WHY SO CHANGEABLE?

Brokers in a Quandary With Reference to Mammoth and Northern Light.

CANNOT EXPLAIN THEIR MOVEMENTS.

Reasons Assigned by Knowing Ones—Lincoln Mine Bonded—Gold Mountain's New Road—Miscellaneous.

Dabblers in mining stocks generally, are in a quandary as to the actual condition of the local market, especially as it applies to Mammoth and Northern Light. For the past two or three days these stocks have been guilty of fluctuations of the strangest sort, the former going down "like grass before the mower," and the latter going up like a dry haystack kindled by a small boy with his last match. Even those who are usually on the right side of the market plead ignorance as to why such things should be, and in their pleadings some venture one thing and some another, but neither, however, with a certainty that would lead the wandering inquirer to take to any of them and put down that such and such must certainly be the reason.

For instance: Guessers as to why Mammoth went down attributed the shaky condition to the prospective purchase by the Mammoth company of the New East Tintic railway, a road which it is said would have no particular excuse for living were it not for the traffic furnished by the Mammoth company. Then again the wise men say that the company's mill is to be closed down, and that these two matters will ultimate against regular dividend payments to the extent that they will be cut off for an indefinite period, despite the company's recent resolve to distribute profits regularly every month during the current year, and perhaps a similar succeeding period. These causes are said to have produced the effects now so much in evidence, but to the probability of either merging into the materialistic, the company's officers shake their heads and say: "We know nothing of it."

Northern Light's rapid advance is more a mystery than ever. Only two months ago the stock was burdened with an assessment, which felled it with a suddenness almost paralytic. In this condition it lay, and has remained during the period mentioned, and at one time it fell as low as five cents a share, with very few takers at the figure. Now, however, the assessment has been completely removed, every vestige of it, and the stock taken a turn for the better. Knowing ones venture no particular reasons for its sudden rise, which has exceed be the fall primed in that spring is here and that with it comes a return of prosperity, so to speak, to the Northern Light company. They say the company has immense ore bodies blocked out ready for a resumption at the mill, and that present climatic conditions will make its latter possible in the opening up of the season, which, during the winter, has been hampered in its progress by the severe attack of Jack Frost and his little army of sparkling soldiers. The employment of Mr. Lang as superintendent is also looked upon as a good omen, as the gentleman is a thoroughwaking man, well versed in all the intricacies of western mining progress and development, and will undoubtedly do good service. In saying this they do not desire to cast reflections upon the retiring official, as that gentleman is thought to have done as well as could be under the circumstances.

ON THE EXCHANGE.

In the pit today the stocks above mentioned continued their surprising fluctuations, one going down, the other up. No business was done in Mammoth but the stock had to lose 1c at 31.06, while offerings were readily made at 31.06. Northern Light on the other hand, made somewhat advance and sold with unchecked dexterity at 31 and 31½ cents, 4,000 shares changing hands at these figures, and the stock receiving a closing bid of 30½ cents.

In a regular way, Ajax found itself about stationary with a bid of 32 cents. Bullion-Beck was also motionless and cut little figure, while Post Ave showed a slight improvement but failed totally to come out in the trading. Grover-Marion hovered around its old position of the day before and was dealt in with freedom at 1.05, the sales at this figure amounting to 800 shares. Galena advanced a trifle in the bidding, but was not a seller, while Mercur maintained a stationary position. Overland recorded an improvement and Ontario was eagerly sought after at $2.30 but could not be bought. Barcelona was practically unchanged in the figures and did a little business at 42 cents at which price it was asked at the close. Chloride Point was fairly strong on the call, while the Swansea maintained good figures, and Grand Central was in the bidding for it at 62, but could not be had even at this figure. As a whole, the market was in better shape at the close of the day's call was productive of good business.

The closing figures were as follows:

LINCOLN MINE BONDED.

Voorhees, Thomas and Others to Develop the Property.

The old Lincoln gold mine on Rotter creek, in Amador county, has been bonded for four years at $200,000, says the San Francisco Chronicle. It will be worked by such well-known men as Leland Stanford, C. C. Voorhees and F. F. Thomas of the Gwin, C. R. Downs, son of its old-time owner, R. C. Downs, and T. J. Clavering, a son of one of the largest stockholders in the original company, when it yielded during that time $1,500,000. In 1873 the Lincoln was sold to the present proprietors for $400,000, and they erected a forty-stamp mill and constructed a ditch seventeen miles long to operate it. For the next five years the mine produced $900,000, but was then shut down, owing to differences between the Scotch shareholders and the superintendent, and it has practically remained idle ever since.

The Lincoln mine is now much in the same condition as was the Kennedy when F. F. Thomas took hold of it and made it the magnificent success which it afterwards proved. If the development justify it, a forty-stamp mill will be erected, and, after paying the expense of mining and milling the ore, one-half of the net profits will be placed in escrow with the Bank of California to be applied on the payment of the $200,000 named upon as the price of the property. The new corporation to manage the Lincoln Gold Mine Development company, and all of its capital stock of $1,500,000 has been taken. Senator C. C. Voorhees is president; C. R. Downs, vice president; T. J. Clavering, secretary, and F. F. Thomas and F. A. Voorhees additional directors.

California Companies.

The Temescal Gold Mining company has been incorporated at San Francisco by C. B. Tilley, J. E. Stock, J. F. Hollint, F. Mathieson and H. W. Gray. The capital stock is $1,000,000, of which $250 has been subscribed. The California Mining and Trading company has also incorporated with a capital stock of $500,000, of which $310 has been subscribed. The directors are J. H. Kendall, C. W. Ormsby, F. H. Barnes, John Tauhel and E. C. Loftus.

Delegates to Salt Lake.

The executive committee of the California Miners' association met last evening (Monday) to consider the matter of having California properly represented at the miners' convention, which is to convene at Salt Lake City on July 11th. President Neff was authorized to appoint the delegates just as soon as the appointment of delegates is decided. It is intended to have California well represented at the mining convention and the delegations will be selected from all of the mining counties in the state. There was some further agitation of the question of having a Federal department of mines and mining, the head of the department to be a member of the President's cabinet. The committee having the matter under consideration was instructed to proceed with the work of urging congressional action through the members of the California delegation in Congress.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Gold Mountain's New Road.

John Fullmer, Martin Reinhimer and George S. Smith, Marysville's three enterprising merchants, have concluded to build a good wagon road that will permit of easy travel all the way from Marysvale to the Revier mine on Gold Mountain; enabling the miner in any part of that locality to drive to the Vale, load up with supplies and return to camp easily in one day. Not only have these three gentlemen decided to do this, but they will begin work on the enterprise as soon as the frost has left the ground in a working condition, some time next month. Just about $1,000 will pay for this revenue connection, most of the road necessarily being dugway. It is probable that Messrs. Fullmer, Reinhimer and Smith will receive aid from other sources and will not have to pay the entire $1,000 themselves. All the way from Marysvale up to the Brecken-ridge Pass, and on the Revier gradual, the hardest climb on the whole route being the hill south of the Blue Bird; and as this will be avoided by the teamster drives from Gold Mountain to the Vale, generally with an empty wagon, it will not be a serious obstacle.—Richfield Advocate.

Dips and Spurs.

Silver, 55½; lead, $2.50.

The Sacramento company paid its $5,000 dividend today.

Hon. F. T. Farnsworth is expected back from Nevada on Saturday.

The Utah mine at Fish Springs has a 17-ton car of ore in transit to this city.

Grover-Marion will pay its two-cent dividend, amounting to 36,000, tomorrow.

The lead has been discovered on the Ada mines, five miles south of Grand Encampment. The mine now shows a splendid ore body.

Recent developments have proved that there are millions of feet of ore in the Big Van Winkle mines on Copper Hill, Wyo. Then mineral averages $4 to the ton.

The American Gold and Copper Mining company, operating on Lion Mountain, Wyo., is about to put in a custom smelter and other necessary machinery at their properties, preparatory to a season of great activity.

Richfield Advocate: Tom Gillan is carrying a piece of free gold quartz found on the claim of Orville Stewart's well, dug at Marysvale four years ago. The rock is an isolated piece of float that somehow came from the hills above, and was covered with about fifteen feet of soil.

Will S. Brown, of the Mercur directory, leaves for his home at Fremont, Neb., this evening. The gentleman will return in about two weeks, when he will go on to Cherry Creek, Nev., for the purpose of superintending operations in making repairs at the North Mountain company's property, prior to starting up for the season.

COMMERCIAL.

New York, March 31.—Prices slumped at the opening of the stock market today, practically all the leading speculative properties and groups showing losses of between 1 and 2 points. Union Pacific preferred was off 2¾ and Sugar 2¾. The decline did not entirely wipe out all of yesterday's net gains, but in many leading stocks the closing was firm.

In London Americans showed some losses early, but later dropped heavily on selling said to be New York account. Heavy buying orders rallied the market, recoveries reaching two points in some of the speculative issues to 1½ in the railroads. The advance was interrupted temporarily with a marked decline in activity, but the upward course was resumed before the end of the House. The upward movement became vigorous after the first hour and individual transactions were on a large scale. The Grangers, Sugar, and Tobacco shares were the most prominent in the trading. The market generally recovered to yesterday's closing level and in some cases above it.

Near noon prices sagged slightly on realizing.

Millard County Happenings.

Fillmore, March 28, 1898.

To the Editor:

Something of the old-time spirit of self-help has been shown during the last three months by the people of Hinckley precinct, located in the northwest section of Millard county, which deserves notice as a commendable example of united effort. The energetic citizens of that precinct wanted a bridge across the Sevier river, to save them about five miles of travel via Deseret to the depot at Oasis, and also to the Brownsville districts in the foothills; and of course they had their eye to business travel also. In mass meeting they appointed a bridge committee, consisting of Mahonri Bishop, J. C. Wood and Arthur Tullen. These men did not stand upon the dignity of appointment, but went to work like beavers, and knowing the weak financial condition of the county, they modestly asked and obtained assistance from that source to the extent of $100 worth of lumber. They now have in use a good, substantial bridge similar to that at Deseret, which cost the county township like $1,400.

Hinckley has a population of 300 people, all farmers, whose quality may be judged by the above description of their works. When they want something they go to work with brain, muscle, and means and get it.

We continue to have our weekly snowstorms here, which make the roads in bad condition and prevent anxious farmers from putting in their grain crops.

Last Monday Elders F. M. Lyman and J. H. Kinball arrived at Kanosh from Deseret during the worst snowstorm; and on Tuesday, the 22nd, in the forenoon, they held meeting in that ward. The boys turned out en masse to welcome them and attend the ordination of Elder C. F. Christensen (who for some months had been acting by appointment) as Bishop of the Kanosh ward, under the hands of Elder Lyman and the presidency of the stake, with Jas. H. Gardner and Joseph Robison as his counselors. Then a six-mile drive through the mud and snow we had to Meadow, and a meeting was held at 2 p.m.; then another ashow through the mud was made, eight miles, to Fillmore, and on Wednesday evening meeting was held and both Elders addressed the congregation. Thursday morning the Elders left Fillmore with the Forty-second quorum of Seventies, and gave them much clear and pointed instruction; and in their absence afterwards coming on to Holden to continue the work, Elder Lyman remained, going around amongst old friends, and warming them up with a pleasant grip and words of counsel. Saturday morning the usual Priesthood meeting was held with Elder Lyman also present, and at 2 p.m. he met with the High Council in a lengthy session. Yesterday (Sunday) he attended Sunday school in the forenoon and at 2 p.m. he faced a well-filled meeting house, and for an hour and thirty minutes talked in that characteristic and logical manner upon the principles of the Gospel which strike to people after they get out of meeting. Directly after the meeting he departed for Holden, ten muddy miles away, and held meeting in the evening at that place, and Monday will continue his journey toward Salt Lake.

It may interest some of your readers to know that the lady who a few years ago did considerable literary work in Utah of the initials of M. A. Y. G., has sold her property in this county and has left the state with her husband, Mr. Ent, and in future will reside in California.

Arrested and Afterwards Released.

Yesterday afternoon on a message from Constable Frank G. Hyatt of Alameda, Cala., Detective Rabbeth arrested C. F. Christensen at his room in the Pleasanton house, this city. Constable Hyatt was informed of his arrest and replied that he would come after him. This morning, however, a message came to the police station asking the department to collect $25 and costs and escape the man. It is alleged that he embezzled a man named Keesbon of Alameda of that amount. To this request, Chief Pratt wired back that the Salt Lake police department was not a collection agency and that he had released Von Bergen. In accordance with this, the prisoner was released, although he volunteered to pay the money exacted by Constable Hyatt, however, Chief Pratt refused to take.

BABY'S Terrible ECZEMA Speedily Cured By CUTICURA

My baby was about four weeks old when he began to suffer from that terrible disease, Eczema. I tried every remedy I thought would do him good. I even called in the doctor who told me it would wear away in time, but I could not see any improvement. I did not know what to do with him. He cried all the time and his face was equal to a raw piece of meat, it was horrible, and looked as if there was never any skin on it. I had to carry him around on a pillow. I was fairly discouraged. I was then recommended to use CUTICURA REMEDIES. The first time I used them I could see the change. I used about half a box of CUTICURA OINTMENT, and one half cake of CUTICURA SOAP, and at the end of one week my baby was entirely cured. There has never been a trace of it since, today his skin is as smooth and soft as a piece of silk. MRS. J. C. PRESSE, Feb. 21, '98. 249 Bra. 1st St., Brooklyn, E. D.

MOTHERS! To know that a warm bath with CUTICURA SOAP, a single application of CUTICURA, the great skin cure, and a single dose of Cuticura Resolvent, the new blood purifier, will prove to be the most distressing of infancy, childhood, and youth relieving, and the skin, scalp, and blood purifier, of the skin and scalp, with loss of hair, and to be sure that they will do this, is to fail in your duty. This treatment is so simple and yet so far-reaching as will at once afford rest, and a good night's sleep for the child, and be a great relief and refreshing sleep for mother, and be pure, sweet, safe, speedy, and economical.

City Council.

There was a special meeting of the city council held last evening and the following business was transacted:

Mrs. Amanda M. Knight presented a communication setting forth that she had given a piece of land, situated on capitol hill, to the First and Fourth ecclesiastical wards for a park, this ground was not so favorably located for a park as some other ground belonging to the city, and Mrs. Knight asked to be permitted to purchase, at a reasonable price, this ground from the city with the intention of giving it to the wards for a park in place of a piece she had previously donated. The matter was referred to a joint committee consisting of the committee on public grounds and city property, President Bosh, and Messrs. Beesley and McKendrick, who will report at the meeting of the council Monday evening.

The committee on license reported favorably upon the matter of the application of Leslie Swan for a saloon license. They had satisfied themselves that R. M. Duggins was not connected with Mr. Webb's proposed saloon business and had obtained a written statement from Mr. Webb to the effect that Mr. Duggins was not connected with him and would not be. The report was accepted and upon motion of Mr. Martin the license was granted by a vote of 5 to 4.

The question of whether little 8 of the cadets who participated in the affrays shall bear a statement on their face stating that they are drawn within the debt limit, upon the city warrants was referred to the city attorney.

The question of whether saloons in the city were violating the Sunday ordinance by having partitions between the room where liquor is sold and a room in front of it, was also referred to the city attorney and marshal.
