Have You a Home?

If not it will pay you to investigate the advantages of Forest Dale before buying elsewhere. We have our own water system; water piped in most durable cast iron pipes, and the ownership of the water, including the extension of the pipes past your door costs purchasers in Forest Dale little if any more than laying the mains in most cities. The advantage this affords will be readily seen, for the water belongs to the residents (each purchaser of a lot being allowed his proportion of the capital stock of the Forest Dale Water Company) and it rests with them to fix the water rates charged. The expense of running the system is very small, and after the first expense of laying the mains is paid the rates need not be more than one-tenth those charged by Salt Lake City.

Have You Saved Anything?

Some people have been waiting for years for land to reach bottom prices. In the meantime they have paid rent and if they have made any improvements or done any work on their residences, the improvements have been made, or the work done, for their landlord. Many other people have built homes, and while those first mentioned have been "waiting for something to turn up," have paid for their property and now own the home that shelters them.

Don't Get in Debt

unless you feel assured you can get out again. But if you have money saved, buy a home. If you have an income, buy a home. It pays to have an object in view, and there is no more worthy object than procuring a home for those dependent upon you.

My clerks, at room 332 Constitution building, will give you prices and show you the property.

AN OPINION GIVEN.

Recently Mr. J. D. Thomas, of North Dakota, visited the Shenandoah Valley, Virginia, and after carefully examining the country located in Winchester, he writes to Mr. V. Hinkeroth, Land and Immigration Agent, Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, Baltimore, Maryland, as follows: "I have been in nearly every state and territory of the United States, and am frank to say my opinion that this valley surpasses all other sections in the Union. The lands are low in price, and produce profitable crops. I thank you for the review we have, and submit these exceedingly pleasant and profitable homes to locate in this country."

OGDEN'S FIRE PERIL.

A Hundred Thousand Dollars Losses Yesterday.

THE WORK OF FIRE BUGS.

Citizens Volunteer For Police Duty—Quiet at the Union Depot —Notes.

Special to the News.

OGDEN, July 8.—Chaos existed in Ogden on Sunday morning and fire bugs were at work. An attempt at razing the city to ashes was frustrated by the heroic work of the fire department and assisted by a number of loyal and good citizens. Seven fires in an hour and fifteen minutes was the record made, resulting in the destruction of property to the amount of about $100,000.

At 3:15 a. m. the alarm was turned in by pistol shots and from Engine No. 3, on the corner of Washington ave. and Twenty-fifth, fire having broken out in the old street car sheds at the east of Sidney Stevens's large three story brick building. The fire had a good hold and had run to the Stevens building like a streak of lightning, and although the department made a good run the building was a seething mass of flames by the time they arrived. The incendiaries had planned their work well and it was at once apparent that destruction of the building was inevitable. The building was stocked with buggies, carriages, agricultural implements and other inflammable materials. Immediately spinning was a show yard stocked with vehicles.

In the immediate vicinity was the Ogden Electric works occupied by Newman Bros., an unoccupied store, frame cottage and a large barn, and a heap of smouldering debris is all that remains of it today. The flames spread from this building to the show yard, and thence from those buildings, and although every effort was made to stem the course of the fire it was without avail.

At one time it seemed as though the opera house building, which joins the Reed hotel, would also be destroyed. Seeing the danger the firemen directed their efforts to saving that building and in this were successful. The outside stair leading to the gallery, and the windows, caught fire but the flames obtained little or no hold on the interior of the building. Considerable damage was done by smoke and water to the furnishings and it is probable that it will have to be refurnished.

In the barn were four horses which all burned to death. The stock in the Stevens building was completely destroyed and the walls were partly demolished, the outer walls standing in such a condition that at any time it may be caused to the ground. Newman Bros' stock was also entirely demolished. The Enough hall, situated on the south side of the Stevens building was only slightly damaged.

When the fire at the Stevens building was at its height, Chief Binford was notified that the warehouse of the Boyle Furniture company was on fire and threatened the immediate destruction of the block on Main street. The force of firemen was soon on the spot and commenced with a will to subdue the flames. At first it appeared that nothing could save the main building, but ultimately the fire was got under control. The warehouse, which was stocked with furniture and other goods, was almost entirely gutted, the workshop and finishing room, however, being safe.

From time to time as the flames raged at these places alarms were sent in from various parts of the city. A fire at Mrs. Johnson's boarding house on Grant Avenue at one time threatened the destruction of several houses in the immediate vicinity, but the flames were quelled before they had time to spread. Two rooms and the upper portion of the building were destroyed.

Two saloons, Orson Riser's and the Palace, both on Washington avenue were also ignited, but the flames were extinguished before damage to any extent was done, and without the aid of the fire department.

The double residence of Chief Binford and Assistant Chief Levy, opposite the fire department, also caught fire but it was subdued by the firemen left in charge of the department, before any serious damage was done.

The total losses amounts to about $100,000. The loss to the Stevens building amounts to $75,000, insurance $15,000; Boyle Furniture company's loss is $10,000; partly insured; Newman Bros. $6,000 fully insured; Opera house block $2,000, fully insured; and the losses on the other buildings range from $100 up.

Had it not been for the heroic work done by the firemen and citizens the loss would have amounted to hundreds of thousands of dollars and some of the best blocks in the city would have today been ruined. That the fires were the work of incendiaries cannot be questioned; but so yet no clue has been obtained to their identity.

CITIZENS AS POLICE.

A meeting of the citizens of Ogden was held in the Federal court room yesterday afternoon for the purpose of arranging for the proper protection of the lives and property of the citizens. All present seemed to realize the seriousness of the situation. On motion of Judge Maginnis it was resolved that all citizens should be sworn in as special police and a thorough patrol of the city established. A hundred and fifty representative business men and citizens came forward for duty.

Two suffice at patrolling around, the first relieving at 12 o'clock midnight and the second at 4 o'clock the morning. No attempts at violence were made. The special were ordered in reserve for duty again at 8 o'clock tonight.

FIRE AND POLICE COMMITTEE.

A special meeting of the fire and police committee was held yesterday afternoon. Chief of Police Dwyngar was instructed to secure the services of fifteen reliable men as extra policemen. Chief Binford of the fire department was also authorized to engage eight extra men so that his department might be ready to cope with any emergency. J.

THE QUEEN.

The "dead line" was drawn at the depot at 6 o'clock yesterday morning by the deputy marshals, and all the people that Fat Dougan arrived are remembered the morning out of town. The depot presents an entirely different scene this morning from that of a few days ago. Instead of all is being blocked all are moving regularly, save the S. P. line and at intervals descended all is quiet and in the place of the strikers who once occupied the depot yard are U. S. soldiers.

Trains are leaving and arriving on time for and from all points east, south and north.

BOYES.

Ed. Bilgreen had his leg broken in two places yesterday afternoon by being thrown from a horse.

The police ran in seventeen hard-looking individuals for vagrancy the last two days.

Fred Cashmore, a striker, was given ten days in the county jail by Judge Miner on Saturday last for contempt of court.

F. Dorsey, a striker, was arrested on Saturday night charged with having committed assault and battery upon the firemen who come to with the western train Friday. He was released on giving $500 bonds.

The east-bound passengers were loading to relieve this morning to know that they were able to go home.

THROWS OUT OF COURT.

Fate of the Trumped Up Charge of Vagrancy Against the Elders.

CANDOR, S. C., June 29, 1894.—Thinking some of your many readers may be anxious to know how the Elders who were arrested in South Carolina a short time since on the charge of vagrancy come out in the higher court, I take the present opportunity to write you.

It will be remembered that the Elders took an appeal to the court of general sessions to convene in Columbia on June 25th. On the above mentioned date the Elders appeared for trial, but were informed by their attorney, Mr. John McMaster, an eminent young lawyer of Columbia, that their case would not be called for a few days. But in the afternoon session of Tuesday, June 26th, the case was very unexpectedly called. The evidence that was given before Trial Justice Taylor was taken down. This was the only evidence to be given before the higher court, but this proved to be sufficient for our purpose. Mr. McMaster read his evidence to his honor and made an able plea for the Mormon boys, which resulted in the judge throwing the case out of court and releasing the Elders.

Our lawyer, Mr. McMaster, deserves credit for the way he has handled the case. He has treated us with great kindness throughout. We have proven that South Carolina is a place of religious tolerance, and that the courts of the land will not uphold any such proceedings as were enacted against us by Stearn, Coughman and Taylor. We feel to acknowledge the hand of God in all things and thank Him for our deliverance. Well may the poet say, "God moves in a mysterious way His wonders to perform." This little affair has preached one of the best Gospel sermons that has been preached in South Carolina for some time. The predictions made by the News some time ago in regard to the matter are already having their fulfilment. Friends are being multiplied to the Elders daily and the work of God is increasing. Our account and the trial justice are no doubt feeling ashamed of themselves by this time.

The Elders in our conference are feeling strong very nearly in their labors. We are enjoying the best of health. We can not do a great deal of traveling at present owing to the hot weather.

Ever praying for the success of the servants of God, I remain yours for truth and justice. W. O. F.,

President of S. C. Conference.

TABERNACLE SERVICES.

The Remarks by Elders Carlquist and McMurrin.

Religious services were held in the Tabernacle, Salt Lake City, Sunday, July 8, 1894, Elder Joseph E. Taylor, of the Seventy presiding, presiding.

The choir sang:

Praise ye the Lord! my heart shall join in work or pleasure, so divine.

Prayer was offered by Elder A. Milton Musser.

The choir sang the anthem:

Blessed are the men who fear Me.

Elder Carl A. Carlquist was the first speaker. He said that like the Elders of the Church everywhere, he realized the necessity of being inspired from on high to be able to edify the saints. The Gospel that we have received is that which Jesus Christ and His Apostles preached to their day. Notwithstanding that the Church was overcome some time after our Redeemer was crucified, and His Apostles and Saints were slain, it has been restored to earth again for the salvation of all men who will receive and obey the truth as the Lord and His followers taught it.

The speaker said he returned from a mission to Scandinavia two months ago. While labouring in Denmark, Norway and Sweden he had been greatly blessed of the Lord. A great drawback to success in the missionary field was the apparent indifference on the part of many of the people in this (Salt Lake) city and throughout these valleys. If our people who had come from those lands could only sense the importance of writing to their friends abroad, great good would result, much prejudice be stopped, and the Elders be received with more favor. Elder Carlquist stated that the work of the Lord in Scandinavia is progressing nicely.

Elder Joseph W. McMurrin was the next speaker. He said it is good to be assembled together, and to feel that God has again revealed the Gospel to earth in fulfilment of prophecies recorded in the Bible. The Lord has greatly blessed His people in these valleys. Once a desert, the country has become a fruitful land. Though our Elders go forth to the nations of the earth and preach the Gospel for two years and upwards, sacrificing themselves, they do not sustain any loss, for the Lord sustains them. He blesses us upon the faithful Elders who go forth to bear the tidings of salvation to the people. Some people are inclined to be unbelieving, and have cases in the Gospel's house and lewd cases in the Gospel's house.

Some people are inclined to be unbelief that "Mormonism" is called from its name. But this name is not well founded. "Mormonism," as it is called by some, is the Gospel of Jesus Christ restored to earth and it will remain restored. From the time it was revealed to the Prophet Joseph Smith, in this dispensation, its progress has been steady, and the truth will continue to spread until it has accomplished all that God designs it to accomplish. Joseph the Revelator, while on the Isle of Patmos, "saw another angel fly in the midst of heaven, having the everlasting Gospel to preach unto them that dwell on the earth, and to every nation, and kindred, and tongue, and people, saying with a loud voice, Fear God, and give glory to Him; for the hour of His judgment is come." The Gospel message has been commenced to sound, "and this Gospel of the kingdom shall be preached to all the world for a witness unto all nations, and then shall the end come." Wherever the Gospel has been upon the earth the glad tidings accompanying it have followed. We testify before all men that the Gospel is restored to earth again, and that every blessing that characterized the Church established by Jesus and His Apostles is renewed and enjoyed today by Saints, as of old.

President George Q. Cannon was the next speaker. His remarks appear in full on another page of this issue of the News.

The choir and congregation sang:

How firm a foundation, ye saints of the Lord, is laid for your faith in the excellent word.

Benediction by Elder James C. Brown.

Home Again.

The Payson Globe has the following to say of the gentleman who has filled the position of the NEWS correspondent at Ann Arbor, Michigan:

John J. McClellan Jr., who has been at Ann Arbor, Mich., for the last year studying music, returned home last Sunday morning just in time to escape the unpleasantness of being late over at some station on account of the old railroad strike. Mr. McClellan has a boat at Lincoln in Payson and visited parts of the territory who will be glad to grasp his hand and welcome him home for a season. During his stay here he will devote the most of his time to giving instructions in music. He is not yet out of his teens, and as rising young musician the territory does not contain one more promising.

THIRST, FRENZY AND DEATH.

A Terrible Tale of Suffering on the Desert Related in a Private Letter.

A thrilling tale of thirst, suffering, frenzy and death on the desert comes to this city in a private letter from W. H. La Paste, from Hallinville, Nevada, to Mr. C. Lowe as published to the Tribune this morning. The letter is as follows:

"I left Vanderbuilt, Cal., 400 miles from here, about. Part of the way I came alone and part of the way I walked. I had a jacket packed with a little bacon and flour and a canteen of water and then struck out into the desert. It was a tough trip. I had one tramp of sixty-five miles without water, except my canteen full, and I lay down on the reflect for two long days with not a living thing in sight. I tramped steady for two days and one night, getting across that piece of landscape.

"I had quite an exciting experience the last day when within about six miles of water. I met a crazy prospector. He had his clothes off and was digging holes in the sand for water. When I came toward him he told me to look out, for the water was very deep. The poor chap had been without water so long that he had gone crazy. I poured a little water out of my canteen for him.

"As soon as he saw the water he jumped on me like a mad dog. As I fell I managed to get my hand on a rock, with which I hit him on the head. He came to in a few minutes and I got some water into his mouth. Soon after he fell asleep. Every few minutes I would pour some water into his mouth, until it was all gone. I had only a pint when I met him.

"I knew it could not be far from water, so I took my pack off the rock and got on him and struck out. In a little over an hour I found the water. It never was so welcome a drink like that pack did. I filled my canteen and went back to my crazy man, who was still asleep. I got some more water down him and waited for a load. I waited him all night, and I tell you it was a long, dreary night, sitting out on the desert with a crazy man. By morning he had recovered his senses. He told me he had a partner, and they had got lost on the desert. He could not remember where he had left his partner.

"After we had had a good feed, as he was too weak to go with me, I took out alone to look for his partner. I found him looking right away from the water. I followed them about three miles, when I came to the poor fellow, lying on his back, dead. I dug a hole in the sand and put him in it and covered him up as well as I could and went back. My wild man helped me to walk a little, we went to the Indian reservation and told the Indian agent about the dead man and then came here and we both went to work."
