

ROUSING RALLY AT THE THEATER.

Republicans Assemble and Ratify
The National and State
Tickets.

SPEECHES AND SWEET MUSIC.

Would-be Bolters Roundly Scored from
The Public Roster—What the Speakers Said.

A large audience assembled at the theater last night to ratify the Republican national and state tickets. While it was evident that many of the disgruntled had remained away, the meeting was an enthusiastic one, and the remarks made brought forth rounds of applause. Before the rally the Utah State band and a shotgun brigade paraded the principal streets with marked effect, and as the people entered the theater they were presented with small American flags, which they waved at frequent intervals during the evening.

GOVERNOR "STANDS PAT."
The meeting was called to order by Parley P. Christensen, president of the Young Men's Republican club, who introduced Governor Heber M. Wells as chairman. The governor was extremely happy in his opening talk and was loudly cheered when he said: "During the past few days I have been asked hundreds of times: 'What are you going to do to get even with John C. Cutler?' I have told them: 'I am going to do everything in my power to elect John C. Cutler governor of Utah.' These words stand for a resolute chord and literally 'brought down the house.'"

COL. GEORGE B. SQUIRES.
The governor was followed by Col. George B. Squires. He spoke with great earnestness and made it plain that it was the duty of all true Republicans to support the entire ticket, regardless of personal disappointments.

EX-CONGRESSMAN SUTHERLAND.
Ex-Congressman Sutherland was the next speaker. He praised the nominees of the party for their sterling worth and paid high tribute to Mr. Cutler, who was every inch a Republican. Mr. Sutherland was happy in his remarks and told a number of good stories, which took well with the audience.

SECRETARY HAMMOND.
The speech of Secretary of State James T. Hammond was a rouser. Mr. Hammond scored disaffected party workers and made a hit when he said: "A man is not a good Republican if he supports a ticket only when his name is on it."

HON. JOHN C. CUTLER.
Hon. John C. Cutler, the nominee of the party for governor, was the next speaker. He paid eloquent tribute to Governor Wells, and promised that if elected governor he would do everything possible to advance the interests of the state.

CONGRESSMAN HOWELL.
Congressman Joseph Howell endorsed the ticket from top to bottom, and was heartily applauded when he remarked that this was no time for Republicans to sulk in their tents; no time to give half-hearted support to the county and state tickets.

Seven years of frightful suffering from Eczema Cured by 4 bottles of D. D. D. Prescription.

Read letter from this prominent business man.

OMAHA, Neb., Dec. 15, 1903.
After giving every well-known remedy a thorough trial and taking treatment from different physicians without receiving any relief, I had almost given up hope when through the recommendation of the drug firm, Sherman & McConnell, I tried a bottle of the D. D. D. I gave one instant relief. Have used four bottles and think I am cured after suffering for the last six or seven years with the worst of all skin diseases, the eczema.

W. R. OWENS, The Owens Fence Post Co.
Don't be fooled into thinking that skin troubles come from blood impurities and don't ruin your stomach with purges and blood remedies.
Eczema and all skin diseases are caused by little germs that attack the skin externally. D. D. D. Prescription kills these germs and leaves the skin clear, soft and healthy. Its work seems almost miraculous. If you are skeptical go to the drug store where a photo appears below and he will show you photos and proof positive that D. D. D. will actually cure you of all skin diseases.
D. D. D. costs but $1.00 per bottle and is guaranteed to cure any skin disease or money refunded. For sale and guaranteed by

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY.

(DO YOU REMEMBER?)

The Third ward meetinghouse, Salt Lake, was dedicated with appropriate ceremony.

Several persons were killed in a riot which occurred during an excursion to Staten Island, New York.

Labor troubles among the miners of Snake Hollow, Ohio, resulted in several being killed and others wounded.

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY.

Governor Waite of Colorado was acquitted on the charge of withholding a personal letter from ex-Police Matron Likens.

William L. Helfrich of New York was arrested there on the charge of embezzlement, alleged to have been committed in Ogden, Utah.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY.

Lucretia Robinson, an early settler of Utah, passed away at her home in Fillmore, at the advanced age of 92 years.

Chris Madsen, a member of the Robber's Roost gang, was captured near Dubois, Ida.

The Cebu insurgents were driven back by American troops, under Col. Bayless.

The evening was that of W. D. Livingston of Sanpete. He was loudly applauded when he said: "The person, faction or party that refuses to support one candidate, ought to be known as the Benedict Arnold of Republican politics. Let us hear no more cries of 'He got it by fraud.' He stacked the primaries! We shall stand pat," he concluded.

JUDGE FRICK.
The closing speaker was Judge J. E. Frick, who made a characteristic Republican talk. He admitted he had prepared a speech to be delivered as a successful candidate for the supreme bench, but said his defeat had not disgruntled him.

MUSICAL NUMBERS.
During the evening there were musical numbers by Miss Emma Ramsey, Mrs. Lizzie Thomas-Edwards and the Squires quartet. The former sang the "Star Spangled Banner" and "The Red, White and Blue," which caused the audience to arise and wave small American flags, with which each individual present had been presented.

FROM SENATOR KEARNS.
Senator Kearns was not present but he sent his compliments in the following telegram, which was read during the evening:

Park City, Aug. 30, 1904.
"Gov. Heber M. Wells and with you in spirit in walking with the Republican party. The American people must and will continue in power, for it is Republican principles and policies that have made this our country, the grandest and greatest on earth."
"THOMAS KEARNS."

Cache County Politics.
Logan, Aug. 23.—N. W. Crookston and S. A. Jenson are both out with announcements that they are candidates for sheriff on the Democratic ticket.

Joseph Knowles is mentioned as a candidate for sheriff on the Republican ticket, and Andreas Peterson is spoken of as a legislative candidate.

Rulon S. Wells is a favorite with many local Democrats for governor and he will likely have many friends on the Cache delegation.

POLITICAL POINTERS.
T. F. Griffiths of the Second precinct has announced himself as a Republican candidate for the lower house of the state legislature.

Democrats at Mt. Pleasant have elected delegates to attend the county convention to be held on Saturday. They are as follows: Henry Erickson, L. P. Nelson, Charles A. Varet, A. J. Syndergaard, A. Erickson, J. W. Cherry, F. Erickson, J. N. Erickson, George Christensen, J. Aldrich, D. Rasmussen, P. Hansen, A. S. Jensen, H. P. Jacobson, J. T. Ivie, Mons Monson, and A. J. Peterson.

As another sample of political non-truthfulness this morning's Tribune published the following:

"One of the star attractions could not be secured until appeal was made to Senator Reed Smoot. His constituted authority produced results, and the program could be carried out as it had been advertised."

When Senator Smoot's attention was called to the matter, he said to the "News": "All I care to say is that the statement is wholly false. I saw or spoke to no person concerning the composition of the program and had nothing whatever to do with either. I presume that reference was made to Miss Ramsey, as I saw by last evening's 'News' that she would not appear on account of not having been acquainted with regard to her name having been made use of by the committee. But I neither spoke to nor consulted with the young lady either directly or indirectly. The insinuation that I did is wholly false."

LIKED THE BIG ORGAN.
Eminent American Pianist Praise Tabernacle Instrument.

"I have heard the great organs of this country and a number in Europe, and I have yet to hear one superior to this organ," said Prof. Oliver Willard Pierce of Indianapolis at a "New" reporter in the Tabernacle after yesterday's recital. Prof. Pierce is president of the Metropolitan School of Music, and has the reputation of being one of the foremost of American pianists. He was here yesterday, with a party of Indianapolis Knights Templar on route to the Pacific coast enclaves, and both attended the Tabernacle recital and played on the big instrument himself. Said he, further, "Every stop in the Tabernacle organ is just what it pretends to be, and that is more than what can be said of many other organs. That vox humana stop is most remarkable. I have yet to hear one that surpasses it. Prof. Pierce was enthusiastic over the Tabernacle organ and also said that the organist was in every way worthy of the instrument. When a member of the party observed that Prof. McClellan might well grace the roster of the American Guild of Organists, Prof. Pierce quickly replied, "Oh, never mind the American Guild of Organists; he belongs already to the American Guild of Artists."

The recital was attended by a large audience, the greater part being half full. In the center of the house were the party of distinguished English Knights Templar, members of the nobility, under the guidance of prominent members of the Scottish Rite Consistory of this city. These latter included Messrs. Chris Diehl and Greenwald, 33 degree, and Judge E. W. Morgan, 33 degree, and Pinkerton, F. C. Schramm, and others. The program included the prelude to "Lohengrin," the "Enchanted Bell," the "Prelude" and "Stillness from the 'Cavalleria Rusticana,' and the "Annie Laurie" variations, the recital winding up with the "Star Spangled Banner."

The performance was well received, the audience standing at the national anthem was played, and the English party all came up around the organ desk afterward, where the organist explained the various workings of the instrument. The Earl of Euston told a "News" representative that he was in Salt Lake 29 years ago, and had listened to the Tabernacle organ at that time. The improvement over the old organ, he considered as decidedly noticeable. He said his party had been most cordially entertained everywhere by the Scottish Rite Masons, and their trip across the continent had been most delightful. The party did not go to the lake owing to lack of time, but chaperoned by the Scottish Rite Masons they visited the University and Alta clubs, and other places of interest within easy reach.

There will be a classical recital tomorrow, in the Tabernacle.

Abscess.
W. H. Harrison, Cleveland, Miss., writes, Aug. 15, 1903: "I want to say a word of praise as regards the Snow Liniment. I stepped on a nail, which caused the cords in my leg to contract and an abscess to rise in my knee, and the doctor told me that I would have a stiff leg, no one day I went to J. F. Lord's drug store who is now in Denver, Colo. He recommended a bottle of Snow Liniment. I got a 50c size, and it cured my leg. It is the best liniment in the world."

STUDENT INTERVIEWED.
Ben Harris of Salt Lake Tells of His City and Its People.

The Evening Post of Worcester, Mass., contains a very readable article headed "Mormonism from the Standpoint of a Non-Mormon Utah Man." The article is an interview with Mr. Ben Harris, son of Mr. H. Harris, of the Harris Furniture company of this city. Young Mr. Harris, who recently graduated from the high school in Salt Lake, is visiting friends in Worcester, and is about to enter the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor.

Following are some extracts from his interview with the Post reporter:

Ben Harris of Salt Lake City, Utah, is the guest of Dr. Max Bauff, 42 Providence street. Mr. Harris was recently graduated from the high school in Salt Lake City and is passing his summer vacation in the east. He will enter the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor next month.

He describes his home city as a flourishing place with a population of about 60,000, nearly two-thirds being Mormons. In the state at large the proportion of persons of that belief is somewhat larger.

"The Mormons," he says, "are as a rule very pleasant people to deal with. They do not discriminate in any manner against people of other faiths nor are there any features in their own beliefs and practices that are at all obnoxious."

"Moreover, the Mormons possess many excellent qualities. They are extremely industrious, honest and reliable. Education of all sorts is eagerly sought by them and the public school system of the state is in many respects a model. Many of the professors and instructors in the colleges and high schools of the state have been educated in the east."

"Salt Lake City is laid out with a view to regularity and beauty. The center of the city is the great temple. The streets bounding it are named North Temple, South Temple, East Temple and West Temple. As the streets recede from the building they are named First North, Second North, etc. These streets cross each other at right angles and the result is a city where it is extremely easy to find any place desired, more so even than in New York. The streets have the almost incredible width of 132 feet. On nearly all of them there is a row of trees on the inside of the sidewalk and one next to the street, thus making the sidewalks leafy avenues that are very attractive."

"The city is fast becoming a railroad center. Its position midway between San Francisco and Denver is of advantage tage and a number of the railroads center here.

"As one goes about the city he is constantly reminded by what he sees that he is in the midst of a mining region, held seats in the wealthier citizens have made their money in silver mining, but other metals are found as well throughout the state. The silver mining industry fell into decay somewhat during the period between 1893 and 1900, but of late has begun to revive considerably. The state possesses splendid deposits of coal that as yet have not begun to be developed. The agricultural resources of the state are also great."

"Politics are always of absorbing interest to the people of Utah. Women have full suffrage privileges and their active participation in political affairs is noticeable. They have even in some localities seats in the Legislature. Salt Lake City has two morning and two evening newspapers and all devote much space to matters of interest to politicians. The state at present is Republican, but it is rather close President Roosevelt is very popular throughout the state and at present seems to be the favorite candidate."

"One of the interesting features of Mormonism is its system of missionary work. Many have gone from the state to spread the Mormon faith throughout Canada and Mexico, and many converts have been made in Europe. The best field seems to be in the Scandinavian countries."

"A young man is selected as a missionary and before his departure an entertainment is given in one of the halls of the city for his benefit. There is no fixed admission price but each one that attends gives as much as his inclinations dictate. As the audience is composed to a large degree of the friends of the missionary the proceeds are quite sizable. The missionary stays as a rule for two years in the country to which he is assigned."

"This missionary work appeals to all lovers and is loyally supported. But while great efforts are made to secure converts in other parts of the world, the non-Mormons that live in Utah are not urged to join the faith nor are serious rights in any way interfered with."

"The state is in a flourishing condition at present but it has still greater growth in store. The country realizes its great possibilities and capital begins to develop its wonderful resources."

COLD FOR CROPS. Frost Early in the Week Did No Small Amount of Damage.

The local weather office published the following crop bulletin for the week ending last evening:

"A cool wave swept over the entire state during the first of the week, producing severe frosts in all elevated localities. Temperatures during the rest of the week were about normal. Repeated thundershowers occurred in nearly every county, and heavy rainfall and hail were reported in some sections. The frost early in the week produced considerable injury. Nearly every farming community in the state reported more or less damage, except in Salt Lake county, where the highest elevation the damage was confined to lucerne seed, but northward the blight extended to tomatoes, potatoes, squashes, pumpkins, corn, and even to late summer grain in all elevated districts. Probably the greatest loss is in the tomato crop, as this crop was just ripening and canning had begun when the frost came. The cucumbers were gathered as rapidly as possible, but the chief loss is in the unripe tomatoes on the dead vines. Potatoes will be small in some localities on account of the premature killing of the vines. The loss in squashes and pumpkins is not extensive. Grain that had not matured, owing to the lateness of the season in high altitudes, and it is not one shilling above the market price on account of the frost. Fodder has suffered more or less injury."

Harvesting and threshing continue in scattered localities, though the bad weather was a serious impediment to this work. The yields continue above the average. Considerable difficulty was experienced in handling hay in the southern counties, where the third crop was going up, on account of frequent rains. In Sevier county the lucerne is ready to cut, but this work is awaiting suitable weather. The golden ax, or ax beets, remain practically unchanged, with a good crop indicated. Great quantities of fruit are now being picked for shipment. The grade of apples and peaches is fine. In Davis county the seeding of fall wheat has begun."

The ranges have made luxuriant growth, and prosperity is promised to the cattlemen, as much winter pasturage is now assured. Stock are doing well, and irrigation water is sufficient for all crops for this year."

OGDEN JUDGE HITS AT PASTOR SIMPKIN

Says Salt Lake Preacher Was Prejudiced and Acted Without Having Facts.

PARDON CASE IS THE CAUSE.

Judicial Declaration That the Young
Englishmen Confessed Their Guilt
And Had a Fair Trial.

(Special to the "News.")
Ogden, Utah, Aug. 31.—The Ogden police department, judicial officials and others are very indignant at the following statement made by Rev. Simpkin of Salt Lake, with reference to the pardon of Robert Lister and William Watson, alias Curvin Wilkinson, who were convicted of highway robbery and sentenced to the state prison:

"Rev. Simpkin in course of conversation this morning stated that he had made it a rule during his visits to the state prison never to make any move to seek to obtain a pardon for convicts. In this first case, however, he was convinced that there had been a miscarriage of justice. There had been a hold-up in Ogden, and the police had arrested somebody. The two young men had just received a sentence from England, and when arrested they were found with money on them. They were railroaded through to jail on general principles. If I did not think that they were innocent I would not have done what I have," he said."

JUDGE HOWELL REPLIES.
In reply to the charges made by Rev. Simpkin, Judge J. A. Howell makes the following statement, in which all familiar with the case concur:

"I don't propose to criticize the action of the board of pardons in this case, because I am not familiar with the grounds upon which it was taken. But I have a right, which I propose to exercise, to present the unwarranted accusations made by the Rev. Simpkin against the police department of Ogden city, as reported in the Deseret News of Monday evening. I have been associated in an official capacity with the members of the Ogden police department for nearly three years, and I know of no one who would attempt to convict men simply for the sake of securing convictions. As Mr. Simpkin alleges they did in this case, the Ogden police department is just as zealous in protecting the innocent as it is in punishing the guilty. I am not acquainted with the matter myself. If Mr. Simpkin will come to Ogden, and carefully look into the workings of the Ogden police department, I will guarantee to convince him, prejudicial though he be, that he is mistaken in his attack on our police, and I will guarantee to make him sorry that he ever made such a charge against them."

"So far as this particular case is concerned, in my three years' experience in trying over 4,000 criminal cases, I have never known a single case of guilt. These men deliberately took an old man named Robert Lehman of Wanship, Summit county, down the track, knocked him senseless and robbed him of his money. They were arrested on a description given by the man they robbed, they freely confessed their guilt, and returned a portion of their plunder. They were given a regular preliminary examination and a fair and impartial trial, being represented throughout the proceedings by an attorney. They were convicted of the crime by the testimony of police officers, but by the testimony of the man who was robbed, who is an old resident of Summit county, and by the testimony of E. A. Larkin, the Ogden representative of the Deseret News."

"A jury composed of the following citizens of Weber county tried the case: Eli B. Spaulding, James Mack, I. J. Middleton, A. McClaren Boyle, Ezra Richardson, J. P. Rankin, David M. Higgins, and M. F. Moore. It is preposterous to say that these men, among the most responsible men in Weber county, that the trial judge, the district and county attorneys as well as the police and sheriff, all conspired together to enter into a conspiracy to 'railroad' these men through to jail and make them the scapegoats of someone else's crime, and yet that is the effort of Mr. Simpkin's language, if he is quoted correctly, as I assume that he is."
