CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, 6.—At 1 o'clock the legislative business was suspended, and the consideration of the articles of impeachment against Belknap resumed. Counsel for accused filed a motion that the Senate vacate so much of the order recently adopted holding as naught the plea as to the jurisdiction filed by him, for the reason that the said plea was not overruled by a vote of two-thirds of the senators present. The order submitted by Whyte on Thursday last directing the defendant to plead further or answer the articles of impeachment within ten days from date was amended so as to read, that the defendant have leave to plead further, etc.

Thurman submitted an amendment to that order as follows—"And in default of answer to merits within ten days by respondent to the articles of impeachment, the trial shall proceed as upon the plea of not guilty."

The question being an amendment, a vote was taken, and resulted—yeas, 31, nays 5. No quorum voting, the Sergeant-at-Arms was directed to request the attendance of the absent senators. After a short time the senators responded, and the amendment was agreed to by a vote of 35 yeas to 7 nays.

Lord then submitted an order, that on the 11th of July, 1876, the Senate, sitting as a court of impeachment, proceed to hear the evidence on the merits of the trial by this House.

Sargent moved to amend by inserting June 19th, instead of July 11th.

Pending this discussion Blair, of counsel for the accused, gave notice that if these propositions were rejected he would move to postpone the trial until the 1st of November next.

Morrill said the question for fixing for this trial was very important. He moved that the galleries be cleared and the doors closed that senators might confer upon that question. Agreed to.

After a short time the vote was again taken—yeas 35 nays 7. Many senators opposed to the jurisdiction did not vote.

Whyte further modified his motion so as to read as follows: "Ordered that Mr. Belknap have leave to answer the articles of impeachment within ten days from this date, and that in default of an answer to the merits within ten days, by the respondent, to the articles of impeachment, the trial shall proceed as upon the plea of not guilty." Agreed to—yeas 33, nays 4.

Lord submitted an order that on the 11th of July the Senate, sitting as a court of impeachment, will proceed to hear evidence.

A long debate ensued on the question as to when the trial should begin.

The Senate went into secret session, and on being re-opened the orders were read that the date of July sixth be fixed upon.

Sargent submitted an order directing the managers to furnish defendant or his counsel, within twenty-four hours, a list of witnesses they intended to call in this case.

Edmunds moved to amend by inserting four days fnstead of twenty-four hours. Agreed to.

The court then adjourned till the 16th, it being understood that the court would then meet to receive the answer of the respondent under the order adopted.

The legislative business was then resumed.

The chair laid before the Senate the unfinished business, being the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, the pending question being the amendment of Edmunds that all appointments in the Executive Department of the Government shall be made up on a careful and impartial examination of the candidates therefor by a board composed of not less than five Senators, to be appointed by the President and with the advice and consent of the Senate, and the most capable and worthy of the competitors examined shall be selected for such appointment.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, 6.—After the discussion of a preposition to change the rules so as to allow the committee on banking and currency to report at any time, it was agreed to—yeas 115 nays 97. The object of the change is to allow that committee to report the bill for the repeal of the resumption act.

The House then went into committee on the Indian appropriation bill.

The chairman overruled the point of order made by McCrary against the section to transfer the Indian Bureau to the War Department. A discussion then arose on the finances, in posts, protection and free trade. At length Maginnis offered an amendment providing that any person desiring to trade with the Indians shall receive a license on the certificate of the District Judge or Judge of the Supreme Court of any Territory that he is of good character. Agreed to. The committee then rose and reported the bill to the House and it was passed.

EASTERN.

Chinese Question—Character of Captain Green.

WASHINGTON, 6.—The foreign relations committee to-day heard Senator Sargent and the special San Francisco commissioners Pixley and Roach in an argument on the Chinese question, advocating immediate action by the Federal Government to prevent the further gration of Mongolian criminals and coolies to this country.

Capt. A. P. Green was before the committee on expenditures in the War Department, and made a statement designed to correct the impression given out by certain persons that he was an habitual drunkard and a man who could be used by bad men. He denied that he had ever been a drunkard. He admitted he had been dismissed from the army for having committed himself while under the influence of either drink or drugs, or while temporarily insane, but charged that his condition at the time arose from the persecutions he had endured for two years from a superior officer. He refused to discharge an enlistment against whom the officer had a pique, and also of the general unfairness and hostility of the West Point men towards all the officers appointed from the civil list. He further appealed to the committee to say whether his conduct or his appearance here indicated that he was a drunkard or a man who could be used by any body.

Clymer said that during Green's presence in Washington in connection with this matter he had opportunities of becoming acquainted with his character, and had formed the opinion that he was an honorable, conscientious gentleman, and there was nothing in his conduct or character to detract from the high reputation he had earned in the army.

The Union Pacific and Central Pacific Bonds.

A proposition was presented to the House judiciary committee today in behalf of the Union Pacific and Central Pacific Railroad Companies as a substitute for the Lawrence bill recently reported by a majority of the committee. The proposed substitute provides that each of these companies shall pay to the U. S. Treasury six hundred thousand dollars per annum for ten years, and seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars per annum thereafter until these amounts, with compound interest, shall have created a sinking fund sufficient to liquidate the respective totals of the subsidy bonds advanced by the Government, together with the simple interest up to date of maturity. These payments are to be in lieu of five per-centum payments on account of the net receipts and all other monetary requirements. It is also proposed that the companies' lands shall be exempt from taxation under State or Territorial authority, and that the existing law which makes all lands not disposed of within three years subject to pre-emption entry, shall be repealed. The proposition now submitted does not include any provision for selling or reconveying to the Government any portion of the Pacific Railroad land grants.

The Chinese Question.

The prominent points made by Pixley were, that there had been a great change of sentiment on this question in California, that the people had been disappointed in realizing any benefits from the presence of the Chinese in California, and that opposition to them continuing immigration was common to their intellectual, business, religious and laboring classes; that the Chinese interfered with all the best interests of the Pacific Coast, and that their influence is demoralizing to the community in which they reside. He here presented that, in the heart of San Francisco there were 40,000 Chinese, presenting a disgraceful spectacle of squalor, filth, disease, poverty and crime; that of this number 10,000 were professed criminals and 20,000 were prostitutes; that China embraced five hundred millions of people, the United States forty millions, and the Pacific States about one million of people; that the cost of passage from China to San Francisco is less than from Mississippi to California, and that the Chinese immigration threatened to overwhelm the Pacific Coast, to destroy its industries, and to imperil its prosperity. It was explained that health and police regulations could not be enforced in San Francisco, because the penalty of imprisonment was a welcome relief to the Chinese, who found the comforts of the county jail superior to their ordinary life; that the vicious and idle classes are rapidly multiplying, and threaten to become a pest and a burden to the state and city government. The Chinese are monopolizing all the lighter industries and driving the laboring classes into extreme want; they are mostly adult males, capable of living upon a little rice, tea and dried fish, and that the white laborer could not compete with them, and earn enough to support and educate his children. That the strain upon the laboring population is so severe that there is danger of violence and bloodshed.

Pixley claimed that he represented the popular opinion of all intelligent and respectable classes upon the Pacific coast; that it was an intelligent public opinion, formed by actual observations of the Chinese for twenty-five years, and was entitled to great consideration. In conclusion he said that the Pacific coast demanded of the treaty-making power a modification of the treaty and the executive enforcement of existing law, to restrict the Chinese immigration, and especially that of coolies, prostitutes, criminals and other dangerous classes.

Roach submitted some commercial figures, showing enormous trade balances in favor of China, and that even if any commercial interruptions were likely to occur by reason of a change in the treaty, which he denied, we could nevertheless obtain from Japan and other countries the same products that are now imported from China.

Sargent then addressed the committee in a comprehensive argument on the general question, and, in conclusion, urged the passage of his bill to restrict the number of Chinese passengers admissible in any one vessel. He was willing to modify it, so as to make the number fifty or one hundred; the trade was unprofitable; he claimed that the government of China would itself be glad to have the coolie traffic stopped by this means, and called attention to a similar restriction having been successfully placed on Chinese immigration by the Australian colonies of Great Britain. He read an article from the London Times, showing that this danger, threatened to American institutions and industry on the Pacific coast, is understood even in England, and he argued that no political party could hope for success on that coast which should ignore that question.

Members of the committee asked many questions, which were answered apparently to their satisfaction, and such interest was manifested in the subject, that Pacific coast representatives feel quite confident of a favorable action at an early date.

Amendment Agreed To.

When the Senate went into secret session to-day, to consult in regard to fixing the time to proceed with the Belknap impeachment trial, Sargent submitted a resolution that further proceedings in the case, after defendant shall file his answer, be postponed until the 6th of December. Edmunds moved to amend, by inserting the 6th of July instead of the 6th of December, and the amendment was agreed to—yeas 36, nays 9.

Re-union Meetings.

PHILADELPHIA, 6.—A Reunion of the army of the Potomac took place at the Academy of Music here today. Gen. Hancock presided. John A. Dix delivered an oration. Generals Sherman and Sheridan and Hooker, Gov. Hartranft, ex-Gov. Curtin, Mayor Stokely and others also made short addresses, after which Gen. Hooker dismissed the audience and the army of the Potomac went into business meeting.

There was a large crowd present. The building was finely decorated.

The annual meeting of the Cavalry Association of the armies of the United States met this morning at the Centennial Hotel, and after reading the reports of the officers, Sheridan was elected president, and the association adjourned to take part in the reunion of the army of the Potomac.

At a meeting of the Second Army Corps Association, also held here this morning, Hancock was re-elected president. The Sixth Army Corps, also held their annual reunion here this morning, and re-elected as president Gen. Shaler, of New York. Gov. Hartranft addressed the meeting at the banquet which took place this evening.

$35,000 Fire.

BALTIMORE, Md., 6.—E. Schoenberg & Co's fruit and oyster packing establishment was burned; loss $35,000, insurance, $25,000.

The Vote.

NEW YORK, 6.—The Post's special says, in conversation with several of the democrats who voted with the republicans yesterday, your correspondent was informed that that they had voted as they had because it was well known to the democratic side of the House that the friends of Conkling and of other candidates were also at work secretly to prevent the judiciary committee from making any report exonerating Blaine and that they were receiving aid from the democrats who were personally hostile to his candidacy.

The Reform Club.

The Republican Reform Club adopted an address to send to the Cincinnati convention, favoring reform and [the nomination of Bristow; seventy prominent members were elected as a delegation to Cincinnati, among them are Dorman, B. Eaton, Francis C. Barlow, Lloyd Aspinwal, John Jay Jackson, S. Schultz, John Jacob Astor, and Messrs. Dodge, Chittenden, Astor and Roosevelt.

Escape of Fenian Prisoners—Six Weeks Armistice.

A dispatch from Melbourne, Australia, says that all the Fenian prisoners confined in Western Australia have escaped from there in the American whale ship Cotolapo.

A dispatch from Vienna says a six weeks' armistice has been agreed upon between the Turks and insurgents.

FOREIGN.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Full Amnesty.

LONDON, 6.—The Paris correspondent of the Times says he can vouch for the correctness of the following—The Grand Vizier had issued a letter, declaring: "The Porte accords full amnesty to all insurgents who will offer their submission. To give them time to do this the Sultan grants a six weeks armistice, subject to movements necessary to maintain the concentration of the troops and the revictualing of Nicsic."

The above has been communicated to the Duc De Cases, minister of foreign affairs. The same correspondent says it is now known that most complete accord exists on the general basis agreed to by the powers upon which negotiations at Ems will be pursued. These basis are the integrity of the Ottoman empire, and the necessity of ending the constant agitation by effective and legitimate concessions.
