

ED GREEN SAYS HE WILL LIVE

Victim of Murderous Assault Still Gives Evidence of Remarkable Vitality.

PHYSICIANS ARE PUZZLED.

They Say That the Man Cannot Possibly Recover. Bowen and Baker In Separate Cells.

With his skull fractured terribly in five places, with 12 scalp wounds and with bones broken in both hands and the left forearm fractured, Eddie Green, the junk dealer who was murdered Thursday night by Art Bowen and Dick Baker, still lives at St. Mark's hospital. The fact that the man is still alive and persists that he will recover is puzzling to the attending physicians. They say the man cannot possibly recover. They say that meningitis or brain fever is almost certain to set in and then death will ensue. But Green is still alive and is conscious. During the day he lapsed into a comatose state but only for a brief period.

Green, the other junk man who was beaten over the head with a towel roller, has sufficiently recovered to be able to leave the emergency hospital. He will suffer no serious results from the cowardly and brutal attack of the young thugs.

DECLARES HE WILL LIVE.

Efforts are still being made to secure a statement from Green and although he has been informed that he has practically no chance of recovery, he steadfastly refuses to entertain that idea and declares he will live. In addition to the pieces of bone taken from his brain, Dr. Stewart also extracted a lock of hair which had been driven into the brain by the hammer. The hair and dirt coming in contact with the brain are most likely to cause brain fever or meningitis, say the doctors. In fact the physicians marvel that such conditions do not now exist.

Young Bowen and Baker are still in the city jail, locked in separate cells. Bowen is unstrung and very nervous. He declares he did not realize what he was doing and says his downfall is the result of associating with bad company. No complaint against the pair has been made as yet and none will be filed until Green either dies or is on the road to recovery.

CONWAY GIVEN A "FLOATER."

Suspicious Character Is Given a Chance to Leave Town.

In Judge Diehl's court this morning Thomas Conway, charged with carrying a concealed weapon, was found guilty but sentence was suspended and Conway was given a "floater." He promised to leave town immediately.

George R. Elliott, the man arrested by Officer Lyon on the charge of burglarizing the Court saloon on the morning of Dec. 7, was given a preliminary hearing. Elliott was not represented

Catarrah A Blood Disease

Whether it manifests itself in the nose, throat, stomach, bowels or other organs, catarrah is a blood disease because it depends on impure blood. Therefore it must be treated with a blood medicine for a radical and permanent cure.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is the most successful. It purifies the blood, strengthens the stomach and other organs, and builds up the whole system. It radically and permanently cures.

The most easily developed form of Catarrah is Nasal Catarrah, in the treatment of which Hood's Sarsaparilla greatly aided by Antiseptics or Catarrhals, which afford prompt relief.

by counsel but was apparently able to conduct the defense. He showed evidence of being thoroughly acquainted with court procedure and made a strong argument in his behalf after the testimony was taken. He placed witnesses on the stand who testified that he was in a certain saloon at the time of the saloon burglary. Later, it was shown, someone entered the saloon where Elliott was drinking and made the report that the Court had been robbed. Elliott, according to his testimony, went to the place and was then arrested by Officer Lyon. In arguing the case the defendant said:

"Wherever robbed the saloon must have been sober to get away from this officer when the latter was shooting at him. I was drunk that morning at the evidence shows. Do you think if I had robbed the saloon I would be fool enough to go right back there and rush into the arms of a policeman? I am not pleading for mercy, but all I ask this court is that I be given a square deal."

Judge Diehl informed the man that he would be given a "square deal" and that the case would be decided on Monday morning.

C. D. Landell, charged with grand larceny, entered a plea of not guilty and the case was set for Jan. 11 for preliminary hearing. In default of $500 bail he was committed to the custody of the sheriff.

FIRE AT OQUIRH SCHOOL.

Spontaneous Combustion in Pile of Slack Coal Was the Cause.

Spontaneous combustion in an eight-ton pile of slack coal caused a fire in the basement of the Oquirrh school building at 5:30 this morning, but little damage was done. The blaze burned two doors and did some damage to the floor, but $30 will cover the loss.

CONTEMPT IS CHARGED.

Overly Silent Witnesses Must Show Why They Should Not Answer.

E. T. Brockman and C. E. Gable were before Judge Morse of the Third district court this morning to show cause why they should not be punished for contempt of court for refusing to answer certain questions put to them before Justice Dana T. Smith, as referee. The appearance before Justice Smith followed a suit entered in the Third district court by W. N. Wantland against the Pittsburgh-Salt Lake Oil company, seeking to have himself declared the owner of certain shares of the company's capital stock. Upon advice of counsel, the two witnesses refused to answer questions put to them. Then Wantland sought to force them to answer. Arguments were made today, but were not completed. The matter will come up again next Friday morning before Judge Morse.

TRUCK DRIVER HURT.

David Mills, driver of the big aerial truck on the fire department, met with a most painful accident this morning while engaged with Andrew Elkum in repairing the big machine. Mills was on the truck at work under the tiller when a screw holding the rod between the two men suddenly fell. The rod struck Mills on the left hand, badly crushing that member. Dr. Benedict was summoned and dressed the wound. It is feared that several bones were broken and it will be some time before Fireman Mills will be able to attend to his duties.

GORDON CLOSING EXERCISES.

Gordon academy held closing holiday season exercises yesterday afternoon in Hammond hall. In the recital contests, the honors were taken by Robt. LaMotte, Beatrice King, Lucille Holman, Stella Davis. The essay honors were taken by Emer Allen, Jack Clark, Clara Exford, Nellie Bell. The debate was won by the affirmative in the question that "City Should Own Its Street Car Lines." The participants on this side were Burton Clay, Eddie Collins, Marian Thompson.

GOVERNORS APPOINTED.

The nominating committee of the Commercial club appointed to report names of candidates to fill vacancies in the board of governors, met this noon, and agreed upon the following names for two years, Governor J. C. Cutler and Mayor J. S. Bransford; for three years, Irah H. Lewis, A. W. Carlson, John Denn, L. L. Downing, and George T. Odell.

LAND DECISIONS.

State Loses in Several Cases—Monticello Forest Enlarged by President.

The local United States land office has received word that the Monticello National forest has been enlarged.

The register and receiver have rendered decisions in three suits by the state versus Ernest D. Hammond, Louis H. Stoler and Elmer O. Leath, involved in contest against allowing coal land declaratory statements by the applicants, and claiming that the character of the coal lands was not in evidence at the date of acceptance by the land office of the township surveys. The decision states that at the time of filing applications, the character of the lands in question was known, and not in doubt. So the claims of the state are disallowed.

In the case of the state vs. Charles N. Corry, the register and receiver decided that the applicant had established his claim as a mineral entry, and that the character of the land in question was known at the date of Utah's admission as a state.

LATE LOCALS.

A Closing Recital—The pupils of Miss Mattie Hall gave the closing recital of the term at her studio Saturday morning. An interesting program of selections from Heller, Henselt and Schumann was rendered.

Conditions Improving—W. P. Noble has returned from an extended business trip through the east. He reports the banks at Chicago and Omaha calling in their cashiers' checks, and the feeling of security returning.

Musicians Contribute—The members of the local musical union have been assessed $1 each for the benefit of the widow of the late Patrolman Charles Ford. This will make a benefit of nearly $200.

Warmer Tonight—While the weather is threatening this afternoon, the weather map indicates fair and warmer weather tonight, with cloudy skies and a rising temperature for tomorrow. A high area is crowding the low area on the north of eastward.

Force Greatly Enlarged—Two additional clerks were placed on the postoffice payroll today. R. W. Reed and A. N. Jarvis. This makes six extra clerks and five extra carriers for the holidays, so that while there is more business than ever at the postoffice it is being handled with greater facility and dispatch than ever before.

Board of Pardons Meets—The state board of pardons was in session today considering a large number of applications for pardon, parole and commutation. Owing to the death of Harnel Pratt, brother of Warden Arthur Pratt, the sessions were not held in the prison office, but were held in the rooms of the supreme court. Deputy Warden Ure was before the board representing Warden Pratt. After the open session of the board, the members went into executive session for deliberation.

PETTY THIEVES IN CITY SCHOOLS

Girls at High School Suffer at Hands of Juvenile "Art-ful Dodgers."

MANY COMPLAINTS TODAY.

Principal Believes That Names of Offenders Should be Published and Offenders Punished.

Many complaints have been made regarding petty thieves in the city schools, particularly at the High school. Girls are reported as suffering from small losses more than are boys because they are forced to leave more small articles in cloak rooms and halls than are boys who are blessed with an abundance of pockets.

Yesterday at the High school there were several instances where girls suffered the loss of gloves, purses, fur neck pieces and other articles, but in no instance were there any traces left by the guilty ones. A prominent school principal, speaking of the matter today, declared that he believed the suppression of names where guilt is established, cloaking the thefts under the term "kleptomaniacs," will be responsible for the recurrence of similar acts in many schools of this city.

He advocated a public announcement by school principals and teachers to the effect that in cases of thefts among students, upon fixing the guilt of the thief, the utmost publicity be given the person's name. He declared that if the moral grounding of pupils is not sufficient to keep them from stealing, then surely the fear of discovery and consequent notoriety would deter many from committing such offenses and this would be followed by dismissal from school. He is strongly opposed to shielding boys and girls when guilty, believing that it will work for their harm in later life. While the shame and humiliation would be somewhat trying at the time, he said he believes it to be a temporary hardship. For, he declared, it would certainly act to cause them to stop and consider the next time temptation assailed them.

In some of the city schools teachers have advised pupils to mark their property in some unmistakable secret manner so that their ownership could be established in cases of loss, either by theft or by other means.

McDONALD'S SALT LAKE DUTCH CHOCOLATES

"Although curtailment in purchases of new stocks is now the order of business, I find it impossible to cut down on my orders for Dutch chocolates," remarked a leading druggist yesterday, "for the public will not have it. Nearly every customer wants Dutch chocolates for Christmas and they go elsewhere if I have not got them."

That's the story all over Salt Lake, in Denver, Colorado Springs, Leadville, Pueblo, Butte, Spokane, Seattle, Tacoma, Portland, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Minneapolis and hundreds of other cities throughout the land. McDonald's Dutch chocolates are so far superior in taste and quality to all other makes of 30c and 60c chocolates (for half and pound) that the demand is enormous. McDonald, Salt Lake, exclusive manufacturer of fine chocolates.
