OGDEN POLITICS.

The Utah Commission Rule on the "Citizens'" Application.

LIST OF THE JURORS OF ELECTION.

No Appointment Except "Liberals" and People's.

As announced in our column yesterday, the members of the Utah Commission went to Ogden in response to the call of the Citizens' party.

The Commission registered at the Broom Hotel, where a meeting was held during the afternoon to hear the petition of the Citizens' party for representation among the judges of elections. The petition was first several days ago, and the purpose of the meeting was to hear the arguments.

There were present Senator John Sanders, of Nebraska, Gen. J. A. McClernand, Gov. R. S. Robertson, Col. H. Page, Hon. A. A. Nelson, E. R. Ridgely and F. J. Henderson for the Citizens' party, H. H. Rolapp and Judge Zane for the People's party, Judge Henderson and J. N. Kimball for the Liberal party.

The advocates of the Citizens' party contended vigorously for the right of representation by judges on election day.

The representatives of the Liberal party opposed this on the ground that "People's and Citizens' parties were one and the same thing, and therefore not entitled to more than one judge." The meeting was lengthy and the discussion warm. After the conclusion of the arguments an executive session was held, and taken under advisement until today.

The Utah Commission this morning ruled against the Citizens' party of Ogden having any representation in the judges of election.

Following are the judges of election:

FIRST WARD.

W. F. Adams, Liberal,
W. Scowcroft, Liberal,
John Sim, People.

SECOND WARD.

Chas. Stokes, Liberal,
M. Atkinson, Liberal,
C. C. Richards, People.

THIRD WARD.

Hans Anderson, Liberal,
P. L. Sharp, People.

FOURTH WARD.

A Citizens' convention was to be held at 2 p. m. to-day.

THEY DEPLORE HIS DEATH.

The Loss of a Student at the Deseret University.

The Normal Society of the University of Deseret have passed the following resolutions, having reference to the lamented death of an esteemed fellow-student:

Whereas, Providence, by wisdom that passeth all understanding, has taken from us, through death, our friend and fellow-student, Lewis Martin Black; and

Whereas, We, the members of the Normal Society of the University of Deseret, though humbly submitting to the will of Heaven, feel that it is our duty to express, as a slight memorial of our sorrow, our love and dear friend, our appreciation of his merits and our grief at his decease.

Resolved, That the perseverance and energy manifested by him in his studies and his services in the Normal Society be held in grateful remembrance.

Resolved, That in his death this society has lost one of its faithful members and originator of its motto, and the Territory in common with the Normal Society, has lost one of its most promising members.

Resolved, That we share the heavy burden of sorrow which weighs upon his aged parents, and that we extend to them our heartfelt sympathy for their loss, which only Heaven knows how to repair.

Resolved, That these resolutions be placed in the records of this society, and that copies be sent to the relatives of the deceased, and also to the press for publication.

Dated, Salt Lake City, Utah, February 5, 1891.

At South Beautiful.

A special meeting of the M. I. Associations was held in the vestry at South Beautiful on Friday afternoon, February 6th. Dr. Hardy, who was present on a special educational mission, presented the object of his mission, and laid before the officers the obligations they were under and the necessity for the improvement of the young.

A public meeting was held the same evening. The President of the M. I. A., William N. Atkinson, presided and explained the object of his mission, which is the basis of Mutual Improvement Associations.

JEDEKIAH BROWN, Sec.

Students' Society.

This society held its regular meeting last evening in the Social Hall. The programme, consisting of a song by Miss Nora Nichol, a recitation by Billie Mamie Howarth, a lecture, "The Hour and the Man," by Instructor Willard Done, and a piano duet by Misses Jenia Smith and Mamie Freese, was greatly enjoyed and carried out. There was a good attendance.

Parsing Wagner.

Young William Wagner is once again in the custody of the police. It will be remembered that he was released by Judge Anderson a few days since on a writ of habeas corpus, the charge preferred against him having been that of embezzling the sum of $2800 belonging to a man named Adams, of Evanston. He was, however, re-taken by Sheriff Hart and Deputy Sheriff Caverly, of Evanston, on Thursday night, near Sandy. Governor Thomas having granted the necessary requisition, Wagner will be taken back to Evanston. The result of his rearrest on what is said to be a flimsy charge remains to be seen.

THE INSANE ASYLUM.

Annual Report of Superintendent Walter R. Pike.

To the President and Board of Directors of the Territorial Insane Asylum:

Gentlemen—I have the honor to submit to you herewith my annual report, with details of the operating of the Asylum, for the fiscal year ending November 30, 1890. Appended to the report will be found tabular statements of the movement of patients, also tabular statements of the receipts, expenses, and disbursements of the board and treasurer, respectively.

ANNUAL SUMMARY OF MOVEMENT OF PATIENTS.

	Males.	Females.	Total.
No. of patients in Asylum Dec. 1, 1889	61	52	113
No. of patients admitted during year	17	15	32
No. of patients discharged recovered	1	1	2
No. of patients discharged and treated during year	10	12	22
No. of patients died during year	1	1	2
No. of patients discharged unimproved	1	1	2
No. of patients discharged improved	15	20	41
No. of patients remaining in Asylum Nov. 30, 1890	50	42	92

The above summary shows that the permanent population of the Asylum is increased but one at the end of the fiscal year, although during the year there have been admitted forty-two patients, thirty-two have been discharged and one has died—a total of forty-one. The lowest monthly attendance of patients during the year had to more than one hundred, viz., 103, the highest one hundred and thirty-six, or an average monthly attendance of one hundred and twenty. When we took charge of the Asylum we found the condition of the Asylum made it necessary to cease receiving more patients, except as vacancies occurred from discharges or death; and the limit by the permission of your honorable board was placed at one hundred and thirty-five—seventy males and sixty-five females. This number fills the building, causing occupancy of every available space wherein a patient can be placed with any degree of safety. I would state, in this connection, that I have been obliged to refuse a number of applications for admission of insane persons to the asylum, on the ground that the institution cannot with safety accommodate any more at present.

The general health of the inmates has been good. No epidemic has prevailed, and most of the fatalities have been from causes that were progressive and originally produced the mental disease with which the patient suffered. There have been a few cases of fever of a malarial character, also some cases of erysipelas, but no deaths from any of these causes. In April last a tragedy occurred whereby a patient, Sing Lee (a chinaman), lost his life at the hands of another patient. This was thoroughly investigated at the time by the coroner, and also brought before the board. While no blame could be attached to any one, yet it serves to illustrate the great danger which exists in the crowding together of such irresponsible beings, especially when there are no facilities to separate those whose insane impulses have homicidal tendencies. Fortunately, the new building, now in course of construction, when completed and fitted up will enable the management to place the administering of the affairs of the asylum, and the treatment of the patients on a new basis that will do away with many, if not all, of the features which are at present so detrimental to the physical and mental well-being of the patients and militate so heavily against any attempt at rational treatment. In fact, the manner of patients crowded together as they must be under present circumstances, renders futile any effort at systematic treatment, and makes the asylum little better than a house of detention in which we do the best we can to attend to the physical needs of the inmates.

Our percentages of discharges was gratifying, under the circumstances; I am satisfied they would have been greater had we not been subject to so much noise and excitement around the buildings. During the whole of the season our staff of workmen, the number of men and teams employed about the grounds and buildings, and the noise and confusion incidental to the progress of such work, have had a demoralizing effect upon the inmates, and have, also, increased the labors of the attendants very materially. We are anxiously looking forward to the time when quietude will again prevail around the outside of the building, feeling certain that it will be conducive to a greater degree of quietude within.

Some of the patients discharged during the past year have been, by my advice, permitted to go upon parole to the care of their friends, with the understanding that, should it become necessary, they could be returned at once. These were cases that had made considerable progress toward recovery, and, in my judgment, simply needed the quiet of home surroundings and friends to complete the cure. I am happy to be able to state that this method has proven successful in all of the cases paroled, and none have been returned. In one case, where I deemed it for the patient's good, I have considered the obtaining of an order of the Court for the removal of patients to the guardianship of their friends, of those patients of whose eventual cure I felt less sure than I did of the cases released upon parole, and therefore was not willing to take upon myself the responsibility. One of the cases has been returned; but none have gone on to perfect recovery, and I feel satisfied they would not have done so had they remained here.

In regard to great many matters pertaining to the present condition of the Asylum that I might bring before the board in this report, but I realize that many of the objectionable features are being remedied as speedily as is within the power of the board, or that they cannot be remedied until the additions to the asylum are completed.

The sanitary condition of the Asylum building has been good, considering the over-crowded condition. The abundant supply of water furnished by the pumping plant enables us to keep the closets and sinks thoroughly flushed thus removing at once all deleterious matter, preventing any accumulation of filth and keeping the sewer pipes from fouling.

The financial condition of the board and treasurer's fund will be found stated in table 4, in connection with the ledger balance sheet attached. The cost per capita per diem for care and treatment for the past year has been 34 9-10 cents.

FARM AND DAIRY.

Statement of products of farm will be found in table No. 7; also one table of operation statement of dairy which is included in that of the farm. The Jersey herd has done fairly well, and kept the asylum supplied with a sufficiency of a superior article of butter and milk. Our pork and beef have done well during the past year. We have had an abundance of vegetables for the table all through the season, and will have a sufficiency until the spring. The total products from the farm, at market values, was $6,310.50; the cost for labor on farm, exclusive of that of patients was $1,317.75. The products of the dairy in milk and butter was, at market values, $2,162.95; the expense for help, hay and grain etc., was $1,301.25. See table 5.

LAUNDRY.

In view of the fact that we are soon to have a new laundry building, with improved machinery for that very important and, to an institution of this kind, indispensable department, I refrain from saying anything about the present arrangements, except to state that the old building is almost a ruin, and the little machinery that we have about worn out, causing the work demanded of it to be done in a very laborious and unsatisfactory manner.

ELECTRIC LIGHT PLANT.

As in the past years, the electric light has given good satisfaction, but will require, at an early date, a thorough overhauling and repairing. The many improvements made in this class of lighting tending to efficiency, safety and economy since our plant was put in, make this necessary. I, for one, however, I have no words but those of commendation for this department. The cost per hour for electric incandescent power lamp has been 1 2 10 cents.

The coming year bids fair to be one of increasing care and anxiety to the management of the asylum, on account of the many changes that must be made to bring this institution from its present condition down to that of an asylum in the full sense of the word; yet I do not doubt that this will be successfully accomplished, knowing that the members of the board will give all the assistance, encouragement and advice that is within their power, as they have done in the past, and for which I wish to express at this time my most sincere thanks and appreciation.

Respectfully submitted,

WALTER R. PIKE, M. D.,
Medical Superintendent.

PROVO, November 25th, 1890.

STILL THEY COME.

Two More Damage Suits Pinned in The District Court.

Yesterday afternoon, in the Third District Court, E. C. Weirs lodged a suit against the Salt Lake Power, Light and Heating Company, to recover $4,817. In his complaint the plaintiff alleges that in December, 1889, he was employed by the defendants as a lineman and inspector of circuits. It was his duty to ascertain whether the circuits were in working order, and on December 16th he was performing his duty when the defendants negligently permitted a cross connection of circuits. A current of electricity passed through his body, grievously burning his hands and greatly shocking his body, inflicting permanent injuries, for which he prays judgment in the amount named.

The Hamilton National Bank of Fort Wayne, Ind., also yesterday brought suit in the Third District Court against B. Mackintosh, Emma F. Mackintosh, R. C. Chambers, Benjamin Chambers and G. Swaney. In the complaint the plaintiff alleges that on December 17, 1889, B. Mackintosh gave to Benjamin Mackintosh a promissory note for $2,781.25, due in one year, and secured the note by a mortgage on real estate in this city; that the plaintiff purchased the note before it matured; that the note has not been paid, and all the defendants claim an interest in the real estate. The plaintiff asks for a decree of foreclosure, and that the defendants, other than Mackintosh, be required to set out their claims to the said estate. There is a second cause of action on another note for the same amount.

A SAD CASE.

James H. Jenkins, of Goshen, on His Deathbed in Prison.

Information has reached us that James H. Jenkins, of Goshen, Utah County, who is serving a term in the Utah penitentiary for infraction of the Edmunds-Tucker act, is in a dying condition. His son, John L. Jenkins, of Nephi, received a dispatch to that effect yesterday, and has come to the city in order to be near his father in his expiring moments. The case is one of surpassing sadness.

The offence of which Father Jenkins was adjudged guilty was simply having his plural wife. He was sentenced by Judge Blackburn to a term of two years' imprisonment. At the time judgment was passed upon him he was in feeble health, being barely able to walk to the train with the aid of a cane. He was sent to the penitentiary ten years, being in his 49th year. He is now in the fifth month of his imprisonment, from which he is soon to be released by a power greater than that which placed him in "durance vile."

The Theatre.

"The Sea King" was presented a second time last night to a full and enthusiastic house. The musical director was not present, but his absence was so well supplied by Professor Carelese that it was not felt.

Graham still continues the King Mennis of the show. Elsie Warren plays the part of Lady Ethel to-night. Kate Gilbert, Mamie Carlo and Sid Smith were equal to themselves.

"The Sea King" was given today at the matinee, and will be presented for the last time tonight.

Special Appointments.

By special appointment Apostle John W. Taylor and other brethren are attending meetings consecutively in all the wards of the Salt Lake Stake of Zion. The dates will be found in the minutes of the Priesthood meeting in this issue of the News. We are informed that an excellent spirit has been experienced in these assemblages thus far, and the people are invited to turn out and attend in force. All of the wards of this city have already been visited by Brother Taylor and those who accompany him, except the Eighteenth. They will attend the meeting of that ward tomorrow night, after visiting Sugar House in the afternoon.

PRIESTHOOD MEETING.

The monthly Priesthood meeting of the Salt Lake Stake convened in the Assembly Hall, at 11 a. m. to-day, President Angus M. Cannon presiding.

All the wards of the Stake were properly represented, excepting the Eighteenth and Twenty-first city wards, and Mountain Dell, Dalton, Sandy, Herriman, Granger, Hunter and Pleasant Green of the country wards. The Bishopric of the ward named failed to respond to the roll call.

Thirteen quorums of Elders were represented by their presiding officers, and seventy-one members were recommended to be ordained as Elders.

President A. M. Cannon gave some instruction to the Bishops as to the issuing of recommends of the Lesser Priesthood for ordination as Elders.

Counselor C. W. Penrose said the Bishops had been requested to make a new census of all members of the Church in this Stake. This report must be accurate. What is requested is that a thorough canvass be made, getting the number of males over twenty-one years of age, the number of females over eighteen years of age, the number of males under twenty-one years of age and the number of females under eighteen years of age, including infants. This census should include all who are or can be called Latter-day Saints and forwarded to the stake clerk immediately. This will include all children over eight years of age who have not been baptized, and thus be different to former reports.

Elder Penrose said there are many children over eight years of age who have not been baptized, some of whom are in the Sunday Schools. Bishops and Teachers should instruct the parents to labor diligently to instruct their children in the principles of eternal truth, showing them the importance and object of each article of our faith, and the responsibility rests upon the parents if their children who neglect to attend to the duty.

With regard to the other local statistics in this Stake, every organization should be prompt in forwarding full and complete reports by the 15th of the month, that they may be compiled for use at the Stake Conference on the first Sunday of March.

There seems to be a tendency among some of the Saints to introduce innovations, and to promote a feeling of nationalism. Anything of this tendency is wrong and may be fraught with great evil. It is the province and design of the Gospel to obliterate and do away with such ideas and feelings and to unite and weld together people from every land, and make them become members of this Church. Everything which has a tendency to divide and disintegrate is from the Evil One. The spirit of the Lord brings union and peace and this is an eternal principle. That which unites and creates life and peace is from God; that which divides and brings confusion and death is from the Evil One. Brother Penrose earnestly appealed the union of all nationalities in the Church, that the spirit of the Lord may be always with their labors and guide them for a better life.

Counselor Joseph F. Taylor recommended that it would be well for those who take the census to use it as a thorough and complete report of the Latter-day Saints, their standing, office, etc. He also said there are many among us who are not Latter-day Saints but who are so only in name. These should be sought out, labored with and brought into the proper fight. President Angus M. Cannon was much pleased to again meet in a general Priesthood meeting of this stake. The strong expressions of the truth and testimonies he had received while in early youth stillnurtured within his breast, and he always took pleasure in bearing the same to all with whom he came in contact.

The responsibility resting upon the officers in this Church were great, and should urgency be prompt in all duties, sparing nil, and labor to establish the truth among all we meet. It is our mission to labor for humanity for their good and salvation and to effect should be spared to accomplish this important work.

Brother Cannon urged upon those before assigned Elders that they, in company with every member of the quorums, attend promptly to their meetings, perform their duties, live faithful and consecrated lives and they would always have a guide within them. He also spoke of dealing with those who called themselves Latter-day Saints but who in reality stillnurtured within his breast, and they would have pleasure in bearing the same to all with whom he came in contact.

Another Landmark Gone.

The building which stood until a day or two ago on the south side entrance to the Tabernacle, was one of the old landmarks in this city. It was built about 1855 or '56. It was occupied as a store for general merchandise by Halliday & Warner in the early fifties. The late Hon. W. H. Hooper conducted the business for that firm and made a success of it.

Later on it was occupied by Perry & Co. It is supposed that the whisky obtained by the rioters during the memorable Hooper episode in 1864 was obtained here.

It was used as a school for some time. During the last dozen years it was known as the Deseret Museum. At one time it enjoyed the distinction of being the largest building for office purposes in the Territory.

POINTERS FROM PAYSON.

Politics and Other Matters.—The People Put a Good Ticket in the Field.

The People's Party convention on Monday and Tuesday was the most notable caucus ever held in Payson. The whole of Monday was occupied in preliminaries and the electing of a nominee for Mayor. A move was made to give the "Liberal" party representation in the council, but was defeated by a heavy majority. Every point and nearly every candidate was fought by some, but the ticket, as completed, will most likely receive the support of the entire party, that avoiding a split. The ticket is as follows:

For Mayor—Hyrum Lemon.

For Aldermen—Jesse S. Taylor, J. J. McMillan, Henry Fairbanks, Alonzo Inns, J. D. Irvine, Samuel Peery, John H. Evans.

For Justices of the Peace—James Grigg, Thos. H. Wilson, Jr.

For Recorder—J. A. Holub.

For Assessor and Collector—R. H. Crook.

For Treasurer—C. W. Stevenson.

For Marshal—Emil L. Sargent.

The "Liberals" held a caucus in the Opera House on Wednesday night, and made up a ticket, Eli Simons being the candidate for mayor.

It is strange that any one present at the People's caucus on Monday and Tuesday would bolt on the "Church and state" plank, but this was nevertheless a feature of the meeting. Patriarch Joseph Bates, Rev. W. A. Hough (Presbyterian) and Rev. R. T. Smith (Methodist), took a lively part in the exercises. While the ballot was being taken, an old time Liberal,* upon being asked why he didn't vote, curtly replied that he didn't want any "Church" in his politics, and even if he did, two churches (Presbyterian and Methodist) would be too much and might make a clash.*

A pleasant surprise was tendered Principal D. H. Christensen of the District schools on Friday night last by the pupils of his department and a pleasant evening spent in feasting, dancing and with a literary and musical programme.

The Payson Leader ("Liberal"), is at war with itself. Its editor has been discharged and things are generally in a lively shape for its congress.

The Woman's Suffrage Association will give a grand ball in the Opera House next Tuesday evening, for the purpose of obtaining funds to send a delegate to Washington in the interests of woman's suffrage in Utah. A good time is promised all who attend.

The Utah County Teachers' Association will hold its first and inductory session at Payson on the 21st inst. Two sessions will be held during the day, and a grand ball given at night.

J. L. Townsend is still bedfast and does not seem to be recovering very rapidly.

The Electric Light Co. are daily putting up more street lamps, although no order has been received from the city. Their enterprise is almost astonishing. Nearly a hundred of their lights are now in use in the business houses and churches of our city.

The Second Quorum of Elders will hold their regular meeting in the Tenth Ward meeting-house next Monday evening, at half-past seven.

By request, President George Q. Cannon will preach in the Ninth Ward meeting-house tomorrow afternoon. Service commences at two o'clock.

The members of the Press Chamber of Commerce are preparing for a ball, on Washington's birthday, which will be given in the Opera House on Friday night.

LAST evening the Order of Woodmen gave a very pleasant entertainment in the "Dalesmen" building, at which there was a numerous attendance. The Mandolin Club added greatly to the success of the proceedings, taking a prominent part. The programme consisted of music, song and recitations, in addition to the selections by the Mandolin Club.

A short seven-inch last night a tramp, named Lee, in the employ of Great Bros., was driving a baggage wagon on First South street, and on reaching the corner of First West the wagon struck a telephone pole and Lee was thrown to the ground. He alighted on his head, was picked up insensible and taken home, for some hours he lay in an unconscious condition, his skull having been badly fractured. Dr. Wilcox, who attended the injured man, regards the case as a serious one. Lee only recently came from Des Moines, Iowa.

New Organ for the Twentieth Ward Choir.

A few enterprising members of the Twentieth Ward have planned the purchase of a fine Vocalion Organ, which is truly a magnificent instrument, and the people of the ward feel justly proud of it. It was purchased from Taggart & Chamberlain, well and known music dealers, who have the exclusive agency of the "Vocalion" for Utah Territory. Professor J. A. Tagore made the selection personally, which speaks volumes for its merits. Invitations have been issued to see and hear the Vocalion during evening, and those who were fortunate enough to have received one will doubtless avail themselves of the opportunity. 6tf
