CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC RAILWAY
By reason of its central position and close relation to all principal lines East and West, at initial and terminal points, constitute the most important mid-continental link in that system of through transportation which invites and facilitates travel and traffic between cities of the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts. It is also the favorite and best route to and from points East, Northeast and Southeast, and corresponding points West, Northwest and Southwest.
The Rock Island system includes in its main line and branches, Chicago, Joliet, Ottawa, La Salle, Peoria, Geneseo, Moline and Rock Island, in Illinois; Davenport, Muscatine, Washington, Fairfield, Ottumwa, Oskaloosa, West Liberty, Iowa City, Des Moines, Indianola, Winterset, Atlantic, Knoxville, Audubon, Harlan, Guthrie Centre and Council Bluffs, in Iowa; Gallatin, Trenton, Cameron and Kansas City, in Missouri; Leavenworth and Atchison, in Kansas; Albert Lea, Minneapolis and St. Paul, in Minnesota; Watertown in Dakota, and hundreds of intermediate cities, towns, villages and stations.
THE GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE
Guarantees its patrons that sense of personal security afforded by a solid, thoroughly ballasted Wood-bed; smooth tracks of continuous steel rail; substantially built culverts and bridges; rolling stock as near perfection as human skill can make it; the safety appliances of patent buffers, platforms and air-brakes; and that exacting discipline which governs the practical operation of all its trains. Other specialties of this route are Transfers at all connecting points in Union Depots, and the unsurpassed comforts and luxuries of its Passenger Equipment.
The Fast Express Trains between Chicago and the Missouri River are composed of well ventilated, finely upholstered Day Coaches, Magnificent Pullman Palace Sleepers of the latest design, and sumptuous Dining Cars in which elaborately cooked meals are leisurely eaten, "good Digestion waiting on Appetite, and Health on both." Between Chicago and Kansas City and Atchison, are also run the Celebrated Reclining Chair Cars.
THE FAMOUS ALBERT LEA ROUTE is the direct and favorite line between Chicago and Minneapolis and St. Paul, where connections are made in Union Depots for all points in the Territories and British Provinces. Over this route, Fast Express Trains are run to the watering places, summer resort, picturesque localities and hunting and fishing grounds of Iowa and Minnesota. It is also the most desirable route to the rich wheat fields and pastoral lands of interior Dakota.
Still another DIRECT LINE via Seneca and Kankakee, has been opened between Newport News, Richmond, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, and Lafayette and Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Minneapolis and St. Paul and intermediate points.

Dr. FOOTE, Senior,
Of 120 Lexington Avenue, New York.
Hereby cautions the public NOT to Employ or Communicate With a man styling himself "Dr. Foot, Jr." without making due inquiry.
This man came to Salt Lake City representing himself as the son of H. H. Foote, of New York, the well known specialist, as abundantly proved by affidavits. As rumors came into Salt Lake City from Dakota and Montana from his exposé made there, he changed his base and represented himself as the son of a more noted specialist in New York City than Dr. H. H. FOOTE, the well known author. Mr. JOHN F. TROW, of the well known Trow's Directory, in New York City (forty years in the directory business), EX-Governor FRANK FULLER, of Utah, and the Hon ABRAM WAREHAM, for many years Postmaster in New York City, also Surrevor of the Port have their affidavits that there are no other doctors in New York by the name of FOOT or FOOTE, excepting Dr. E. B. FOOTE, the author of "Medical Common Sense," etc., and his two sons, Dr. E. B. FOOTE, JR., and Dr. HERBERT T. FOOTE. The genuine Dr. FOOTE, Sr., will further deny the alleged relationship, if he is designating by name. Heretofore he has been known not only at home but wherever his publications have been circulated, by the name of Dr. E. B. FOOTE, Senior; care will be taken hereafter, in view of the fact that another principled person has assumed to profit by his and his father's reputation.
Those desiring further and more detailed information in respect to this matter, will receive it by addressing Box 414, Salt Lake City Utah.
Persons having information of advantage to plaintiffs will kindly communicate the same to J. W. Ivey, with Sutherland & McBride, Salt Lake City.
Those desiring to consult Dr. FOOTE professionally or to order remedies should address either

EVENING NEWS.

Tuesday - November 3, 1885

DESERET SUNDAY SCHOOL UNION.

The monthly meeting of the Sunday School Union of this Stake was held in the Tabernacle, Monday evening, November 2d, Stake Superintendent John C. Cutler presiding.

After the rendering of a musical prelude by the Union Brass Band, the meeting was called to order by Assistant Superintendent Horne, and opened with singing by the conjoint Sunday School choirs of the Second and Third Wards.

The opening prayer was offered by Elder H. W. Naisbitt.

The Secretary called the roll of the Sunday Schools of this Stake. All the city wards except the 6th, 10th and 18th were represented and the following country wards were present; Brighton, East Mill Creek, Sugar House and Taylorsville.

Supt. Cutler, in introducing the lecturer for the evening, said that to vary the exercises at these meetings, the superintendents of the city schools would be requested in their turn to furnish a lecturer from among the young men of their schools, and the subject of the address would be left to the choice of the lecturer, assisted by the superintendent.

Brother Fawson Smith, Jr., of the Twenty-first Ward School, delivered a very interesting address upon the lives of the martyrs, Joseph and Hyrum Smith.

The choir sang from the Union Tune Book, "When shall we meet Thee?" in a sweet and effective manner.

Assistant Stake Superintendent T. E. Taylor, in making a few remarks referred to the object of the meetings of this Union. Their purpose was to provide means for the advancement and harmony of the Sunday School work in general, and in this Stake in particular. The Union was made a medium through which information in regard to the best manner of conducting and successfully carrying on the cause might be disseminated to all the schools connected with the Union. In referring to the change of programme, he said that the calling of young men to speak at these meetings, he thought would be the means of doing good not only to those who took part but to the school with which they were connected. The speaker urged upon the schools of this Stake to have at least one representative present at these meetings that the points of interest to the Sunday school workers might be generally circulated among all engaged in the training of our children.

The brass band played a popular air.

Asst. General Supt. George Goddard expressed his pleasure with the success of these meetings. Referred to the exercises in times past, and was satisfied in the new departure much good would be accomplished. He referred to his late visit to the 21st Ward Sunday school. He noted with pleasure the effective soul-stirring concert singing practised by that school under the efficient management of Elder Thomas McIntyre. He suggested that it would be well if some of Superintendents and choir leaders would visit this school to note the effect of the singing; and if they wanted any assistance in that direction, Brother McIntyre would be glad to render any assistance in his power to make effective concert singing in our schools.

It was announced that the Fifth Ward would furnish the singing exercises at the next meeting, and each school was requested to furnish a good usher to assist at these meetings.

The choir sang an anthem.

Benediction by Supt. Paul A Elkins, of Sugar House.

The singing rendered at the meeting, under the direction of Elder S. Durant, was excellent, for what the choir lacked in volume was amply made up in affectiveness.

Jos. H. Parry, Sec'y.

The Wheat Outlook.

What to do with the wheat of the country is asked by each farmer who goes with his load to the warehouse. Not that he fears the market will grow worse, but whether he shall not sell upon the first advance. The speculators in wheat are filling his ears with the distressed state of the market abroad, the probability of a further decline, the immense surplus on the other side of the Rocky Mountains and in Europe, and yet the present price leaves him so small a margin of profit that he hesitates to dispose of it. In order to answer the inquiries sent us with some facts upon which a fair judgment might be founded, we called upon Mr. Montpelier, the manager of the Grangers' Bank. As is well known, the Grangers' Bank is the creature of some of the most prominent members of the Grange—practical farmers, who desire to carry the co-operative principles of the Grange into the money circles of the country. It has been, since its organization, the balance wheel of the machinery of grain production in this state. The past year, by the circumstance of general business depression, it had an opportunity to fully develop its power and the purpose of its origin, for, to steady the decline in wheat, it distributed nearly $3,000,000 among the farmers, preventing the crowding of the market by the needy holders.

We found the manager in the midst of his maps of the wheat-growing world, and about him carefully prepared data obtained by daily communication with every commercial centre from San Francisco to India. He very cordially invited us to examine the facts in his possession and the conclusions presented by the statistical tables prepared by himself.

We can only summarize the details he so fully gave, which begins with the shortage of wheat this year as compared with last in America of 140,000,000 bushels. East of the Rocky Mountains his comparative tables show that all that can be had for export is the reserve of last year, the short crop of this year being required for home consumption. This reserve amounts to 70,000,000 bushels. The annual consumption of the United Kingdom of Great Britain is 27,000,000 quarters; divide by four and the number of tons is given. The crops of Great Britain this year, according to the most reliable economists, will amount to 9,000,000 quarters, leaving the balance, 18,000,000 quarters, to be imported.

The short crop of France demands an importation of 4,000,000 quarters. Russia has but one-half a crop for export. Austria and Austria-Hungary have a surplus of wheat, but the rye crop has been a partial failure, and the loss of rye bread will need to be repaired with wheat, so exhausting the surplus of wheat in that district. India is the next of the great feeders of the non-producing nations. The export of wheat of India since 1880 has been between 70,000 and 90,000 tons, making an average of 80,000 tons, showing no increase since that time, but on the contrary has been less than an average of the last two years. Recent intelligence is that a famine has been threatened in that part of India where 3,000,000 of people died of starvation, caused by the drought of five years ago, and that the overflow of the Ganges has inundated the rice and grain producing districts adjacent to Calcutta. Since the last great drought connection has been made by rail with the southern portion of India, so that it is possible to save the population there with the products of the more fortunate sections of the country. It is not presumed that England will, at this time of danger to her Indian possessions, permit her subjects to suffer, and to avoid it will be obliged to draw upon the greater part of the annual export of that part of the kingdom. In this has a population of 255,000,000, 190,000,000 of whom are under British rule, and all of whom are bread-eaters. With one-third the area it has five times the population of the United States.

From California in August and September of the last year sixty-eight vessels cleared with wheat, while this year up to this time in September but ten cargoes have been shipped. Taking these general facts from the mass of details tabulated by Mr. Montpelier, the farmer should be able to exercise a fair judgment upon the disposition of his wheat. We give them in an irregular way, because they will be just as striking in this form as any to the mind of a farmer, who would never be patient enough to expend the labor of examination devoted to them by our informant, even if he had the ability. Such general facts would seem to convince any mind, given to the most moderate calculations, that the wheat market, however gradual in its movement, must tend upward.

It would have been a great satisfaction to have obtained a prediction as to the near future of the market, from one who bears no speculative relations to the wheat product, but Mr. Montpelier would only say, that with the array of facts, and to-day's report from Europe of the increasing firmness of the market, he should be surprised if wheat did not advance some dollars per ton before the 1st of January.—California Patron.

CORRESPONDENCE.

A DISTINCTION CLAIMED.

Salt Lake City, Utah, November 2d, 1885.

Editor Deseret News:

I presume we have had time in the last two months to hear from all ladies who claim "A disputed honor" in regard to being the first who have undertaken the composition of music. If so there is but one to put to flight so far as I am concerned. The one to whom I refer is our esteemed friend Sister Augusta J. Crocheron, whose article of Sept. 8th, you had the pleasure of heading "A disputed honor." Sister C. gave the public to understand that her "latest songs" were published—by referring us to their names. I need only say the lady acknowledged to me a few days ago that they were never published.

I am also prepared to state that the tune in the primary tune book bearing her name was not entirely composed by her, as it was taken down by a musician, who added the requisite parts and arranged all for the press. Mrs. Flora S. Hill, author of the "Hero Waltz" and "Queen of the West," required no assistance in completing them for the press, and I am pleased to again state that she is the first lady in Utah who has issued sheet music, and that both pieces are very saleable where properly performed.

Respectfully, H. J. Hill.

Many a Lady is beautiful, all but her skin; and nobody has ever told her how easy it is to put beauty on the skin. Beauty on the skin is Magnolia Balm.
