

HOW EARL JENSEN SAVED GRISWOLD

Salt Lake Boy Pulls Local Detective From Burning Pullman Car.

EXCITING EXPERIENCE TOLD.

Mathoniah Thomas in a Letter Relates Incidents Involving Several Local Men on Train.

Earl Jensen of Salt Lake, son of Ephraim Jensen, also of this city, was the hero of the recent fire in the sleeping car Redfield, on the Los Angeles limited, eastbound. This information is conveyed to Salt Lake today in a letter from Mathoniah Thomas to his brother, narrating the thrilling experiences of the passengers in the car, of whom Mr. Thomas was one.

The letter is dated at Chicago, Jan. 7, the day after the occurrence, and concludes by saying that as for him, he does not wish to face death again in just that form—it looked awfully wicked and relentless.

"It was all over very soon," writes Mr. Thomas. "We were going very fast, and it did not burn more than 10 minutes, from 5 to 5:10 a. m., on the morning of Sunday, Jan. 6—the anniversary of Utah's statehood day. The results were one man burned to a crisp, Mr. Crapo of Salt Lake bleeding badly at the wrist as the result of poking his fist through a double window in his effort to pass his baby out to safety, and one man badly burned about the face. This man was O. H. Johnson of the Allen Chambers company in Salt Lake. His toes were also broken as the result of an effort to kick in a door. His escape from death was marvelous. Dr. Griswold was saved just in time. He was stuck out from the suffocation by Earl Jensen of Salt Lake, son of Ephraim Jensen. The boy was very late. Dave, my brother, I shall not want to face death again in just that form. It looked awfully wicked and relentless. I left for New York tomorrow, arriving there Wednesday morning."

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

Arrangements for the entertainment of the National Woolgrowers' association which convenes here next week are well under way, and the three days of their stay will be crowded with pleasurable events, beginning with a concert at the Tabernacle on Thursday night, visits to Saltair and the Holmes art gallery, a tea at the Lion and Bee Hive Houses and a large reception at the Alta club, the latter under charge of the club, with details under the direction of Mrs. E. Bonnemort, chairman of the reception committee. Other minor affairs will take place in their honor.

Tonight a "Parsifal" recital will be given at Rowland hall. Mrs. Igleheart reciting, and Mrs. Plummer, Miss Gracie Flinders and Miss Genevieve Ellerbeck giving musical interpretations with piano and song. The affair is in honor of the senior and junior classes.

A pleasant affair of last night was the dancing party given by the Walker employees at the Twentieth ward hall, the affair being in charge of A. W. Bolton and J. Z. Oviatt. Two pretty features were "Moonlight" and "rainbow" dance with calcium light effects, and the entire affair was a success. Several other dances will be given during the season.

The Telegraphers club gave an enjoyable dancing party last night in the Jennings block.

Mrs. G. R. Hancock and Miss Holister Hancock left Tuesday for California.

Miss Georgia Webber gives a luncheon and bridge party this afternoon in honor of Mrs. G. L. Nye.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Phillips have returned from their wedding trip.

Mrs. Margaret Roberts entertained delightfully at dinner on Tuesday night, the decorations being in flowers and ferns, and her guests numbering about 20.

Tonight Miss Agatha Berkhoele accompanied by Miss Marie Berkhoele and Miss Rena Redman leaves for New York for an extended stay.

At the meeting of the Daughters of Pioneers yesterday definite arrangements were made for the old-fashioned ball to be given at the Lion House, the date chosen being Jan. 31, the birthday anniversary of a noted pioneer woman, Zina D. Young. A number of committees were appointed to take charge of various departments of the society, the entire meeting being most interesting.

Judge and Mrs. Powers entertained at a delightful dinner at their home last night, the table being artistically decorated in roses and ferns, and covered with 12 guests.

The D. A. R. met this afternoon with Mrs. E. W. Morrison with Mrs. Breeden as chairman.

Mrs. F. A. Halo entertained at a bridge tea this afternoon in honor of her daughter, Mrs. T. B. Hunter. A party of Salt Lake ladies left last night for Los Angeles including Dr. and Mrs. J. T. Keith, Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Blyth, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Blyth, Jr., and Miss Bella Blyth.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Davis of New York received a dainty New Year's gift in the way of a small daughter, an arrival dated last Sunday. Mrs. Davis was formerly Miss Ora Harkness of this city.

Mrs. W. L. Jones leaves within a few days for Los Angeles where she will spend the winter.

The annual meeting of the Infant's Home and Protective association was held this afternoon at the home on I street.

SALT LAKE TO BE THE WOOLLY WEST

In Seven Days Sheep Men From All States Will Gather Here.

THE PROGRAM IS ARRANGED.

It Calls for a Smoker, Tabernacle Concert and a Trip to Saltair as The Social Features.

Thursday, Jan. 17.—10 a. m. convention opens in Armory hall, entrance through Commercial club building. Thursday—3 p. m. Trip to Saltair for visitors, under auspices of women's entertainment committee. Thursday—7:30 p. m. Organ recital and concert in the tabernacle. Friday—Morning and afternoon session of convention. Saturday—Close of convention and smoker in the evening at the Commercial club headquarters. This is the manner in which the woolgrowers' time is to be spent in Salt Lake. Committees are now at work, getting the long green necessary for the large time, the music necessary for a splendid tabernacle concert, the service to Saltair for an afternoon visit, and the program for a smoker on Saturday evening. These will be the social events, unless some detail is changed, which will be informally hospitality towards its guests at the first convention of wool growers ever held here.

Of course another item is being looked after, and it is the fine fat sheep show which the Utah wool men will have on exhibit during the convention down at the fair grounds. It will be open all the time and will be informally visited by the delegates at their leisure. Prizes donated by various organizations are beginning to arrive and go on to the exhibit tables at the Commercial club. Incidentally delegates are straying into the city, and the hospitality of the Commercial club is being extended to them. From now on there will be no rest for anybody connected with the big convention, until it is over.

The financial committee appointed yesterday afternoon, in composed of the following members:

John S. Critch, chairman; James C. McDonald, Adolph Richter, W. J. Halloran, William H. Bantz, Heber M. Wells, Charles S. Burton, George D. Alder, A. J. Davis, R. J. Evans, William Lieblein, C. F. Warren, R. E. Miller, A. H. Crabbe, Charles D. Rookledge, George W. Morgan and Leon Sweet.

Excitement With Octopuses.

The Perle, a large fishing barque, of Cancale, while fishing on Sunday in the Bay of Envy with a dragnet out, met with an exciting adventure.

Finding great difficulty in getting in the net, the crew set the windlass work, and, to the astonishment of the fishermen, instead of fish a huge number of octopuses—at least 1,000—appeared. The horrible squirming mass shot out hundreds of arms, at least six feet in length, which began to fasten on the sides of the barque, threatening to capsize it by their weight.

Two fishermen were badly stung with the tentacles, and the men were only prevented from being dragged overboard by the prompt use of hatchets.

The skipper immediately cut the cable and the entire mass plunged back to the bottom of the sea. Still some 50 horrible monsters clung to the side of the barque, and had to be chopped away.—London Mail.

NEVER TIRES

Of the Food That Restored Her to Health.

"My food was killing me and I didn't know the cause," writes a Colo. young lady: "For two years I was thin and sickly, suffering from indigestion and inflammatory rheumatism."

"I had tried different kinds of diet, plain living, and many of the remedies recommended, but got no better."

"Finally, about five weeks ago, mother suggested that I try Grape-Nuts. I began at once, eating it with a little cream or milk. A change for the better began at once."

"Today I am well and am gaining weight and strength all the time. I've gained 10 pounds in the last five weeks and do not suffer any more from indigestion and the rheumatism is all gone."

"I know it is to Grape-Nuts alone that I owe my restored health. I still eat the food twice a day and never tire of it."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

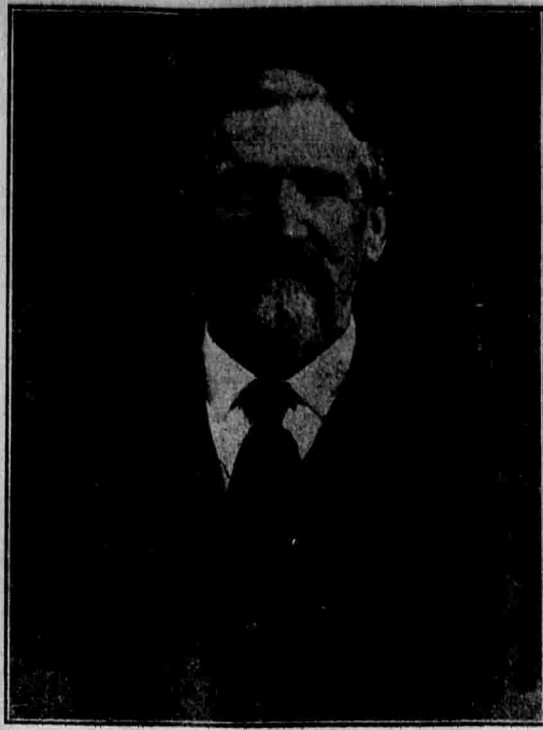

The flavor of Grape-Nuts is peculiar to itself. It is neutral, not too sweet and has an agreeable, healthful quality that never grows tiresome.

One of the sources of rheumatism is from overloading the system with acid material, the result of imperfect digestion and assimilation.

As soon as improper food is abandoned and Grape-Nuts is taken regularly, digestion is made strong, the organs do their work of building up good red blood cells and of carrying away the excess of disease-making material from the system.

The result is a certain and steady return to normal health and mental activity. "There's a reason." Read the little book "The Road to Wellville" in pkgs.

OBITUARY.

EDWIN MORRELL CURTIS.

Handcart Veteran Who Recently Crossed the Great Divide.

Edwin Morrell Curtis was born in London, Eng., Nov. 7, 1859. On March 17, 1880, he married Fanny Harrison, and the same year emigrated to Utah, crossing the ocean on the ship Underwriter. On the frontier the Curtis family joined Captain Robinson's handcart company, and Mr. Curtis was appointed "official grumbler." They arrived in Salt Lake City September 27. In 1883 the family moved to Logan, and for the greater part of his life thereafter that city was his home. He was an active church worker and was one of the first superintendents of Sunday school in his ward. For 18 years he was a bishop's counselor in the Logan First ward. He filled a mission to England in 1879. July of that year he married Della A. Crockett, and she, with the wife already named, survives him. Five sons and nine daughters are still living.

From 1887 to 1890 Mr. Curtis resided temporarily in Mexico and at Thatcher, Arizona. In 1895 he removed to Rexburg, and the same year met with a severe accident, by falling from a building, which produced cancer of the stomach and finally cost him his life. He died December 28, 1896, loved and respected by his family and a wide circle of friends.

STILL THEY COME.

This Time an Indiana Lawyer Writes Regarding the Christmas News.

Mrs. Roe Frazier, 963 east Second South, has received a letter from Judge Theo Shockney, a well known lawyer and member of the Indiana legislature, concerning the great Christmas Deseret News, a copy of which has been sent him. Regarding the paper, Judge Shockney writes:

Dear Cousin Frazier: I received the Christmas copy of the Deseret Evening News, so kindly sent me, which is a work of art and a thing of beauty. It certainly does show a great and enterprising city in Salt Lake. The paper is quite equal to the great issues of the New York city papers and excels anything I have ever seen published in either Cincinnati or Chicago. Its advertising pages disclose its varied and extensive industries and its prosperous people. If the little band of pilgrims that were driven out of Nauvoo could only have dreamed of the greatness of the city whose foundations they laid, it would show them were greater than at that time appeared to be the spirit of their dreams. While we have a great country, and to the untraveled and un-read, with a center of all that is rich and good and enterprising right in the midst of him who thinks of it, yet when we consider that these centers of enterprise and goodness are in every locality, we can begin to realize the real greatness of our great country. So long as we believe that our own vicinity is the only green spot on earth, just so long will we be unable to appreciate the greatness of our birthright and the great wealth of our country. You know, we hear that Salt Lake City is almost on the rim of the universe and that we here, on the line between Ohio and Indiana, are about the center of every-

Collision of Two Hares.

(London Daily Mail.) An incident of a very curious character happened at the meet of Mr. E. A. Hardwick's Weston-super-Mare Harriers at North Perton. The hounds were in full cry in a field of roots after a hare when a second hare was disturbed, with the result that, racing in an opposite direction, she collided with the first hare. Both were killed on the spot, one having its neck dislocated, the other apparently dying of fright.

NEW SITE FOR CAR BARN PURCHASED

Harriman Interests Conclude Deal With David Keith for Tenth Ward Square.

STREETCAR CO. PAYS $80,000.

Purchase Price Nearly Doubled—Entire Plant is to Cost in the Neighborhood of $150,000.

The Harriman interests concluded a deal last evening, with David Keith whereby the old Exposition grounds at Fifth and Sixth South and Sixth and Seventh East streets, known as the Tenth ward square, passed into the possession of the Utah Light & Railway company for $80,000. As Mr. Keith paid the city $45,000 for the property, he about doubled his money. The purchase was to secure a new and more advantageous site for a car barn and repair shop plant. It was the purpose of the former management to locate the barns on the west side and surround them with residences of employees of the operating department, so that it would be easy for all such employees to reach their cars with the least possible delay. But conditions at the time did not appear to warrant taking such a permanent step, and the matter was held in abeyance. However, it was apparent that a change must come before long as the Second East street quarters were becoming much too cramped for the auxiliary power plant located there were out and the machinery was sold and moved away, and in addition the neighborhood was being built up with residences. This steadily enhanced the valuation of adjoining property, so that the acquisition of sufficient territory, became more and more of a difficult proposition.

It was decided to move, and the Tenth ward square was regarded as the best place to go, especially in view of the extension of the street railway system in the eastern and southern sections of the city. The company will begin at an early day the erection of suitable barns and shops, the cost of the same being estimated at $150,000. The entire plant will be of the most modern and up-to-date character, twice the size of the Second East street plant, and include spacious and convenient offices, gymnasium and club rooms for the men. Mr. Keith bought the square some four years ago, after the D. A. & M. society had moved to the state fair grounds on the west side. The present Second East street property can now be sold for residence purposes.

AMUSEMENTS.

Theater—Miss Roberts' engagement from the box office point of view continues an overwhelming success. Last night's audience was greater than ever, many parts of the house being sold out by the time the curtain rose. Curiosity to see the entirely new play, "Maria Rosa" was the impelling magnet, and the audience had its curiosity fully satisfied. Without wishing to be severe on this painstaking and hard working actress, it must be said that her talents ought to be better employed than in exploiting such morbid and curling—not to say sensual dramas as "Maria Rosa." That she leans very strongly in such directions, cannot be denied when we recall the very similar productions with which here name has been linked in seasons past. "Maria Rosa" is as uncomfortable a memory as one would care to see upon the boards. It is no palliation of the offense to say that the play was finely rendered; the star and her leading man,

Mr. Bergen, did some excellent work, and if anything, Mr. Bergen rather dominated the picture. Miss Roberts was not entirely free from moments of hesitation in her dialogue. Mr. Henderson as Salvador acted well, and splendid stage management. Mr. Kent as Hunch contributed a strong picture, while Mr. Williams and Miss Robinson did some capital comedy work.

The play goes for the last time tonight, and there will be no signals of distress hung out at the theater in consequence.

Orpheum—The following bill is announced for next week: Fanny Rice and her dancing girls; J. C. Nugent and company in a good comedy; Claude and Fanny Usher in a little heart drama; "Tough Love"; Miss Dirlia and her dancer; Charles Serra, in an original gymnastic act; Joe Whitehead and the Misses Grierison, "Artistic Pooling," and the kindred. Big business prevails this week.

Grand—The first presentation of the thrilling melodrama entitled, "A Man of Mystery" will be rendered by the Wolfe company at the Grand this evening.

"Lyric"—The "Yankee Detective" continues to draw good audiences and will run out the week with a Saturday matinee.
