

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

CORRESPONDENTS writing for publication are requested to write on one side of the paper only. No notice can be taken of anonymous communications. Correspondents' names must in every instance accompany their communications, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of reliability.

THEATRICAL.—This evening the tragedy of "Mary Stuart" will be performed for the first time. This play has the very highest reputation, and the title role, in which Miss Ince appears, affords opportunities for the finest display of histrionic abilities. Miss Colebrook has a capital character in Elizabeth. The tragedy is well cast.

On Thursday evening Miss Ince will take a benefit, when another splendid bill will be presented.

POLICE.—Yesterday afternoon William Starkey, being overweighted with an extra dose of "tangle leg," was taken in charge by the police, who cared for him properly; and in the evening he was requested to donate $5 towards paying the municipal expenses, which he cordially "planned" over.

FROM ST. THOMAS.—Bro. C. E. Bolton, writing from St. Thomas, on the Muddy, says: "Cotton is promising to do well this year. The hot winds ceased about two weeks ago. There are thunder showers on the mountains around us nearly every day. The cottonwoods are growing almost past belief. The wheat crop in this valley will average about eighteen bushels to the acre; oats and barley do well. St. Thomas is emphatically a healthy location. Everybody is well, but overworked."

INFORMATION WANTED.—Mr. James Erskine, of Port Sanilac, State of Michigan, writes to Mr. Street, Postmaster, for information of a person, supposed to be a resident of this city, named Rora Smith, from the Sanble River, and formerly of the State of Michigan.

MONA.—Bro. Edward Kay writes concerning this settlement, in Juab County, stating that the majority of the people are trying to live their religion. Elder Jonathan Midgley, Superintendent of Sunday Schools for Juab, paid them a visit last month, accompanied by Elder George Kendall and Thomas Ord, and organized a Sunday School, appointing J. A. Keyte Superintendent and Thomas Robertson Secretary. There had been a Sunday School there previous to this organization. A Female Relief Society was also organized, Sister Eliza Somerville being appointed President, with Sisters Bascom and Newton Counselors, Sister Keyte Secretary, and Sister Robertson Treasurer.

Improvements are progressing, houses being put up, and lots fenced in the new survey on the bench.

MOVING ON.—"The track is now laid thirty-five miles west of Benton. On Thursday, four miles were laid. A night and day force of track layers are now employed and the work ceases neither night nor day."

"Benton is to be removed to a point sixteen miles west, known as Redding Springs, where the railroad will have their depots and shops."—Cheyenne Leader, Aug. 1st.

AN INVITING LOCALITY.—A correspondent writing from Green River City on the 2nd, gives a very inviting picture of that locality. He says, "Last evening there was an election for delegates to nominate individuals for offices under the new city charter. Of course quarrels ensued, which were determined to be settled with revolvers; and from dark there was no chance to sleep for cursing, swearing, yelling and hunting each other up through the night like demons, and shooting at each other." He says almost every other house is a gambling house, with whisky mills in abundance, and houses of ill-fame where scenes are enacted that we cannot sully our pages by publishing an account of; and intimates that the leading characters are very anxious to civilize Utah. No doubt of it; but we think they had better keep on the other side of the Territorial line.

ACCIDENTALLY DROWNED.—On Saturday afternoon a little boy ten years of age, son of Mary and the late Wm. Nixon, who had gone to bathe with some other children in the 6th Ward slough, got into deep water and was drowned. We are informed that a man who was close by declined trying to save the lad for fear of an accident to himself. The body of the deceased was buried this morning. His name was Charley Alma Nixon.

[The above paragraph was written and in type yesterday, but accidentally got left out, in "making up,"]

OBITUARY.—On the 14th ult., Mr. Samuel McCartney, one of the leading merchants of St. Louis, departed this life. The deceased gentleman was a native of Belfast, Ireland, and was born in the year 1818. When only ten years of age he emigrated with his parents to America, and resided in New York until he was fifteen years of age. He then set out in life on his own account, and made his first venture at Cincinnati, at which place, he for three years followed the occupation of clerk. For the next five years he was engaged in floating produce to New Orleans and Vicksburg. He subsequently returned to Cincinnati and became a partner in the firm of Butler and Matthews. In 1847 he took up his residence at St. Louis, and opened the grocery firm of McCartney & Butler. The name of the firm was afterwards changed to McCartney & Hamilton, and, finally, to McCartney & Co. For four years—until 1851—fortune was not very propitious; but from that day on he amassed wealth rapidly. He was a man of energy and good business tact, and his death being worth nearly five hundred thousand dollars. He was well known to most of our leading merchants, and so far as we have been able to learn, in their business transactions with him he always showed himself an honorable and reliable business man.

GETTING WATER.—One of the quickest instances of sinking for and obtaining water, that we have noticed recorded in the Colorado Tribune of the 29th ult., in which the editor says, "We saw D. G. Peabody dig a well, put in a pump and fetch water in one hour and a half yesterday. He used a patent tube, which he drove into the ground fifteen feet to water, and then attaching the pumping apparatus, pumped out good cool water. Verily, this is an age of invention."

DEER.—Yesterday afternoon the funeral of Brother Emerson Smith took place in this city, Elder Geo. A. Smith having preached the funeral sermon. Deceased was taken sick in California about the first of last March, and traveled to Southern Utah; from whence he came up to the city with Bro. Richard Bentley. His sickness continued, notwithstanding the change of air and climate, and for some time his death has been expected. He was twenty-nine years of age on the 29th of July. He died strong in the faith of the Gospel.

ST. JOSEPH.—From St. Joseph, Pah Ute county, Arizona, we learn, through Bro. James Farmer, that a great deal of corn and cane had been planted there this season; and the cotton crop looked very promising. The advance guard of the grasshoppers reached that place on the 10th ult., in vast numbers, but it was hoped too late to injure the cotton crop, though it was doubtful. The Indians are friendly, had planted considerable corn at date of writing and were still planting.
