Held Up the Detective.

J. W. Estes, who says claims to belong to a private detective of the "A. B. A." order, call in person to the police office last night which created no little excitement for a time. The gentleman explained that he had been shadowing one man who sought refuge in a tinsmith's shop near the Central Short Line depot and that when in the car he had heard three males referring to "having the money," etc., etc., whereupon he endeavored to arrest them, when the suspects resisted, knocking him down and cutting at him with a knife. They then fled and the police are now in his pursuit.

Found Dead at Mercur.

An old miner named Guy F. Besty was found dead in a chair in the office of the Pioneer House at Mercur last evening about 8 o'clock. He has lived at Mercur for the last four years, and for many years has followed the occupation of mining in Utah. He was a native of New York, served the United States in the war with Mexico, and acquainted friends in California in 1849. Heart failure is given as the cause of death.

Easter in Salt Lake.

Logan Herald: When Mr. R. C. Easter sang "Annie Laurie" for an encore at the Saturday evening at the Tabernacle night, it was not generally known that it was probably the last time he will ever sing in Logan. He has for a short time had been preparing to move to Salt Lake to reside, and offices and Mrs. Easter left on yesterday's train. Mr. Easter will remain here a while first in the capital for the exercise of his high and cultivated art, but he expects ere long to be joined by his family, when they will be an intermediate to our musical circles. We part with his many friends in Logan, wishing him abundant success and prosperity in his new field.
