WILL WED MISS BAER.

A. J. Gemmill Licensed to Marry the Girl He Wronged.

Gemmill, with Dr. A. Johnson, a dent-ist, stands charged with committing a criminal operation upon the person of Miss Baer. Both men are bound over to the district court, and are cited to ap-pear for arraignment before Judge Lewis tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Whether or not the case against Dr. Johnson will be dismissed remains to be seen, but as a wife cannot testify against her husband, there is no queslion but that the case against Gemmill will have to be dismissed as the girl who is about to become his wife was the principal witness for the state at the preliminary hearing.

LIVESTOCK DISPLAY.

Fine Array of Sheep, Hogs, Horses and Cattle.

The live stock exhibitors ought to have all of their stock on the grounds by this evening, or tomorrow morning, The long open stock shed to the west of the big diving tank, is now pretty well occupied. The Excelsior stock farm of J. R. Allen & Bro. of Draper, is well represented here with 60 head of Cottswold sheep in 10 pens, the largest exhibit the firm has ever made at the state fairs, and is half as large again as that of last year. Four of the sheep weigh 350 pounds each, and the weight of wool makes them pant. J. H. Seely of Mt. Pleasant exhibits 35 sheep in six pens. They are of the Ramboullet breed, and are fine looking animals. Mr. Seeley has 29 head on exhibition at Louis where his son is in charge, Mr. Secley's herds include both imported and domestic animals, the St. Louis exhibit being all domestic animals. He displays over his sheep here a large sheet covered with premium badges con by sheep now owned by him at diferent state fairs over the west. The Oraper live Stock company has 17 head of Cottawold sheep in four peus, a number of the animals weighing 300 pounds ind over. A couple of Salt Lake boys have three goats on exhibition that are quite attractive. More sheep are expected by tomorrow.

THE SWINE EXHIBIT is of an excellent quality, though made by few growers. However, it is enough to show that Utah is a good place to nise this kind of animal and ought to accourage an extension of hog raising the markets as well as for breeding purposes. A very unique display for this part of the country is that of four red Tamworths of the bacon type, by J. L. Mitchell of Coalville. This is one of the best of English breeds, common enough in Canada, and some other parts of the east, but not in the far west. Mr. Mitchell expects

ART DEPARTMENT.

Work of Arranging Creditable Exhibit is on in Earnest.

The arrangement of the art department is going on merrily under the supervision of H. L. A. Culmer, Lee Greene Richards, Mrs. W. W. Riter and Miss Kate Wells. The display comprices a number of pictures by the home artists Harwood, Culmer, Lee Greene Richards, Lewis A. Ramsey, Mrs. M. E. R. Richards and others, and contains come fine pieces by all. Miss Kate Wells and Miss Clare Hackney are the only competitors in the colored photograph department, and each have some dainty work in evidence. The art china department has a notable representation, and will be enjoyed by connais-seurs in this delicate work. Some of the paintings noted were the pertrait of Dr. Richards, by L. G. Richards, which won a place in the Paris salon during the artist's stay abroad, together with a forest scene by the same artist; two pictures by H. A. Culmer entitled respectively "A Wild California Coast." and "Lake Tahoe." A charming local bit by Lewis A. Ramey, showing a sunset glimpse of a tree-ined path with the spires of the Temple in the background. Harwood's beautiful "Autumn Scene" is there, and a charming child-picture by the same artist, which will claim unstinted admiration. Mrs. M. R. Richards has a number of flower pieces and besides these are many others which cannot be mentioned in one space, but which make the display a truly enjoyable one.

Briggs of Bountiful is a larger exhibitor in ev ervthing in the vegetable line, his potaoes, especially the White Diamond ing worthy of special mention. C. G. Porter & Son of Porterville, Morgan county, are other noted vegetable exhibitors. The former's field vegetables are something immense, and the latter's cabbages are, as the vernacular hath it, "clear out of sight." One of these cabbages weighs 30 pounds, and is two feet across in any direction. He has 30 varieties of cabbages, and his cauliflowers are a wonder. Louis Fay ter of Mill Creek shows great stacks of Lake county raised tobacco, also Cardiff giant potatoes, and Kaffir corn with many other immense vegetables T. C. Cragan of Smithfield shows a cu closity in the shape of red combed hon ey, and says he can produce yet othe colored goods.
