TODAY'S LEGAL AFFAIRS.

The Bell Telephone Company Have to Pay $500 Damages.

AN ACTION AGAINST THE CITY.

A Brakeman Sues the O. S. L. and Utah Northern to Recover $15,000.—A Long-Standing Debt.

Comparatively little headway has been made with business in the Third District court today. Tomorrow Chief Justice Zane will take up the usual Saturday list of motions, and one or two matters of interest are expected to come on.

THE $2000 KNOCKED OFF.

A case which occupied the court's attention the greater part of yesterday was that in which the Rocky Mountain Bell Telephone company had been sued by Frederick Whitehead, by Leo S. Whitehead, guardian ad litem, in the sum of $2500, that being the amount of damages claimed for personal injuries sustained by young Whitehead through the falling of one of the company's wires, in October, 1891. The sum of $2500 was sued for, but the jury this morning brought in a verdict for the plaintiff for $500—just $2000 less than was claimed.

FOR THE PLAINTIFF.

The replevin suit of S. W. Stevenson vs. E. H. Parsons was taken up, and a lot of time was consumed by counsel on either side in argument. In the end his honor found for the plaintiff.

ALLEGED BREACH OF CONTRACT.

The next case on the docket for trial was that of James Fairclough vs. Salt Lake City, the plaintiff being represented by Attorney D. N. Straup (from the law office of Powers and Hiles), and the defendants by Attorney Cost. The action was for breach of contract, and the sum claimed $280. Plaintiff's case is that he was engaged to do certain gardening work in Liberty Park, the period covered by the agreement being from July 1st, 1890, to July 1st, 1891. Four months before the expiration of this time, however, he says he was discharged, without the giving of any reason, by Mort Taylor, who acted as superintendent at the park, and thrown out of employment for some time.

The plaintiff's attorney, however, having asked for and obtained permission to file an amended complaint, the case was continued for the present.

ANOTHER RAILROAD DAMAGE SUIT.

The damage suit for personal injuries brought by Joseph F. Connor against the Oregon Short Line & Utah Northern Railway company was next called up, the amount claimed being $15,000. For the plaintiff Attorneys Dey and Street appeared. Attorney P. L. Williams represented the company.

In January, 1891, plaintiff was in the employ of the defendants, as a brakeman, at American Falls, Idaho, and the allegation is that while performing his usual daily work, by reason of the want of proper care and caution on the part of the defendants, and owing to the use of a defective pilot bar and drawhead eye, his left leg was crushed between the pilot of the engine and a car which he was in the act of coupling to such an extent as to render amputation of the limb necessary.

The defense makes an absolute denial of the charge of negligence.

The trial is taking place before a jury and will occupy the remainder of the day.

GONE OVER TILL SATURDAY.

Judge Sutherland (to whom was referred for hearing the case of John Southworth vs. Scot Insurance companies) having gone to Ogden today, the matter in reference has been continued until tomorrow.

AN OLD ONE.

D. M. Osborne & Co. brought suit in the Third District Court this morning to recover from Byron Harmer and Edwin Walker the sum of $429, with interest from November 17th, 1887. On the date named this same case was tried in Commissioner Norrell's court and judgment rendered for the plaintiff for $278.28, with interest at 10 per cent per annum, now amounting to $142 and $7.75 costs. The judgment still remaining wholly unpaid, the present action is brought to enforce payment.

A DAY BEHIND.

The civil docket in Judge Zane's court is one day in arrear.

Sunday School Union.

The Sunday school officers and teachers of this Stake will hold their regular meeting in the Fourteenth ward assembly room on Monday evening next, Nov. 21st, at half-past 7 o'clock.

The Thirteenth ward school will furnish the musical exercises and Elder Horace Cummings will deliver a short sermon on the subject of "Attention, how to obtain and retain it when got."

Elder L. A. Wilson will give an address on "Courses of Sunday school class work," as suggested in the S. S. Guide and now adopted and used in the Nineteenth ward school.

All Sabbath school workers are invited to attend.

Jos. Hyrum Parry, Sec'y.

THE WILLIAMS-TURNER FIGHT.

The Utah Champion Whips the Colored Slugger at San Francisco Last Night.

The long advertised and much talked of Williams-Turner fight came off in San Francisco last night under the management of the Pacific Sporting Club before [illegible] people. Both men were in good condition. Williams, the Utah champion, weighed 155 pounds, and Turner, his antagonist, about five pounds less. It was a hard and evenly fought battle, and was not decided until the eleventh round when it was won by the Utah boy amidst the tremendous applause of the multitude.

World's Fair Association.

The Salt Lake County World's Fair association met yesterday afternoon in the old Federal court room in the Wasatch building, Mrs. E. B. Wells in the chair. Committees were appointed as follows: On industrial arts, Mrs. Anne Sharp, chairman; on the liberal arts, Mrs. Rhoda Y. Dopman, chairman; fine arts, Mrs. James C. Moe, chairman; on charities and philanthropies, Mrs. M. I. Horne; on ethnology, Miss Nevada V. Davis. A meeting of the association will be held on the 22nd. Seventeen new members were received, and it was announced that a World's Fair association had been organized at West Jordan, auxiliary to the main organization, with twenty-six members. An association will be organized at South Jordan tomorrow. The territorial board met at the Union club at 2 p. m., when there was committee organization and assignments to the different departments of work.

PROVO LETTER.

A Utah County Organization Effected for World's Fair Purposes.

Special Correspondence of the News.

Provo, Nov. 18.—The ladies of Provo hold a World's Fair mass meeting this evening. The following programme will be carried out: Recitation, "The First Thanksgiving, 1622," by Mrs. C. D. Moore; solo, W. D. Roberts, jr.; business of the meeting; male quartette; recitation, Miss Estelle Jacques, "The Nations Bring Greeting to Columbia;" brief addresses by prominent ladies; "The Columbian Exposition as It is to Be," duet, Mrs. Dr. Huff and Miss Orpha Roberts; recitation, by Miss Ollie Gath, "The American Salutation;" music by a quartette club.

William L. Davis and Annie Peterson, of Salem, aged respectively 22 and 17, have taken out license to wed.

The B. Y. A. Choral society is now thoroughly organized and in working order. Nearly all of the prominent singers of the city are members. The society will soon be heard from.

The funeral services over the remains of Mrs. John Ivey, who died on Wednesday last, will be held at 2 o'clock today.

There is a difference of opinion among the citizens of Provo as to whether the coming school election should be held on political lines or not. The central committees of the two parties will hold sessions to discuss this all-important question.

A World's Fair meeting was held last night at the Court House for the purpose of effecting a county organization. Secretary E. A. McDaniel, of the territorial organization, was present and offered several valuable suggestions. A county board of directors of eleven was elected as follows: From Provo, Reed Smoot, Ben E. Eldredge, J. D. Jones, J. W. Turner, W. N. Dusenberry; Lehi, Abel J. Evans; American Fork, James Chipman; Pleasant Grove, James O. Bullock; Spanish Fork, John Jones; Springville, William M. Roylance; Payson, J. S. Page, Sen. The board will hold a meeting in this city on Monday next at 2 o'clock.

Star Valley Progressing.

The first quarterly conference in Star valley was held in Afton meeting house on Saturday and Sunday Nov. 12 and 13, 1892, George Osmond presiding.

Saturday 10 a. m.—President George Osmond spoke on the favorable circumstances by which we were surrounded at the present time and the great advantages arising from the people being self-sustaining, also on the necessity of branching out in different industries.

The Bishops of the several wards gave in their reports which were generally good.

Counselor William W. Burton next spoke on the great destitution of the poor in the world and the many blessings and privileges the Saints enjoy. He showed how the Saints were blessed above the majority of mankind, also showed how the people had advanced since the first settlement of Utah.

2 p. m.—After the opening services Brother A. Gardner spoke on temporal matters especially on the raising of small grain.

Brother Samuel Henderson advised the Saints to pray earnestly for wisdom to guide them into all truth.

Presidents George Osmond occupied a portion of the time again in impressing on the minds of the Saints the great responsibilities that were resting upon them. He dwelt a little on tithing and hoped all would keep the Kingdom of God foremost in their minds.

Sunday, 10 a. m.—After opening services Counselor Anson V. Call compared the situation of the people now with that of the people in the early rise of the Church. He felt grieved to hear some complain of their hard lot, and explained what a blessed people we were compared with some of the outside world. He urged the necessity of educating our children and building and furnishing good comfortable school houses.

Brothers Thos. W. Lee and Andrew McComb gave some good advice to the Saints to be industrious and to serve God continually.

2 p. m.—Opening services over, sacrament was administered, and Counselor Anson V. Call presented the following names for the further organization of the Star Valley Stake of Zion:

For the Y. M. M. I. A.—Thomas W. Lee, president; Hugh E. Morgan, first, and Byron H. Allred, Jr., second counselor.

Sunday Schools — Edmund McLatchie, superintendent; Melvin Henderson, first assistant, and Emery Barrus, second.

Relief Societies—Kittie E. Dixon, president; Sarah A. Burton, first, and Jane Parson, second counselor.

Y. L. M. I. A.—Martha E. Roberts, president; Sarah L. Call, first, Aline E. Lee, second counselor.

Primary Association — Annie R. Kennington, president; Alice J. Call, first, Mattie Barrus, second counselor.

President Geo. Osmond and Counselor Wm. W. Burton made a few closing remarks, asking the Saints to be charitable to each other and kind to all, and strive to fill the positions where unto they had been called. Conference was adjourned for three months.

Wm. H. Kennington,
Stake Clerk.

ELLSWORTH RESIGNS

And in So Doing Talks Plainly to the City Council.

ANOTHER WORDY WRANGLE.

What Mr. Ellsworth Says about Holding the City Fathers up to Ridicule.

The City Council met last night as a board of revision of ordinances, but, as a well known citizen remarked this morning, that body is an "uncertain quantity and it is impossible to tell what they are going to do." Hardy was called to the chair. The members who responded to roll call were: Beardsley, Evans, Folland, Heiss, Karrick, Kelly, Simondi and Lawson.

Deputy Recorder Ellsworth was present and rose to make a personal explanation in connection with his resignation which had been called for. After a great deal of filibustering and caviling Ellsworth was allowed to read his resignation, though he was frequently interrupted by the City Councilors. The resignation was as follows:

To the Honorable City Council:

Gentlemen—I beg leave to tender to your honorable body my resignation as deputy city recorder.

In this connection I desire to state that I deny the charge which has been made against me in the Council to the effect that my work has not been properly done, and on the contrary assert that my individual [illegible] of work in the recorder's office is the only one which is up to date. I admit that I have from time to time employed the Deputy's clerk to assist me with the license work, and when two men are necessary to do it, especially the issuing of licenses, which must be done several times each month. Lately I have been unable to see any of the regular force to assist me in this way. It is not true, however, as Mr. Folland is reported to have said, that this service has cost the city anything, as I have paid for it out of my own pocket. I desire to state further that my conduct in the recorder's office has been uniform from month to month, the last being the same as the first, and it has never been intimated to me that my way of doing has not been acceptable. As for Mr. Rich's remarks as reported in one of the papers, he assured me today that he was utterly misrepresented and did not intend to convey any of the meaning attributed to him. As for my non-attendance at the meeting last night I will state that I certainly did not understand that there was to be a meeting then, and the stenographer understood it in the same way. In fact, it occurred to me that I had thought the adjournment was until last night we would have explained to the council that it would be impossible to furnish the minutes or properly prepare the business as Mr. Vandenberg had been summoned to Ogden to attend the Alfred trial on the following day. If the meeting was to be as we understood it for revision only, then I suppose and in fact had been instructed, that my presence was not necessary. The council is probably aware of the fact that Mr. Stanton did not attend such meetings. In regard to the charge made by Mr. Evans to the effect that I had held certain members of the council up to ridicule I desire to say that I must decline to be deprived of a privilege which has been so freely and fully enjoyed by a majority of citizens. I ask that you immediately accept my resignation.

Respectfully submitted,
Elmer A. Ellsworth,
Deputy Recorder.

The resignation was accepted and the council adjourned until tonight.

THE LAMBERT INQUEST.

The Coroner's Jury Examine Several Witnesses and Adjourn Until 3:30 this Afternoon.

Coroner Harris summoned a jury this morning and commenced an inquest at the establishment of the Utah Undertaking company, on South Main street, over the remains of Oscar W. Lambert, the man who was found dead in a ditch of shallow water, as chronicled in last evening's News. Several witnesses were examined and an adjournment taken until [illegible] tonight, when expert testimony will be taken for the purpose of determining whether the deceased came to his death while suffering from an epileptic fit or while under the influence of liquor. There is no suspicion of foul play.

Amusement Notes.

Patti Rosa is the attraction at the Theater Saturday night, when she will present "Miss Dixie," a new play by Chas. T. Vincent. The company includes a number of well known professionals, among whom are Joe Cawthorn and Maurice Daley.

Next attraction is Charles E. Shilling's minstrels on Tuesday and Wednesday, next.

YOUTHFUL PALS

In the City Jail Together.—One of Them a New York Base Ball Player.

Officer Armstrong this afternoon arrested John Wilson and Edward O'Brien, aged seventeen and twenty-two years respectively, on a charge of stealing fifty burlap grain sacks from Grant Brothers' livery stable on West Temple street. Both of the young fellows claim to be recent arrivals in the city, and O'Brien asserts that he is a member of the crack base ball team of New York. They are now in jail and will have a hearing tomorrow.

A GREAT ENTERPRISE.

The Beaver Irrigation Company's Canal Approaching Completion.

A few weeks since the News had a brief account of a great enterprise now under way in southern Utah and one that next year is expected to redeem more of the barren wastes in that region than any other that has yet been tried in such quarters. Since that publication this paper has received inquiries for information regarding it, to which it could make no better response than to refer those asking to the company itself, having fairly stated the case in a general way before.

The company is incorporated for $100,000, divided into 1000 shares of $100 each. It is named the Beaver Irrigation company, and its object is, as here suggested, the reclamation of the waste lying broadcast in the beautiful basin adjacent to Milford. Mr. M. Monahan, vice president of and contractor for the company, was in the city today, and he gave a News representative a full statement regarding its plans and purposes. The scheme will bring under irrigation and therefore cultivation some 30,000 acres of as fine land as can be found anywhere in the Territory, with a climate and other advantages fully up to the average and greatly superior in some quarters. The waters will be gathered and stored from the Beaver river, a small stream which has its termination not far from where the dam is being put in—about five miles north of Milford. The reservoir is sixteen miles in circumference and will maintain an average depth of eight feet ten inches of water. This dam is 1,000 yards long, 125 feet thick at the base and tapering gradually upward to a height of twenty-seven feet. The reservoir is designed not only to water the 30,000 adjacent acres of land spoken of but to furnish other needed facilities as well. It will be ready for use next spring and, as will be hoped and there is every reason to believe, continuously thereafter. The results of the successful working of this scheme are not at present to be estimated; but among them are the subjugation and utilization of soil at present worthless for even grazing purposes to any great extent, and planting it alongside that of the best in what is justly considered a fruitful and growing county.

Mr. Monahan returns to the field of his operations at once. He is full of confidence over the great project now so near its completion, as well he may be.

LATEST COURT NEWS.

Trouble Arises Over the Election of County Selectmen, Etc.

Two brothers named Mat and John Newman went before Judge Zane this afternoon and applied to be admitted to citizenship. They are natives of Finland, but now reside in Juab county. John was soon bowled out by the questions put to him, and then Mat comes forward and was subjected to the usual line of questioning. He, too, was unable to reply to some of the simplest of his honor's queries, and at length, becoming tired of it, and after giving the brothers every possible chance to "pass," Judge Zane told them they had better go home, read up the constitution of the United States, and come and see him again when they were better posted on national affairs.

Attorney Frank Hoffman, on behalf of Messrs. John Beck and Harvey Hardy, applied to Chief Justice Zane this afternoon to grant an order of court restraining the board of canvassers (Elijah Sells, Elias A. Smith and F. O. Horn) from issuing certificates of election to Herman Bamberger and J. R. Morris, the selectmen-elect, on the ground that there was no vacancy in the office, the election having been for two years. Judge Zane declined to grant a temporary injunction, as prayed, but made an order citing the members of the board to appear before him on Monday morning next.
