PARSONS THE WINNER.

Decision In The Ensign Mining Company's Suit Favoring Plaintiff.

NUMBER OF OTHER CASES DECIDED.

Judges Hiles, Cherry and Norrell All Hold Court Judge—Mrs. M. Colmes Wants a Divorce.

Judge Hiles delivered an opinion for the in the case of Charles C. Parsons vs the Ensign Mining and Milling company, finding for the plaintiff.

Parsons, who is said to be the lawyer attorney of Samuel McCleary, sued the former company as to recover the number of shares, alleged that he expended 10,000 shares of stock. He further alleged that he had never been allowed any representation upon the board of directors, due to the fact that Lamoreaux controlled most of the stock. He also alleged that Lewis succeeded, by the aid of his wife and other friends, and could himself has entered and had control the mill entirely in his own interest. He further set out that Washington Lamoreaux, Thomas Tuckett, A. E. Hyde and W. H. McCleary, did not pay additional stock to be of the others had by them and that all their acts were therefore void.

Parsons asked that Charles Lamoreaux be compelled to give an accounting of the money received from the sale of stock, $1,200, and that an accounting of the mill be made and that the court decree a chart listed March 8, 1893, be set aside.

The court finds that the act of the board of directors calling Charles Lamoreaux a salary for 1891, is void, as the proof shows that he was a director and had not side work necessary as early the reason, providing for such salary, and therefore it was a fraud in law.

The same rule, the court finds, applies to the meeting of March 8, 1893, at which an increase of two years a share was issued.

The acts of the board for 1897 and 1898, the court holds, were ratified at the regular stockholders' meeting June 11, 1898.

Judge Hiles further finds from the evidence that A. E. Hyde owed Mrs. Lamoreaux $1,000 on June 10, 1898, and F. E. McKinney should be equally bin to act as a director of the company.

As to whether Lamoreaux is entitled to a salary for services as general manager for 1891 and for January, February, March and May of 1898, Judge Hiles holds, is not a matter to be decided in this action.

KLONDYKE WINS.

In the case of Michael Klondyke vs S. Hurst, Judge Hiles today rendered a decision in favor of the plaintiff.

Action in this case was brought to quiet title to the Jupiter lode mining claim, in the West Mountain mining district. The contention of the defendant was that plaintiff had not done more than $100 work on the claim from the date of its location in 1893 till 1895. The court, however, finds from the testimony that Kinney, who did work on the Jupiter claim, before he bought an interest in it in 1895, and that the work was done for J. D. Lamb, the grantee of locator Joseph Homebolter.

ALSO FAVORS PLAINTIFF.

Judge Hiles also rendered a decision today in the case of James H. Holbrook, assignee, vs Wilhelmina Kalstrom et al., finding for the plaintiff, but ordering that the defendants have an accounting according to the agreements and receipt of their answer.

Plaintiff, as assignee of the People's Savings and Loan association, brought suit against the defendants to foreclose a mortgage, given by defendant Wilhelmina Kalstrom, as stockholder of the association, for the sum of $1,500. Defendant had thirty shares of stock in the association, which was given as collateral security on the loan. She was to pay $10 per month, $1,210 of which was for interest, $1,750 per month on account of procedures, and the remaining $10 as dues on her stock. Defendant made thirty-three monthly payments and then defaulted. Thereafter the association failed and made an assignment to the plaintiff. Prior to this however, suit had been brought by the association to foreclose the mortgage, and demurrer to the complaint having been sustained and plaintiff not amending, the case was dismissed. The present suit was pleaded as res judicata. The defendant, Josephine Johnson, answered separately, alleging that she had acquired title to the property in question under a tax sale. Plaintiff took the position that the judgment of dismissal in the former case was not judicata, because not on the merits, and contended that the tax sale to Johnson was void by reason of many defects in the proceedings.

Judge Hiles finds that the judgment of the Third district court of the Territory of Utah, which was pleaded to bar to the suit, was not upon the merits. On the issue the court finds for the plaintiff.

As to the tax title, which was set up by defendant Johnson, Judge Hiles finds that the authority to that lose than the whole of the land was offered for sale at the tax sale.

On the matters set up by the defendants, Ballstrom and Alexander, which they averred the amount of money for which they were entitled to credit as against plaintiff's claim, the court finds it constitutes a good defense pro tanto, and if upon an accounting these moneys and those paid were to be true, the defendants should be credited with them, and for this purpose Judge Hiles says there should be an accounting.

MOTION IS OVERRULED.

Judge Hiles today overruled the motion of plaintiff to vacate and set aside an order in the case of R. W. Morrison et al vs S. E. Vance. The case now stands for a new trial.

In the case of Nellie S. Smith vs M. Schwartz, demurrer to answer overruled.

JUDGMENT FOR DEFENDANT.

Judgment for the defendant was ordered entered by Judge Hiles today in the case of The Salt Lake Financial association vs George T. Walker.

This was a suit to quiet title to an alleged lot north of the Salt Lake Theater. The case was tried on the 5th of last month.

COMPLAINT OF CRUEL TREATMENT

After Nearly Thirty Years of Married Life Mrs. M. Colmes Wants a Separation.

Marinella Colmes filed a suit for divorce against William M. Colmes in the Third district court today, alleging that the marriage took place in this city March 1st, 1868, and that for more than a year past defendant has failed to provide her with the common necessaries of life, and has also been guilty of cruel treatment.

The complaint sets forth that there are now living of the issue six children, the oldest of whom is twenty-five years and the youngest sixteen. The eldest son is a resident of Mexico, while another, Leo, is said to be a soldier in the service of the United States at Manila.

It is then set out that the defendant is a carpenter and bridge builder by occupation and is in receipt of good wages for work. He is also alleged to be the owner of two lots on 5th and 6th with a house thereon, known as the Third Ward, worth $1,000, and which rents for $15 per month. Also stock in the Parrott mine, worth $1,000, and which rents for $5 per month.

Also a personal fund and store building in Park South and Park Ward, worth $1,200, and which rents for $5 per month.

The rents in the two last named pieces of property are stated to exist in the name of both plaintiff and defendant, and all of the property, plaintiff alleges, was purchased out of the savings and accumulations of both.

Various sums of money are alleged, some, presumably defendant's action toward a period said.

Finally, prays for a divorce and the custody of the minor children, a reasonable allowance for the defendant out from or any any remaining the property, and for other relief.

Before Judge Norrell.

Judge Norrell and a jury have been occupied today hearing the case of Mary A. McLaren vs M. L. Gillespie et al, involving the ownership of certain personal property of certain goods taken by Gillespie as constable, under an attachment of Hiles alleged value, $150, and $100 damages.

Before Judge Cherry.

Judge Cherry and a jury have been on the Bench occupied with a suit of Hulda Thomas against Ezra Kelly.

Plaintiff alleges that while driving a bird of her along the Wood road, on the 20th of August, 1896, the front wheel of her wagon ran into a wagon box, thus precipitating her to the ground, breaking her arm and causing her other injuries.

Probate Orders.

In the matter of the estate of Hiles Eriksen, deceased, Judge Hiles filed his report today finding the amounts due the various heirs, and recommending their discharge and the administrator's bondsman. The report was approved.

In the matter of the estate of Julius of Nick Petersen, deceased, Judge made supporting decree of distribution and confirming report of commissioners.

District Court Notes.

Judge Hiles today continued the remaining cases in the South Temple street injunction suit until next Tuesday.

Alexander H. Harrell, a native of Scotland, and Richard Cornish of England were admitted to citizenship by Judge Hiles today.

After the publication in the case of Thos. W. Jennings et al vs O. P. Pratt et al, noted yesterday afternoon, on motion of Judge Cherry, a decree, which was granted by Judge Cherry.

Leonard Sperry and William T. Arnold, who alleged a marriage, were before Judge Norrell today to answer to the charge of fornication. Both were released on their own recognizance during good behavior and the pleasure of the court.

SUPPOSED NAIL ROBBERS.

Two Strange Men Present Checks at Local Banks for Payment.

For a couple of days past the police department has been trying to get hold of two strangers who have committed the Midland nail robbery.

Yesterday two suspicious characters appeared at the McCornick bank and presented a $60 check for payment, the same being in the name of a Mr. Wigglesworth. At yesterday's bid, born occupied on the check, the teller thought he had a match, and telling the man to wait a moment, he scooped to the telephone and summoned Detective Shortis, who before his return, the gentlemen were gone so, so that the officer arrived nothing on his arrival at the bank.

A little later, it is said, the same men presented a check at the Walker bank, with similar results, and yesterday afternoon it leaked out that at the New State earlier Monday night a check for $50 had been presented by a stranger, who, on taking to have it cashed, let it go at a loss of $10 furnished by Solomon Nelson, one of the proprietors.

The men are believed to be somewhere in this vicinity and a diligent search is being made for them, so that they can be posted where they belong—behind prison bars.

Woman's Exponent.

The current issue of the Woman's Exponent is replete with excellent things this week. The editorial department is as suitably paper and the discriminative and editorial treatment thereof is extreme. Herein do the editorial sisters, Mrs. Emmeline B. Wells, at small, much honor. Contents include the contents of the Woman's Exponent, as the current issue are the following:

The Silk Industry, U. W. P. C.—Ruth M. Fox, Art. pp. The Hospital of Austria—Mrs. Ellen Ketchum. The Marthas and Marys—Dinner. Relief Society Reports. In Memoriam. Dedication Day Exercises at Mill Creek—Francis M. Hansen. Based on Science—Josephine Spencer. Good Cheer—Priscilla—May Wright Sewall.

The article on the silk industry of the State is supposed to be enough of itself to recommend the paper to a test, as it is followed from Burlington, St. George, Salmon and elsewhere, by most competent writers and is worthy of attention. There is also an excellent poem by Polly Lemon and other choice things.

The Great Medicine that Gives Nerve Strength

Hood's Sarsaparilla Makes the Blood Rich and Pure, Creates an Appetite and Restores Health, Vigor and Vitality.

"I feel that I ought to write a few words in praise of Hood's Sarsaparilla, which has done great things for me. I was in a delicate condition and was sick at my stomach and constipated. I tried remedies highly recommended for female weaknesses, but the medicines brought on other troubles. I was so weak I could not attend to my household duties, and I then determined to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. After I had taken this medicine a short time I began to gain strength. I

OMAHA TO PORTLAND.

Main Offices of Oregon Short Line May be Moved to Omaha.

A REORGANIZATION CONTEMPLATED.

Remarks Made as to Numerous Changes in Railroad Affairs—The Welding of Two Big Systems in View.

A report is going the rounds of the railroad offices to the effect that the principal offices of the road, as shown to be in Portland and that the property and all to the managers of the Union Pacific railroad company is soon far-reaching than the officials, while here, were willing to admit. There is now no longer any doubt but that the Harriman is to wind again into practically one system and only the U. P., and the Short Line, but also the Oregon Railroad and Navigation company through the holdings of the Oregon Short Line and these make an system from Omaha to Portland.

At the general offices of the Short Line there are very waiting for the arrival of the Scott at the forthcoming meeting in Boston, it is generally hoped in some quarters that there will be a general reorganization of the affairs of the Short Line, involving changes with take place, and why not? Much pertaining to the working of the system as it now is will be left to the city, the Omaha, and the Portland officials. In the meantime all are waiting anxiously for the meeting in the east, and no one knows where the lightning will strike.

CONTROLLED BY THE VANDERBILTS.

An Eastern Road Brought Up at a Cost of Three Million Dollars.

New York, Oct. 18.—The World says: Patent facts have leaked in the city by which the Midland railroad running from Delaware Falls to Burlington, Vt., passed from the control of the Delaware and Hudson canal company into the hands of Percival W. Clement, Wm. K. Vanderbilt and Dr. W. Seward Webb. The price paid for the block of Midland stock is asserted to be $3,000,000.

While the road is only 138 miles in length it is claimed its sale will give the Vanderbilts in New England both at New York and Boston connection to western freight and traffic.

The road is one of the road will be built from Burlington, to Pemaquid Point or Lakeside Junction, where it will connect with the Grandstand and Lake Champlain, towards Atlantic and Grand Trunk, Canadian Pacific and Intercolonial roads.

It will connect with Montreal, probably by the grand trunk.

THEY HONORED HIS MEMORY.

A Tribute Paid to the Gallant Lafayette at an Outing by Prof. Dove.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon the faculty, students and friends of the Latter-day Saints' College assembled in the school room to listen to a fitting memorial prepared in honor of the gallant Lafayette, who did so much to aid the American people in their liberty and freedom which they now enjoy.

After the singing and prayer by Wilford Funk, Prof. Jos. F. Woodle gave the introductory address, in which he paid a glowing tribute to the memory of the great champion of liberty.

Miss Ethel Ward, Miss Tessie and Anna Mead, followed with a piano duet, which was heartily applauded and encored.

A well paper on the character and military ability of the great soldier, Lafayette, was read by Miss Adelia Thomson, William Dove delivered an address, "Lafayette." During his remarks, President Dove said: "We should give honor to Lafayette because he gave all that he had, he was the owner, and was ready to give his life to the great cause of freedom."

The exercises closed with the singing of Red, White and Blue. The closing prayer was offered by J. W. Harper.

MYTHS AND LEGENDS.

Pertaining to America. Ably Presented by Mrs. Wall.

At the Assembly Hall last evening Mrs. Emma Hanson Wall delivered her lecture, "Prehistoric America." The audience, while not large, was a select one, and the lecture was thoroughly enjoyed. The myths and legends of the primitive race of America are exceedingly interesting, and alone from an ethnological standpoint, but from that practical bearing on the life of the people's descendants. The speaker treated of the theories of the origin of the race in America in an impartial manner, and quoted many authorities, showing that she had made a careful and elaborate study of the subject in hand. Mrs. Wall concluded that the race was in no secondary place in antiquity no less than, and mythology was always the cradle of a primitive people, and a mirror of their minds thought and life. The lecture was a rare and useful branch of knowledge considered from any standpoint.

The evening Mrs. Wall will include at the Ladies' Literary Club on "Our Czar's Peace Proposal," and Thursday evening at the Assembly Hall on "The Legend of Lafayette." The lady is a talented woman and is just known to the general public for her book, "Beneath the Dakota." She will leave the city on Friday for Denver and the East.

ENGINES OF BLOODY WAR.

ject for serious consideration and one which the horses has bestowed much thought.

MAXIMUM CALIBER.

He says that up to the time the 12-inch gun, such as are mounted on the Oregon class, have been regarded as the best type for a battleship, but the development of the 13-inch gun has been so great, and so great so increased that it will be the maximum caliber, supplanted by an auxiliary battery of six and seven-inchers.

The reduction of weight in the 13-inch gun, as compared with the 12-inch gun is not great, being only seven and a half tons, but the reduction in cost, and consequently in the wealth of the Turpin, Sampson and commodities, is very great.

The thickness of the armor is also supplanted by a material gain in protection. Heretofore the Krupp Gerhard armor has been regarded as the strongest armor and Nickelin armor, more so than now armor possessing the qualities of the Krupp armor, improvements greatly made in the quality of the armor and of the necessity of distributing the protection over other parts of the ship's side than has been the case.

The result is of the opinion therefore, that it behoves will be the maximum thickness of the armor in the future.

After many difficulties the barons have succeeded in so far as securing a family armor system needed, and it is proposed to supply every one of the ships using the Krupp armor only for larger protection, and it is said so.

The sufficiency of the horses aggregate $2,000,000, the most important items being $1,000 for fast boat, reserve and auxiliary, $500,000 for conversion of six-inch guns and smokeless powder, $200,000 for reserve guns for auxiliary cruisers, and $1,000,000 for armor and armament for reserve good.

The Negro in War.

What doubt there may have been prevailing the question of the Negro as a fighting soldier has been swept away by the gallant conduct of all the colored troops in battle and cavalry, when led and cared by their white officers. The making of bloodhounds should be refused from the heavy properties of brass, and the officers. The gallant Twenty-fourth alone lost forty per cent of its men, and yet they charged up San Juan. The losses among the lost were almost equally heavy. The ninth regiment which, otherwise regiment which, otherwise regiment, which, otherwise regiment, which, otherwise regiment,
