TERRITORIAL ITEMS.

Record of Events Gathered from Our Country Exchanges.

Four children of Chris. Hansen, of Brigham City, fell down stairs on Tuesday last. A four-year-old girl had her elbow dislocated, and a eight-year-old boy had the flesh of his nose badly lacerated by the teeth of an infuriated saw on which he had fallen.

There is an epidemic of whooping cough at Beaverville, Box Elder county, and of diphtheria at Oakley, Idaho.

Tooele Transcript: It is stated by Mr. Bennett that he intends closing up his search on the 15th of the present month. His license does expire and he claims cautious is now the call to continue. He may open again when times are better.....Roy Thornton, who is accused of extracting $10 from the pocket of a bartender named Lasen, who is supposed by Constable Irish, of Mercur, to be in the county jail. His case was expected to come up before the grand jury this week.....The county clerk has received a communication saying the whereabouts of Nom Smith, who left Round Bottom, Wayne county, Virginia, fourteen years ago. He came west and is supposed to be in Utah. He was born something of an heritage to himself by causing majority of the county court, Tooele, in the early auld lang syne, and is now in a fair way to get started nicely. Something over ten per cent of the capital stock has been subscribed to, and the work on the mill will soon be progressing rapidly.....On Saturday evening last the Tooele city council met and all the members were present. Stephen Gee claimed to have been bonded by a large sized dog lying on his premises, and as the sum very frequently called to attend to his removal, the council appropriated $1.50 to Mr. Gee for suing in the matter. Thomas Steele got a similar note to the tune of $1 for dispatching of a dead horse.

Beaver Chronicle: It is understood that our women folks will make an early start this season. Things are looking fixed up more for a more adventuresome and longer run than was possible last year.....Messrs A. L. Fenemore, T. M. Low and Earl Bird who, about six weeks ago left Beaver on a tour of inspection to the St. Thomas gold country returned to Beaver Tuesday night. The boys found lots of experience and country, besides some good pay, now in the locality of Muddy and St. Thomas is 250 miles south of Beaver, and it is through a very rough country one has to travel to reach there. No rocks have yet been made, but should the properties there ever amount to anything, the place will come into great prominence, gold, silver and iron are the principal metals which every indication of a great abundance of each. The boys of course staked out their everlasting fortunes, if they did return broke.

Moab Messenger: The gold fields are not panning out very well just at present but work is progressing slowly. The proprietors are still satisfied that gold is paying quantities exists in the east mountains.....George Lowry, city marshal of Moroni, brought two prisoners from Moroni on Monday and placed them in the county jail. The parties were a young man calling himself known as "Blue Dave," but recognized as Erastus Carabowen, and a woman by the name of Rae Eden White. They were arrested on a charge of fornication and held under bonds, which could not be given.....Manti is a very quiet and peaceable city. We seldom see a man under the influence of liquor. On Wednesday a young man from Gunnison imbibed too freely of the fire water and had to be taken charge of by the marshal. He deposited cash bail and departed but never returned. The circumstance of the arrest were so uncommon as to draw quite a crowd round the marshal when he took the man.

Eureka Items.

EUREKA, Feb. 11.—At the L. D. S. Church on Sunday, the 10th inst., A. H. Cannon, of the Council of Twelve, and Elders H. B. Clawson, John Beck, Walter Seely and G. Wells, of Salt Lake City, were on the stand. It is seldom we are favored with such distinguished visitors. The meetings were well attended especially in the evening when the house was packed full. The people of Eureka reminds one of the parable of the supper. Some are married to Mormon girls and come to the meeting because of their wives; some have relatives who are Mormons and they like to attend meeting; some come from curiosity and some are honestly investigating the truth, while some have the wool sown on good soil and are bearing fruit. The remarks of the speakers were well timed to meet the wants and cravings of all these different creatures, and all were well satisfied.

The M. E. church has had a revival for the last week, but has deplored the lack of measures. Dr. Iliff was visiting there Monday.

There is quite a number of idle men in town waiting for spring to open, when it is to be hoped there will be plenty of work for all hands.

The new R. G. W. switch to the Hellion Block for the supply of timber and coal is completed. Oun.

THE BROWN LEGHORNS.

Characteristics of an Attractive and Profitable Breed.

Fine fowls are more certainly profitable than the Leghorns. The carriage is very upright, and the large and pearly purified fall of the cock harmonizes his general size and adds greatly to his beauty. The rich, dark-red shaded hackles of the male and the solid black breast make a very attractive combination in colors, and the warm brown of the female possesses a quite beauty scarcely less attractive in the way than the richer colors of the male.

Brown Leghorns mature very early, pullets having been known to lay when 11 weeks old. Generally the pullets will lay when 4 to 5 months old. This early maturity makes the Leghorn a very profitable fowl for the farm. Long before the Langshan hens think of laying the Leghorn pullets have begun, and if hatched early will frequently pay to raise for their eggs before winter sets in. Broiler raisers often use a cross of a Leghorn male on some heavier breed to increase the growth of the chickens in the first two months of their lives. Brown Leghorns are remarkably hardy, too, for when they can have liberty. They are excellent foragers and will do a fair share of their living.

In winter they need a good, warm house, to prevent the freezing of their combs, and if provided with such a house will lay quite well, even in very cold weather. But it is during the warm days of spring and the hot days of summer that they produce the greatest number of eggs. The eggs of the Leghorn are a pearly white, all or nearly all of the same shade, giving them a very uniform appearance. Care is a great factor in the success of a Leghorn hen that will lay an egg with a slight tint tint, but so rarely does this happen that one is almost safe in declaring that their eggs are always pure white. They are of good marketable size, and, being white, really look to be large.

A SIMPLE REMEDY.

A teacher of health culture declares that a simple remedy for removing the blood from a tired brain is to exercise the muscles of the feet. Stand firmly on the ground and then raise the heel and rest on the toe for a second. Do this for a dozen times or so in succession. It will bring a certain degree of relief after a hard day's mental work.

A Word About Corn Fodder.

Iowa farmers, it appears, are awaking to the importance of the value of corn fodder. At the last Iowa stock breeders' convention the subject of corn fodder excited much interest. Everybody proved agreed as to its value and also that more than one man saved his fall. There was disagreement in regard to the best way to save and feed it. Some advocated cutting or shredding, while others maintained that the cheapest cutting and shredder were the jaws of stock. This may be true if the fodder is to be fed indoors, but cutting is advocated for farm feeding not because it helps the cattle in masticating, and will induce them to eat more of it, though this is probably true, but because, everything considered, it is a saving of labor.

THE FIRST CROP.

"The first white child born in Utah appears to have been the light on Monday, August 9, 1847—two weeks and two days after the arrival of the Pioneers. This infantile reinforcement was again the daughter of John and Catherine Campbell Steele, both of the Mormon Battalion, who came into the Valley in Captain Brown's company on the 19th of July. The child was born at 4 o'clock a.m., in her father's tent on the Temple Block. She was named Young Elizabeth Steele, and is President Young and Queen Elizabeth. The father, John Steele, was a mason, and according to his account had nearly completed all the 'Old Fort,' with his own hands, using a trowel made by Burr Frost out of a saw blade. Mr. Steele also claims to be the present chronicler of Utah. He retires at Tuperville, in the southern part of the Territory. His daughter lives at Nanette, in Kane county, and letters Mrs. James Shepley."—Whitney's History of Utah.
