FRAGMENTS.

F. Mery & Son, tailors, have removed from South Temple street to 44 East Temple street.

The members of the Third quorum of Seventies will meet on Monday evening in the Fourteenth ward assembly rooms.

The county clerk this morning issued marriage licenses to Wm. H. Crockett, 27, and Lorena G. Farrer, 20, both of this city.

The Eighth quorum of Elders will meet in the Thirteenth ward assembly rooms on Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

At the Unitarian services tomorrow, Rev. David Utter long absent, Rev. Wm. L. Utter will preach at the Theater at 11 o'clock.

The Seventh quorum of Seventies will hold their monthly meeting Monday evening next, at 7:30, in the First ward assembly hall.

The regular monthly meeting of the Fourth quorum of Elders will be held in the Fourteenth ward meeting house on Monday evening, June 12th, at 7:30 o'clock.

The High School commencement exercises at the Theater yesterday evening were very interesting. The program and prizes being as announced in the News a few evenings ago.

The regular monthly meeting of the Fourth quorum of Seventies will meet in the Twenty-first ward meeting house on Monday evening next (June 12th), at 7:30 o'clock. Members will govern themselves accordingly.

The fleet of the mammoth dancing pavilion at Saltair was waxed for the first time last night, and when our University students and their friends left for their homes at midnight it was almost as smooth and slick as a sea of glass.

SECRETARY LYNN wishes to announce that all who desire to join the semi-annual no Democratic drum corps are requested to meet with the secretary on Monday evening, at 8 o'clock, in the Social Hall, as the drum corps will be organized at that time.

The Territorial secretary has received a letter from Senator Faulkner, chairman of the Senate committee on territories, announcing the postponement of the subcommittee visit to Utah. Senators Hill and Platt, he stated, were unable to come west at present, and the trip has been postponed until August.

The following notice was handed in today: There will be services in the Josephite chapel on Second South between Second and Third East on Sunday, June 11th, as follows: Preaching at 11 a. m. by H. O. Smith. Sunday school immediately after preaching at 1:00 p. m. by Elder R. J. Anthony.

Visitors to Salt Lake.

The following gentlemen called at the executive office this morning and paid their respects to Governor West and Territorial Secretary Richards—Mr. A. L. New, of Evanston, Wyoming; Mr. J. F. Dunn, of Pocatello, massive merchant of the Union division of the Union Pacific railroad and Judge F. M. Foote, receiver of the U. S. Land office at Evanston, Wyoming. They arrived in Salt Lake today and expect to leave tomorrow. The trip is purely one of pleasure, and they are loud in their praise of the attractions of our city.

ENGLISH GENEALOGIES.

An Interesting Letter on the Subject From Logan.

F. W. Atkins Suggests a Scene of Obtaining Important Information.

LOGAN, Utah, June 7, 1893.—Yesterday I saw a letter in your issue asking for information upon genealogies. Having spent many months before coming to this country and got much information in the time upon this all important and very interesting work, I hereweith beg to ask you to favor me by inserting the enclosed, as it may be of interest not only to the one seeking information, but to others also.

In the Herald's College, Queen Victoria street, London, England, entered from Bennett's Hill and Doctors Commons, and supported entirely by fees, is preserved the largest and most valuable genealogical and heraldic collection in the or in any other country in the world, the college having been incorporated by charter from King Richard III. There are two classes of documents preserved there, the records and the collections. The former comprise: (1) the series of books called Visitation Books, containing the pedigrees and arms of the nobility and gentry of the kingdom from 21 Henry VIII to the latter end of the seventeenth century, the first being issued in 21 Henry VIII and the last in 2 James. (2) Two books of modern records; these contain the miscellaneous pedigrees and arms of peers compiled pursuant to the standing orders of the House of Lords of 11 May, 1797; four books of pedigrees and arms of baronets under a royal warrant of 3 Dec., 1763, or succeeding and preceding sixteen in the order of baronets. (3) Grants of arms; these comprise the grants of armorial bearings down to the present day.

O. the second class of documents, the collections consist of some twenty-three thousand volumes of manuscript, etc., to say nothing of pedigrees such as the collection of parish registers of the late Colonel Chester, etc. Access to the college is much easier and the fees much lighter than people generally suppose. An attorney assists upon a personal application in 3s; a general search through the records 2s 6d; and a general search through the records and collections 5s 6d. Transcripts of pedigrees are charged 5s each generation, as with charts being more for a sketch in the same. Each county has one specially convenient with the same. Mr. Adalt is so with the eastern counties.

Printed Visitations.—Berry's series of County Genealogies, issued half a century ago, should not be overlooked. They are as follows: Sussex 1830; Kent, 1830; Hants, 1826; Surrey, 1831; Herts, 1826; Bucks, 1827; Essex, to Guy Hertz, on sale. See T. Phillips' Folio Volume of printed pedigrees, 1826, is also noticeable, as is his privately printed Index to the Visitations to his library, 1841. Cumberland, 1530, vol. 2, printed by W. H. D. Longstaffe; vol. 3, 1615, printed by J. Fetherstonhaugh, Durham, 1615-6, Northumberland, 1564 and 1615, edited by Col. Vivian, 1894, by F. C. Colby, Sen., 1575, Harleian Society, vol. 6, 1868, by F. C. Colby, Sen., 1881; 1668, partially printed with additions by J. Raines, 1869; Gloucester, 1623, printed for the Harleian Society, vol. 21 by Sir J. Maxwell and W. C. Heane. As far as is aside the visitations of 1569 and 1591 have been worked into the 1662 and 1683 printed by T. P. Fenwick and W. C. Metcalf, 1884. Most of the above, however, have been printed from transcripts, as reference should always be made to the original visitations in the College of Arms.

W. Ryye's "Records and Records Searching"—These have been of late years issued throughout England and is a logical sequitur in which Mr. Rye takes a very active part. He has published many works and is still engaged in the good labor. He would, I have no doubt, give any information upon this subject. I am sorry I do not know his address, or I could, I think, be obtained from the secretary of the Harleian Society, London, England.

I think if the Elders were to find out the secretaries of these archæological societies of whichever county they might want, which can be in most cases obtained at any public library, in the city or county, they would be able to get their genealogies much easier than they now do. This is my experience, for I always found the members of the society of the city of Norwich, Norfolk, England, ready to assist me in my labors. Many parish registers have been transcribed and the Rev. F. Proctor of Wilton, Norfolk, must be found for the following:

Attleborough, Barton, Caldhill, Cranwright, Ditham, Eye, Foston, Happisburgh, Horsford, Horsey, Kimpton, Lessingham (with Hempstead & Paston) Mundesly Pulling (with Waxham), Hillington, Sedgy, all in Norfolk and Somerton East and West, Sutton, Thorpe Market, Trunch Walcot, Winterton and Whitlingham Walsham, Walsham North, Walsham South, Westwick and Worstead.

Mr. W. Rye has copied Felmingham & Swanington, Norfolk, and Mr. R. G. Rye has copied Bilneam, Norfolk, something printed.

Should any of your readers of the names of Vincent or Howard, come from the city of Norwich, Norfolk, England, I have several hundred of these names from the Church records of said city, which I will gladly supply if interested of the parish, or if any of the same name as myself are from Norwich, Gloucester, or Norwich city, I shall be pleased to hear from them and give all the information I possess.

Trusting you will pardon me taking up so much of your valuable space, believe me to remain yours truly,

F. W. ATKIN.

Board of Equalization.

The territorial board of equalization held no regular session this morning, but simply sat and transacted some committee business. Secretary Dennis is now engaged "working up" the assessment errors and in all probability a report will be forthcoming for publication next Monday.

Insane Asylum Board Report.—Gasoline Fire.—Bicycle Fund for July 18.—Brackett.—Sheriffs.

Special Correspondence.

PROVO, June 10.—The Territorial Insane Asylum board was in session yesterday. Minutes for the month of May, amounting to $1,695.59, and current expenses, $2,764.00, were approved. The executive committee was authorized to have the asylum roof repaired, and to have the road behind the asylum moved further back into the mountains, the gravel and rock to be hauled away by Provo city and Utah county.

Dr. W. R. Pike, the medical superintendent of the asylum, reported the movements of patients in May as follows:

	Males	Females	Totals
Patients in asylum May 1	92	92	184
Admitted	2	2	4
Under treatment	94	94	188
Discharged	—	—	—
Died	1	0	1
Remain	93	94	187

In connection with this matter I wish to call the attention of the board to the fact that the larger portion of the cases being sent to the asylum are old, chronic cases for which there are no possible hope of recovery—many of them aged and suffering from senile dementia. I am minded that a number that are in the asylum at the present time are here without regard to the law, which states that they shall not be cases of idiocy, incurably or simply feeble-minded insane—cases that should be cared for by the counties from which they come, and not by the Territory at large. If this class of patients continues to come in the future as they have done in the past it will not be long before the asylum will be filled with chronic cases. It is very evident to the asylum that this should be allowed, as it so increases the percentage of recoveries and largely increases the death-rate among those in care and keeping increased, for many of these cases are today, deteriorative of their vitality, and a great care is thus having charge of them. They require to be housed and fed just the like children, yet they are not charges on the farm to appeal to their people. These cases should be cared for by the county treasurers or other custodians (does contribute by the counties, as it does not seem proper that the asylum should be filled with chronic dementias, idiocies, eclampsias (except with insane), and simply feeble minded. All of these are practically incurable and not dangerous to attend. In classifying the patients now in the asylum the following statement is approximately correct:

	Males	Females	Totals
Epileptics	27	8	35
Chronic insane	7	7	14
Acute mania	3	1	4
Melancholia	4	1	5
Acute dementia	1	1	2
Chronic mania	1	1	2
Chronic dementia	34	12	46
Capacity insanity	17	15	32
Totals	93	94	187

On motion of C. E. Allen, the above report was referred to a special committee consisting of J. D. Jones, George Sutherland and Dr. W. R. Pike, with instructions to report at the next meeting.

Also, on motion of Mr. Allen, the medical superintendent was instructed to write to the probate judges of the several counties calling their attention to the class of patients which should not be committed to the asylum under the laws of the Territory.

NOTES.

A gasoline fire occurred at the residence of Mr. Simon E. Cluff on Thursday night. Mrs. Cluff left home early in the evening, after having turned the gasoline stove, and under the impression that the gasoline had been turned off. On returning at 11 o'clock, however, there was a strong smell of gasoline in the frame kitchen where the stove was. She lit the lamp and immediately the whole room blazed up. Neighbors came to the house and as soon as the gasoline vapor had burned out, the fire was easily extinguished with a few buckets of water. The damage was slight, the woodwork being scorched and the room smoked a little.

Robert Skelton, a local consul of the National Woodmen's league, has received a communication from C. A. Ingles, Territorial chief consul, of Salt Lake City, in relation to a 101 mile woodmen's relay trip from Salt Lake City to Provo and return, carrying a message from the mayor of the capital to the mayor of the Garden city and returning the answer. The members will relay by pairs in stages of five miles. Provo's division is from Pleasant Grove to Provo and return. The round trip is to be made in seven hours. On the 19th messengers leaving Salt Lake at 3 a. m. and returning at 4 p. m. The date proposed is July 18th.

The Provo baseball team went to Wasatch, Wasatch county, yesterday to play the club of that town. A dance was given in the evening.

W. P. Bennett is making arrangements to run the Provo Street railway and the Provo skating court this season.

Enoch Davis, the wife murderer, was to have been executed yesterday, but the delays of the law which have become proverbial saved his life a second time.

Howard H. Driggs, who teaches the "young idea" of Pleasant Grove "how to shoot," was presented at the close of school with an ebony writing desk and a gold pen by his pupils.

"Jim" Carter, of this city, while on the way to Eureka, stopped off at Payson, where his actions were so peculiar that he was looked up on the supposition that he was suffering from insanity. He will be brought back to Provo for examination. Carter has been a hard drinker for years, and he was recently divorced from his wife.

Bowman's Indebtedness.

At an informal meeting of the joint city and county building committee held last evening, Contractor Bowman, according to orders, submitted a statement of his indebtedness in connection with the building of the joint structure. It was as follows:

Diamond Brand Cloth Stone company, for sale and material on stone	$ 1,242 [illegible]
A. J. Dickinson, stone	7 50
Utah Lime company, lime	8 [illegible]
Hendrie, Bolthoff & Marsh, 10 per cent retained on mason work, Mr. Bowman's contract as per contract	1,831 75
Carbon Brick company, brick, Mr. Bowman's contract, per cent of value of materials, as per contract (approximate)	1,214 [illegible]
Colorado Fuse and Steel company, wire rope	34 40
E. R. Dunn & company, stone cars	1,276 [illegible]
Lynch & Boyd, mason work (approximate)	4[illegible] [illegible]
Total	$10,014 [illegible]

The matter of non-assistance was referred to Cabinet & Lowbourow.

Another Suit Against the City.

In the Third District court today John Eddins and Harriet Eddins, his wife, brought suit against Salt Lake City, claiming $10,000 damages for personal injuries.

The complaint set forth that on the 16th of August, 1891, the defendants were operating a steam motor on First West street, between First and Second south. The plaintiffs were driving in a spring wagon along that thoroughfare and the horse, becoming frightened at the "slightest noise" occasioned by the engine, commenced to bore and rear. The man in charge of the roller took no steps to stop the noise, the animal ran away and tipped the vehicle over. Plaintiffs were thrown to the ground, against a telephone pole. Mrs. Eddins was severely injured and it is stated, is still physically disabled. A large sum of money has been expended in medical treatment.

Mattson Ferguson and John M. Cannon are the plaintiffs' attorneys.
