POLITICAL OUTLOOK.

Senator Tillman Discovers a Strong Spinal Column

AMONG THE SILVER PERCHERS.

The Ills of the Country, He Says, Cannot Be Cured By Increasing the Tariff.

DENVER, Colo., April 10.—A special to the News from Hastings, Neb., says:

A News representative met Senator Tillman at Tecumseh. Asked as to the political outlook, Senator Tillman said: "I have discovered a much stronger spinal column among the silver Democrats. In fact, heretofore it has been a sort of a jelly affair. Pressure at home among the constituents of congressmen and senators and the necessity for progressive action has produced a great change. Men who would not speak to me in December are growing more courteous all the time. The outlook is altogether favorable for the Democratic convention to be controlled by the free silver wing. The news at Washington is coming in from all the roads. Senators and other live silver men report that we are going to be in control at Chicago.

"I don't suppose it is any secret that I am not going to stand any Democratic gold bug platform. I won't have it. As to the outlook, Senator Jones, Harris and others have the details. We expect to have one-half of Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, all of Illinois and the South, except Kentucky and Kentucky would be all right if some one would go there and stir them up. That's what I went for, to put a kindler in their backs. I never had a wilder, more enthusiastic crowd than that at Lexington last Saturday. The Grover Cleveland wag hit the better they liked it.

"The panic is extreme. They told us in 1890 and 1892 and they tell us now that prosperity would return as soon as confidence was restored. Now they propose to cure the thing by increasing the tariff. When the consumer is struggling under all he can bear, they propose piling on more. Foreign investments owe the country. They own the courts and the officials. They charge all that the traffic will bear, and the farmer groans under the burden, unable to make living expenses, after paying taxes. Why should England want any change in the monetary system when she can buy the American farmers' products at half what they are worth? The people of the East do not understand the situation, but they will."

INDIANS EXCITED.

Government Officials Killed and the Town Hall Sacked.

CITY OF MEXICO, April 10.—A telegram from Oaxaca City states that the Indians at the town Juquila killed all the town councilors, school teachers, local priests, chief of police and the telegraph operator. In fact every one holding a government place. The people are in terror.

The rebels began their plotting in holy week, instigated by Indian sorcerers, who informed them that the new state laws were unconstitutional, that the authorities had no authority to collect taxes, money, etc., considering they were engaged in their grandest celebration of the season, that, procuring arms and machetes, they make a rush for the town hall, and the priests hastily closed the doors, which they soaked with petroleum and burned, thus effecting an entrance and sacking the place, penetrating the private apartments of the priest, and grossly maltreated the women of his family, and then, forming rebellion to the cry, "Down with the government!" killed and wounded several. The scene was a horrible one, as the assault took place in the early evening, and the excited lot of the mob was indescribable. The mob at Juquila Santa, after sacking the town hall, went to the federal stamp office and assisted in burning down the outside door with petroleum, which also communicated fire to the entire house, placing Colonel Gracenia, who was in the house with his wife, in a most perilous position, but they managed to escape by the roof, jumping for their lives. Many shops were burned after being sacked, and the Indians deported themselves with fiendish glee. They all flee to the appearance of soldiers and are now in the hills. The revolt is local and will be suppressed and the instigators of the Indians will be severely punished, as they took advantage of their gross ignorance.

PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN

Silver Leaders Have a Plan to Capture the Presidency.

CHICAGO, April 10.—A special to the Call from Washington says: Democratic leaders have matured a plan to capture the Presidency next fall by organizing a gold party in Chicago, putting two tickets in the field, and then bringing the two wings of the party together in the electoral college.

The silver leaders have been scheming to use the population for months, and very lately passed a plan for the conversion of the managers of the sound money element, by whom it has been received with open ears. The White House has been the scene of several consultations on the matter within the last four or five days. Friends of sound money, not only in Congress, but from financial and commercial circles, have had both telegrams to and absolute questions of supreme concern to the party welfare. The result of all this labor is that a thorough understanding has been reached, and that Democratic hopes are higher at this morning than they have been for two years.

Many of the silver leaders of the Republican party are fully advised of the Democratic program, and they are watching developments with the greatest interest. The story printed among the Democrats locally runs that the Democratic sound money leaders would be followed to pursue similar tactics.

Supreme Court Decisions.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—In the case of the Northern Pacific Railway company vs. Samuel Paterson, an opinion by Justice Peckham of the supreme court being reversed the opinion of the court below. The case was one of damages on account of an accident, and the question involved was whether a carrier was not a fellow servant or an agent of the road. The opinion holds him to be a fellow servant.

CARMAT RECEIVE DAMAGES.

Justice Peckham also delivered the opinion of the court in the case of the Northern Pacific Railway company vs. L. Lewis. Lewis had obtained damages for the destruction of Dickey cows of wood by a fire which started from a Northern Pacific locomotive. As it appeared that the wood in question was cut upon the public domain and was located upon the public lands, it was held by the court that Lewis had no have sufficient title to it to entitle him to damages for its destruction, and decided in favor of the railroad company.

VALIDITY OF BONDS.

In the United States Supreme court an opinion was handed down in the case of Woodruff, trustee, vs the state of Mississippi, appealed from the supreme court of that state. The issue involved the validity of bonds issued by the levee board of the state for the improvement of the Mississippi river, which had been questioned because the bonds were made payable in gold. The supreme court of the state held that the bonds were void, because the law did not authorize the payment of the bonds in any particular kind of money. The opinion of today was delivered by Chief Justice Fuller. The opinion of the court below was reversed and the case remanded.

AS TO MORMON SHORTS.

Justice Harlan delivered the opinion of the court in the case of John Clinton and Charles Smith vs the state of Mississippi. The appellants were tried and found guilty of murder in the state courts. The plaintiffs in error in both cases are colored men. They had sought to have their cases transferred from the state courts to the federal courts under section 641 of the revised statutes, alleging that there was a denial of justice, because no men of their color had been summoned to sit upon the jury. The state court had denied the petition for a transfer. Justice Harlan sustained in a decision, holding that while the statute and the fourteenth amendment to the Constitution had been intended to secure to the colored race full extra justice awarded to the white, the law and the amendment were only applicable when it was made to appear that the constitutional amendments of the state were of a character to deny the rights to the negroes. It did not appear that this was the case in Mississippi.

CASE FROM ARIZONA.

In passing upon the case of W. A. Howard vs A. Wentworth, appealed from the court of Arizona, involving the validity of a territorial statute testing upon the possession of records of Cochise county, the court, in the power of the case presented, entered into a general discussion whether in declaring the validity of any legislative enactment, it is competent to go behind an enrolled bill, signed by the presiding officer of the House as a legislative body, held that it was not.

Cotton Bill Not Withdrawn.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 10.—John Otis Humphrey, who was a delegate to the national republican convention from the seventeenth district, and who is under instruction to vote for McKinley, has received the following telegram from Senator Cullom from Washington, referring to the senator's Presidential candidacy: "I have not withdrawn and don't intend to withdraw."

THE MATABELE WAR.

Expenses Must Be Paid by the South Africa Company.

LONDON, April 10.—In the House of Commons this afternoon of state for the colonies, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, made a statement today regarding the situation in Matabeland. He said that the government of Cape Colony, Sir Hercules Robinson, has offered to Lobengula considerable to the disturbed districts a force of 200 cavalry and 250 mounted infantry from Natal, in addition to the volunteers and police, which it has already been arranged should be sent to Matabeland.

Mr. Chamberlain added that Sir Hercules Robinson would also raise a force of 250 Bechuanas to assist in quelling the rebellion, and he, Mr. Chamberlain, was considering with the war office as to the steps necessary in order to replace the troops issued into the interior.

Mr. Chamberlain added that the British South Africa company would have to pay for these operations.

Scientific Expedition to Japan.

SEATTLE, Wash., April 10.—The American astronomical expedition, fitted out to take observations in Japan of a total eclipse of the sun to August next, arrived in Seattle overland from New York today. The personnel of the party is as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Curtis James, Prof. and Mrs. David P. Todd, John Pemberton, U. S. N., William F. Denning, Dr. Vincent Antonio, A. W. Francis and E. A. Thompson.

The Cuban Situation.

NEW ORLEANS, April 10.—The Picayune tomorrow will print the following from its special correspondent:

HAVANA, April 9.—The condition of affairs is continuing to draw to a crisis, and soon there will be a clash which will either redound to the benefit of the Spaniards or the Cubans. For the past week or so efficient news has been given out at the captain-general's office, and rumor's are the order of a bottle in which the insurgents were victorious. No details can be learned, but there has been considerable hurrying and scurrying among the palace.

The meeting of the expeditions under Collazo, Garcia and Beatriz Pena have had a good effect here, especially as the coast was supposed to be so well guarded.

Walling's Trial.

CINCINNATI, April 10.—The attorney for Alonzo Walling, indicted with Scott Jackson for the murder of Pearl Bryan, has been notified to be ready to proceed to trial on May 8th. This indicates that Judge Helm expects to finish the trial of Scott Jackson in two weeks. It is given out that the prosecution will not call either of the men as a witness against the other, being confident that they have already enough evidence to convict both.

NICARAGUA'S CIVIL WAR.

Notes Taken on a Horseback Ride Through the Country.

COSTA RICA, Nicaragua, March 18.—(Copyright, 1893, by the Associated Press.)—Following are the notes taken on a horseback ride through the district of Nicaragua, now disturbed by a civil war, commenced on the morning of February 25th, on which date your correspondent left Managua, the capital.

At noon I was with President Zelaya's army at Masaya and passed his outposts, four miles west of Nagarote, at 2 p.m. arrived at Nagarote, which was abandoned by the troops of Zelaya. At 6 p.m. I learned, however, that the insurgent General Sacasa's cavalry had occupied the place during the 24th and had evacuated it on the morning of the 25th.

On February 27th Nagarote was occupied by about unity of Zelaya's cavalry, followed by the infantry. When I arrived at Leon I learned that General Ortiz had arrived from Guatemala city, where he had been in exile, on February 24th, and had conferred with the chiefs of the western division of the Liberal political party, who declared that they were continuing of the supremacy of civil force, against a dictatorship by Zelaya in Managua.

On February 28th the president and secretary of congress and an alleged majority of the legislature of Nicaragua convened at Leon and proclaimed Jose Dolores Estrada provisional president, and General Jose Dolores Estrada, who was the last congress of Nicaragua had appointed to be president of Nicaragua in September, 1889, but exiled the constitution of Nicaragua, and therefore they decreed that the appointment of J. Santos Zelaya to be president of Nicaragua be revoked and that Vice President Francisco Baca Jr. be appointed legal president of Nicaragua for the unexpired term (about two years.)

The available troops were armed and sent to Nagarote, about forty miles west of Managua and fourteen miles west of Mozico, Pueblo Nuevo and Jalapa.

On February 21st there was much excitement and enthusiasm at Leon, and Vega, leader. Zelaya's army was reported about 4,000 strong. The departments of Chinandega, Managua, Jinotega, Esperba and Nueva Segovia joined the insurgent government at Leon and forwarded soldiers and volunteers. Nagarote was then occupied and evacuated, as has been indicated.

On March 1st a division of Zelaya's troops, about 1,000 strong, under Santa Fe, Salvadoreno, and other Nagarote about noon and carried all the intrenches, fighting until dark, losing two officers killed and several officers and soldiers killed and wounded. They were cut off in ammunition and fewer than Zelaya's troops were being supported from Metapa, four leagues distant. They a company commanded a retreat in good order, which became a rout and panic, each throwing down their guns. At Pueblo Nuevo they found two of their generals unprepared to stop the panic, and they carried that town. Estrada had said to me at Nagarote, when starting a division, that they had been betrayed by the other generals in Zelaya's army and would go home.

On March 5th there was a panic at Leon, citizens fleeing for fear of the arrival of Zelaya's army. Zelaya's army was largely disorganized and the government officials were considering plans for an armistice, peace, etc.
