the Council rotified the Houf their passage of H. F. 31, to au horize the consolidation of railros ompanies and the leasing of rat oad, with amendments. The la vas tabled for the present. The special order of the 14th, esablishing the salaries of proof t udges in the several countles, wa onsidered. On motion of Mr. Hatch, the salary of the probate judge of Wasatch County was placed at a maximum of $100 per annum.

Mr. Penrose moved an amendment to prescribe a minimum as well as a maximum amount of the alary for such judges. The motion was lost. Mr. Francis moved that the probate udge of Morgan County receive a sum not in excess of $200. Carried: Mr. Preston moved to strike out the enacting clause of the bill. The judges received fees for almost every official act performed.

Mr. Dusenberry favored the measure and deemed that county judiciary should be placed upon a nigher platform than to rely solely ipon what fees he may expect from itigants. In California the probate judge was in receipt of a higher sal-ary than any other judicial officer. in this Territory such judges are only entitled to a per diem of per-haps $25 per annum besides the patry fees litigants were required Mr. Hatch considered the present fee bill granted all the necessary not be left to depend on what feethey could obtain under the bill. They should be elevated to a higher Mr. Partridge stated that the sinse of a former House was that the fee bill respecting the probat-judges should not be altered. The ther county officers' fees are al most double those of the probatjudge. Was in favor of the increase in the fees of such judge, but that estates to be administered should pay the expense.

Mr. Penrose said that it was below the dignity of the office of probate judge to depend upon five and ten cent fees, and to make out paper. divorce and other cases which they were then com-pelled to pass upon. Such dab-oling in small fees was below the proper sphere of such judge, and is fair salary would raise them above that level. It was an acknowledged principle that the judiciary should be salaried.

Mr. Booth deemed the fee bil sufficient as probate judges could double their remuneration under the fee bil ton 504 of the Countiled Laws. Rethe present law if they desired. But they should not be compelled to depend upon paltry fees; rather place them upon a higher plane, making them salaried officers. Would vote for the bill as it placed judges above with the bill. The fees were en tire'y too meagre compared with the proper performance of the duties of the office of probate judges. They should be salaried officers.

Mr. Dalton, having had experi-ence in the matter of probate judg-ship, favored the salary project, as it shielded the judge from suspicion, and would also create more satisfacand would also create more satisfaction among the people generally.

Mr. Preston, who moved to kill the bill, said his reason for so doing was that at the settlement of an estate in one county required as much ability as in another, it would work unfairly. The motion was lost.

Upon a motion to increase the salary of the probate judge of Sait I ake County to a maximum sum of $3,000, a debate ensued.

Mr. Farr considered $2,000 per annum sufficient.

Mr. Farr thought the motion was not well considered. Why such large salaries should be given to probate judges, he could not understand. Mr. Farr thought the motion was

Mr. Smith said that it was not designed that each probate judge should receive $3,000, out a sum to be determined upon by the county selectmen not in excess of that amount.

Mr. Peery was surprised at the harsh and ungentlemanly language made use of by some members in speaking upon the bill. High salaies oftener brought forth rogues than honest men.

Mr. Thurman said that as the counties did not receive $3,000 each of an income it would be impolitic to place the salary of court judges at The motion after a little further liscussion was lost. The bill amend ed was passed as follows-ayes 18: "Sec. 1.—That from and after the first day of June, 1882, the probate an annual salary, to be paid quarteriy from the county treasury, an
