PHYSICIANS GET DOWN TO WORK

Utah State Medical Association's Third Meeting is Largely Attended.

SCIENTIFIC PAPERS ARE READ

Members Board Cars and Inspect University of Utah After the Morning Session Today.

The Utah State Medical association was again in session today, the third meeting convening at 10 o'clock and be-ing more largely attended than any of its predecessors.

Of its predecessors,
Three interesting papers were read and discussed. The first was "Some Anatomical and Physical Points Having a Bearing on Hernia," by Dr. J.
A. Hosmer, of Sailt Lake, "Treatment of Peritonitis Following Appendicitis, or Treatment of Suppurative Peritonitis," was the subject of an interesting dissertation by Dr. Ezra C.
Rich, of Ogden. Dr. Charles G. Plummer, of Sait Lake, treated "The Gymnasium and Training in Personal Hygiene as a Factor in Overcoming Abnormalities of Health During Infancy and Puberty."

The three papers scheduled for this afternoon's session are, (a) "Internal Hemorrhages of the New Born," G. F. Tilson, Payson; "Obstetrical Monstrosities," W. R. Calderwood, Salt Lake; "Hot Air," George E. Robinson, Provo; "Mouth Breathers, Cause and Remedy," J. E. Hosmer, Provo; (b) "Scarlet Fever," etiology and Pathology, T.J. West, Salt Lake; symtomatology and differential diagnosis, A. C. Ewing, Salt Lake; complications and sequellae, F. H. Raley, Salt Lake; treatment, R. W. Fisher, Salt Lake; (c) "The social evilties penalties: ostracism, disease, death, Frederick Clift, Provo.

UNIVERSITY VISITED.

UNIVERSITY VISITED.

Innediately after adjournment of the morning session, the members boarded cars and proceeded to the University of Utah, where inspection was mee of that school, particularly of the medical department, upon invitation of President Joseph T. Kingsbury, Lunch was provided at the university.

The first feature of yesterday afternoon's session of the convention was the address of welcome delivered by Mayor J. S. Bransford. The executive expressed profound respect for members of the medical fraternity, whom he characterized as then of strong intellectuality and of high personal character and worth. After the welcome, the following papers were read: "Some manifestations of rheumatism in children," Eugene H. Smith of Ogden; "Spotted fever of the Rocky Mountains," G. W. States of Franklin, Idaho.

AUTO KILLS A DOG.

While speeding down Main street at 1 o'clock this afternoon automobile No. 244 ran over and killed a valuable Scotch collie dog belonging to Walter McDonsild. The dog was crossing the street following his owner, when the machine struck him and passed over the body. It was able to walk for a short distance towards the curb but collapsed within 20 feet of the accident, and finally died. A large crowd surrounded the animal, while the automobile continued on its way down the street. Witnesses of the accident say that it could not have been avoided and that the automobile was on the proper side of the street and going at a rate that is common for automobiles. o'clock this afternoon automobile No

DEMOGRATS PLAN FOR CONVENTION

Call for the Judicial Primaries May Be Issued This Week.

DELEGATES TO DENVER, COLO

Candidates for Places Among the Six To Go Are Looming Up Over the State.

Democratic conventions are soon follow in the wake of the Republican meetings to select a judicial ticket and to name delegates for Chicago. These meetings come later in the case of the Democrats for the reason that the national convention is a month later, and there is still ample time to prepare for it.

Preparations are being completed for the delegates' convention, which has already been announced for Friday, June 12. It will consist of about 700 delegates, and special rates on all the roads are counted on to bring in a good sized crowd.

Not all Democratic sentiment is in favor of Bryan. William H. Kfug is credited with favoring Gov. Johnson of Mianesota, and of being adverse to another nomination for Mr. Bryan. Frank B. Stephens, on the other hand, is the center of the Bryan advocates, his long friendship for the Nebraskan being possibly responsible for this attitude in part.

FAILED TO SEE CURRIE.

President of District Council, I. B. E. W., Surprised at Turn of Affairs.

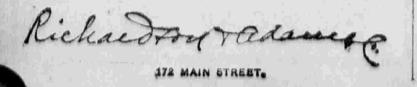

President James Currie of the district council of Electrical Workers, including Utah, Wyoming and Idaho, expresses his surprise at the settlement of the difficulties in Montana between the Bell Telephone company and its linemen and operators, without his having been apprised of the fact. He claims that the Montana Federation of Labor has no right to settle any strike which the electrical workers of the district are engaged in until it is asked to do so, and moreover, the Montana people have no call to take action on anything affecting the relations of the telephone company with its employes in other states. Mr. Currie says he has had assurances from the Montana Federation of Labor that it would stand by the strikers until the last, and electrical workers' unions in that state are liable to lose their charters, in consequence of their action in calling off the strike. The officials of the Bell company disclaim all knowledge of Mr. Currie and any special interest in what he may say or do, as he is not an employe of the company. LEISERS CANNOT AGREE.

Wife Asks Annullment of Marital Bond, Charging Drunkenness.

Leonora Leiser, who married Charles W. Leiser May 16, 1889, at Mason City, Ill., today filed suit to have the bonds of matrimony existing between them dissolved. Mrs. Leiser in her complaint charges that her husband has for more than three years past heen guilty of bablitual drunkenness, and that he has habitual drunkenness, and that he has at different times treated plaintiff in a cruel and inhuman manner. Particularly specified is one occasion, on May 28, 1906, when, plaintiff alleges, Leiser without cause or provocation struck her in the face, and a similar attack was made on her by defendant Aug. 7, 1907. The complaint further alleges that defendant was in the habit of coming home drunk and making threats against plaintiff that he would interfere with her business of keeping boarders, which she had to do for a living; that he accused her of having a lover, thus and otherwise causing a lover, thus and otherwise causing her great humiliation and mental dis-

DECIDES AS TO GREY MARE.

The "grey mare" case was decided a favor of the plaintiffs for $216.65, the in favor of the plaintins for $216.95, the value of the mare in question and damages for wrongful seizure of the same. The case was that of Heber J. Sheets, et al, vs C. Frank Emery, and the complaint alleged that the sheriff seized upon the animal without warrant and took it from their possession. The officer pleaded that he seized the animal under a chattel morrage and the or pleased that he selzed the animal under a chattel morrigage, and the question hinged upon whether the mare was the same animal indicated in the legal instrument. The jury in the case decided it was not, and the plain-tiffs were given damages accordingly.

Railroad Men, Neither Favoring One Side or the Other, Offer A Few Figures.

ASSOCIATION OFFICE MOVED.

Secretary C. B. Stewart Forced to Take Quarters With Sheep Commissioners During the Present Rush.

"Five million pounds of wool has gone out of Utah already. This represents purchases, both out-and-out and on consignment, made by buyers from the east."

This surprising statement is from four railroad freight men this morning. It was reiterated by other officials of four railroads. In face of the agitation raised by the Utah Wool Growers' association for the storing of wool, the statement was astonishing and is being repeated and affirmed by over a half-dozen men high up in traffic affairs was made all the more so.

These freight officials say they have no desire to "bear" the market; they were emphatic in their assertions that "bearing" the market is just what they wouldn't care to do. They were asked for such facts as they might have but the wool situation and the statement made is one of the facts, evidently known to every big railroader in the

"We are with the wool growers the year around," is the way a big Harriman man put it. "We are here in Utah and Utah's interests are our interests. The more money the Utah wool growers get the better for the state and energy on it. But you ask us for ers get the better for the state and everyone in it. But you ask us for facts. The fact of the matter is in the neighborhood of 5,000,000 pounds of wool has been already bought and shipped. The prices paid range from 11 to 15 cents, so far as I know."

A DIFFERENCE IN TIME.

The freight official of another road tells this story, and it is sworn to be true by numerous attaches of the offices. "Several days ago—in fact, a few weeks back—a heavy wool grower of this state came into our offices and there met a wool buyer. During the conversation which followed the wool buyer offered the grower 13 cents for his product. The grower turned the offer down. The following day the two met again. 'I believe I'll take that offer,' said the buyer. I understand the grower tried other buyers but found 11 cents the prevailing price."

Railroad men are one in saying the market is all out of sorts; they point the London sales, which yesterday were away off color, and they refer the questioner to trade journals which all describe the market as sluggish and weak. The railroaders say they have no interest in the affair outside of the interest they find in watching the progress of the game. Wool must be hauled whether consigned to buyers or to warehouse, they explain.

Said a third railroad man: "Movements are slow now, largely because of the weather, but this month has seen a lot of wool move."

THE WOOL MEN'S SIDE.

This is one side of the story. The other comes from the wool men, who assert they are holding on to their crops and also from the Utah Wool Growers' association, which has taken charge of the storage movement. "Traitors!" was the cry raised yesterday by the wool growers' organization. It says it has found that big growers who have been most active in promoting the storage movement have gone back on their word and sold for 18 cents. "The buyers are bidding this to shake the strength of the moveto shake the strength of the move-ment," explains the association. Sen-sational developments are promised. The association says it will expose the men guilty of selling at a high figure when they assisted in getting all grow-ers together on an agreement not to sell until the market has strengthened.

sell until the market has strengthened.

C. B. Stewart, secretary of the Utah organization and one of the most enthusiastic boosters of the storage movement, says 1,000,000 pounds of wool has been signed up for storage in Boston already. Thoriey Bros., of Cedar City, started out with a quarter of a million pounds as the "News" announced a few days ago. Secretary Stewart says 5,000,000 pounds will be stored by Utah growers as fast as it comes off the sheep's backs. The usual Utah crop goes 10,000,000 pounds.

Bradstreets Talks About Plans and Recent Action of Union Pacific.

Ratification by the stockholders of the new Union Pacific railroad bond issue having been granted at a meeting held in Salt Lake, the financial public has been decidedly interested in the question of the method of placing the securities. In fact, says Bradstreets, the discussion became so general that Mr. Harriman was impelled to give out a statement to the effect that it was nor the intention of the company's management to sell more than $50,000,000 in the near future, and that the remaining half of the $100,000,000 issue would be reserved to provide for further new construction or improvements. There was, however, no announcement as to when the amount which it is apparently intended to sell will be offered for supscription, and among the various rumors which found circulation was one to the effect that the bankers who were expected to handle the matter and the company had not agreed upon the price at which the offering should be made, and that more or less time might elapse before any definite developments. The great success of the Pennsylvania Railroad company's loan of $40,000,000,000, which was so much oversubscribed for that only 5 per cent of the applications were allotted, while subscriptions of less than $15,000 were rejected altogether, creates an impression that the same banking house will act in connection with the Union Pacific bonds, and that it will probably again have the co-operation of foreign bankers of the highest standing. It is also recognized that the new Union Pacific bonds, and that it will probably again have the co-operation of foreign bankers of the highest standing. It is also recognized that the new Union Pacific securities will, from an investor's standpoint, be very attractive, as the mortgage is a first lien upon some 1.300 miles of road, and the bonds themselves will be a legal investment for fiduciary purposes in the most important states. If is also recognized that in creating this mortgage the Union Pacific c and states. It is also recognized that in creating this mortgage the Union Pacific company has provided in a comprehensive way for its future capital requirements, so that its management can proceed without hesitation to build up and extend the system.

THE WEATHER RECORD

Doc. Hyatt Says Only Three-Quarters Of An Inch of Rain Fell Yesterday.

Weather bureau measurements of vesterday's glorious rainfall place the total precipitation up to 6 o'clock this morning at .74 inch. This is surprising, as many had an idea the fall was much heavier than this. During yesterday afternoon the rain seemed to be coming straight down and it came so heavily that Salt Lake began to think a cloudburst was on. This impression was made more reasonable by thunder and lightning, which rumbled and flashed immediately before the downpour. While the rain was coming down hardest, the pavements in the downtown districts were virtually cov ered with water. As the storm was general over the state it meant much to Utahns, individually and collectively. Because of the moisture in the air, last night seemed much colder than it really was. The lowest temperature recorded for the 24 hours between 6 a.

m. yesterday and this morning came along at 6 o'clock this morning. It was 40 degrees above zero.

Frost may fall over the state again tonight. Conditions point to it and the weather man warns the state to expect it. The prediction issued today reads,' 'Fair tonight with frost; Thursday partly cloudy and warmer.' This day, partly cloudy and warmer." This applies to Utah, Salt Lake and west Wyoming. The plateau storm has noved east over Nebraska and Kansas moved east over Nebraska and Kansas. Heavy storms are reported from these two states. Omaha had a rainfall of 1.20 inches during the past 24 hours. It is also stormy over British Columbia. The Pacific "high" is what indicates fair weather for tonight and the probable coming of frost. Farming districts are becoming somewhat discouraged by the general unsettled condition of weather and should heavy frosts of weather and should heavy frosts come along the result will be felt by every resident of the state who has to buy vegetables and fruits. So far, frost has nipped considerable vegetation and plant life, but a good crop is still as-plant life, but a good crop is stiff assured.

Regular winter weather prevailed during the week ending May II. This is proved by the weekly weather bulletin issued by the local bureau. Summarizing this says: The mean temperature for the week was much below the normal over the entire state. The week opened with cloudy and cool weather, which was followed by fair and warmer weather during the middle portion. The last two days were cloudy and story, and frosts or freezing temperatures occurred in many localities, which caused much damage in those districts.

The precipitation averaged in excess of the normal amount, and was quite of the normal amount, and was quite well distributed over the state, except in some parts of the southern and eastin some parts of the southern and east-ern portion, where only light showers occurred. In some parts of the moun-tain districts, snow fell during the first and last days of the week, reaching a depth of 12 to 15 inches at a few places. High winds were general during the middle of the week. The amount of sunshine was greatly deficient during the prevailing stormy weather of the first and last portions of the week, but was abundant during the middle portion, when clear weather was general over nearly all sections of the state.
