CORBETT IS M'COY'S SUPERIOR

In the Fifth Round He Dropped Hoosier Lad to the Floor.

A WONDERFUL EXHIBITION.

The Ex-Champion Ignored Scientific Tactics and Won Out By Singging-Heart Blows Did the Business.

New York, Aug. 30 .- The long-lookedfor meeting between James J. Corbett and Kid McCoy under the auspices of the Twentieth Century club at Madison Square Garden is over and in less than five rounds Corbett proved himself to he the better man. Keen judges of the game who saw tonight's fight declare that it was the cleverest exhibition ever witnessed in the ring. Up to the moment the men stepped into the ring opinions as to their respective ability were widely divergent. Many claimed that Corbett would prove to be the stronger as well as the cleverer, and it was through his suject) feinting and heavy slugging that he put McCoy down and out.

McCoy's friends all along have claimed that he was equally as dexteregs with his hands, eyes and feet as the fermer champion and in addition to this they said that the Kid could hit harder than Corbett. All who have met McCoy acknowledge that his blows are powerful ones and that they sting and cut wherever they land. Tonight, however, while McCoy landed some stinging jabs he did not cut Corbett's skin, nor did he single heavy right-hand blow on the other hand, Corbett when he on the other hand, Corbett when he dropped science and began to sing, isnded hard rights and lefts which simply took McCoy's guard away, and when Corbett found a vulnerable spot in the region of McCoy's heart, two lefts, divided by a right, ended the

Both men entered the ring in superh ondition, McCoy was heavier by sev-He said himself that he never felt bet-ter in his life, and that he was never so t as he was for this contest. His ap pearance in the ring before the fight and during the first three rounds bore that McCoy had said about

Corbett was also in tiptop shape. The rumors that were circulated early in the ism were exaggerated; as Corbett him-self says he was as fit as a fiddle and had only experienced a little stiffness when he awoke this morning. His footwork always clever in fact marvelously to, showed no signs of rheumatic trouble in the fight and as for his work ith his hands it could not be improved

In the opening round McCoy showed to much better advantage than Cor-bett. McCoy seemed very confident though careful while Corbett was nerbeit was fidgety. The entire round was taken up with the cleverest kind of feinting and sparring on McCoy's part, while Corbett's work left very little to

In the second round Corbett came up in better form and his uneasy feeling had evidently left him. His fretfulness and nervousness had disappeared and be gave an exhibition which could only be given by a man thoroughly posted in the innermost points of the scientific art of boxing. While not a blow was landed by either in the first round, the Freater part was equally fruitful of damage to either boxer. Corbett fre-quently endeavored with rights and lefts to reach the Kid, but the Hoosier ishter was too nimble on his feet and his stopping and blocking were mar-velous. Corbett got to the head toward he latter end of the second round and leCoy Jabbed his provoking left into Corbett's face. In the third they got to such other oftener, but it was in the fourth that Corbett began to take Mc-

At times Corbett stopped his scienti-fo work and resorted to slugging, which proved very effective. McCoy was forced to clinch and it was then that Corbett was surely getting best of it. t forced McCoy into the former's where the Kid kept blocking d sparring for an opening to get out, ducked under it very cleverly and apped to the center of the ring. Jim hed him across the floor of the ring nd by clever work forced McCoy back the corner again, where he sent and left to the Kid's head.

This was the beginning of McCoy's indoing. Corbett went to him, using both bands, swinging and stabbing and enally uppercutting with the McCoy's defense availed him against this onslaught and Cor-Coy saw that he was no longer able ward off the blg fellow's blows and w his arms across his face, his head down in hopes of himself from a knockout punch, relentlessly showered lefts and rights, which straightened McCoy up and then Jim gwung a left which crashed into McCoy's body. McCoy doubled up and in doing so held Corbett's left glove with his right arm.

HOW IT ALL HAPPENED.

Carbet then drove McCoy from him the a right over the heart and as the id went back staggering. Jim leaped for him, landing another left smash be same spot, and the Kid drupped foor. McCoy bravely tried to be but those three blows had taken strength away, and while he frantic endeavors to get up Ref-Walle counted off the ominous ten ds. By an almost superhuman McCoy stood up after he had counted out, but he was dazed he referee had to push him tohis corner, where his seconds

Neither man, when he returned to his dreasing room, showed any marks on face or hody. Corhett, of course, was in the best of humor, and his friends were plying him with questions or showering congratulations.

Corbott said: "He can hit, I tell you, but I dropped on to something very unfelly. He can only hit with one hand at a time. He cannot wallop with both hands. When I saw that I made up my mind that the best thing for me to do was to go in and mix it up with him. And I guess I was right.

Now, I am ready and willing to meet any heavy-weight fighter in the world, Jeffries preferred. I will rest up a bit first, and after that I will take on the best offer." Corbett, while talking was getting into his street clothes, and pased out of the building, surrounded a howling crowd who cheered him ciferously.

Mc(loy's face wore a gloomy expression as he sat in his room dressing. He was in anything but a cheerful humor, and when speken to be said, curity: "Oh, I don't want to talk. What's the use? I was whipped. I thought he was so easy in the first two rounds that I grew careless and he got home the nunch." home the punch.

CORBETT GETS ABOUT $18,000. The men battled for sixty per cent of the men battled for sixty per cent of the gross receipts, which was to be divided seventy-five per cent to the winner and twenty-five per cent to the loser. It is estimated that there was loser. It is estimated that there was about $50,000 in the house, so that Corbett will receive in the neighborhood of $18,000 and McCoy about $6,000.

At 10:30 o'clock the referee called the men to the center of the ring and instructed them. A moment later they advanced to the center of the ring. Just before the men began Referee White cautioned the seconds that if any of them entered the ring they would be arrested. would be arrested.

BY ROUNDS, ROUND ONE. Corbett started feinting with McCoy breaking. McCoy tried with the left but missed. Corbett feinted with the left, but stepped back. McCoy tried a right swing but fell short. Corbett tried with his left for the head, but McCoy threw it off. Corbett, after a spell, tried another left, but was stopped. Both feinted cleverly and Corbett tried anfeinted cleverly and Corbett tried another left, McCoy rushed with bothhands, but Corbett stepped back, breaking ground three times. Corbett tried left swing, but was cleverly blocked, and McCoy made him break ground in trying left for the head. Neither lander a blow during the round. The bell found them sparring in the middle of the rigg.

ROUND TWO.

The cleverness displayed by the men was beautiful. As they came to the center in this round, McCoy was the aggressor, trying a right inside, but fell short. Corbeit tried to hook his left to the head, but falled to land on the Kid. McCoy sent two left jabs to Corbett's mouth. Jim almed a right hook for the head, but McCoy blocked neatly. McCoy rushed, but Jim sidestopped. McCoy landed a left on the ear and at close quarters put his left to the body and Jim put his right to the ear and face. They clinched, and in the breakaway Corbett tried for the head but missed. Corbett then sent his left to the ribe, tried again and fell short. Corbett sent his left to the meck and crossed his right to the mouth. Again the bell found them sparring in the ring. ROUND TWO. found them sparring in the ring.

THE THIRD ROUND.

Both feinted for n few seconds, and then Corbett sent his left for the body, out was blocked. McCoy tried a left swing, but Jim got away safely. Cor-bett essayed a left swing for the body, but McCoy blocked. Corbett rushed in, but McCoy clinched safely and the refbe separated them. Jim tried a right or the jaw, but McCoy ducked. They ame together in another clinch, Mc-loy's chow going to Corbett's chest, and McCoy was cautioned by the ref-erce. McCoy was now on the defensive, and blocked a left uppercut. McCoy led eft to face and Jim countered. Both anded left swings on the mouth Coranded left swings on the mouth. THE FOURTH ROUND.

Both came up quickly at the sound of the bell. Corbett being the aggressor. McCoy broke ground frequently, going backward. Corbett landed a left on the face, but the Kid broke away when Jim tried left and right swings, and they came to a line. clinch. Corbett rushed and the Kid landed left on the ear. Corbett rushed again, driving the Kid across the ring, swinging his right and uppercutting with his left. McCoy kept ducking, but Corbett got to him with both kands, McCoy labbed two lefts in the face and kept after his man, battering down Corbett's defense. McCoy clinched fre-quently, and both showed signs of weariness when they went to their cor-

THE END OF IT.

The Kid stepped in with the left to the face. He tried a right but Jim put right and left to the head. Jim tried left for the head, but they clinehed and broke at the referee bidding. McCoy was now in Jim's cor nor, and Jim tried left swing, under which the Kid ducked, McCoy jabber his left to the face. Corbett smothered McCoy with rights and lefts on the body and head. McCoy was then un-able to defend himself, and simply crossed his arms under his face. Corcrossed his arms under his face. Corbett, seeing that he had McCoy at his mercy, drove a hard left to the stomach, which doubled McCoy in two, McCoy holding on to Jim's left glove. Jim then planted a hard right over the heart, which sent McCoy staggering, and Corbett, following quickly, sent another left to the same spot, and McCoy went to the floor. While the reference was counting the ten seconds. Coy went to the floor. While the ref-erce was counting the ten seconds. McCoy struggled to regain his feet, but he was counted out before he could stand up. White had counted him out before the Kid got up, and he did not seem to realize that he had been counted out. The referee had to tell him to go to his corner. McCoy left the ring within a minute after he was counted out. While Cochett was decounted out, while Corbett was de-tained by his friends, who surrounded him and smothered him with congratu-lations. Time of round, 2 minutes and

As a preliminary to the heavy-weight bout, "Whitey" Lester of Philadelphia and Jack Cushing of Brooklyn were put on for a twelve-round go at catch weights. Lester proved to be much too good for the Brooklyn man, and put it all over him in the opening round. In the second Cushing went to the floor twice and was willing to quit. He went down a third time with very slight provocation and refused to get up. He quit in the most miserable manner, and Referee Charley White declared Lester the winner.

now justly lay ment of the art of boxing in the world. It was generally believed that Corbett would fight McCoy on strictly clentific lines and count on wearing scientific lines and count on wearing him out, but it appears that after the third round he dropped the scientific and sailed in roughly. McCuy wus undoubtedly clever, but was unable to guard against Jim's terrible swings. In hitting, Corbett appears to have had a shade the better of it. Now that the hitting, Coront appears to the shade the better of it. Now that the "Kid" is placed out of the heavyweight class by Corbett, the latter has a chance to go after the championship title again, and will doubtless challenge Jeffries in the near future.

GATE RECEIPTS WERE $75,000 The Corbett - McCoy Fight Made More Many Than Any Other Mill.

A New York dispatch this morning says: The speciacle presented in the ring of the Twentleth Century Athletic club in Madison Square Garden last night when James J. Corbett, former champion of the world and Kid McCoy, met to fight for a share of the gate receipts, which according to Jim Kennedy, the manager of the club, amounted to $75,000, and were larger by thousands than the receipts of any other prize ring contast ever held, was a clean cut smashing mill. There were two stages to the fight.

One of them was the first round, in which McCoy was the aggressor and in which he seemed to hold Corbett safe, outpointing and outflighting him from going to going. Thereafter there was nothing to it at all. In the second round, the former champlon, instead of playing a waiting game, became the playing a waiting game, became the aggressor and soon had McCoy guessing as to what would happen next. It was not the blow on the jaw that affected McCoy. The body punches laid in any part of his anatomy, McCoy has been peculiarly susceptible to body blows. At the ring there were men from Chicago and Cincinnatt, San Francisco and Denver, St. Louis and Salt Lake City, Buffalo and Atlanta. Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 38.—A half-breed named Combad has just brought word of serious trouble in the Great Slave Lake district, where the American and Canadian traders have had a fight over the trade with the Indians. The Americans, it was charged, had smugled large quantities of surplier in and were thus enabled to undersell the Canadians. They also furnished whisky to the Indians. The Edmonton traders grew furious at losing their trade and a fight ensued. Shooting be-came general, and, the Indians siding with the Americans, joined in.

Finally the Americans, who num-bered about afteen, fled to the timber. One of them, August Briese, said to hail from Seattle, was shot and fatally injured, and several of his companions were less seriously burt. Mounted police have been sent to the scene. Don't Blame Us!

Don't say we didn't warn you. Because that wouldn't be fair, and if there is anything you pride yourself on.

> What are we talking about? We are talking about that _FURNACE_ > it is on being fair. You know how it was last Fall-

Don't you remember the free and painful language you used? Don't you remember the shocked look your wife wore for a week? Well don't let it happen again.

of yours. It needs overhanling and we want to overhanl it. Because when WE overhant a Furnace, it stays overhanled. Because if there is anything, in or out of a Catalogue, that we don't know about a FUR-NACE, we haven't run across it yet. Because we make a specialty of fixing Furnaces, Because the cold weather is coming on. Because --- well, there's a whole lot of other becauses but we faven't time to talk about them right now.
