LAST DAY'S SESSION.

Successful Meeting of the State Teachers Drawing to a Close.

NEW OFFICERS ARE CHOSEN.

Not Even of Local Note Transpired—The Program of Today's Session.

The third and last session of the Utah teachers' association convened yesterday. The interest was the best for years, and the attendance fully as considerably larger than that of the other days. The subjects discussed have related to vital problems, and have been treated in the light of the most advanced thought and principles.

It is believed that the outcome of the session will be for the best interests of the young people, and that with greater zeal and will attack to all subsequent meetings.

The paper, Consolation in the Grave, by Mr. McKeagney, and which was to have been read yesterday, was brought in for discussion this morning. The resolution which by the member was unfortunately not included in the report of the Bonneville county teachers in this city, and which was to have been presented by Miss Cummings, of the Bonneville University, was then presented by Mr. Clark of Box Elder, and seconded by Prof. Swenson of the University.

Following event, the discussion of the paper with the subject "What the teacher can do for the State and its institutions of learning." Time for completing some Prof. Waddingham, the Director's and Prof. Van Cleve of Salt Lake City, Prof. Swenson, Miss Cummings, Mr. Clark, Prof. Ottosen, Mr. Gibson, Prof. Sawtell, Mr. Underwood, Supt. Van Cott, and Mr. Williams made spirited and able addresses.

The discussion Prof. Scott's paper was resumed, and was discussed by Prof. Maxwell of the University.

The following is the work done this week:
