LEHI-

AFTER WEBER RIVER WATER Death of Elisha W. Edney-Home Dramatien-Baseball Club. Special Correspondence.

Lehi, Utah Co., March 3.—The water users of Lehi met in the Central school-house last evening to further consider the proposition of getting the head waters of the Weber river diverted into the Provo river and then run a high line canal from Provo river around the foot hills of the north end of this line canal from Provo river around the foot hills of the north end of this county, thus supplying water to the arid and semiarid lands that would lie under this canal. A petition is being circulated, addressed to the chief engineer U. S. reclamation service, which among other things provides for the supplying of water as above set forth and also pledges that those to be benefited by this act will pay for their water right a sum not to exceed $40 per acre, provided that 30 acre inches of water be supplied annually to the lands. The main purpose of the meeting last evening was to get the deeds to all arid or semi-arid lands in Lehi properly listed. The petition or agreement provided that it will be signed by each party, that he will give his postoffice address and the description of the land for which the water is needed, and that the water right will be paid for in ten annual installments. When all lands have been properly listed, the local reclamation service will figure the cost and amount of water needed, and in this way the work can be more rapidly finished.

This proposition has created a great deal of interest among all people in this end of the county, as all can easily see the feasibility of it, and its practicability, and hope for its speedy installment, as it will be of untold benefit to this end of the county.

Call's Fort, Boxelder Co., March 1.—
Miss Harriet Yates was released from her long sufferings last Wednesday morning, Feb. 22, dying of heart trouble. She was the daughter of Joseph and Elizabeth Yates, and was in her sixteanth year. She was faithful to all her duties, and was a dutiful, affectionate daughter, loved by all who knew her. This was the seventh child Mr. and Mrs. Yates have been called to part with. They lost two boys with diphtheria a year ago. This leaves only four children out of 11, one boy and three girls.

Impressive funeral services were held n the North ward meetinghouse Fri-lay, and were largely attended.
