DIED OF APOPLEXY.

John Goldhall, a Member of the Grand Army of the Republic,

FOUND DEAD IN HIS BED.

Was Well Known Here—Relatives In California—Was Over Eighty Years Old.

John Goldhall was found dead in bed at his room on the corner of Tenth East and Sixth South streets this morning. Physicians were summoned and death was found to have resulted from apoplexy, from a attack of which the deceased had suffered some before.

The deceased was an old soldier, being a member of the Grand Army of the Republic, and over 80 years old. He was well known here, was a favorite among his fellow veterans, and held the respect of all his acquaintances. The remains were given in charge of Undertaker S. D. Grant, who had telegraphed to a nephew of the deceased, Daniel Woods of Vallie, California, and is now awaiting instructions as to the disposition of the body.

Death of an Estimable Young Lady

The silent Reaper cast his sable mantle over the home of Sister Josephine Breuting this morning, through the death of her sweet and amiable daughter, Lena, which occurred at 9:15 o'clock, after a brief illness of the lady, the cause being neuresthenia. A wide circle of loving friends deeply mourn the departure of Sister Lena Breuting and earnestly trust that the consoling comforting influence of the Spirit of the Lord will comfort her bereaved mother and brother. The remains will lie in state at the home, corner of Seventh South and Fourth East streets from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. on Sunday.

Funeral services will be held in the Second ward meeting house on Sunday at 11:30 a.m. Friends of the family are invited.

A Truant Arrested.

Joel Bicknell was arrested by Officer Larson this afternoon on a charge of truancy. The lad is said to have repeatedly absented himself from school notwithstanding the efforts of his parents to have him attend. Joel's home is on the outskirts of the city.

MOUNTFORDS ON TRIAL.

The Charge Against Them is Grand Larceny in the Alleged Theft of $185.

John and Ann Mountford were on trial in the police court this afternoon on a charge of grand larceny.

They are the couple who are supposed to have robbed James H. Tucker, a De Lamar miner, now deceased, of $185. Tucker lived with the Mountfords when in the city and on his last visit, he was taken sick and died after an illness of some seven weeks.

He was a member of the Myrtle Lodge No. 23, I. O. O. F. and it is at their instigation that the Mountfords are being prosecuted, they alleging that Tucker when taken ill had $185 in the bank, which it is said suddenly and mysteriously disappeared, hence the attachment of the theft to the defendants.

The case was in progress at press time and the hearing was somewhat protracted owing to there being such a large number of witnesses to examine. Attorney Holderman appears for the defendants while Assistant County Attorney D. C. Eichna is prosecuting the case.

Hansen-Olsen.

PLEASANT, Millard County, Nov. 12, 1896.—Mr. George M. Hansen of the Upper Sanders was married here yesterday evening to Miss Bertha Olsen, daughter of Mrs. D. K. Olsen, county recorder-elect. In the midst of a large assembly of friends the ceremony was performed by Rev. A. Greenwood of Circle's Chapel.

MINOR MENTIONS.

Flour has gone up another fifteen cents per hundred.

Mrs. Williams was fined $15 by Justice Wenger today for prostitution.

Michigan apples of excellent quality are abundant in the Salt Lake market.

A highly esteemed citizen of Ogden, Wm. H. Hewson, died in that city yesterday.

P. J. Woolf will be tried in the police court on Tuesday next at 2 p.m. on a charge of assault and battery.

The Weber county Young Ladies' Mutual Improvement Associations are having a chrysanthemum fair in Ogden.

George Redmond of Mill Creek and Catherine Neuscher of this city were granted a marriage license this morning.

John Pitrikelly's house at No. 50 Third East street was entered by burglars last evening and a quantity of jewelry stolen. There is no clue to the perpetrators of the act, nor the police are on a still hunt.

PROVO.

PROVO, UTAH, - - Nov. 13, 1896.

Looking for His Boy.

John G. Jost of Rawlins, Wyoming, was in this city yesterday on his way home from Payson, Eureka and intermediate points. He is looking for his son, John, who is now 16 years of age. John left home three years ago, and his parents have been attempting to find him all this time. Last winter he learned that the boy had stopped for some time in Provo, Utah county, but when the latter went to that place he had moved from there. John was seen last spring in Salt Lake by Dan Quinlan, and Mr. Jost believes he was in Payson and Eureka last August, traveling with a man by the name of Charles Niall or O'Niall, who was peddling spectacles. John was then going under the name of Harry S— or O'Niall. Mr. Jost is very anxious to find his son as he is afraid he is or will get into some trouble. He seems a good, honest man and is apparently a man of means, and it seems strange that the boy should prefer a wandering existence to that of a good home. He is described as being 16, bit complexioned, with very light hair, a broad forehead and oval face, of a jolly disposition and rapid in his talk and movements. On the rightside of his head he carries two scars caused by burns received when a child. O'Niall, with whom he is believed to be, is a light complexioned, short, stout man.

Skin Grafting.

At out six weeks ago Mr. John Jolley of Manti accidentally cut himself on his right hand with a razor. The wound was not considered serious and was not properly attended to, blood poisoning ensued and the result was that the arm became swollen to a large size and the skin turned black. Dr. Allen of this city was called to attend Mr. Jolley. He found it necessary to remove the skin, and made an incision the entire length of the arm, which caused the skin and a large quantity of decayed flesh to drop from it as if it were a sleeve. Mr. Jolley's physical condition was so reduced, by reason of the blood poisoning, that the doctor did not think it advisable to amputate the arm at the time; he has since gained strength and has come to Provo, and yesterday morning Dr. Allen commenced to graft skin upon the denuded arm. It will take a large number of grafts and many persons will contribute, for the reason that only a small piece can be taken from any person at a time without seriously inconveniencing the owner.

Notes and Personals.

Mr. O. D. Fake, clerk of the district court at Hachita, Arizona, is a Provo visitor. He reports that the Arizona people are anxious for statehood. Mr. Fake showed the Daily News representative a silver ring, which was well made and quite artistically ornamented with Navajo work; he said the Pueblo Indian women make large numbers of these rings and sell them for fifty cents each. They say they take the silver out of the ground, but Mr. Fake believes they buy it or use coin in the manufacture of the rings.

Miss Myra Beck of Mount Pleasant, a young lady, 22 years of age, died yesterday at 2 o'clock. She has been sick from typhoid fever for about two weeks, and was convalescing, and her death was sudden and unexpected. Miss Beck was a student of the Brigham Young Academy and lived with her mother, who is here with several of her children, students of the Academy. Many relatives and friends mourn with the bereaved family the loss of their beloved daughter. The body will be taken to Mount Pleasant for burial this evening or tomorrow.

An item is going the rounds of the press to the effect that Dr. Blanchard is in Nevada, on his way to New York; he is traveling across the continent on a bicycle and represents that he is gathering medical information for the Mormon Church. Blanchard used to live in Springville, and has obtained considerable notoriety in various parts of this State. It is true that he is palming himself off as an agent of the Church, but he ought to be retired to the sky gum or to jail.

F. R. Daniels, of Salt Lake, came down from his mine in American Fork canyon, yesterday. He reports that there is snow in the canyon that travel by team is stopped, and he walked from his mine (about ten miles from the mouth of the canyon) to American Fork. He brought some samples with him which he took to Salt Lake last evening. If they assay all right he will go back and work all winter.

On Saturday the M. I. A. Stake conference movement here. In the evening a concert will be given in the tabernacle, in which choirs from different wards of the Stake will take part. Mr. R. C. Easton, the Hoshard and Pyne trustees quartette, the Brigham Young Academy quartette and trio, the Provo mixed quartette, and several other local musical people will also appear.

President Brigham Young of the Brigham Young Academy board of trustees, and President Geo. Q. Cannon, a member of the board, attended a board meeting here, Wednesday, at which it was decided to name the normal training school of the academy the A. O. Smoot training school.

John Houston, county attorney of Garfield county, was in Provo yesterday. He brought a bunch of cattle up from the south which he sold to the Lehi Sugar factory.

T. J. Paines, an old and esteemed citizen of Provo, now living on Provo Bench, is in a very critical condition, suffering from an enlargement of the prostrate gland.

President Noun of the Provo Light & Power plant is in the city, inspecting the work of his company in Provo canyon.

J. E. Harrichson and A. J. Cushing of Grady were Provo visitors yesterday.

The Tetrands will be presented at the Opera House on the 19th.

Nature Photography.

A French photographer has pleased Paris, always charmed with a novelty, by producing extraordinary photographic combinations through an ingenious arrangement of mirrors. The results are often somewhat surprising, and sometimes sensational, as for instance, the hand-like photograph of a well-known Parisian being ridden in the street by his horse. Grotesque combinations such as this are, of course, familiar to us all, for photographers have long been able to produce very curious effects by superimposing figures from several negatives on one print.

The beauty of this last photographic novelty is, however, that the prints do not "give away" the process, as the old-fashioned multiple photographs invariably do by the stilted postures and incongruous discords of the composition, but appear to be single, instantaneous glimpses of real scenes of an altogether impossible nature. They are clever enough to deceive an expert or to make a superstitious person almost believe in miracles.

And right here it may be suggested that the possibilities of this mechanism in the hands of unscrupulous spiritualistic mediums who live by deluding the gullible are practically unlimited. In fact, the time seems to have come when photographs may no longer be regarded as incontrovertible evidence.

Persons who have wandered through the bewildering arrangement of mirrors that formed one of the features of the World's Fair will understand how it is entirely possible for place mirrors in such positions as to produce the most remarkable results. For instance, it was possible to cause three mirrors so that they were called, for a person to see himself as he would look in any of four physical states—tall or short, or stout or thin. The instance is given merely to call to mind an every-day illustration of what mirrors can do. As to the Frenchman's recent method of producing his ingenious photographs, this is something not yet divulged.

All Paris is enthusiastic over one of his pictures in particular. It is a photograph of a gentleman in evening dress, with the face of his Satanic majesty poised on his immaculate shirt front. The giant face seems to be as much a part of the man's figure as is his head, and not merely a picture stamped on the white linen cosom.

This feat is accomplished by posing the figure in such a way that they are reflected from a pair of mirrors directly into the eyes of the camera. Sometimes the woman's face is reproduced in a similar form, and in the shape of a heart, and is so arranged as to take the place of the organ in which the god of love is popularly supposed to dwell.

Cure for Sasge.

Sausage is an unpleasant topic, perhaps, but it is also an unpleasant subject, and it is a disease which is particularly apt to attack pet dogs, and is very difficult to cure, a suggestion as to its treatment may not come amiss. There are many so called cures which are more or less efficacious and are always "expensive," said a New England woman and a lover of dogs. "The best remedy in my experience was suggested to me by an old plantation darkey, who, by some queer chance, had settled, or rather squatted, in our neighborhood, and who covered his little patch of ground with corn so thickness which he reddled about in the season. 'Sakes, Miss Lucy,' he said to me one day, 'that critter of yours is just eatun up with mange. It's a real pity, for he's a nice dog, and I'll tell you what'll sure him. You just take two parts of lard and one part kerosene and rub it into him with a currnoch—rub it in good and hard—and do it twice a week, and between times give him a dip in salt water. I'll cure him in no time.'

"And so it did. I never saw anything so rapid in its effects. As the old negro said, 'It killed all de parasites,' and in less than a month every trace of the mange had vanished, the hair coming in thick and glossy in the places left bare by the disease.

"As it is a remedy always at hand and very inexpensive, it is certainly worth knowing. If salt water is not accessible, a good washing with ivy soap would do as well, and a little flower of sulphur in the drinking water will facilitate the cure."—New York Tribune.

For your Protection CATARRH

ELY'S CREAM BALM

Is quickly absorbed. Gives immediate relief. A thorough treatment will cure. Ely's Cream Balm is the most easy and pleasant remedy. Catarrh is a disease of the head, caused by the presence of a specific virus. It is the only one known to the medical fraternity to be a specific for the disease. Catarrh is a local disease, and to be cured must be reached by a remedy of a healing, soothing, and curative nature, such as Ely's Cream Balm. Ely's Cream Balm is not a liquid nor a snuff. It is a vegetable compound, easily applied into the nostrils, and is a positive cure for Catarrh and Cold in Head. A particle is applied directly into the nostrils, is agreeable. 50 cents at druggists or by mail, including a tube of Ely's Cream Balm for the Nasal Douche, 75 cents. Sleep

Induced by the use of some opiate or narcotic compounds is bad, decidedly bad. They undermine health and shatter the constitution until the victim is steadily growing into a worse condition—often resulting in the terrible misery and misery of the morphine and opium habit. Sleep induced by the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla does not partake of such a character, but it comes more surely and more permanently through nature's great restoring and rejuvenating channel—purified, vitalized and enriched blood. This feeds the nerves with life-giving energy and builds up the vitals and constitution from the very foundation of all health and life—the blood—pure, rich, red blood.
