Ogden, Utah — July 23, 1895.

Junction City Items.

A suit was filed against the Junction City company by J. W. Hamlin, organized attorney, by reason of having engaged in a corporation with setting fire to a building. Hamlin was pleased and said his trial would be held in Ogden.

The three trials are to be held at the mill tract between Ogden and the mile post between Ogden and the junction, leaving from the junction and quieting services.

Robert C. Swanson, leader with type, has been admitted to practice law in Ogden. He was born in Ogden and has had a long residence there.

Confidence and the slogan brought a large crowd of people out on the streets, giving the city a holiday atmosphere.

On Sunday night an unsuccessful attempt was made to burglarize Blodgett's store.

Yesterday at the Stake conference the members were occupied with marking and stamping.

The reader shortage.

Saturday afternoon a school board of the First district called a meeting. The business of the day was the removal of the school board from office, as they were believed to be incompetent or undesirable. They had convened and voted for their release on the second of this month, and the school board had been overruled.

During the recent session of the court it was known, however, that an action of the school board was made.

An action was filed against the school board for the release of Mr. H. H. Beesley, trustee, in the amount of $1,000.00, and $1,000.00 was paid out of the court. Mr. Beesley has held the office of trustee since Judge King's appointment, and has given the general welfare of all who have been brought into the school system a great deal of efficiency and continuous service. The reason for the action taken by Mr. Beesley's board is that a shortage of several hundred dollars exists in the school fund. Other cities of Cache will have similar deficits.

Cache Conference.

The quarterly church conference had history and glory, was well attended and much valuable instruction given by the various speakers. Elder Brigham Young, John Henry Smith, and others addressed the conference.

The quorums of the Apostles were among the visiting brethren, and they together with the members of the Presidency of the Stake, Elders K. G. Miller and others, addressed the conference.

The subjects taught were the care and training of the rising generation, the duties of the Stake in regard to political affairs, in which case, and others, the ecclesiastical, educational, and charitable, ecclesiastical, and civil rights of individuals in accordance with the political beliefs of individuals were urged, and the disposition to abuse opponents discouraged.

Notes.

Elder J. H. Booth lectured too large audience on the subject of the "Salt Lake Ward meeting house." His subject was an answer to Rev. J. C. Andrew's tract, referred to in Saturday's News. The speaker clearly and firmly pointed out the fallacies contained in it.

Another lecture on the same subject was delivered by Mr. Booth, and the audience was greatly pleased.

The Moroni co-operative mercantile institution has commenced an action against L. E. Jones to recover $45.72 with interest, due on a promissory note.

Orson T. Stewart and George J. Evans, both of Salt Lake, were married Saturday, by Judge Dinsmore.

LOGAN.

Logan, Utah — July 23, 1895.

A severe kick.

Fred Turner, Jr., son of Sheriff Turner, was so severely struck by a horse on Friday evening, that he died this morning. The horse that hit him was a colt, and the horse and rider had been to break it in and underhanded to break it in. The horse had been kicking and running, and he was breaking it in. He was pulling and running, and he was breaking it in. He was breaking it in.

When he was breaking it in, he was pulling and running, and he was breaking it in. When he was breaking it in, he was pulling and running, and he was breaking it in. When he was breaking it in, he was pulling and running, and he was breaking it in.

The colt was very strong, and it was breaking it in. When he was breaking it in, he was pulling and running, and he was breaking it in. When he was breaking it in, he was pulling and running, and he was breaking it in.
