

RECORD YEAR FOR THE SHORT LINE

Earnings for Fiscal Year Take a Big Jump.

OVER A MILLION DOLLARS.

Flattering Increase Shown by Auditor's Office—Still Another Man Stated for the Union Pacific.

The year ending June 30th has been a record breaker for the Oregon Short Line, when it comes to the business that has been handled by that road during the fiscal year just closed.

SCHUMACHER STATED.

Still Another Man Named for a Position on Union Pacific.

The latest rumor in railroad circles, according to the Pocatello Tribune, is to the effect that T. M. Schumacher, general manager of the California Fruit Line, will resign to accept the office of assistant traffic manager of the Union Pacific. Mr. Schumacher was formerly chief clerk in the general freight office of the Union Pacific and he was then promoted to numerous freight positions on the road. When he resigned two years ago from the service of the company he was general agent of the freight department in San Francisco. He resigned to go with the fruit line as general agent in San Francisco and later held a similar position with the line in Chicago. He was made general manager of the line, with headquarters in San Francisco, a year ago, and he has, railroad men say, done much to make it one of the best paying freight lines in the country. Mr. Schumacher is a married man and traffic manager of the Union Pacific it will be a new office.

COAL FOR EUROPE.

Vanderbilt Goes to London to Look Into the Matter.

The following is a New York dispatch this morning: The sudden departure for Europe of William K. Vanderbilt, on his yacht Valiant, was the result of a summons to London to meet George Gould and A. J. Cassatt, who are in that city. According to this report, the Vanderbilts want to secure the Wales system, which is at present owned by the Goulds; while Mr. Cassatt wants the advice of Mr. Vanderbilt concerning the closing of several large contracts for the exportation of coal to Europe, Chesapeake & Ohio, and Norfolk and Western of large quantities of bituminous coal. It is expected that the bituminous coal exports to Europe will become very large during the next year or two, because of the gradual falling off of the English mines. It is said that Mr. Cassatt is able to close contracts involving the shipping of several million dollars worth of coal to Europe.

In Interest of Express Companies.

A New York dispatch today says: Representatives of prominent houses, shippers, buyers and other interested parties are holding a conference in this city to discuss the ruling of the trunk lines, which, if enforced, will prohibit the bulking of small parcels under one cover and forwarding them as a single shipment. This ruling is being strongly opposed by the interests named and in addition to the discussion of the matter in its various aspects the purpose of the conference is to learn the present status of the case which is pending before the trunk line officials. At the conference the steps which have so far been taken to prevail if possible upon the railroads to abrogate the rule were reviewed. The matter is now before a committee of counsel for the trunk lines, having been referred to that special committee by the joint committee representing the different lines. As far as the shippers and forwarders are concerned, no further action is likely to be taken until the special committee reports or until the railroads finally pass on the question.

Looks Like Trouble.

A dispatch from St. Paul to the Winnipeg, Man., special to the Dispatch says: On the Canadian Pacific railway the machinists, blacksmith, boiler makers, painters, laborers and locomotive painters struck from Lake Superior to the Pacific coast at Moose Jaw, Medicine Hat, Revelstoke, Camloops, Vancouver, Winnipeg. Including the men dismissed on Monday, 650 are on strike. The men claim dismissals were intended to break up their unions, hence the strike. The men believe their strike may become sympathetic and a tie up will be effected.

THE CITY'S WATER SUPPLY.

The Outlook Has Vastly Improved in Past Two Days.

Flow Exceeds 10,000,000 Gallons Per Day—Recent Purchases Give Additional Supply.

The outlook for a water famine was very ominous a few days ago, but the situation showed a decided improvement yesterday and today. On Monday it was reported that there was not to exceed 7,000,000 gallons of water coming through the pipes of the lower system which deprived the business district of the indispensable for an hour or more, and made it necessary to turn on the upper and middle systems in order to give relief. Measurements made by City Engineer Kelsey last evening showed the supply to be over 10,000,000 gallons per day, divided as follows: Fairview, 2,550,000 gallons; City creek, 2,500,000 gallons; Emigration, 1,027,444, making a total of 10,077,444. Measurements on the 27th of July showed that 12,000,000 gallons per day were being received at that time.

The city also secured nearly 3,000,000 gallons per day from the land and water right purchases just made by the city from Edward Laird and son and William Taylor. This water was secured by Water Commissioner Westfield yesterday afternoon and will make the total supply 11,600,000 gallons per day until a further decrease.

Mr. Kelsey looks for a big falling off in the city's water supply and September 15th unless there is a change in the weather. If it continues dry and hot, he says, and there are no rains, the daily flow will in all probability decrease to 8,000,000 or 7,000,000. The city engineer further says that the supply is always inadequate when it gets below 12,000,000 gallons per day.

Big Cottonwood is booming despite the dry hot spell yesterday's purchases showing a volume of 26,000,000 gallons per day. Mill creek is furnishing 6,000,000 gallons. The measurements given by the engineer on the city supply do not include ditch water.

SALT LAKE'S POPULATION.

Mayor Receives a Letter from the Census Office Regarding the Matter.

On the 26th ultimo Mayor Thompson wrote the director of census at Washington, asking that the official count of the population of Salt Lake City be forwarded him. Today his honor received a reply from the chief statistician stating that just as soon as the figures are completed and verified they will be sent to him. "It is impossible to say, however," the letter reads, "just when these figures will be ready for publication, but provision has been made for the rapid tabulation of all schedules as soon as received in this office, and your letter has been placed on file in order that your request may receive prompt attention."

Two hundred of the bonds are to be sold at $200 each and 60 at $500 each. They are made redeemable in 1905, and the amount of interest to be paid on them is 6 per cent per annum. The instrument is signed by L. H. Curtis, president, and Samuel C. Park, treasurer of the Red Wing Mining Company. The trust deed is held by the Utah Savings & Trust company.

WAS A BIG DAY FOR THE LADIES

Calder's Park Management Gives Them a Great Treat.

AMUSEMENT WAS ALL FREE

Resort Crowded All Day and Rapid Transit Severely Taxed to Haul the People.

It was Ladies' day at Calder's Park yesterday and as a consequence there was many a married man that ate at a restaurant during the course of the day to eventually retire to his desolate domicile to await the return of his better half.

By ten o'clock in the morning the migration on the part of the fair sex began towards the shady dell of the Mill Creek resort. They came in shoals and battalions, each one loaded down with chubbily little duplicates of pale families and lunch baskets galore. Taken altogether it was an inspiring sight, tall girls, small mothers, Titian-hued damsels and giddy young things gaudily dressed and laden with a seat on the cars, while there was many a man to mar the outing.

This state of affairs was directly attributed to the fact that everything was free on Ladies' day including the street car ride to the park. As a consequence the owners from First South down to Seventh South were trying to place for bewitching military creations the living day. Every car that could be spared was pressed into service with the result that there were some 8,000 ladies and seven men at Calder's Park yesterday afternoon. In the evening things became better adjusted with the male population augmented to the top of their heads. With adroit strategic movements, worthy of Dewey they captured the fleet of row boats and proceeded to explore the lake with all attendant perils.

Competition for a seat in the vaudeville theater was at all times very keen, the numerous little substitutes indulged in by the ever-vigilant crowd being at all times very amusing. This effort on the part of the impatient ladies was duplicated at the amusement grounds, where was worked to its capacity the living day in that Adam-like Eden.

The fun really commenced, however, at 8:30 p. m. when all concerned in the spirit of his dead brother, he has been stated, but by indubitable facts that cannot be gainsaid. They are facts which have been known, but which have been kept back. In making this statement I do not intend to acknowledge the receipt of all money that comes in for that purpose. And to show my good faith in making this appeal I pledge myself for $5, and those knowing my word as to realize what this means to me.

In conclusion Miss Johnson urges a prompt response to her request for funds.

WILL MOVE FOR NEW TITIAL.

Thomas Fitch has concluded to be an attorney of record in the case and on Tuesday next will appear before Judge Hart at Brigham City and move for a writ of habeas corpus to be released from the custody of the sheriff.

In the event of Judge Hart denying the motion the supreme court will be appealed to, and the governor will be asked to grant a reprieve pending the hearing and determination of the motion.

In speaking of the case Mr. Fitch said: There are a whole lot of people in Utah who do not feel satisfied in their own minds of this boy's guilt and who think his sentence should be commuted.

Suit to Foreclose.

E. S. Poole, guardian of the estate of Frank C. and Alice Poole, filed a suit in the first district court today against Edwin S. Crocker and wife to recover the sum of $5,000 on a certain promissory note secured by mortgage to property in Salt Lake and Weber counties.

JUDGE TIMMONY'S COURT.

The proceedings in the police court today were brief and simple. So simple in fact the prosecution did not even get warm. It was noticed by the handful of spectators too. William pleaded guilty to getting drunk and was fined $5.

Eph Kelly again stood up and received a sentence of twenty-five days without flogging. Eph was intoxicated yesterday.

Gas Anderson will be with Uncle Sol for ten days.

Chas. Miller got off with three days for drunkenness.

NEW SCHOOL DISTRICT.

County Commissioners Consider Petition of Residents of Granger.

The petition of the residents of Granger and North Jordan precincts, asking that a new school district be created out of parts of districts 35 and 55, came up before the board of county commissioners this forenoon. At a meeting specially called for that purpose.

The granting of the petition was opposed by Trustee N. P. Peterson of Granger, which embraces district 35, and Trustee Mahonri Spencer, Archibald Frame and William Barker, of district 55, Taylorville. Those who spoke in favor were Eli Curtis and Samuel D. Wallace. Bernard J. Stewart appeared in behalf of the petitioners and Superintendent Oscar Van Cott spoke in favor of granting the petition. The opposition encountered from district 35 was a fear that if the new district was created the trustees would not be able to maintain a good school for the reason that a good many of the school children would likely be taken away.

The trustees for district 35 advanced a similar argument and in addition thereto claimed that the creating of a new district would deprive them of much of the taxable property now allotted to them and practically leave them without sufficient funds with which to run their school, to say nothing of paying off of their bonded indebtedness.

The board postponed further consideration of the matter for one week, when further arguments will be heard.

YOUNG WOMAN'S APPEAL FOR FUNDS

Another Move is Made to Save Young Abe Majors.

SOME MONEY IS NEEDED.

Talk of Taking Case to United States Supreme Court To Move for New Trial.

Miss Laura Johnson, the paralytic invalid of Des Moines, Iowa, who came here in the interest of Young Abe Majors, sentenced to be shot two weeks from today for the killing of Captain William A. Brown, has issued an appeal to the people of Utah for funds with which to carry the case to the United States supreme court.

Miss Johnson heads the list of 25,000 who appeal and reviews the action of the board of pardons in denying the petition to commute the death sentence to life imprisonment and adds: "I have been convinced," Miss Johnson writes, "that justice has not been done this boy, and his life is worth pleading for."

He is a boy in years, but in intelligence he is above the average man. Given a fair chance in the battle of life he would become a noble man. This boy, scarce 19 years old, has become engaged in a scolding whirlpool of popular malice and public disfavor. Should he be killed because of this? Because of a mistake? Because of a moment of age he has been doomed to death and hounded down by men who should have had the humanity to lend him a helping hand.

After his release from Potosi prison he started out in life to redeem the past and make himself worthy of the confidence I had in him. But finding that even the ministers looked upon him with favor, finding that his employer seemed to have impressed him very favorably and he was loved in his expressions toward the "typical western gentleman," as he termed the city's executive.

Coming down to Sydney, the clergyman stated that when he left the place had considerably abated. Taken all in all, he said, there had been over 200 cases in that city, 80 per cent of which proved fatal. The disease, he said, attacked mostly the Oriental races there and children of the whites. Outside of the plague scare New South Wales as a colony was in a flourishing condition financially and otherwise, with time to spare, however, to equip several contingents of colonials for active service in China, provided the imperial government would accept their services.

SEPARATE MAINTENANCE.

Mrs. Eva J. Keyser Accuses Her Husband of Deserting Her.

Says He Earns $58 a Month and Thinks She Ought to Get $50 of It.

Mrs. Eva J. Keyser filed a separate maintenance suit against George A. Keyser in the third district court today, alleging that the marriage took place in this city on April 11th, 1895, and that on the 25th of last month defendant deserted her and has neglected to send her any means for her support.

It is further set out that plaintiff is 33 years of age, while her husband can go her ten years better. Defendant is also said to be an able bodied man, and sufficiently able to support a wife. There are no children.

At present the defendant is in the employ of the Langdon Lime and Cement company and earns $2.50 per day, or $55 per month.

Plaintiff claims $25 per month is little enough to provide for her own maintenance, and she prays for an order of the court requiring Mr. Keyser to pay her that amount each and every month. She also asks for attorney's fees, costs of suit and other relief.

REV. DR. KEENAN FROM AUSTRALIA

Church of England Clergyman Who is a Justice.

ALSO AN HONORARY MAJOR

Thinks Much of Salt Lake and the "Typical Western Gentleman," the Mayor.

There is a distinguished Australian stopping at the Knutsford today in the person of Rev. Dr. Keenan of Rosebay, Sydney, N. S. W.

The Church of England clergyman bears the distinction of being the only divine in the Antipodean colonies who bears the title of justice of the peace; further, he has had the honorary title of Major conferred upon him by the government.

Dr. Keenan, in addition to numerous private letters of introduction, carries open letters bearing the seal of the New South Wales government and signed by the premier of that colony, also the signature of George W. Bell, the American consul at Sydney, asking that due courtesy be shown the visitor.

For the past twenty-five years Dr. Keenan has been head master of the Windsor grammar school, near Sydney, having recently retired to spend two years in travel and settling down in his home in Australia.

Tall, benign, clean shaven and surmounted by a silk hat with a brim swept back, the clergyman spoke in an interesting strain regarding his favorable impressions of San Francisco and Salt Lake, and the courtesies he had received on all sides.

Major Keenan seemed to have impressed him very favorably and he was loved in his expressions toward the "typical western gentleman," as he termed the city's executive.

Coming down to Sydney, the clergyman stated that when he left the place had considerably abated. Taken all in all, he said, there had been over 200 cases in that city, 80 per cent of which proved fatal. The disease, he said, attacked mostly the Oriental races there and children of the whites. Outside of the plague scare New South Wales as a colony was in a flourishing condition financially and otherwise, with time to spare, however, to equip several contingents of colonials for active service in China, provided the imperial government would accept their services.

HOUSE IN WHICH PLOT WAS FORMED

New York, Aug. 3.—Detectives have found the room in which it is claimed that the plot to kill King Humbert was formed. It is on the second floor of a West Hoboken, N. J. resort for anarchists, and is in the heart of the Italian settlement. The place has not been known as a meeting place for anarchists. There have been no public meetings held there and the room where the men met was kept for the most secret conference purposes.

These detectives say they learned last night from socialists who attended a meeting at the place that less than four months ago two Italians, a man and woman arrived in Hoboken, and an important conference was held in this room. At the conference there were anarchists from New York, Brooklyn, the Italian colony in Philadelphia and Paterson and West Hoboken. This socialist never saw Bresci and never saw Quinte Vallo, but the description of the men tallies with that of two of the men at the conference.

Mrs. Bresci, the destitute wife of the assassin, with her little daughter, are in this city from their home in West Hoboken for the purpose of seeing the Italian consul general. Mrs. Bresci said she wanted to write a letter to her husband, but the consul general told her it would not be delivered. The woman then asked if it would be possible for her to get any valuables her husband had hidden in his possession when he was arrested. She had a diamond of considerable value, she said. The consul general promised to do what he could for the woman. When she returned to West Hoboken she found a man representing himself as a United States secret service agent, awaiting her. He questioned her at great length, but she was unable to give him any more information than has already been made public. Mrs. Bresci, who is in delicate health, was so overcome by the fatigue of her trip to New York that she had to take to her bed soon after her return, and last night her condition was considered serious.

It is learned that the assassin Bresci was a member of what is known as the "International Group" of anarchists.

The police have also learned that prior to Bresci's leaving this country he was tendered a banquet by a group of anarchists in this city. The celebration took place in an anarchist resort in Rochester street, where were present: Besides Bresci there were Salvatore Quinto, a man named Sassi, and a man named Lemmer or Lann, all of whom are under arrest in Italy. The other guests are not yet known to the police, but one of them was said to be a woman. This would indicate that there were at least eight persons concerned in the plot to kill the king. The feast continued into the early morning hours, until it was almost time to reach the steamer on which they embarked on their murderous mission. Teresa Brugnoli, the woman arrested in Italy, is believed to have been the same who was present at the banquet.

MUST REFUSE INDIANS' REQUEST.
