CONTESTED SEATS.

Quite a Problem Before the Republican Committee.

A COLOR LINE TROUBLE, TOO.

The Gavel to Be Used Made at Carthage, Ills., of Wood from a Historical Cabin.

ST. LOUIS, June 8.—In no former Republican national convention has the general committee had so heavy a duty to perform in making up the roll for temporary organization as the present committee has before it. There are 158 contested seats from fifteen states and one territory, and of these the entire delegation is contested from five states and Arizona. The committee as a whole will commence the hearing of contests Wednesday forenoon, and the indications are that it will hardly be able to finish them before the end of the week. The hearings before the committee will be semi-judicial. All the contesting parties have come prepared with printed briefs and affidavits as to their regularity and right to recognition, and each case will be presented by special counsel.

The committee will probably take up the contests of the states in alphabetical order.

It would be hard to predict now, with any degree of accuracy, who will be selected by the national committee for temporary chairman of the convention. Among the men who have been mentioned, however, are Gov. Merriam of Minnesota and H. Clay Evans of Tennessee, a candidate for the vice presidency nomination. Mr. Evans is also talked of for permanent chairman, as also are Gen. Grosvenor of Ohio, Senator-elect George L. Wellington of Maryland, Senator Foraker and also Mayor Caldwell of Cincinnati.

CAN ENTERTAIN NO NEGROES.

What shall be done with the colored delegates and alternate delegates to the national Republican convention? This is a question which is puzzling the members of the national committee who have arrived, and the Business Men's league, which secured the convention, as well. Every hotel and boarding-house and cafe came out flat-footed today and declared it would not entertain negroes as guests or customers. Money is no object. Threats of prosecution have had no effect, and from the present outlook it would seem that unless tents are secured the black men will have to go hungry and unhoused.

"I am thoroughly disgusted and discouraged," said National Committeeman Judge Long of Florida tonight, in speaking of the matter. "I have been looking all day long for a hotel, boarding-house or cafe that would admit the negroes, but I have been unable to find them. I even went so far as to try to charter a steamship, but when the owners learned for what purpose I wanted it, they found an excuse for refusing me the use of it. It is the only time in the history of the Republican party that such an embarrassing predicament has arisen."

When asked what the national committee would do, Mr. Long replied, "I have consulted the members who are here and I have decided to offer a resolution, as soon as the committee meets, condemning the hotel and inn-keepers, and for the laying aside of a fund for renting a hall in which cots shall be placed for the negroes who may come to the convention. We shall also request the employment of a corps of cooks to supply them food."

This trouble has been brewing for nearly a week. A number of days ago it was learned by the Business Men's league that some of the leading hotels had been cancelling agreements with state delegations when the landlords learned that negro delegates were among them.

"This afternoon I received half a dozen letters," said Committeeman Long, "from parties who said they would gladly receive all colored delegates during the convention. I was greatly relieved for a time, but upon investigating learned they were keepers of disorderly houses. This only added insult to the injury already done."

James Hill, a negro and the national committeeman of Mississippi, has been busy all day today trying to find quarters for the delegation from his state. He was not successful. He could not even find a room for himself and was quite indignant.

A HICKORY GAVEL.

The gavel which will be used by the permanent chairman of the Republican national convention was received at the headquarters of the local committee today. It will be presented to the chairman by Senator Berry, one of the Illinois delegates. The gavel is an excellent specimen of wood carving, done by W. H. Bartels of Carthage, Ills., one of the most artistic carvers in the country. Mr. Bartels selected the wood, a hickory log taken from the log cabin occupied by President Lincoln at New Salem, Ill., in 1832. There are panels on each side, which are filled in with suitably inscribed plates of gold and silver.

THE BARCELONA BOMB.

A Particularly Fiendish Outrage—Many Arrests Made.

BARCELONA, June 8.—The person who threw the bomb into the crowd before the church of Santa Maria del Mar yesterday during the Corpus Christi procession has not yet been apprehended. The impression is general that anarchists did the work as a result of a widespread anarchistic plot. The police are working on this theory and have arrested twenty-two men known to entertain anarchistic sympathies. In connection with these arrests they have secured a number of documents which give some clue to the plot of which yesterday's bomb throwing was a manifestation. These documents indicate that the center of the agitation is directed with the purpose of precipitating a number of anarchistic demonstrations, accompanied by acts of violence, at different points simultaneously or following close upon each other, so as to create a reign of terror in the different European governments.

Yesterday's outrage was accompanied by features of peculiar atrocity. It was while the people, both those in the procession and those looking on, were devoutly kneeling when the bomb was thrown by the unknown assassin. Whether by design or not it did its deadliest work among the innocent and harmless, the majority of the victims being women and children. Those of them who were not killed outright were horribly mutilated and subjected to excruciating torture by their injuries. It is believed the outrage was directed against General Destajols, and of the dignitaries of the city, who was carrying the banner at the head of the religious procession.

NEW YORK, June 8.—A dispatch to the World from Barcelona says: The anarchist outrage yesterday, exactly thirty-one months after the Liceo theater explosion, presumably was aimed at the host in the religious procession. The American consul-general went at once to the spot. As no American was involved, he called on the captain-general to offer condolence. Extra precautions have again been taken to protect the United States consulate day and night.

Fourteen are dead, mostly of the poor class. There is a rumor afloat that the leader of the assassins is a woman.

ARIZONA DEMOCRATS.

Free Silver the Idea Pervading Their Convention.

PHOENIX, Ariz., June 8.—The Democratic territorial convention which assembled here today had one prevailing idea, and that was free silver. W. A. Rowe of Yavapai, for thirty years a silver miner in Arizona, was elected chairman. His speech expressed dissatisfaction with the policy of the National Democratic administration and called upon the convention to express its principles without hesitation.

"We favor the immediate restoration of the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the present legal ratio of 16 to 1, as the coinage existed prior to 1873, without waiting for the aid or the consent of any other nation; such gold and silver to be a full legal tender for all debts, public and private.

"We are opposed to the retirement of the greenback and demand that the secretary of the treasury, instead of issuing interest-bearing bonds for the purchase of gold, shall recognize silver as the money of redemption and exercise the right to redeem greenbacks, treasury notes and all other coin obligations in silver where silver is more convenient."

The delegates to the national convention were instructed to vote as a unit and to vote only for a free-coinage candidate for the nomination for President and Vice President.

The platform also demands the immediate admission of Arizona to statehood.

A resolution pledging the Chicago delegates to Bland was voted down, as instructions were not deemed advisable. The following were elected delegates to the national convention: J. B. Alexander of Phoenix, J. F. Wilson of Prescott, W. H. Barnes of Tucson, Hugh Campbell of Flagstaff, Wiley H. Jones of Solomonville, W. H. Burbage of St. Johns. The alternates are Murat Masterson of Yuba, E. J. Edwards of Globe, M. D. Scribner of Tombstone, Harvey Hubbs of Kingman, Dr. R. C. Dryden of Winslow, R. G. Price of Florence.

An Insane Mother.

CHICAGO, June 8.—While temporarily insane it is supposed Mrs. Hannah Koch, the wife of a bricklayer, this afternoon walked into that part of the South Branch known as "Mud Lake" leading her two children by the hand. She was drowned, together with her two-year-old child Emma, but her son Charles, 9 years, struggled and released himself from the grasp of his mother and saved himself.

Saengerfest at Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, June 8.—The Saengerfest was formally opened tonight at music hall exposition building when President Cleveland at Washington pressed the button which illuminated the electric light. The lighting was the signal for the most enthusiastic applause, after which the grand symphony orchestra under Director Heinrich Zoellner performed, the Kaiser march by Wagner. The entertainment closed with the singing of the Star Spangled Banner.

In the Rebel Camp.

HAVANA, June 8.—Antonio Maceo is actually at Baleesta on the south coast of Pinar del Rio. La Costa, the insurgent leader, has burned several tobacco houses and a grain warehouse at Palomino, Havana province.

Trustworthy advices from the province of Pinar del Rio say there has been a serious conflict among the colored and white insurgents serving under Maceo, during which twenty men on each side are said to have been killed and many more reported wounded.

THE SENATE.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—At 2 o'clock the immigration bill was taken up and Morgan (Dem., Ala.) spoke in support of his amendment, that the restrictions of the act should not apply to persons coming to this country from Cuba. He said no country had contributed a better class of people to our population than Cuba. Its citizens, he said, came to escape the persecutions of Spain and to live under free institutions.

Morgan branched off to the present war and said the conditions were such as to justify intervention by the United States. The senator read from the "Book of Blood" showing the atrocities of the late war. Morgan said he had been assailed for desiring war between the United States and Spain. He did not deny, he said, that he was not averse to war if Spain, in her pursuit of abominable despotism, continues war on Cuba. Morgan disclaimed the harsh statements attributed to him against the queen regent of Spain. If the queen of Spain, the queen of England, the queen of Greece and the Empress of Germany could meet in that stricken island and witness some of the brutalities and outrages forced upon the defenseless women and children, then you would find these great and noble queens raising their hands against such atrocities and ending the rule of the brute Weyler.

Morgan referred in closing to the reports that the President contemplated using the offices of the United States toward inducing the Cubans to lay down their arms, receiving in return from Spain a reciprocity treaty. The senator did not know how far the unauthorized interference in the affairs of other countries would proceed, but he regretted that the President had not seen fit to act with Congress in seeking to remedy these conditions.

THE WALLING TRIAL.

An Attempt to Throw the Whole Blame on Scott Jackson.

NEWPORT, Ky., June 8.—The whole afternoon from 2 o'clock until 5 Alonzo Walling was on the stand. His mother, two brothers and a sister-in-law sat near him. More than 200 women were among the spectators outside the bar. It was manifest from the drift of the direct examination that the purpose of the defense was to throw the whole guilt of the murder on Scott Jackson, and if possible establish an alibi for Walling himself. In this direct examination Walling said he never knew Pearl Bryan until she came here. Furthermore, he said he knew Jackson at Indianapolis, but never was intimate with him until he came to the dental college. Since the two came here they had roomed together and slept in the same bed every night except the third after the arrest. He said on both direct and cross-examination that Scott Jackson first mentioned Pearl Bryan to him early in January, just after he had returned from the holiday vacation at Greencastle.

"Then," said Walling, "Jackson took me in a corner of the room and told me he had Pearl Bryan in trouble and that he would bring her here to have an abortion and asked me to help him. I agreed to help him get a suitable room and a physician to do the work. Jackson said a little later that he would bring the girl here, give her some quick poison and kill her in some hotel, with the impression that she had committed suicide. Still later, he proposed to kill her with poison in a private room, cut her up and scatter the body in the catch basins."

Friday night, January 31st, he saw Jackson at their room at 10 o'clock, but he went out with Allison until midnight and went to bed and slept all night, and saw nothing of Jackson until he awoke in the morning about 9 o'clock. Saturday at noon he had taken a package at Jackson's request and put it in his own locker at the college. It was a pair of trousers. He said they belonged to Jackson. He was requested to put them on and stand before the jury. The pants buttoned all right but they were a trifle short. The witness said in his examination in brief that when Jackson first broached the matter to him after the holidays he thought he was talking through his hat, but he had every reason to believe Scott Jackson murdered Pearl Bryan.

Col. Nelson, in the cross-examination, asked Walling, "Do you mean to say to the jury that you slept with Jackson Saturday, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday nights, who, as you believe, murdered Pearl Bryan, of whom you became suspicious on Thursday, whose murderous intentions towards Pearl Bryan you knew ever since the holidays, and in all these days read every day about the murder, that you walked with him, ate with him, slept with him, and yet never once spoke to him about the murder?"

"Yes, that's what I mean."
