ST. JOHNS, ARIZONA. TRIALS OF THE PIONEERS.

> Drouth is Broken and Prospects Brighten-Plague of Outlaws. Special Correspondence.

St. Johns, Arlzona, Dec. 6 .- This part f Arizona suffered greatly from the drouth last year. The farmers gath-ered but two-thirds of a crop of hay.

the river, thus improving the town property and removing this menace health. The county court could act in the matter and get a return in taxes in a short time.

The water question is about solved at St. Johns. The large reservoir now has more water in it than ever before, and this so early in the season, with more snow in the mountains than for years, causes people to consider the advisability of constructing new ditches to cover more land, to use the water now impounded in the big reservoir, which now forms a lake on the river nearly three miles long. The increase of water lessens the affect of the mineral that enters the river from springs. Everything looks more hopeful for the district. A force of men and teams are at work on the dam, which is now assuming vast proportions. The water in the reservoir will have to rise 10 to 15 feet yet before it reaches the top of the dam as at present constructed, and it is hoped that sufficient force can be put on to complete it, when it will be near ten feet higher than at present. Above St. Johns at Walnut Grove there are four or five families who have some fine land in the rive bottoms, who have begun the construction of a reservoir in the Seneca draw; this will cover over 160 acres of land with a dam not to exceed 20 feet. A good start has been made on the Wainut Grove reservoir, and when completed will treble the value of the farms be-low and when low and make homes for many more familles.

friends and relatives who wish them have suffered from the drouth this season, as they failed to get their res-ervoirs full of water. Their corps were a failure, but with characteristic pluck they are at work to complete the reservoir. About $600 worth of work has been put on the canal this season, and that in the face of no crops. The heavy snow that has fallen, the heavi-The est for many seasons, has renewed the hope of the people for a reward for their labors the coming season. Nutriosa is called the town of widows, as the men and most of the fam-ilies have had to go away to find em-ployment to earn bread. They got no water in their reservoir last winter and no crops were raised. Alpine or Rush valley has been more fortunate than their neighbors, and have raised a partial crop. The land here is rich and fertile, but the elevation makes it subject to frosts-but wheat, oats, barley and potatoes are a success, and by a small outlay to comreservoirs already begun they could almost insure a crop. A little community of good people live here. Every family receives the Deseret News.

Two outlaws, heavily armed, chester. with two riding horses each and a pack held up a Mr. Sherwood at the "24" ranch, and at the point of the gun or-dered the young man to get them "chuck."
