WINDOW GLASS WORKERS.

Questions Asked by them as to the Prospect for Establishing a Plant.

Acting Mayor Beardsley has received the following from Ottawa, Illinois:

I represent in this epistle a number of skilled window glass workers, who, having some money of their own, are desirous of interesting some outside capital with us in the manufacture of window glass. Our attention has been directed to the discovery of natural gas at Ogden, and I have been instructed to write you making inquiry of the advantages your city can offer for the manufacture of window glass. What natural inducements have you to offer? Have you natural gas? What pressure to the inch? Have you silica, lime, sulphate of soda or salt cake? Have you coal? What amount of glass yearly will your city demand? What is the very lowest you can buy glass by car lot in your city at this date? At about what figure can coal (slack or not) be put down at the works for? What inducements can your place offer in the way of land to build upon, free gas or cash bonus to the company that will expend $5,000 in buildings and equipments and give employment to five or more men, and do a business of from $15,000 to $20,000 per month?

The above are a few of the points we would like information upon. Mr. Mayor, if you will kindly place this in the hands of your board of trade, or where it will receive some attention, you will oblige yours respectfully.

CALL. L. CARTWELL.

The letter has been referred to the chamber of commerce for action.

Local Failures for January.

Following is Bradstreet's report of business failures in Utah during the month of January:

During the month of January, 1893, there were twenty failures in Utah, with liabilities of $222,345, and actual assets of $140,425.

In the corresponding month of last year there were ten failures with liabilities of $130,000 and assets $53,850. The increase is very heavy, apparently, but is in fact represented largely by one failure, the liabilities of which assumed extraordinarily large proportions for this community. Leaving this out, a comparison shows that although the failures have been greater in number, they were principally of the smaller class, and would not affect the general tone of business.

HAROLD M. PITT, Superintendent.

Mask Ball Notes.

A large number of inquiries regarding invitations to the masked ball have been received by the secretary of the Press Club. The impression has become quite prevalent that tickets will only be sold to persons to whom invitations have been issued. The fact is that the ball is not an invitation affair and all who can pass the examining committee can secure tickets, either from members of the Press club or at the Utah Book & Stationery Company's store. The price is $3 per couple including supper. One dollar will be the figure for each extra lady.

On the day following the night of the ball—Valentine's eve—a concert and dancing matinee will be given in the Theater for the express benefit of children who, of course, will not be permitted to attend the masked ball. The small admission fee of twenty-five cents will be charged the children and ladies. Gentlemen will be asked for half a dollar each before they are allowed to pass and gaze upon the grand spectacle within.

Monticello Co-op.

Articles of incorporation of the Monticello Co-operative Mercantile, Manufacturing and Stock Raising Company have been filed in the office of Territorial Secretary Sells. The business of the association is set forth in its title. The principal place of business will be at Monticello, Utah. The capital stock is $20,000. The incorporators are: A. P. Sherensen, president; George W. Johnson, vice-president; Chas. L. Walton, secretary; A. P. Sherensen, treasurer; F. J. Jones, D.H. Dalton and Nephi Bailey, directors.

The Contempt of Court Cases Decided. —The Hawaiian Commission En Route.—Other Paragraphs.

[Ogden Standard.]

The contempt of court cases against Solomon C. Stephens, W. J. Stephens, John Hill, C. S. Root and Frank Carr have been decided by Judge Miner in the Fourth district court. Each of the defendants was found guilty and given a light sentence, considering the seriousness of the charge. Solomon C. Stephens, on the first charge, was fined $5 and on the second $50, to remain in the county jail one day for each dollar unpaid. W. J. Stephens, on the first charge, was fined $5, and on the second $50, and to remain in jail one day for each dollar unpaid. John Hill, on the first charge, was fined $5 and on the second charge acquitted. C. S. Root was found not guilty on the first charge and was ordered imprisoned in the county jail five days on the second charge. Frank Carr was acquitted on the first case, but inasmuch as he had fired at an officer in the discharge of his duty, he was ordered to be imprisoned five days in the county jail and to pay a fine of $500 in the second case. The attorneys for the defense moved for an appeal to the supreme court of the Territory, but the motion was overruled. A five days' stay of execution was granted, however, and during that time the defense will prepare the necessary papers to carry the cases to the supreme court, presumably on a writ of habeas corpus.

The Hawaiian commission to Washington arrived in Ogden yesterday morning on the Southern Pacific passenger at 8:15 o'clock and continued east over the Union Pacific at 9 o'clock. Washington will be reached on Friday morning. The party of distinguished statesmen is accompanied by several Pacific coast celebrities and a large corps of press representatives. The gentlemen comprising the commission are Lorrin A. Thurston, William Chauncey Wilder, William R. Castle and Charles L. Carter. They represent the provisional government now in power and will lay before Congress the project of the annexation of the Sandwich Islands to the United States.

Some time ago J. H. Myers sued the Board of Education to recover three hundred and fifty dollars paid by him to the employes of John Heddernman, stone sub-contractor on the Grant avenue school building, on the ground that the money which should have been in the bank to pay the checks cashed had been attached by parties directly connected with the board. On Saturday the demurrer of the defendant was sustained, and yesterday the plaintiff decided not to amend his complaint and judgment was given in favor of the defendant.

The firm of Brummitt & Greene are making extensive preparations to accommodate the influx of families which they anticipate the erection of the C. P. and Rio Grande railroad shops and the building of the smelter will bring to Ogden. For this purpose they have bought and placed King's addition on the market. In the last few days they have applied for building permits, to erect houses on and near the above addition.

The Grant avenue school building is fast nearing completion. The contractors tided over the trouble with the painters and now have a large force of workmen on the building. Mr. Hart, who has a practical superintendence of the building, thinks it will be completed and ready for occupancy by February 15th.

The city recorder was yesterday besieged by clamoring merchants anxious to get rebates on their unexpired licenses, under the provisions of the repealing ordinance passed at Monday night's session. They were informed that when the ordinance has been approved and published their petitions may be in order.

The Union Pacific has made a change in the service between Ogden and Salt Lake, to take effect his morning. The passenger heretofore leaving the capital at 8:40 a. m. will hereafter leave at 11:15 p. m.

Today the Union Pacific ice house will be full and the doors sealed to await the coming of summer. The capacity of the house is 4000 tons. The quality of the ice is very superior to last year's supply.

The county court met yesterday. But little business of any public interest was transacted. Several appointments of road supervisors were made and a number of petitions were referred.

The damage done by Monday night's fire to the Union Pacific yards will reach fully $2,000.

PROVO LETTER.

A Railway Franchise Forfeited.—Fight Between an Italian and a Postmaster.

[Special Correspondence of the News.]

PROVO, Jan. 31.—At last night's session of the City Council, the following items of business were transacted:

A protest was entered by citizens against the removal of an electric light from Seventh and M streets to Seventh and L streets. The former action of the council was reconsidered and the order revoked.

A number of remittances and abatements of water taxes of aged and indigent persons was made.

The application of Samuel Richards for the position of superintendent of waterworks was referred to the mayor.

The committee on printing and engrossing reported that the revising and compiling of the city ordinances would cost $500, and the printing of same $400 or $500 more. The committee on judiciary were instructed to make investigations as to the best method of procedure for doing such work, and as to competent persons for doing same. It was incidentally suggested that several other towns in Utah county were intending to revise their ordinances, and by joining in the work, the cost might be less.

Councilor Irvine represented that the firemen had proffered to lay the floor in the new Firemen's hall, and on this motion the committee were instructed to provide them with the required material.

A resolution was presented by Mr. Probert, forfeiting the franchise of the Utah, Nevada & California railroad to run through certain streets of Provo City. The franchise was granted January 3rd, 1891, and the road has performed no work since that time. The resolution was adopted.

On motion of Councilor Farrer, the matter of appointing one man to fill the two offices of road supervisor and watermaster was referred to the mayor.

Mr. Holdaway moved that the two offices of chief of fire department and superintendent of waterworks be combined. Motion lost.

NOTES.

Bishop Whitney is expected down from Salt Lake to address the Saints on Sunday next.

Charles D. Grossbeck, of Springville, and Margaret L. Hill, of Wellsville, Cache county, were yesterday married by Judge Jones.

J. E. Cotter has been granted a divorce from Sarah E. Cotter, by Judge Blackburn, on the grounds of desertion and adultery.

The business of the saloons of the city is growing less. The Senate saloon closed its doors, and the Council has moved into less expensive quarters.

The O. R. T. of the Territory are preparing to open the Houghworth hall in this city on Washington's birthday with a grand ball. A special will be run from Ogden on the occasion.

John Gardner, a boy of fifteen years, has been brought to Provo from Springville to be examined before Judge Blackburn as to his qualification for entering the Reform school. It is claimed that he is a kleptomaniac.

Lu Lee, the withered up Celestial charged with selling liquor at Thompson's Springs, without a government license, has been bound over by Commissioner Hills to await the action of the grand jury.

Reese Morgan, of Goshen, and Miss Essie Love, of Tennessee, have taken out a license to marry. Their acquaintanceship has been less than a week. The meeting was brought about by an aunt of Miss Love, who came to Utah and married a Goshen man recently, in response to an advertisement in a matrimonial paper.

Dr. John Collins is achieving notoriety as a bad, bad drunk. On Saturday, while under the influence of liquor, he threatened and abused his wife, and when arrested by the police he had to be handcuffed and his feet tied. The doctor's bondsman was left in the lurch to the extent of $100.

Word has been received from T. H. Cluff of this city, M. I. missionary to Arizona, that he and his fellow missionary had a very perilous trip in crossing the bay from San Francisco to Oakland. Twice was the boat nearly tipped on to her beam ends. Passengers were frightened, and ran here and there, seized life preservers and yelled in their terror. One man, in his fright, fell dead upon the deck. The missionaries, when they landed, felt very thankful for their safe deliverance.

There was a slight sensation in the postoffice yesterday afternoon. An angry Italian was expostulating with the postmaster concerning his mail, suddenly the man's hand darted through the delivery window and came in contact with Postmaster McClaskin's face. The postmaster did shot out twice in quick succession. Bystanders interfered or something more serious might have occurred. The Italian was led away, and contented himself with making a complaint before Justice Wedgewood. The postmaster made a counter charge before U. S. Commissioner Dudley.
