The Change Arising Out of Sunday Performances at Denver.

A GENUINE DIAMOND FIELD.

Proposed Cheese Factory at Millville, Cache County.—A Question of Political Control in Montana.

Mr. Andrew Rigler, Sr., of Meadow, the leading stock man of Cache county, is dangerously ill.

The Garfield mine, near Atlantic, has closed down for the winter. They estimate two thousand tons of good ore on the dump, and much more in sight. —Leader (Eko.) Clipper.

Father Harney, parish priest of Durango, Colorado, has just died after a lingering illness of five weeks. The deceased was noted for his eloquence, ability and charitable disposition. He was about 42 years of age and a native of New York.

Some of the leading citizens of Millville, in company with Mr. Lorenzo Hansen of Wellsville, are preparing to establish a cheese factory in their town, says the Logan Journal. The citizens of Mileville will have the privilege of taking stock.

The Miners' and Merchants' bank at Colorado has closed its doors. This step was caused by the closing of the First National bank at Del Norte, which was officered by the same people. Arrangements have been made by which depositors will be paid in full.

D. N. Stradily of Longmont, Colo., has been arrested charged with practicing medicine without a license. He claims to be a graduate from a physic college which is no recognized by the board of medical examiners, to whom he tendered his fee, but was refused. He is considered a good physician in Longmont and will fight the case.

The Nevada state printing office opened on the 19th inst., with a full force of men. All the state officers' reports will be out by the time the legislature convenes in January, something never before accomplished in this state. Owing to the shortening down of the legislature and the length of the session from sixty to forty days there will not be as much work as previously.

Says the Idaho Daily Statesman: A telephone message was received this (Tuesday) evening from Mr. Sidbert Kunz at Walter's Ferry as follows: "We have just returned from a trip to Diamond basin. There is no doubt about it being a genuine diamond field. I secured three very fine specimens of about three and a half karats each." Mr. Kunz is the representative of the great diamond house of Van Amerigen & Co., of Amsterdam.

The Hebrine (Nebraska) paper mill property, which has been in litigation and in operation for more than a year, has been sold under a mortgage to the Beloit Iron Works company, Beloit, Wis., for $10,500. The plant cost originally nearly $50,000, and is one of the largest in the West. The property has already been leased to an eastern paper manufacturer of experience, who will at once fit it up for immediate use in the manufacture of paper on a large scale.

It will be a surprise to many residents of Idaho as well as to the outside world, says the Weiser Signal, to know that cotton can be successfully grown in the Snake river valley. Mr. V. D. Hannah has raised on his ranch, eight miles above Weiser, a fine cotton as ever grew in Mississippi. Cotton the year did not do well, as the late spring did not admit of its being planted in time. This, however, Mr. Hannah has some from his crop of former years which will be sent to the World's Fair.

State Game Warden Land has received a letter from the fish and game warden of Salt Lake to the effect that 3000 pounds of Elk and deer are at Rawlins, Wyo., the animals having been killed in Colorado, as is supposed, by a certain Denver dealer who said to have been handling some of the game said to have been illegally killed. A well-known cattle man from western Colorado is also written to Game Warden Gordon Land that parties of hunters are killing deer and other game in his section and shipping it out by the wagon loads.—Deseret Sun.

The city of Durango, Colorado, is reported to have gone crazy over the reported discovery of rich placer diggings located 180 miles from that point in southern Utah, where the San Juan river empties into the Colorado. Colonel John S. Harper, county surveyor, who has returned from the vicinity of the diggings, it is learned that the excitement is unparalleled since the days of 1849. In Albuquerque, New Mexico, nuggets are on exhibition ranging in weight from one to five ounces of coarse gold, and all classes of people are leaving their avocations and hurrying to Utah. The gold is described as similar to that discovered in California quite at the time of the first Leadville excitement.

M. R. Gwinn was up from Caldwell yesterday says the Idaho Statesman. Mr. Gwinn says that last Saturday men engaged in excavating near Caldwell for the purpose of building a dam across the Boise river, discovered a cave in which they found the skeleton of a human, supposed to be that of a black sightseen years old. Near the skeleton was a flint lock rifle on which was stamped the year of its manufacture, 1826, a bunch of California nuggets and a powder horn. The gun was badly rusted, and the stock was full of worm holes, but the nuggets were well preserved. The discovery created no little excitement in Caldwell. Some think the bones once belonged to an Indian, but the fact that a portion of a glove was found on the body hand discredits this theory.

The Supreme court of Montana has decided that a question affecting the political control of the legislature. By a vote of two to one the court overruled the demurrer filed by the Republicans to the answer made by Democrats to the alternative writ of mandamus and denied the motion of the Republicans for a peremptory writ ordering the canvassers to count the vote of Rich Hill precinct. As the legislature meets two weeks hence, says an exchange, the Democrats are answering time by delay and stave off a final decision until after that day as Hamilton, Democrat, holds the certificate and would thus help to organize the house. The Republican attorneys will an effort to push along the case as fast as possible.

There is considerable excitement at the Zuni Indian pueblo, New Mexico, over the mysterious hanging of an elk upon the gateway of the village. The squaw was accused of witchery, and about a week ago the governor ordered that she be taken from her wigwam and hung up by the thumbs for the evils it is imagined have come from her black art proclivities. She was not without a following, and last Thursday she was cut down, in defiance of the instructions to the widow of the governor. As soon as he realized that a portion of the subjects were arrayed against him he ordered their arrest but the officers found that the offenders had armed themselves and threatened resistance. Both sides are nearly armed, and on Saturday a conflict was only averted by the governor not making an effort to bring the old squaw back. It is feared that a serious nature that a troop of cavalry from Fort Wingate has been ordered there. This is the first know case where a portion of the villagers have come out boldly and defied the mandate of an Indian governor.

The case against the Alhambra theater, at Denver, for attempting to run a performance on Saturday night will be heard by Judge Hogsett on Wednesday. Chief Farley told Manager Stern he had instructions to prevent the performance. At the office of the police board it is stated that the board took no official action and did not issue any order. As a matter of law, neither the Tabor, Wonderland, the Alhambra nor anyone else has a right to give a Sunday performance. When the board attempted to enforce this strict law in the public opinion to be strongly against the closing of properly conducted places of amusement, and decided that there would be more true morality in letting them run than in closing the doors. The board has had the Alhambra case under consideration. The objection to the house is not of its morality in fact, but is founded on certain rather loud lithographs, which were hung in various windows about town. They presented the female form with considerable candor and announced that the specs season would open on Sunday evening. The words "Sunday evening" were in large type. The opinion of the board, though not officially expressed, seems to be that Sunday entertainments should show deference to the fact that many persons are opposed to them.—Denver News.
