station in the gift of the people, we present him to the state and nation as a candidate for the presidency, to lead the great democratic host in the present emergency, because he is the most conspicuous advocate and defender of the faith in the silver cause.

5. That should some advocate and steadfast friend of the free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold at the ratio of 16 to 1, other than Senator Teller, be nominated for President, we pledge our hearty and unanimous support to that candidate.

6. That should Senator Teller not be nominated for President, the people of this state will a unanimity who cannot a parallel in any constituency Whereupon we hereby nominate for the United States from Colorado.

7. That we therefore confidently appeal to the people of the United States to vote in the coming election for silver and all other questions however important and even momentous they may seem, to surrender, if need be, all former party ties and affiliations, and unite in one supreme effort to free themselves and their children from the dominion of the money power—a power more destructive than any which has ever been fastened upon the civilized men of any race or in any age. And upon the consummation of our determined efforts to invoke the gracious favor of divine Providence.

8. That the foregoing is submitted to the end, in the language of the great Lincoln, that "this government and the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

Salvation Army Exposes.

NEW YORK, June 25.—It was a meeting of surprises that the Salvation Army held tonight at headquarters. Commander Booth-Tucker had promised his men, and a "program of attack" was announced. The meant nothing more than letting defiance at the "Christians." All the hundred divisional officers had quietly come to town, and for nine hours today they were in secret conclave with Commander Booth-Tucker, and tonight results were announced as follows:

Camp meeting at Chicago, San Francisco, Old Orchard, Cincinnati, Philadelphia and Washington.

Great anti-drink work.

Formation of bands of love on industrial lines for children, extensive work among children.

The immediate removal of work among the negro population, appointment of Col. Holland in charge.

Establishment of new departments.

Extension of naval and military leagues.

Spiritual work among G. A. R. veterans.

Soldiers' and sailors' homes.

Work among the merchant marine.

Expedite visit from Gen. Booth in the spring.

Morgan Resolution Is Waiting.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Senator John T. Morgan of Alabama has notified his colleagues on the senate committee on the Hon. W. C. Whitney, in response to the latter's communication of June 21st.

After saying that Mr. Whitney's letter to "has filled to the decree proper which it receives from the whole country, Mr. Morgan discusses somewhat the question of an international agreement, and says:

"It seems to be a very vague and distant hope that Great Britain will ever yield to European or American claims for participation in her financial policy by treaty agreement."

Senator Morgan concludes that an American agreement would not even a place as our government will ever consent to accept or dare accept to make the Constitution, and make the Union to assistance to Mr. Whitney to frame the plan which you would advise the Democrats to accept as a basis, at least for an international agreement.

Mr. Whitney's letter, in part, is as follows: "Are you ready to agree with the Democracy of the South and West that silver should be fully remonetized, I respectfully to inquire if you would consider whether the restoration of the rights of our people which were partially to be expected from the action of the Republican party in 1873 and which it never intended to work an effect, stem from Great Britain or any combination of European powers, who will be benefited by the change, and upon the enlargement of silver would not be a fair and equitable proposition."

Corbett and Sharkey.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—James Corbett and E. A. Sharkey, Sharkey's backer, met today and nominated as a finish fight for $10,000 and the largest purse offered by any club. Sharkey was not present and the agreement was not signed today, but there will be another meeting tomorrow, when the arrangements will be completed. One of the stipulations already agreed upon is that the fight must take place within six months.

James J. Corbett has answered Sharkey's verbal challenge for a fight in a letter, made at the Olympic after last night's contest, by himself announcing his willingness to meet Sharkey at any moment. Fitzsimmons preferred. If the latter does not arrange within two weeks, Corbett says he will make arrangements for a fight with Sharkey, to take place on neutral territory, preferably in Mexico. Sharkey is the backer of the sporting world today and the most extravagant predictions as to his future are made.

Corbett, in an interview today said: "I made a mistake in going to fight with Sharkey. If I was to fight another but outside with him I would win easily. I would say away and go away some possibly. It was his wrestling that tired me, and in the fourth round I frankly declare that I was quite exhausted. I throwing my whole strength and fighting desperately knew good I. Weakness appeared. I should have stayed away and continued my own work. I would not have gotten out, but on the other hand I would not have given him a chance to weaken me, thereby giving the impression that he is a great fighter, when he is in fact one of the contemptible in boxing."

Japanese Women to Be Deported.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Judge Davis, assistant of the treasury, received a cable from Hong Kong that Japanese women recently brought to the United States from Yokohama for the purpose of prostitution, could be deported at the expense of the United States.

Disappointed in a Prince.

NEW YORK, June 26.—A special to the Herald from Valparaiso says:

The Spanish residents of this city and Santiago and certain influential Spanish state are disappointed and hurt at the alleged lack of country shown by Prince Louis of Savoy during his stay here.

When the prince arrived in Chile on board the Italian cruiser Cristoforo Colombo, a reception delegation of Spanish residents waited upon him and offered him many civilities. It is said that the prince never paid any attention to these offers, but even sending a note or teaser.

The Spanish colonies are the more surprised at this action, as the prince is a son of the late King Amadeo of Spain, who lived in Madrid.

A Remarkable Cure for Rheumatism

WESTMORELAND, Cal., March 11, 1895.—Some two years ago I was taken sick one morning, I could not I had rheumatism in my knees so badly that, as I remember to my wife, I wished to commission for me to attend to business that day. Remembering that I had seen of Chamberlain's Pain Balm in my store, I went to a bottle, and rubbed the different parts thoroughly with it, assuming the directions, and within an hour I was considerably relieved. One application was enough for business. It is the best liniment on the market, and I feel it deserves a public recognition. R. T. HAMES. For sale by druggists.

Rose Dawson's son fell down sick with a cough in Kansas, brought to Stockton. I took a bottle of some of Chamberlain's Cough, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and gave him generally relieved. I consider it the best medicine in the market for all such complaints. I take and sell much of it. I know every one who takes it recommends it. J. L. STRICKLER, Valley Center, Cal. If Americans stop drinking colored tea and spend all their tea-money for pure tea, and if there are other pure Japan teas than Schilling's Best, we shall sell enough Schilling's Best to pay for our advertising many times over.

But if there is no other uncolored Japan tea sold in the United States (and we know of none), we shall sell more tea than any one concern in the world ever sold before.

There is no better or more honorable way to prosper than by selling good merchandise.

Schilling's Best is money-back tea.

Schilling's Baking Powder, Schilling's Spices, and Schilling's Extracts are good as their tea—and money-back good.
