

MILITIAMEN AND NEGROES IN RIOT

Very Merry Time Was Caused by Trouble Over a Merry-Go-Round.

COLORED MAN HIT PRIVATE

Soldiers Seized Their Guns and Went in Hot Pursuit of Every Colored Man They Could Find.

Rehoboth, Del., July 31.—State militiamen encamped near here and a crowd of negroes of the vicinity engaged in a riot last night in which one man sustained a fractured skull and may not survive, and more than a score of others were injured.

Trouble began when some members of company H, First Delaware regiment of New Castle, were standing around a merry-go-round. There were some words between colored bystanders and the soldiers and one of the colored men hurled a brick, striking a private on the head, fracturing his skull.

Instantly the soldiers, taking their arms, began pursuing every colored man they could find. The colored people sought refuge under porches, on top of roofs and even in trees, while the enraged soldiers sought high and low for them, intent on vengeance for their injured comrade.

Gov. Lea, who is in camp, sent a detachment of 50 soldiers to arrest the man who threw the brick and then dispatched officers to pacify the enraged soldiers.

Finally quiet was restored, but not until a score of persons had been injured.

The man who threw the brick has not yet been captured. Some of the soldiers may be arrested.

"In view of the gravity of events Venezuela is forced to advise Holland that it cannot continue friendly relations until Holland gives satisfaction for the injuries and insults put upon Venezuela. These injuries and insults are the offense of Minister de Reus, the fact that The Netherlands cruiser Gelderland failed to salute the Venezuelan flag and the attack on the Venezuelan consul at Willemstad, Curacao, the violation of the consulate and the desecration of the consular shield."

Maurice B. Blumenthal, attorney for Mrs. Teal, said:

"If the grand jury indicates there will be a trial before a jury and then we shall break the seal at present on Mr. Gould's lips."

"Mrs. Teal will be a witness in her own defense and establish the fact that she is perfectly innocent in this matter."

AIRSHIP WARFARE.

Speakers Discuss the Matter Before Universal Peace Congress.

London, July 31.—The airship in warfare was the most interesting subject discussed at today's meeting of the Seventeenth Universal Peace congress. The speakers took the view that the use of the airships in time of war need not cause over much anxiety; they might succeed in blowing up a few generals and destroying strategic positions, but with their use the general slaughter would not be greater than under the present circumstances. A resolution was adopted protesting against the idea that airships are nothing more than a means of carrying on war, instead of a benefit to civilization.

A TERRIBLE CRIME.

Paris, July 31.—The inhabitants of the suburb of Antony have been aroused by an atrocious crime committed last night in a girl's boarding school. Some of the bombs had been uncovered by Mexican children, who were playing with sticks of dynamite and iron filings and fuses for exploding them. When officers got close to the revolutionaries' rendezvous at Yuleta, it is said, the bombs were removed at night and hidden where they were found in an arroyo bank, covered with dirt.

Abram Rosenberg, president of the International Women's Garment Workers' union, with which the cloak makers era's union is affiliated, says that the strike will affect from 2,000 to 3,000 workers, including about 10,000 women. "Last year," he said, "they were earning from $5 to $10 a week. Now they are getting from $7 to $8 a week. Some of them are making far less and the women average $5 and $6 a week. About 50 per cent of the cloak makers are working some on whole and some on part time."

Two Tramps Found Disemboweled Body Near Ties.

(Special to the "News.") Pocatello, Ida., July 31.—Last night two men strolling a ride on an eastbound train, who were put off the train at Tieska, discovered the body of an unknown man on the track near that place. The body of the man was cut out but the face and head were not mutilated. The man had evidently been a tramp who was striding a ride on the previous eastbound train.

Yesterday morning another tramp was run over by a train at Pocatello, near the Montana line, and his leg badly crushed. The man gave the name of James W. Wright and the body was turned over to the authorities at Pocatello. The man had evidently been asleep under the cars and the crew did not see him until after the accident.

Colored Swain Slashes Headpiece of Sweetheart Through Jealousy.

Because his sweetheart, a Miss Deushon, colored, paid some attention to another man, Charles Wright, colored, flew into a rage this morning at a roominghouse on First West and Second South street, seized Miss Deushon's new "Merry Widow" headpiece and cut it into shreds with a keen razor.

The boy was apprehended for and Officer McCormack hastened to the scene where he found Wright in a terrible rage. The man was placed under arrest and locked in the city jail on the charge of destroying property.

Just what brought about the quarrel between the colored people the officer could not learn as neither of the principals cared to talk. Miss Deushon admitted that Wright was jealous and for this reason proceeded to carve up her hat.

WRONG WOMAN GOT RINGS.

Chief of Detectives Sheets and Detectives Wheeling and Wilson are this afternoon investigating a street car conductor by the name of Taylor in regard to the disposition of two diamond rings, which Mr. Taylor found on a Poplar Grove car, of which he is the conductor. About two weeks ago Miss Croxall, who lives out on the Poplar Grove line, lost two valuable diamond rings on the car, and Conductor Taylor found them. A woman afterward came along the car and claimed she had lost the rings, and the conductor gave her the rings. Miss Croxall says she is the one who lost the rings, and makes a demand for them from Mr. Taylor, in return for a description of the woman who came to him and said she lost the rings, and to whom he says he gave them. She was a stranger, he says, but he remembers her appearance.

VISITING THE MINISTER.

Head of Greek Colony at Pocatello Talks of His People.

W. G. Caravella, head of the Greek colony at Pocatello, is a guest at the Knutsford, where the visiting Greek minister to this country is stopping.

Mr. Caravella expressed much pleasure at the fact that a Greek Catholic church has been established in Salt Lake, as it was having a most excellent moral influence on the Greek people living in this vicinity. He called attention to the fact that no Greeks were mixed up in the recent religious automobility in this county, and that the participants were all Austrians, the factions being Greek Catholics against the Roman Catholic.

Mr. Caravella came from the land of Thessalonica and Socrates at the age of 17, living first at Chicago, then at St. Paul, Minn., where he attended Greek recitations at a prominent local college institution, and marvelled at the abortive attempts of the instructors to teach the Greek language. He said they got all mixed up, for they did not appear to sense the spirit of the Greek tongue at all. Mr. Caravella was surprised that such instructors should try to teach Greek. He claimed the surest way to get at the genius of the language is to take an English primer, and translate into Greek the simple English expressions. It is going to work the wrong way to put boys memorizing page after page of paradigms and the thousand and one rules of grammar. It is time wasted.

Mr. Caravella said the Greek colonists at Pocatello were prosperous, and he believed could give a good account of themselves. He had talked with the Greek minister who had expressed himself as gratified at the uniformly pleasing status in which the Greek colony at Pocatello had been found. He would report to the committee to the home government at Athens.

Some one threw a lighted match where a quantity of gasoline was stored, and immediately the blaze was on. Prompt work, however, soon put the flames under control, with a loss of only $5.

BOOTH BOY IN COURT.

Proves to Be a Very Intelligent Lad Despite Father's Statement.

The children of Alonzo Booth were brought into the juvenile court today that the matter of their disposition should be determined, but the case went over pending the hearing of the father last night. The boy was charged with the charge of felony hanging over him.

Eddie, the boy, was very solicitous of his mother's welfare, and asked that they be permitted to go to the house of a friend a few blocks away. He said that he was very fond of them, and a request that was readily granted.

Eddie's statement that the lad is half-witted is groundless. He is wise far beyond his years, and is decidedly old-fashioned in his ways. He says that he and his sisters should be taken to their grandparents in Ohio. He tells the story of his mother's death, nine years ago, and says that his youngest sister was then seven months and so many days old. The family then resided in Florence, Neb., and the two girls were sent to the home of their grandparents. Afterwards the father, with his little son, came to Utah, and for a time lived in North Salt Lake. The boy tells how that they started for the north, and he minutely named the number of horses and described the heavy wagon, the spring wagon and other vehicles that trailed behind, no bringing up the rear with the horses. They went through Idaho, the father, buying, selling, trading and dickered as he went, until they reached a North Dakota, where the entire outfit was disposed of. Father and son then beat their way on foot to their destination, they bought new clothes, cleaned up and rode respectively on a passenger train to the home of relatives. The climate was too oppressive for Booth, and taking care of the children with him he returned to Utah.

Eddie says that he is kindly treated by the family at the present time. He especially by Mrs. Brown, of whom he said: "I tell you, she is a fine woman." The boy says that he likes to see her, "I don't know anything but work," he said, "and I pick and dig and carry water and the other boys are all play. The place for me and my sisters is with our grandparents."

BURDEN TOO HEAVY.

Colored Foster Mother Wants Home For White Girl in Her Charge.

Mrs. Carrie Smith, a colored woman, appeared before Judge Gowan of the juvenile court today and represented that she was no longer able to care for and maintain Sarah Bloom, a white child left in her custody more than two years ago. The girl, now 11 years of age, was left in Mrs. Smith's care by the mother, a woman of the lower world, and for a time a monthly allowance was regularly paid. During a period of a year, however, Mrs. Smith received nothing from the mother, and since February of this year nothing at all. The mother is believed to be in Helena, Mont., at the present time.

Judge Gowan ordered the child to be dependent and a suitable home to be found for her by the court. She is a very bright looking girl, and has been kept very clean and tidily dressed by her fostermother.

MOBBED BY JAPS.

Drunk Colored Man Star Feature in Lively Scrimmage on Commercial St.

There was a lively scrimmage and almost a riot on Commercial street today, between black and brown, a lone negro on one side and a number of Japanese on the other. The trouble arose over a 50 cent piece, the ownership of which was in no way disputed.

George Porter, who was considerably under the influence of liquor, was standing in front of a Japanese bazaar when he accidentally dropped a coin and it fell between the gratings into the basement. After vainly endeavoring to fish out the money, Porter went around to the rear of the building and was soon in the midst of a number of sleeping Japs. Aroused from slumber, the brown men chased the black man from their abode, and he then went again to the front and proceeded to pull the grating from place. No sooner had he made a good opening, than the Japs swarmed around him and pushed him through the hole into the basement, where he was kept until the arrival of Officer Doty, who took him to the police station. Porter was charged with drunkenness.
