LOCAL NEWS.

Emigration.—Although no official notification has yet been received, we learn that the Rev. S. J. Carroll, recently appointed pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church of this city, will preach on Sunday at 11 a. m. and 3 p. m., and that an earnest invitation and request is given to all members and friends of the church and congregation to be present, and, thus, welcome the new pastor and his family.

Another Well.—Mr. John Sidway has obtained on his premises, at the corner of 7th East and 7th South Streets, First Ward, a dowing well of excellent water, at a depth of forty-three feet. The supply at present is two gallons per minute, but the owner will probably drive the pipe deeper to secure a larger stream.

Marble Company.—The Deseret Marble Company to-day filed with County Clerk John C. Cutler, its articles of incorporation. The principal office of the company will be in Salt Lake City, and the capital stock is placed at one million. The marble quarries to be worked are situated in Utah County.

Counterfeit Money.—The police, last evening, arrested John Kennedy on a charge of passing counterfeit money. Kennedy was arrested for the same offense a few weeks ago, but was discharged on his explaining that he had committed the act without knowing that the coins were counterfeit. Kennedy, however, is not liable to escape so easily.

A Famous Composer.—We had a brief visit this morning from Sir Arthur Sullivan, the celebrated musical composer, whose operas and other musical compositions have made his name a household word in every part of this country, as well as throughout Europe. This is his first visit to Salt Lake, and as he only arrived last evening he is scarcely prepared to pass an opinion on the city or its inhabitants, but he expressed himself as being delighted with the country generally.

Land Laws Still in Force.—We are informed by Messrs. Bird & Lowe Land Agents and Attorneys, of this city, that a general impression prevails in this Territory that certain land acts have been repealed. So far from this being the case, they say that there has been no suspension of the operation of the different land acts, and that the public lands are still open to sales and entries under the preemption, homestead, desert and timber culture acts. These gentlemen prefer to furnish any information in regard to land laws without charge.

A Cold Day.—A large audience assembled in the Tabernacle last evening for the presentation of "A Cold Day When We Got Left," notwithstanding the presence of the circus in town. The theatrical performance was the more enjoyable of the two, judging from the hearty applause elicited. "A Cold Day" abounded in comic dialogue and ludicrous situations. The acting and staging was very good, and the honors of the evening were about equally divided between Messrs. Wells, Welch and Rice, and Miss Lizzie Haight (or, somebody). The piece will be repeated this evening.

The Jubilee.—The executive and programme committees for the 24th of July Jubilee suggest that if the members of each school will leave their homes in the cool of the morning, say about 9 o'clock, they will all reach the Tabernacle in good season, and the rehearsal can commence at 10 a. m.
It is also very desirable for every member of the committee to be present for the purpose of being able to make simple arrangements for every thing to go off like clockwork on the morning of the 24th, and have a good time generally.
The Pioneers will please report themselves also.
If the information solicited by the committee be promptly given to-morrow morning, they will be able to make simple arrangements for every thing to go off like clockwork on the morning of the 24th, and have a good time generally.

The Norwegian Mission.—From Elder Martin Christopherson, who returned with the last company of emigrants, from a mission to his native country, Norway, extending over a period of rather more than two years, we gather a few particulars relating to the spread of the Gospel in Norway and his personal labors in that land.
A great many very good people have in years past embraced the Gospel in Norway and emigrated to this country, and from the success which continues to attend the labors of the Elders there in proselyting it is fair to infer that a large number of the present inhabitants of that region will yet follow their examples. It has generally been supposed, from the fact that many of the Elders sent as missionaries to that country have been imprisoned, that the government and people are very bigoted and illiberal and specially opposed to the "Mormons." This is not strictly true. While there are laws existing in that nation which, if rigorously enforced, would materially interfere with the propagation of any other than the state religion, there, the officers of the law are usually very leniently disposed to their strict enforcement and inclined to deal leniently with the Elders. The prosecutions which the missionaries have been subjected to there have almost if not quite entirely been instigated by priests of other denominations, who, jealous of the success of the Elders, have watched to detect them in the act of baptizing or administering the sacrament to their converts, and then informed upon them, and had them prosecuted for so doing.
As an evidence that the officers themselves are not inclined to discriminate unfavorably to the Saints, it is mentioned that a Catholic priest and a companion were detected by police officers one night in the act of tearing down the sign from the front of the Saints' place of meeting. In Christianity, and they were immediately arrested and marched off to prison. The next morning Elder Christopherson went to the court and appeared before the magistrate's court and decided with what degree of rigor they should be prosecuted. When the priest was asked by the magistrate why he tore down the sign, he replied that the "Mormons" had no right to preach in Norway. He was quickly undeceived and informed that they had equal rights with others in that respect, and that he could be imprisoned fifty days for his offense. This had the effect of humbling him, and he implored Elder Christopherson's forgiveness, and declared that he was drunk at the time he committed the act. The Elder magnanimously forgave him and requested the magistrate to discharge him, but the magistrate informed him that he could not do so without imprisonment for at least a slight time, which he proceeded to do.
For baptizing or administering the sacrament the Elders are liable to a fine of forty kroner, or imprisonment on a diet of black bread and water for five days, and when the priests complain upon them and they are prosecuted they invariably choose the imprisonment in preference to paying the fine.
The Elders are now making good headway in Norway in proselyting. A number of new fields have been opened up there within the past year which have yielded some excellent Saints in response to the preaching of the Gospel. About 200 persons have been baptized to the Church by baptism during the past year in this Conference.
The conference house in Christiania is owned by the Church. It is a three-story building, and contains a hall for meeting, with a seating capacity of 400 to 500, an office and bedroom for the Elders and tenement apartments for the accommodation of ten families, which are always rented.
Elder Christopherson presided over the Norway Conference for a year before leaving there, and previously had had charge of the Drammens Branch, and assisted the President of the Conference. He attended 500 meetings during his absence and spoke in 400 of them. He also baptized 40 persons, confirmed 20, blessed 12 children and administered to 120 sick persons. On the whole he greatly enjoyed his mission.

A Series of Misfortunes.—Brother Nels Anderson, formerly of South Cottonwood, has had an experience during the last few months which may serve to illustrate what strokes of fortune will occasionally follow a person in spite of all the efforts possible at good management.
He sold out his property on South Cottonwood last fall and started to Arizona in response to a call for settlers to locate at St. Johns. On reaching Mt. Pleasant, in Sanpete, his eldest son, a boy of sixteen years, was stricken with typhoid fever, and lay ill for two months. When he finally recovered, six of his other children were prostrated with the same disease. Two of these recovered in a couple of weeks, but about that time their mother was taken sick and for two months thereafter she and the other four children were stricken and died. However, they all finally recovered except one, the eldest daughter, a girl of fourteen years, who lingered a couple of months longer and then died, on the 5th of last month.
Dorrie, the youngest of the children of Mr. Pleasant, was full of sympathy for the afflicted family, which did not find vent merely in sentimental expression, but in a more substantial form, in affording the material help and relieving their necessities. A sister of Brother Anderson's, too, a widow by the name of Valentine, who resides in Brigham City, also manifested her sisterly feeling by journeying at her own expense to Sanpete and remaining there one month waiting on the family in their sickness.—Brother Anderson mentions these manifestations of kindness with feeling and evidence of gratitude.
Notwithstanding the help he had received, though his expenses had been so heavy that the small capital which Brother Anderson started upon his journey became exhausted and he had incurred some debts which he was anxious to pay, so taking his team of two span of horses and a wagon, he and his boy set out two weeks after his daughter's death on the line of the D. & R. G. railway, to obtain work and make a raise. But on arriving in Pleasant Valley a new misfortune befell him. His horses when turned out to graze became frightened and stampeded, and in the confusion he was unable to find the two best of the animals. In the hope that some one may find them and return them to the owner at Mount Pleasant we here append their description:
One is a dark grey horse; three years old, branded G on left shoulder and Con left ribs.
The other is a sorrel bald-faced horse, six years old, both hind feet white and a mark resembling a star on each shoulder. The latter had on a halter when lost.

Dedictory Services.—We have received an invitation to be present at the dedicatory services of the Provo Theatre, which are to be held on Wednesday evening, July 23d, commencing at 8:30 o'clock. Thanks for the courtesy.

Writ of Error Applied For.—Application was made before Chief Justice Zane this morning for a writ of error upon which to carry the case of Angus M. Cannon, with which all our readers are familiar, before the United States Supreme Court. Messrs. Richards and Harkness argued in favor of the granting of the writ, and Prosecuting Attorney Dixon opposed it. At the conclusion of the arguments Judge Zane announced that he would take the matter under advisement until Monday.

It is difficult to see how he can, with any degree of consistency, refuse to grant the writ, inasmuch as Associate Justice Powers, although he acquiesced with his brother judges in the conviction of the appellant (on the principle that the end justified the means), clearly pointed out, in the opinion which he delivered, when the case was on appeal before the Supreme Court of the Territory, that a number of errors had been committed during the course of the trial.
"Shadows of a Great City."—Next Thursday, July 23d, the Baldwin Theatre Company will present the latest great success, "Shadows of a Great City," with Lewis Morrison, the well-known leading man; George Osbourne, who stands to-day without an equal on the stage as a character actor; and Mr. L. R. Stockwell, the popular and indubitable comedian, in their great creation, as played by them at the Baldwin Theatre, San Francisco during the great run of this place in the city. The company carry all the original scenery, which will be presented in its entirety on the large stage of the Baldwin Theatre. To insure a thorough representation of scenic and mechanical effects, the stage machinist of the company will arrive here two days in advance with all the principal effects, so that there will be no readiness on the arrival of the troupe. "Shadows of a Great City" is spoken of as follows by the S. F. Chronicle:
"This great melodrama is a most interesting story, well told, and has fewer defects than any of the other melodramas written for years. Replete with comedy and startling situations, the ending is of an interest to the audience are kept up to the rise until the fall of the curtain."

A Tip over.—On Thursday evening at half-past six, the people in the vicinity of this young ladies, indulging in their usual evening amusements, were excited to the lookers-on. Upon investigation, and after an interview with one of the performers, it was ascertained that they had been out driving in a buggy, accompanied by a young brother of one of the ladies. While passing this office, the horse was frightened by a boy who willfully cracked a whip in its face, causing it to run away. The driver, being a young lady of pluck and nerve, would undoubtedly have managed all right, had not her companion nervously seized the lines, causing the horse to turn suddenly and completely overturn the buggy, throwing out its occupants, who were miraculously escaped without being at all injured.
When the vehicle tipped over, the horse broke loose and started for home, but was recaptured by John Lee, Jun., who happened to be passing at the time on horseback. The vehicle was badly damaged and taken off for repairs.

Remarkable Escape.—A rather unusual accident and marvelous escape from death occurred at Marsh Valley, Idaho, on the 11th inst. A little grandson of W. C. Hawkins, of that place, two years and ten months old, fell into a well a depth of twenty-two feet, and though the well was walled up and the stones very rough and projecting, it was not only recovered from its perilous position alive, but without any bones being broken or having received any injuries worse than some bad bruises.
Good Gooseberries.—Brother Thos. E. Jeremy, of the Sixteenth Ward, whose garden products are probably not excelled in Utah, has shown us some specimens of gooseberries that are as fine as we have ever seen. Some of them measure 3 1/2 to 3 3/4 inches in circumference, while the flavor is delicious. One kind is called the Jeremy Seedling, the seed for which he sent home from Wales to his wife while he was on a mission. The other kinds are the Companion, Whitesmith and Boasting Lion. Each is an exceptionally fine fruit it is difficult to tell which is the best.

We, Us & Co.—Of this laughter-provoking play which is to be rendered at the Salt Lake Theatre on Monday evening next, the Philadelphia Ledger says: "We, Us & Co." proved a very acceptable mélange of fun, music, burlesque and dancing to an audience which packed the theatre last evening and laughed for three hours at W. A. Mestayer, Thersa, Laugon and their company of clever comedians. "We, Us & Co." is a firm of medical practitioners in New York, in whose office many practical jokes take place at the expense of the patients and doctors. In some shifts in the act of Maud Springs, where the patients are taken and here are sulphur and sodium baths hot and cold, a number of funny situations which keep the audience in a roar.

Visitors.—We enjoyed a pleasant visit this morning from Hon. Charles C. Lathrop and wife of Newark, N. J., and their son Dr. C. C. Lathrop, of Denver, Colorado, who arrived in this city on their first visit yesterday and purpose staying over till Monday. Mr. Lathrop, Sr., and his wife pride themselves on being natives of Vermont, the State from which Joseph Smith, Brigham Young and so many others of the prominent Latter-day Saints originally hailed. He visited Nauvoo in 1840 just after the Saints were driven out of that city and saw the evidences of their industry and enterprise in the beautiful houses and magnificent temple and other public buildings of which they had been ruthlessly despoiled, and he is now interested in noting the growth to which the Church has attained since that day, despite the opposition arrayed against it.

Telegraph Magistrate.—Col. B. C. Clowry, General Superintendent, E. C. Jaynes, Esq., and T. J. Dickey, Esq., District Superintendents, Mr. Bristol, Chief of Construction, and Mr. Summers, Electrician, all of the Western Union Telegraph Co. have been in Ogden and this city during the last few days during this week, in the interests of the company which they represent, to-day being spent here by all except Mr. Dickey, who returned east yesterday. Col. Clowry, whose division extends from Chicago to the Pacific and through the north and northwest, is on a tour of inspection through to California, returning by way of the Southern and Atlantic and Pacific railroads. Mr. Jaynes' district extends west from Ogden all through the Pacific coast, Mr. Dickey's east to Omaha and thence through Montana, Idaho, Colorado, etc. The party, which is travelling in Col. Clowry's private car, was joined last evening by Mrs. Clowry. They leave for the west to-morrow.
