THE REFORM SCHOOL.

Annual Report of Superintendent L. D. Rolfe.

CONDITION OF THE INSTITUTION.

Number of Persons Committed Since the Opening—Amount Appropriated for Its Maintenance.

The annual report of the superintendent of the Reform school as follows to the board of trustees for the year ending Dec. 31, 1894, is now before us. It consists of a pamphlet of ninety-five pages, and is printed by the firm in printing at the Reform school.

The report shows that the total number enrolled Dec. 31st was thirty-two, of which twenty-four were males and eight were females. The number on leave of absence or on parole during that period was fourteen males and six females. During the year there were committed nineteen males and eight females, while the total number committed since the opening of the school, Oct. 31st, 1889, is one hundred and twenty-two males and twenty-five females.

The counties of the Territory are represented in the school as follows: Salt Lake county, 76; Utah, 8; Weber, 5; Summit, 2; Sanpete, 1.

There has been appropriated by the Legislature for placing the institution since the opening, $191,441.92, including the appropriation for the year 1894 of $7,341.46.

The expenses during the first five months were $9,952.57, while during the last seven months they reached $10,218.85. The gas for last month cost more than the first seven months and the first five is fully accounted for by the amounts paid for water, interest, insurance, secretary's salary and permanent improvements.

After describing the buildings and farm of the school, the report says that the record of the school during the past six years clearly indicates that its aims to increase the environment in a manner somewhat near the aspirations of the honorable gentlemen, who were instrumental in establishing the school, some changes must be made in the present statutes relative to commitments. The same should be changed, so that those who receive their education here can do so without the brand of infamy being attached to them when they leave school to fate rudely just some ready to destroy, rather than to build up character. . . .

I have had much pleasure in telling the names of many of the children now in school, when on leaves to the towns and cities from which they have been sent and find many of them are of good families and all who are now employed or attending school. The courts are sometimes imposed upon by boys who are over the age of eighteen, the statute limit, and some of this class have been returned to the courts and sent to the penitentiary, which this boy and their character become known.

Others who have been over age have made good records and on their release are living useful lives.

As long as children are permitted to roam the streets of city and village in idleness, they will form habits of smoking and pilfering, irrespective of partings and orders restricted by the state, parents and their Kindergarten, pills, police courts and work houses must be enlarged in capacity to care for this rapidly increasing population.

The foundations of society rests upon the education and training of the youth, and when the parents fail to control their children, it is the duty of the state to perform minors functions for the proper bringing up of its wards, which they should be placed under natural such as a wise parent would exercise to his boyhood long before they have become a mistake.

Supposing the report is the ideal of Sign Herald, of the State Industrial school of Colorado, and also a letter written by Hon. Amos G. Steele, governing the Boys' Industrial school of Ohio.

POLICE AND LEWD WOMEN.

Proceedings at the Meeting of Fire and Police Commissioners.

The Brigham Young Trust company, through its attorney, Rufus Ferguson, last evening appeared before the police commissioners to protest against the establishment of the scarlet women on Commercial street. Mr. Ferguson intimated in detail the damages accruing to their property through fashionable practice, as intention stated duly in the News. That the women had been served with a notice to the effect that they would on to Commercial street they would not be molested. Mr. Ferguson charged that in the district building rights were sold and a generally demoralizing and illegal business was being carried on within its walls.

In this connection some the documents, series were introduced "Pharaoh the proof. If you have the evidence that Dave Watkins is running a house of this kind she should be called upon and taken before Commissioner Greenhalgh."

Mr. Ferguson was of the opinion that he should not personally be asked to do what the police are paid for. All he wanted was the assistance of the commission in the enforcement of the law. The attorney was obliged to withdraw without the assistance he said he certainly sought.

The following estimate of expenditures for the year 1894 for maintaining the police department was received from Chief Politz:

Wants a Divorce.

Troy C. Anderson has brought suit for divorce in the Third district court against Maggie E. Anderson on the grounds of desertion and cruelty. Plaintiff alleges that the marriage took place in Colorado on July 29, 1891, and that in addition to the failure to provide for her, he has also treated her in a cruel and inhuman manner. On May 15, 1894, the complained states, he whom assaulted his wife with a razor and threatened to kill her, and at a subsequent date he struck her with his fist and used his wife and obscene language to her.

Scrutiled.

Ben Argyle sued the Rio Grande Western Railway company in Commissioner Greenhalgh's court to recover $50 for injury to a horse owned by the plaintiff and run into by one of the defendant company's trains. The plaintiff has not been heard in the course of contributory negligence, and judgment entered for the defendants.

COUNTY COURT MATTERS.

The Board's Resolution on the Judge of the Probate Problem.

At yesterday afternoon's session of the County court, subsequent to the close of the News report, Attorney Sutherland, on behalf of the Salt Lake City board of equalization, made application for an order on the treasurer to account for many delinquent tax rolls, to amount about $2,000. He was requested to file a petition in writing.

With reference to the proposed removal of certain justices of the peace and constables, the points discussed were as outlined in the opinion of County Attorney Worthington with respective citations of decisions from competent courts.

Secretary Dobbs accordingly gave it as his opinion that there were no notices to receive; that their positions were vacant at the last general election.

There ensued a conversation between the attorneys present as to whether the justices should hold multiple available proceedings or continued while could be applied for, for information being the passage of the following by-law act:

Be it resolved by the county court of Salt Lake county, that in the matter of the petition of W. J. Harvey et al., relative to the removal of justices and constables heretofore appointed by this court, it is considered by the judge of said court, that the offices of said justices and constables have ceased to be vacant, and that this court has no jurisdiction in the matter referred to.

Judge Blair voted aye, the three others nay.

The result of this is to place the issue between the newly qualified and "additional" justices, who will take it into the district court. The action of the county court in the filing was opposed by the legality of proceedings before the appointed magistrates.

The court took preliminary steps in the matter under by directing Clerk Dobbs to present special warrant No. 1, of the special series, to the county treasurer at once.

Failed Down Fences.

Herman Kind is suing John W. Hood et al in the Third district court, alleging that he is the owner in possession of a piece of land described as the northeast quarter of the southeast quarter of section 33, township 3 north, range 1 west, and that on December 12, the defendants, with force of arms and violence entered upon the premises, pulled down the fences, doing damage to the amount of $175 and leaving the premises open to the ravages of the stock of other people. Wherefore the plaintiff demands judgment for $175, the cost of the issue, and for $1,000 exemplary.

THE LAST NIGHT.

Graves Closes His Exhibition at the Continental Hall.

Although there was an advance in prices the Continental Market hall was filled to overflowing to witness the closing performance of Professor Graves. The blackmailers were well represented, and the lecture on blackmailing called forth considerable applause. The Syracuse Grocery company's horse gave the professor some trouble but was finally conquered.

The "Cow act" served to illustrate the methods employed in robbing "man-eaters," for it was not exciting enough to call some laughs.

The ladies at the program was similar to the exhibitions heretofore given. The professor has gone to Ogden where he appears tonight. From there he will go to the coast.

School of Expression.

A recital will be held by the school of expression on Wednesday evening under the direction of its teachers, Louise Boyden and Ruth Kirkwood, at their commodious rooms in the Deseret building. The features of the evening will be bright and varied recitations by the pupils, interspersed with music kindly furnished by friends, and promises to be a very enjoyable affair to the invited guests.

Poison in His Pockets.

The police last night ran in an individual who gave the name of John Anderson. The fellow was drunk. An inventory of his possessions was made, and included two bottles of strychnine taken from his pockets. As he showed signs of unconsciousness the officers thought he might have swallowed a third bottle, and sent for Dr. Daly, who, after making an examination, told the man was simply suffering from an excess of liquor, a conclusion which proved to be correct. Anderson was given quarters in the "drunk house" for the night.

AMUSEMENTS.

HERMANN, the famous prestidigitator, appears at the Salt Lake Theater, Friday and Saturday and Saturday matinee. At the matinee special features will be introduced for ladies and children. This engagement promises to be the most successful one this famous master of the people has ever played in this city, as it is known that his production is on a more elaborate and extravagant scale than ever given heretofore and his program is entirely novel. Hermann permits of no repetition and although his feats would seem very many times, he always embellishes his program with new surprises and marvels. Besides many new tricks of sleight of hand
