

Famine and Poverty in Honduras-Salvador a Rich and Prosperous Country-Great Varieties of Money in Circulation-Exorbitant Prices for Clothing.

The San Salvador road leads to Tegucigalpa by direct road, as we could have done from Copan, but the country is very rough, and but little would be gained in distance. In Salvador, so we were informed, we would be detained for some time, in consideration for the next month is feed for our stock. Until the rains bring the grass we will have a hard time; but when feed comes our travel will be done with much more ease. We were to have been to Santa Fe. Here the people irrigate, and the gardens and pastures are green and beautiful. At the edge of the village is a sugar plantation of good size and a field of perhaps 200 acres of cane, the only one required for M. Alexander, the German to whom we were recommended for good feed, and learned that he lived above town about a mile up the canyon. The canyon is a very fertile, green and fertile one with orchards and gardens. Fruit trees were more plentiful than we had seen before for some time. In the midst of a little clump of houses we found the residence of M. Alexander, and there called for pasture. Instead of a German the gentleman proved to be a Frenchman, and unable to Read It in His Newspaper.

George Schaub, well known German citizen of New Lebanon, Ohio, is a constant reader of the Dayton Volkszeitung. He knows that this paper aims to advertise only the best in its columns, and when he saw Chamberlain's Pain Balm advertised therein for lumbago, he did not hesitate in buying a bottle of it for his wife. After eight days of suffering with the most terrible pains in her back and could get no relief. He says: "After using the Pain Balm for a few days my wife said to me, 'I feel as though born anew,' and before using the entire contents of the bottle she was untroubled by the pains which formerly troubled her. She again took up her household duties." He is very thankful and hopes that all suffering likewise will hear of her wonderful recovery.

Today it is literally true that they are selling American cottons in Manchester, pig-iron in Lancashire, and American machinery in Lancashire. They are sending their goods to America, coal to Newcastle. Nine years ago Cardiff was the main center of our export trade of tin-plate bars to America. We sent 350,000 tons a year, and practically none was sold in America. The same is true, I am at least thought that they might well keep the profits of this business

FIGURES SPEAK.

Yet, in spite of these, the official statistics tell a sorry enough tale. The imports of cotton manufactures, where we were once unapproachable, have in two years over-doubled. In January

If the stomach performs its functions actively and regularly, the food of which it is the receptacle, is transformed into blood of a nourishing quality, which furnishes vigor and warmth to the whole body. HERBINE gives tone to the stomach and promotes digestion and assimilation. Price, 50 cents. Z. C. M. I.
