

FROM SATURDAY'S DAILY, AUG. 20.

Body Found.

It will be remembered that Mrs. Dimond, formerly of Taylorsville, was drowned while attempting to cross the Provo River in a wagon nearly two months ago, and that all efforts made at the time to find the body proved unavailing. We learn that day before yesterday some little girls while gathering hops in Provo Valley, about two miles below where the catastrophe occurred, discovered the corpse in a dry wash, the whole of the body covered with sand and gravel except one foot.

Assault With a Gun.

Yesterday two men, named John Casey and John Frost, had a difficulty in Thayne's Canyon, during which Casey is said to have fired two shots at Frost, but without hitting him with either of them. After his bad marksmanship, Casey clubbed his gun and struck Frost over the head with it. It was rumored that Frost's skull was split open, but later authentic information states that he was not seriously hurt. Casey was arrested and taken to Park City. He waived examination and was put under bonds of $1,000 to await the action of the grand jury.

The trouble is said to have originated over the cutting of timber by Frost on ground claimed by Casey.

A Serious Accident.

On Wednesday Mrs. John Douglas of West Weber left home to visit her son, a resident of the same place, who was sick. The lady while on the way was thrown from the wagon. The seat slipped and caused the lady's fall. The team continued on and after proceeding a short distance was met by some gentlemen, who supposed, from the fact that the team was without a driver, that something was wrong. They investigated and finally found Mrs. Douglass in the roadway. She was removed to her home. It was found that no bones were broken, but Mrs. Douglass has been unable to move in her bed since. She is a very stout lady and is aged and the severe shaking she received may make her recovery tedious.—Ogden Herald.

Broke His Arm.

A serious accident happened to a 13-year-old boy of Mr. Thomas Davis, of the Fourth Ward, on Wednesday afternoon, by which he had his left arm broken. He was in the wheat field, one and a half miles from town, helping to bind a load of wheat, when suddenly the binding pole broke and threw him into the air, alighting on his head. He had his arm stretched out as though to save himself, and falling slightly to the left side struck his left arm, dislocating the elbow and breaking the shoulder bone. His brother, two years older than himself, brought him home on a horse. Dr. Pike was sent for and set the injured member. He is now progressing nicely.—Provo Enquirer.

Found Dead.

On Wednesday afternoon, an old lady named Christine Stevens was found dead in her room at Park City. When discovered she was sitting on the side of her bed, her head resting on a small table. Life was extinct. She had been seen about three hours before, and was feeling unwell; she was advised to send for her son, who was working at the Crescent mine, near the city, but declined to do so, saying she did not think it necessary. A coroner's inquest was held, and the jury found that the deceased "came to her death from old age, general debility, and for want of proper care and attention." Mrs. Stevens was a native of Iceland, and was 69 years of age. Her remains were brought to Mill Creek for burial.

Arrest at North Point.

This morning Deputies Pratt, Cannon and Franks made a raid on North Point, Salt Lake County. The object of their search was Brother Nathan Hanson, Counselor to Bishop Schonfeld, of Brighton. Early in the morning the deputies surrounded the place, and when two of them approached from one side they were discovered by Brother Hanson, who tried to get away in an opposite direction. He was compelled to stop, however, by a pistol shot from Deputy Franks, and returned to his house where he secreted himself, but was found by the deputies, who arrested him.

This is the third effort the deputies have made to effect the arrest, and were to-day successful. The accused was brought before Commissioner Norrell, and pleaded guilty to living with his wives, Hannah and Margaret Hanson. He gave $1,500 bail for his appearance for trial and also furnished $300 bonds for the presence of Mrs. Margaret Hanson at the trial. The complaint against him was sworn to by Deputy Franks.

THE REMAINS OF PRESIDENT TAYLOR

Exhumed and Placed in a Stone Vault.

The remains of President John Taylor were, at an early hour this morning, transferred to their last resting place. Owing to the time required to prepare the granite rock work of the sepulchre to which they were to be consigned, it was impossible to accomplish the necessary work in time for the funeral, hence the coffin was temporarily interred a few feet north of the site of the final resting place of the sarcophagus. This morning the rock work having been completed and finished so far as possible till the body should be transferred, members of the family and others being notified, drove up to the cemetery at 7 a. m., in order to be present at the concluding ceremony. The vault consists of large blocks of granite about one foot in thickness firmly clamped and doweled together with heavy bolts and rods of solid steel, thus forming a chamber seven feet by four and five feet in depth. This is surmounted by a massive solid granite capstone measuring eight feet six inches by six feet and one foot in thickness, and weighing about four tons and a half. This is also fastened securely in position by a number of powerful steel bars, thus forming a structure practically impregnable.

When the President's coffin had been lowered into position, and that containing the remains of his wife Leona placed beside it, President A. M. Cannon offered the dedicatory prayer, and the sepulchre was then finally sealed up by the workmen.

KILLED BY MISTAKE.

A Man Taken for a Bear and Fatally Shot.

Last Saturday a sad shooting affair took place in Price Canyon, Emery County, in which a man named Carter was accidentally killed. It seems that Carter and a man named Smith, alias Shorty, started up one of the little cañons that branch off Price Canyon for the purpose of cutting ties. Going along they discovered some fresh bear tracks, and soon grabbed their guns and started in pursuit of the game, each taking a separate trail. After they had been parted a short time, and began searching for Mr. Brulu, Shorty suddenly heard the brush crack not far from him. He immediately raised his gun and fired in the direction whence the sound proceeded. After the report died away the sound from the brush was not heard. Shorty was about to pursue his way when suddenly the brush cracked again. He at once raised his gun, took deliberate aim and fired. Immediately after the discharge left the weapon he heard the voice of his companion, calling for help, from the place where the bear was supposed to be, and into which place the gun had been discharged. Shorty immediately went to the rescue of his friend, and found, to his dismay, that the bullet had penetrated the hip on one side and passed clear through the body, coming out at the other hip. Shorty immediately ran down to the main camp, got help, and instantly started to the assistance of Carter. They then journeyed back to camp where everything that could possibly be done for the wounded man was accomplished, but he expired from the effects of the wound soon afterwards. He was conscious to the last, rehearsing the incidents of the sad affair with distinct vividness. He stated that when he heard Shorty fire the first shot, he had no idea but what it had been aimed at the bear in some other direction than where he was. He then started through the brush to help Shorty "down" the bear. But the cracking of the brush as he was rushing to the aid of Shorty made the latter think it was Brulu, and he immediately fired the second shot, which did the fatal work.—Provo Enquirer, Aug. 19.

FROM MONDAY'S DAILY, AUG. 22.

One More.

This morning Deputy Pratt arrested Edward Cox, of the Sixteenth Ward, on the charge of living with two wives. He was taken before Commissioner Norrell and pleaded guilty to the complaint. His bonds were fixed at $1,500 and John Sharp, Jr., and D. L. Davis became sureties.

Death at Snowville.

A letter from Bishop A. Goodlife, of Snowville, conveys intelligence of the death, at that place, on the 18th inst., of Elder Charles Green. Deceased was an old resident of Snowville, a member of the Fifth Quorum of Seventies, and a faithful Latter-day Saint. He leaves a wife and ten children.

Accidents of a Day.

Yesterday a man by the name of Jensen, who works on what is called the Church Farm, while running a binder, caught his hand in the knotting part of the machine and one of the fingers of this was plunged through the centre of the hand, making a very serious wound.

James Doney, of Franklin, while out hunting had the misfortune to discharge one barrel of the gun accidentally, the charge passing through the hand, mangle it in a fearful way.

Niels Johnson, of Logan, a young man 17 years old while driving a bull last evening, the animal for some cause turned on him and buried his horns in the young man's thigh, tearing the same for several inches in length and two inches deep.—Logan Journal, Aug. 10th.

A Trip to Bear Lake.

Christopher Merkely returned last night from a trip to Bear Lake. On the 25th of July he left this city on the Union Pacific, paying $8 for a ticket to Soda and return; from there it cost him $1.50 by rail to Pocatello, from which point he took the stage twenty miles, at a cost of fifty cents to St. Charles, the cheapest route he has yet discovered to that country. He found everything fairly booming; the grist mill doing a good business, the crops heavy and ready for the reaper, harvesting fairly under way and men and teams too busy to be hired for love or money.

There have been several accidents there lately, the most notable being that sustained by a young daughter of Alonzo Cook, who had her hand so seriously injured by contact with a carding machine as to necessitate amputation. Our informant reports the days warmer, but nights exceptionally cool, requiring extra quilts for comfort, and the general health of the people tip top.

From Prison.

To-day Brothers Bedson Eardley, Joseph Blount and Herman Groether, of this city, Wm. H. Watson and Peter Barkdale, of Farmington, and John Adams, Centerville, were brought down from the penitentiary on application for release from imprisonment. Each of them had served a six months' term and 30 days additional, on account of their not having sufficient property to pay the fine of $300 and costs—about $350 in all—assessed against them. All except Mr. Eardley were discharged but Commissioner Norrell refused to release him, claiming that he had $200 worth of property that was not exempt from execution. This property was held by his wives, having been conveyed by him to them for the support of themselves and children.

The matter was taken before Judge Zane on a writ of habeas corpus this afternoon. J. L. Rawlins appeared for the defendant and C. W. Zane for the government. After hearing the case, Judge Zane decided that the children of a plural wife, born subsequent to Jan. 1, 1883, were not entitled to the support of their father, and no exemption could be claimed for them. The application for discharge was therefore denied. The friends of Mr. Eardley raised the amount of the fine.

In the "Sweat Box."

We learn that Rudger Clawson was, last night, placed in that barbarous contrivance in the penitentiary for the punishment of refractory convicts denominated the "sweat box." The reason alleged for this action on the part of Warden Brown was a breach of prison discipline. The facts are these, as we learn them from parties who were there. A visitor who was upon the wall of the enclosure lifted this hat to Rudger. The latter made a movement with his hand in recognition of the visitor's courtesy and was about to remove his hat, when he recollected the rule, and let his hand drop. He explained that his action was entirely involuntary, but his explanation, although he was the sole judge as to his intent was of no avail, and he was placed in the "box." If Rudger Clawson had purposely violated the rule, it may be set down as a fact that he would have said so. It was evidently but a technical offense of small degree, and would only be punished with such uncalculated severity by a man with a very small soul. Surely this will be the opinion of people of all classes. We do not believe that Marshal Dyer, who is now absent, would sanction such contemptible petty tyranny.

Deputy Scott's Action.

The following is a statement of the particulars in the case against Deputy Marshal Scott, who was fined $25 at Tooele on Wednesday for his unwarranted proceedings. Scott gave notice of an appeal from the judgment of the court:

"On the night of the 13th of August, between 9 and 10 o'clock, Scott and Brackett went to Mr. Patrick's home and asked admittance to the house. Being refused Scott forced his way in through the door. When in, Scott informed Mrs. Patrick that he had been looking for her for some time, and had caught her at last, and that he intended taking her to Salt Lake City, before the Commissioner, on the following Monday. He then ordered the fellow Brackett, who was with him, to take her into custody, to guard her closely, and pointing to a clothes line hanging on the wall, he said: 'If she attempts to escape, take that rope and hang her.' This began to look too serious; the old gentleman slipped out of the back door and ran for the city marshal. Scott and Brackett, in the meantime, took their departure. When the city marshal arrived, they were not to be found. Mrs. Patrick, who suffers considerably from nervousness, was thrown into such a state of excitement as to render her ill for several days. Scott claims to have gone there by invitation of Brackett, to settle some difficulty existing between him and Mrs. Patrick over a house rented by the former."

DROWNED IN JORDAN.

A Little Boy Gets Beyond His Depth and Loses His Life.

A lamentable accident occurred in Jordan River, near the bridge on Third South Street, on Saturday evening, resulting in the death of the only son of Mr. John Tullidge, painter, of this city. The little fellow, whose name is Charles K. Tullidge, and who was a few days over eight years old, went to the Jordan on Saturday afternoon, in company with some companions, to bathe. The place chosen by them is near what is called the "Black Bridge," and although a popular place with the boys generally, it is also very dangerous. Young Tullidge and Charlie Whiteman were sporting in the water at this point, when the unfortunate boy, who was unable to swim, got beyond his depth, and was carried by the current into an eddy. He called for help, and one of his companions, but little larger than himself, went to his assistance, but was unable to save him. The others called on a man who was a short distance away, and who came as quickly as he could, but the boy had sunk into the turbid stream. The body was taken out shortly after, and efforts made to resuscitate the child, but in vain, life was extinct.

The dead child was conveyed to the residence of his grief-stricken parents, 318 south, First West Street, where the funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon. The bereaved family have the sympathy of a large circle of friends in their great affliction.

Bear Lake Stake Conference.

Brother T. Minson, Stake Clerk furnishes us with the following report:

"On the 13th and 14th instants our quarterly conference convened at Paris and, like its predecessors was progressive. The usual business incident to such gatherings was transacted, consisting of verbal and statistical reports from the wards, which were nearly all represented, the reports being very full and encouraging. Prominent among the good things reported was the very ready response to forward the work on our beautiful Tabernacle, the roof of which will be immediately commenced. The instructions given during our conference were admirably adapted to our condition being sanctified by the Holy Ghost. Prominent among the speakers were President W. Budge, Counselors Jas. H. Hart and Geo. Osmond, Elders Samuel Richards, Jos. B. Noble, Ezra Clark and Bro. Squires. The meetings were as usual very crowded, but the kindness and accommodation the congregation manifested towards each other rendered the crowded house measurably comfortable and the beautiful music furnished by our progressive choir left nothing to be desired."

Want a Cash Basis.

During the past few days the petition appended hereto has been presented for signature to one hundred and twenty of the citizens and tradesmen of our city, and has been duly signed by one hundred and twelve of the people, thus testifying to the importance of the object to be attained. The following is the petition for discontinuing the use and circulation of store scrip in Logan:

"We, the undersigned, having taken into consideration the harm done to the business interests of our community through the immense circulation of store orders or due bills, which are not redeemable on accounts or for merchandise at cash price but which the mechanic is obliged to accept for his labor without discount, and the farmer must take for his produce at a cash valuation, agree that we will not accept the orders of any store in Logan for our merchandise; and we further agree that we will discourage the circulation of such orders as much as in our power lies."—Logan Journal, Aug. 20.
