NOT ENOUGH YET.

Several Thousand Dollars Must Yet be Raised for the Copper Smelting Plant.

A meeting of the soliciting committee of the Chamber of Commerce and Business Men's Association was held last night. While the committee was gratified at the success that had followed its labors it was found that only about three fourths of the $100,000 bonus for the copper plant had been raised and that a good deal of work would yet have to be done to secure the remainder. It was decided to make another big effort today to raise the required amount, and early this morning the committee again divided its forces and went to work, and it is safe to say that by night the deficiency will be considerably reduced.

Among those who offer land inducements under different conditions are the following:

E. W. Taylor offered to sell 160 acres of land for $500 an acre, located west of the city in section 31, one mile north of the Salt Lake & Los Angeles railroad.

Kate D. George offered to donate 160 acres in section 9, northwest of Beck's Hot springs, in the gas belt.

G. R. Knowlden proposed to sell the northwest quarter of section 33, township 1, south range 2 west at $250 an acre. The Brighton and North Point canal runs across the upper part of the land.

B. A. M. Forsyth offers 160 acres in section 27, township 1 north, range 1 west, four miles west of the city limits for $9000 and donate $1000.

G. R. Knowlden offered 155 acres within four miles of the postoffice at $100 an acre. If offer is accepted he will donate $5.00.

George Cannon offered to donate 70 acres south of Thirteenth South street, on condition the buildings were erected on it within reasonable date.

W. H. McClure & Co., agents, offered the Shurtliff, three miles south of the city on State street, 80 acres, at $500 per acre.

A. G. Rust offered 155 acres west of the city, known as the Gardiner farm, for $100 an acre.

Robert Gardiner offered 115 acres four miles from town for $8,000.

Fisher & Young offered 160 acres three and one-half miles from the Temple, near the Hot Springs, at $175 per acre and will give a house worth $2,500.

Grant Bros. offer 160 acres six miles north of the Temple at $150 per acre.

W. W. Rivers and R. A. Ali offered 110 acres in section 9, township 1 south, of range 1 west, for $22,000, three miles southwest from the center of the city.

A. G. Gardiner offered 160 acres west of the city for $75 an acre.

William W. Rivers offered seventy acres in section 9, township 1 south, range 1 west, for $12,000, three miles southwest of the postoffice, and will donate twenty acres of this land.

Rebecca R. Carter offered 127 acres for $25,000 in section 14, township 2 south, range 1 west.

Ruth Evans offered 160 acres at $75 per acre eight miles from the city in township 1 south, range 2 west.

H. M. McCartney offered the northwest quarter section 12, township 2 west, range 2 west, 160 acres. The seven mile canal runs through the center of it.

Before U. S. Commissioners.

Nicholas Balcher had a hearing before Commissioner Norrell yesterday afternoon, on the charge of assaulting Morits Weiss who asked that Nicholas be bound over to preserve the peace. Weiss alleged that Balcher threatened to kill him on January 15th, and that he sent him word at a later date that he want to disembowel him. After hearing the testimony the court discharged the accused.

Commissioner Greenman yesterday afternoon tried the case of Attorney J. A. Williams vs. Louisa Marie Broutillard and sister, in which the plaintiff sued for $96 for legal services. Some time ago the defendants sued Mr. Hamm, the real estate dealer, for $2000 in the Third District court and obtained a judgment for the amount, but up to date the satisfaction of the same is still in the future. Mr. Williams was their attorney, and he now sues for his fees. The case was not concluded yesterday.

Lars P. Neilsen and Mary Christensen who were arrested on February 3rd for adultery, preferred by the woman's husband, were given a preliminary hearing in Commissioner Greenman's court yesterday afternoon. His honor held them to the grand jury. Neilsen's bond was fixed at $500, and in default of surety he was taken to the Penitentiary. The woman was released on her own recognizance.

John Rupp, who was reported to the County court at a recent meeting as having been guilty of brutal conduct towards his wife and children, at Granger was before Commissioner Greenman yesterday afternoon, and has been held in heavy bonds to await the action of the grand jury.

A DISASTROUS FIRE.

It Occurred at Wells, Nevada, Last Night: Damage $50,000.

Wells, Nevada, 219 miles west of Ogden on the Southern Pacific, was last night visited by a disastrous fire, and as a result the principal business block is a mass of smoking ruins, not of which one or two brick and iron buildings rear their scorched walls, as if defying the fiery element. Their strength alone saved them from destruction. The loss will probably reach $50,000, although this is only an estimate, no figures being obtainable last night. Considerable insurance was carried, though how much is unknown, the principal losers being absent from the city.

Yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock a report reached Ogden that the town had been entirely burned out, and even while the news was coming over the wires communication was cut off. This lent color to the story, also additional news was awaited with great eagerness. About 9 o'clock communication with the fire paralyzed city was again established, and it was found that the previous report had been somewhat exaggerated, although the fire had been serious enough.

At 4 o'clock flames were seen bursting out of Bull's Head hotel, Harvey A. Frost's new hotel, valued at about $30,000. A high wind was blowing at the time and the fire soon spread to adjoining buildings. This block upon which the hotel was located is the principal and only business block in the city and is situated directly west of that upon which stands the railroad offices, buildings and yards. The heat from the burning buildings became so intense that the depot was forced to leave his post. With the aid of the fire engines the railroad men were enabled to protect the company's property and the fire did not cross the street. The hotel did not last long and several building in the immediate vicinity were also soon consumed. Bell's general merchandise store, the largest similar house in western Nevada, was greatly damaged, the roof and part of the contents being destroyed. The great iron doors in the front of the building were kept closed and locked in order that no drafts might be formed. By this means the major part of the stock was saved.

Wells has no fire department and the citizens formed a fire brigade and fought the conflagration with strength born of desperation. By 10 o'clock they had the fire under control.—Ogden Standard.

OGDEN OCCURRENCES.

Sequel to a Pugilistic Encounter.—Legal Affairs.—The Choral Society's Concert.

[Ogden Standard.]

The chamber of commerce ball, which was to have taken place on February 16th, has been postponed to no stated date.

When Judge Blackburn called to order the Fourth District court yesterday morning the hearing in the case of D. P. Tarpey vs. George J. March, continued from Tuesday, was resumed and was not finished until about 3 o'clock when the judge instructed the jury to return a verdict for the defendant. This is a very important decision and gives the defendant possession of 160 acres of farming land near Willard City which were claimed by Tarpey to be included in the grant to the Southern Pacific. The court held that the defendant was entitled to possession by reason of prior appropriation and settlement. There are several other cases of a similar nature now pending in the district court and this decision may have a salutary effect for the defendants in them.

As a sequel to the little pugilistic event which took place near the Union depot on Monday morning, wherein the combatants were an alleged confidence man, and Thomas Silverthorn the latter was arrested yesterday morning by Sheriff Bednap, charged with assault and battery. He was fined $1 and costs which he declined to pay, and was committed to the county jail for seven days. When arraigned yesterday Silverthorn pleaded guilty, expressed great surprise at being fined, and considered it very strange that he could not do up any confidence man who took him for a chicken ready to be plucked. He was informed by the court that while he might have done a good job the dignity of the law must be upheld.

When the box office opened yesterday morning for the Salt Lake Choral society's great concert tomorrow night, Manager Clery was astonished at the number of people who were waiting before 10 o'clock to secure seats. By noon the advance sales were greater than they have been on any previous occasion, quite 6 p.m. on the day of the performance itself, since the new management assumed the present season of prosperity for the Grand. In addition to the musical treat by the choral, Dr. David Ulmer, of Salt Lake City, (himself an active member of the choral) will interspersee the program with a plausible remarks upon the inhabitants of the religion of the Hindoos and Sir Edwin Arnold's poem.

The Cattlemen's congress will convene in Ogden Thursday, April 20th, instead of May 9th, to which date the adjournment was taken last year. The change has been made by the executive committee for the same reason as was the change made in the dates of the Trans-Mississippi congress. The delegates to the Cattlemen's congress will attend the deliberations of the Trans-Mississippi congress, and after the adjournment of the latter it is expected that the combined delegation will go to Chicago in a body and witness the opening of the World's Fair.

Rev. Gilbert Reid, who has been a missionary in north China for many years, arrived in Ogden last night at 7:30 o'clock on the Southern Pacific and went east over the Union Pacific at 8 o'clock. He is on his way to Washington to, if possible, obtain a modification of the existing treaty with China. In that connection he told a very interesting story while awaiting the departure of the train, of life in China, and the wants and wishes of the people of the Celestial government.

Deputy Marshal Gill went down to Salt Lake yesterday morning and arrested Mrs. Artie Jones, a beautiful curled woman, who was indicted by the last grand jury for adultery and to have been committed with Albert Gordin, a colored cripple of Ogden. The officers have been unable to locate the woman until recently. Upon her arrival here she was placed in the custody of Bailiff Bagley who stood sentry over her until she was arraigned before the court and released on her own recognizance.

The case of S. H. Hobson vs. the Rio Grande Western was called for hearing. A sealed verdict was rendered. Hobson claims $150 damages for four cows killed by the railroad near Layton switch in November, 1889.

Next Monday evening the "War Exhibition" company of Hartford, Connecticut, will give a historical illustrated lecture on the civil war for the benefit of the Public library.

The Evening Journal suspended publication last evening—temporarily at least. Just what arrangements the owners of the plant intend making is at present unknown.

Mrs. Artie Jones was arraigned on an indictment charging her with adultery. She entered a plea of not guilty and was released on her own recognizance.

The Select Knights, A. O. U. W., will give a concert and ball on St. Valentine's eve, Monday, February 13th.

Migration of Birds.

A new theory as to the migration of birds has been offered by Mr. Charles Dixon. He connects it with the climatic changes which, as geology teaches us, have gone on upon the earth's surface during the 60 to years of avial existence. The development of the glacial instinct, he holds, drove a large number of polar species south for an ever increasing distance and an ever lengthening time every year in search of subsistence. In the course of time the gradual narrowing of the plains area allowed them to return by degrees toward that native habitat, but their present wants even now fail to supply them with warmth and food all the year round.—Philadelphia Ledger.
