PETROLEUM ON GREEN RIVER.

A Gold Saving Machine Patented by an Ogden Man.

Mr. Bennett, general passenger agent of the Rio Grande Western, received the following telegram from Green River station last evening:

"Five miles from Green River station down Green River parties have just bonded a placer claim that has every appearance of being rich. Surface prospects show from seventy-five to one hundred colors. There is every indication of being better as we go into the interior. North of the claim claim is a mineral spring boiling from the bed of the river and gas can be seen bubbling up all the way across the stream. The water issues from salt, soda and magnesia. Across the river and nearly two miles from the mineral spring is a spring of white petroleum which is about five gallons an hour.

"Mr. Meyer of Ogden, an experienced miner who has recently patented a machine with which he claims he can save 15 per cent of the finest gold, has been passing on into Green River today and claims he will erect his machine here and go to work. He was on his way to the San Juan country.

"People that are on their way down Green River to San Juan gold fields are stopping to prospect. Intense excitement prevails."

THE LOEFBOUROW CHARGES

Additional Insinuations Against the President of the Council.

A REPORT EXPECTED TONIGHT.

Rumor has it that Mr. Loefbourow will be vindicated.

The charges preferred by Mayor Baskin against C. F. Loefbourow, president of the City Council, and the rep rt upon them which is expected to be made by the special committee tonight, were the principal topics of discussion in municipal and legal circles today. It is said on reliable authority that Mayor Baskin been in possession of certain information before writing his communication that has come to his ears since, that no charges against the president would have been even more specific and sweeping than they were. The charges preferred by the Mayor are that President Loefbourow has, in violation of law, been an attorney for various applicants for municipal contracts among whom he named the Kaiser ornamental company of Iowa, Moore & Griffin, who have the contract for the city street sprinkling, the purchasers of the gas works recently sold by the City Council, and Randolph Brothers, the waterpipe contractors. In regard to these charges the Mayor says that no such person has the right to employ any agent of the city to act for him in such matters. To do so, especially if the employment be made covertly, would constitute a bad act given to the character and as contrary to public policy, as to render any contract, franchise or license, in the obtaining of which such agency in any way figured, voidable, if not absolute void.

He therefore recommended that an investigation be instituted by the City Council and in all cases, if any send be made to appear, in which contracts, franchises, licenses or other privileges of a pecuniary benefit has been obtained by persons who have employed any agent of the city in the matter, that such franchises, licenses and privileges be revoked and that all contracts which remain unexecuted be rescinded and further payments on the same be stopped, and that such other steps be taken by the council as it may deem proper in the premises.

As to the alleged scandalous personal conduct of the president the fact is pointed to that as a member of the committee on licenses he long and stubbornly refused to consent to the granting of a license to Frank Munroe to sell liquor in the Variety theater on Commercial street, but finally consented and voted against it even a qualified objection for the granting of the petition. All is now said to have happened in this wise: Mr. Munroe had almost abandoned the idea of securing favorable action on his petition when it was suggested that he employ Judge Loefbourow as his attorney and he would be right. Whether this is true or not it is difficult to ascertain, but as before stated, the president certainly experienced a change of sentiment and as a result Mr. Munroe is today profiting by the same and it is said by expert news witnesses in violation of an act passed by the last Territorial Legislature which prohibited licensing liquors being sold within fifty feet of any theater or show house. In addition to this, however, it is stated that the variety house in question was so remodeled on the interior as to make accommodations for lodgers, thus giving the place the title of a hotel.

Then, again, on recommendation of the city attorney the question of employing a number of side lawyers to assist in defending the city's interest in the $100,000 suit brought by the contractors and bondsmen in the Parley's canyon conduit case was acted upon. The matter was referred to a committee of which President Loefbourow was a member. The committee reported recommending that Messrs. Bennett, Marshall & Hendley be employed for the purpose at a remuneration of $250 each, and President Loefbourow at a recompense of $500.

It is authoritatively stated that the special committee will completely exonerate the president if for no other purpose than to antagonize the Mayor whom they are known to be strongly opposed.

A NEWS reporter called at the office of Judge Loefbourow late this evening to get his version of the new charges, but that gentleman was not to be seen. He was expected to call but he failed to do so before going to press.

That "Petrified Body."

It is now definitely known that the alleged petrified man, regarding which so much has been said, was manufactured in sections, glued together and shipped to this city to be placed on exhibition. Its genuineness was first questioned by this paper and since that time the parties who attempted to construct the dangling fraud upon the public have been thoroughly exposed and held up to execration and ridicule.

ABOUT THE SHERMAN ACT.

The Author of the Bakersville Lynching Council.—Congressional Other Items.

PARIS, Jan. 6.—The charges against Rathou, minister of public works, in the Panamist cabinet, have aroused great interest. As minister of public works, he had an important influence on the course of the government in regard to the Panama Canal company, and the charge is substantially that he sold his influence. Figaro says the judge decided that the evidence against him warrants the putting him on trial. It is reported that the proof against Rathou and other important people whom the government is prosecuting is due to an understanding between the government and Chas De Lesseps, under which the latter, by giving all information in his power in relation to the beneficiaries of the Panama canal corruption, he would be treated with great leniency or entire immunity. It is reported that de Lesseps made an unreserved statement of all the facts within his knowledge and will repeat, when the cases come to trial. His object is said to be not only immunity, but also to convince the public that the Panama company was forced by an irresistible pressure from officials and newspapers, to choose between wholesale corruption and threatened ruin of the enterprise. It is said that de Lesseps' revelations are of a most startling character and will create a sensation in America, as well as in France.

The snow fell thickly all the afternoon, with gusts of wind. Early in the evening it began to fall unusually. Driven by the gale, it soon became so fine as powder, increasing in volume. It continued throughout the night with the results given above.

THE SHERMAN SILVER ACT.

Senator Stewart Towards a Report on it in the House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—The first active step towards a report in the House on the proposition for the repeal of the Sherman silver purchase act was taken this morning by the House committee on banking and currency, which finally adjourned its session for month, and then adjourned until tomorrow morning. Chairman Buckner stated to his colleagues at the last meeting that the committee had finally passed upon the banking bill, that Mr. Springer had instructed to make some slight changes necessary to the first and fifth sections which worked so material a change in bank circulation as to pay value of funds deposited, and render the tax of circulation. Mr. Buckner stated on examination that he thought there was no occasion for making amendments and accordingly, had not amended the bill to report. The committee plunged immediately into another case which repeals the silver bullion purchase clause of the Sherman act.

Representative Cate offered a substitute providing for the stoppage of silver purchases and coinage into dollars of bullion now in the treasury. It did not provide for a return to Bland act, but as Mr. Cate expressed it, stopped silver purchases by the government entirely, and made the United States Treasury cease to be a safe deposit company for silver bullion.

Tomorrow, Cobcraft, a free coinage man, will be here with a counter motion that the section repealing the sherman act be rejected and to the House with the recommendation that it be referred to the committee properly having jurisdiction over it, namely, the committee on coinage.

There was no vote of any sort, but Tarsney was continued, by the reception his motion, that there had been a determination reached to press the repeal of the Sherman act and that the committee intended to take the proposition of the subject.

The bill was then dropped until tomorrow. Meanwhile, several compromises on the silver subject are maturing, the members hoping to find some common ground on which the movement can be reached, that will stop the present bullion purchases.

It is said they will seat Hartman if it would give the Democrats control over both houses without the assistance of the Populists.

In 90 and followed him to Independence. Proprietor Covington helps with Murray's assault and the latter was arrested. He subsequently admitted his guilt. LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 6.—The deadlock in the senate was broken this morning by the election of Carroll, Republican, four of five Democrats voting for him.

IMPRESSIVE SERVICES

Over the Remains of Sister Lucy S. Grant The Mormon.

The funeral services over the remains of Sister Lucy S. Grant were held in the Tabernacle West assembly room this afternoon at 1 o'clock. The building was crowded to its utmost capacity by an attentive and sympathetic congregation. The floral emblems were numerous and very beautiful. There were present on the stand, of the First Presidency, George Q. Cannon and Joseph F. Smith; of the Twelve Apostles, Francis M. Lyman, John Henry Smith, John W. Taylor, and Abraham H. Cannon, also the Presiding Bishop, William B. Preston. The music was furnished by a quartette composed of Messrs. Alan D. Spencer and George D. Pyper, and Mesdames Rosellen and Pyper, led by H. G. Woolley, Charles M. Barnes being the organist.

The services commenced by singing, "I Need Thee Every Hour." Prayer by Elder John Henry Smith, Sing, "O My Father, Thou That Dwellest."

Consoling remarks were then made by Elders F. M. Lyman, O. F. Whitney and George Q. Cannon, with a few of dying remarks by Bishop N. A. Empey. All the speakers testified to the worth of the departed, of the good and exemplary example which she has left behind, and for the emulation of her kindred and friends who remain. No blind apologia is sufficient to give an idea of the benevolence and charity of the departed. Her life was a long series of acts which were shared by the feeble.

An anthem was rendered at the close of the services entitled "Come to me," and the benediction was uttered by President Joseph F. Smith. A large cortege followed the remains to the cemetery.

Mandt has a representative here in the person of D. J. Lindley. He secured tickets at the Wells house thus forestalling President Cleveland by a few weeks.

The wife and daughter of Judge Miner of Ogden were in town yesterday. They will not go to Denver to reside for a time, at least not at present, as a good many people down that way hoped they might.

President William Budge, of Paris, in the county of Bear Lake and state of Idaho, was looking around quietly among the people and things most conspicuous on our thoroughfares today. The town is neither smaller nor larger than when he was here last.

President L. W. Merrill is a salesman of Weber county and very much attached to Ogden, where he hopes both most of the time and thinks it the place around which the rest of Utah and the territories generally revolve in importance and attractions long enough to get down to our village for a brief spell yesterday, returning without unnecessarily delay.
