PRESIDENT'S POLICY ATTACKED

John W. Alling Severely Arraigns It Before Economic Club Of New Haven.

HENRY CLEWS DEFENDS IT.

Its Aim Has Been to Promote the Public Good—Is Not Responsible For Abuses Exposed.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 31.—The Economic club, an organization of business and professional men, listened tonight to a discussion of the question, "Is the Policy of President Roosevelt Against Capital?" by Henry Clews of New York and John W. Alling, an attorney of New Haven.

Mr. Alling attacked the policy of the president in strong terms, particularly with reference to the packing industry, the president's ruling on the Standard Oil company and the railroad rate question.

Mr. Clews said:

"Whatever President Roosevelt has done he has done to promote the public good, whether his speeches have helped to cause distrust or not. I contend that he had no intention of menacing the prosperity of the country in denouncing and instigating the prosecution of law-breaking railway corporations and industrial trusts. While he was instrumental in turning on the light, he was not responsible for the abuse of power which the light revealed, and it is the revelation of graft and illegal methods on the part of certain railway and other corporations, through the acts of their responsible managers and controlling capitalists, that has undermined public confidence in many of them. The fact that in nearly every instance of government prosecution the guilt of the party accused has been proved on his trial justifies President Roosevelt in his action."

VOTING MACHINES.

Massachusetts Supreme Court Holds They Are Unconstitutional.

Boston, Oct. 31.—The supreme court, in deciding today against the validity of a voting machine in Massachusetts, declared that any method of voting which hides the ballot from the voter is unconstitutional.

MURDERED HIS WIFE.

After Conviction for Manslaughter, James Wardell Makes a Confession.

New York, Oct. 31.—After being convicted of manslaughter in the first degree in aiding and abetting his wife to commit suicide, James Wardell confessed today that he killed her and fired a bullet into her dead body to give the impression that she had ended her own life.

Wardell said his mind had been completely upset by his wife's misdoings, and when he suggested that they die together she readily agreed. He placed the gas tube to his wife's mouth, turned on the gas, and when she was dead his own courage failed, and he dared not end his own life. Then he thought to shield himself by firing a shot into her brain to make it appear that she had committed suicide.

After the confession, Wardell said: "Try me for murder; that's what I want. That's what I want to do."

GOVERNMENT RECORDS.

Etta L. McLean, in U. S. Atty's Office, Charged With Conspiracy to Steal.

Chicago, Nov. 1.—The Inter-Ocean says:

Secret service operatives yesterday reported that some official correspondence between Atty.-Gen. Bonaparte and Dist.-Atty. Edwin W. Sims, combining government secrets relating to the case of John R. Walsh, formerly president of the Chicago National bank, now defunct, awaiting trial in connection with the failure of the bank, had been stolen from the files in the federal building. Miss Etta L. McLean, who has been employed in Dist.-Atty. Sims' office for three months, was arrested in company with O. E. Gordee, charged with "conspiracy to steal government records."

Miss McLean, who is a graduate of an eastern college, is alleged to have procured possession of the records and given them to Gordee, who lived in the same building with her on the north side. The reports are believed to have contained information to be used in the forthcoming prosecution of Mr. Walsh.

Miss McLean and Gordee were taken before United State Commissioner Foote yesterday and hearing of the case was continued until Friday. Miss McLean was released upon giving her word to appear at the hearing, while Gordee was taken to the county jail. Both maintain their innocence.

Dist.-Atty. Sims declined to affirm the statement that the papers purloined were in connection with the Walsh case. He confirmed the story of the theft, but declared he was not at liberty to state what the nature of the documents was, or to what case they pertained.

SECY. TAFT'S PLANS ARE STILL A MYSTERY.

Washington, Oct. 31.—There are indications that Secy. Taft's decision to return to his original plans and sail from Manila for Vladivostok next Monday, instead of the week following, as he suggested to the president, was after all based on international consideration. It has been found impossible for an official of his rank to visit one European country as the guest of the sovereign without visiting the capitals of other countries through which he must pass on his homeward journey. It is believed here that a decision of the administration was reached that acceptance of invitations from these capitals would be inexpedient as it would change Secy. Taft's plans.

The Chinese empress asked inquiries to be made to learn whether the secretary could not be induced to visit the celestial capital. The secretary declined on the ground that it would prevent his being present at the initial session of the Filipino assembly.

Upon learning that Emperor William would be pleased to meet him, Secy. Taft submitted to President Roosevelt a plea for extension of time of his trip a week in order to arrive at Berlin when the German emperor returned from his visit to England. That application was received in Washington while the president was in the Louisiana canebrakes. When the answer was returned its nature could not be positively stated.

INSTITUTE OF AGRICULTURE.

First Meeting of International Will be Held in Rome Next Spring.

Washington, Oct. 31.—President Roosevelt today conferred with David Lubin of California, Asst. Secy. of Agriculture Hayes and Director Nash, of the census bureau, regarding the first meeting of the international institute of agriculture, to be held in Rome next spring. The institute, which is the conception of Mr. Lubin, has been placed on a permanent foundation by treaty between leading nations.

Its object is to obtain world crop statistics. The president discussed with Mr. Lubin the detailed plans of the meeting, and considered with Messrs. Hayes and North the selection of the five United States delegates of the government conversant with staple crops of this country. After the conference the matter was taken up with Secy. Root.

His parole expires Nov. 1, and Gov. Hoch, who it was thought would pardon Dalton, has not returned from Washington. It is generally believed that Dalton will be pardoned as soon as Gov. Hoch returns.

New York, Oct. 31.—Dr. Walter R. Gillette, former vice president of the Mutual Life Insurance company, who was sentenced to six months' imprisonment for perjury, was released on bail this afternoon pending an appeal for a new trial.

TO TAKE UNIFORM MEASURES TO SUPPRESS PLAGUE.

Seattle, Oct. 31.—Dr. F. Montizambert, director general of public health for Canada, arrived here from Ottawa today and after a conference with Dr. J. M. White of the United States service agreed to adopt uniform measures for the suppression of bubonic plague along the Pacific coast. The Canadian ports have already adopted many precautions similar to those in force in Seattle. No new cases of plague have developed. Hundreds of men under the direction of board of health inspectors are engaged in cleaning up the city's vacant lots and old rookeries which may harbor rats are being condemned by the health board and destroyed. Where practicable the structures are surrounded by fences of wire netting to prevent the rats from escaping.

HOW TO OPERATE THE VOTING MACHINE.

Voting machines have one bad effect in that they sometimes confuse the voter. They encourage "straight" ticket voting by many people who might wish to "scratch," but who become "stampeded" before the array of levers and handles. Yet it is the acme of simpleness to vote a mixed ticket and anyone can do so very easily if they retain their courage for a minute and think it out.

Or better still learn on the paper plan above how to vote for favorite candidates before going to the polling places.

THE STRAIGHT TICKET.

When a voter approaches the machine to register his vote, he should reach up for the wooden handled lever just above his head, and push it to the right. This closes him in the booth behind the curtains, and prepares the machine to take his vote. The second move is to turn to the knobs at the left bearing party emblems. The top one, decorated with the American flag, is the "American" party emblem; the low it is the Democratic emblem, the crowing rooster, and below that the Republican, with the eagle and be hive.

Choose your favorite lever. That is the next move, and pull it towards you. It will ring when turned to the right, and more than that will lower the small black knobs that vote for every man on that ticket.

Now comes the problem of "scratching," and this is where many fall through nervousness. Across the top of the machine are listed the candidates. For any one you do not wish to vote for, press the little lever representing him back up into its first position, and then you can press down the little lever on the line directly above or below it, and you will have voted the straight ticket WITH THE EXCEPTION OF THE ONE PERSON YOU HAVE SUBSTITUTED. You can pull this party lever, if you like, and can then substitute candidates for every place by simply pushing back the individual levers and pulling down the substitutes. You can erase a vote for one candidate although by pushing back that lever and failing to bring down another. The last move is to return the lever with the wooden handle—the long one above your head—back to its original position. It registers your vote and opens the curtains for you to go out. Remember then there are four moves, the first to get inside the curtains by turning the lever above your head, the second to turn down the party emblem of your preference, the third (unless you wish to vote a straight ticket), to put back the names for candidates you don't favor and put down others for those you do, and the fourth to return the long handle and leave the machine.

Voters who are somewhat in doubt how to proceed in manipulating the machine have the right to call on the judges to assist them.

HALLOWE'EN RAID ENDS UP IN A RIOT.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—A Hallowe'en raid by undergraduates of Northwestern university on Peck hall, where theological students at the same institution eat and sleep, ended in a riot tonight, in which 13 of the raiders were arrested and lodged in the Evanston jail, and eight of the "theologs" were thrown into Lake Michigan. Several of the students suffered severe scalds during the melee from hot water, with which the theological men defended their quarters. The latter were warned of the proposed attack and were prepared with quantities of boiling water and long lines of hose. The battle waged for more than half an hour and caused the entire university settlement uneasiness during the excitement. At the height of the disturbance Dr. Little, president of Barrett Biblical institute, sent in a call for police. The police upon their arrival charged the students and captured 13, including a party which had just returned from the lake, where they had deposited eight of the "Bibs."
